TENNIS AND CANOEING COSTUMES.

FOR the young girl the choice of a modish and becoming outing frock is a matter of a great deal of importance. If she can afford it white serge is a fabric that is always satisfactory in service and makes up to advantage. The white serge tennis frock pictured here was made for a pretty girl to wear in a forthcoming tournament. It is loose and easy fitting in spite of its narrow appearing lines. White buttoned buckskin boots are illustrated, but tennis shoes may be substituted for them. For water sports flannel is of course popular. It was used in making the canoeing frock pictured here. Convenient features of this gown are the detachable collar and cuffs, which may be taken off and pressed when wrinkled.

WHEN BUYING CHINA.

Don't buy fluted jugs with narrow mouths. It is impossible to clean them properly.

Don't buy a gilt edged tea set. The gilt soon washes off if any soda is added to the washing up water.

Don't buy any china which you cannot match at any time.

Don't buy teapots whose lids drop off when they are tipped up.

Don't buy fruit and jam dishes with "hills and valleys" all over them. It is impossible to keep them clean without a lot of trouble.

Don't buy flower vases which topple over owing to their narrow bases. Choose those with firm, solid bases and open mouth.

DISCARDED GLOVES.

Old Kid Ones May Be Made Up Into Many Novelties.

Many useful novelties may be made with discarded kid gloves.

Let us first see how we can utilize the long white gloves of suede or kid which fashion decrees and whose life as a glove is so short. We shall suppose the gloves have been cleaned several times so that the fingers have become rubbed and spoiled for wear. Cut these off; now remove the buttons, slit the arm part if necessary and lay it flat on an ironing board and thoroughly clean with benzine or gasoline. Next cut a long strip of the kid about one and a half inches wide, fold into three, joining the edges with a thick embroidery thread in any desired fancy stitch. Then cut two more pieces of the material about three inches by one inch; embroider each end with French knots and fashion into a bow. Sew this to the center of the prepared strip, which should be finished off with a hook and latch at either end, and you have a very dainty and uncommon necktie.

The same idea may be elaborated, and a charming belt is the result if a long evening glove be used. In this instance the kid should be doubled and neatly stitched all round after being prettily embroidered along one side. A buckle is then attached to one end and eyelet holes punched and buttonholed to receive it.

Hatpins after the same fashion are charming, and both are made in this way. Get some wooden button molds the size you require. Next sew your design on to the kid, cut this out in a sufficiently large round to cover both front and back of the button. Now stretch this round tightly over the mold and sew securely at the back, in the case of the hatpins being particular to finish off all ends very neatly.

Handling Curtains.

When lace curtains become old there is always danger of their being torn in washing. This can be positively avoided if the curtains are handled lengthwise, but not crosswise. Never attempt to handle a curtain from the side edge. Try it and be convinced. Many who have old curtains which they wish to preserve because of their beautiful patterns will rejoice at having made the attempt. This is simple, but valuable.

DRESDEN DECORATION.

A Seasonable Arrangement For a Spring Table.

The Dresden effect in flowers may be used successfully for a table decoration. Start with a large glass basket for a centerpiece, filling it with wet sand to stick the flowers in and combining all the dainty and beautiful colored flowers one can think of—sweet peas, baby primulas, the dainty schizanthus or poor man's orchid, forgetmenots, pansies, lily of the valley and white and yellow daisies.

Then place on the handle a miniature Flora holding in her hands green and white ribbons attached to the favors of the guests. Around the centerpiece should be used eight small glass vases filled with just a few artistically arranged flowers similar to the ones used in the center vase.

Four candlesticks with white or green shades to suit the taste of the hostess should be placed at the four corners of the table, while the favors should be miniature glass baskets. These can be also filled with wet sand and daintily filled with the baby primulas, forgetmenots and lilies of the valley.

A butterfly or two can be placed on the large basket of flowers as if having just lit to sip some honey, and a little butterfly can also be placed on the handle of each small basket.

This makes a beautiful table and one that has been tried and found to be dainty and effective enough to please the most artistic taste.

Outdoor Furniture.

while the other has a curved outline that makes it both attractive and convenient.

The settees are of wood decorated with white enamel paint.

A well padded ironing board is a labor saver, and Turkish toweling is one of the best materials to pad it with.

Never Were Fashions So Becoming to the Small Maid, as These Picturesque Long-Waisted, Low-Belted Effects.

In these quaint frocks of linen, or sprigged muslin, the little girls are simply adorable, and not the least of their charm is due to absolute simplicity.

More and more wise mothers are realizing that simple clothes are best for their small daughters. That in them, they keep the appealing charm of childishness so much longer.

Not that they need look "plain Janey" and dowdy. A glance at the models illustrated will convince you of the absurdity of this. They are simplicity itself, yet they are dainty and pretty enough for the most exacting mother. A morning frock of tan and old-blue linen could be easily made from 7863, the only trimming a narrow frill of batiste around the neck and down the slashed front. There is a separate guimpe included in the pattern, though only the sleeves are shown, of mull or lawn. The dress slips on over the head, and the guimpe fastens at the back. Four pattern sizes 6 to 12, and for the girl of eight, 2 3-4 yards 36-inch material is required, and 1½ yards for guimpe.

Dotted swiss, point d'esprit, or silk mull would work out charmingly in 7846, the soft fullness lending itself admirably to these fabrics. Below a small round yoke of eyelet embroidery, the frock is gathered, and is attached to the tiny skirt at low waistline. A sash of black ribbon velvet, or palest pink liberty satin gives sufficient color contrast. Four sizes, 2 to 8, and for the six years old, 2½ yards 36-inch material is required, with 3-8 yard allover embroidery for yoke.

The post-impressionist printed voiles and crepes are perfectly dear in the little girl's frocks especially as in 7869 when design and material are both picturesque. To the square yoke, the frock is attached smoothly, and the closing is in front, in the duchess effect so popular for mother's frocks and blouses. At the foot the frock is gathered into a band. A frill of plaited net finishes the neck, and groups of tiny buttons covered with voile or silk the color of the figure in the material, form the only decoration. Four sizes, 4 to 10, and for size 6, 2 yards 36-inch material well be required, with 1½ yards plaited net for the neck and sleeves. Each pattern, 15 cents.

CRABBING IS GOOD.

Crabs were never so plentiful as they are this year in all of their favorite haunts. Dozens of rowboats were out Saturday afternoon and Sunday in Newark Bay, all the way from Point-no-Point to the Robbins Reef Light, and practically everyone got all they could carry. Many women were noted in the different boats. At Sewaren, the boats were out in force, while farther on down the shore at Keansburg, Highlands and all the way to Barnegat Pier crabs were taken by hundreds of anglers. While blue crabs like the sandy bottom they are found more frequently on the muddy bottom, because they find more food in the mud. They are all over the flats at high water, but they leave shortly after the tide begins to ebb and go into the smaller channels and into their holes under the banks and creeks.

GOODE TO STAY WITH CUBS.

Chicago, Aug. 12—Manager Johnny Evers, of the Chicago Nationals, denies the alleged release of Outfielder Wilbur Goode to the Indianapolis team. Evers explained that Goode's name was included in a list of ten Cubs on whom waivers had been asked from the other seven teams, not with the immediate intention of disposing of them, but to be in a position to make an advantageous deal if one presented itself. Goode left Sunday night with the Cubs for Boston.

SLANG VERSUS ENGLISH IN BASEBALL WRITING

Slang versus English in baseball writing; which do yau prefer? To determine whether a majority of baseball bugs prefer to read a story of a game immersed in slathers of slang or recited in the purest of English a sporting editor has printed two versions of a recent Cub-Phillies combat and extended fans an invitation to ballot on their preference.

Slang—Stupendous swatting by the invading Phils put the bee on the intermittent Cubs yesterday. With Alex. the Great working slab miracles while three Trojan flingers were flounderring about in approved bush league fashion, Skipper Dooin and his sprightly troopers made merry with a vengeance, giving Evers and Company the once-over at regular and stated intervals.

English—By hitting three Cub pitchers to every corner of the field, Philadelphia yesterday defeated the Cubs, 16 to 3, at the West Side Park. The trio of tallies represented the compliments of Grover Cleveland Alexander, in Quakertown known as "the Great."

DEVORE SOLD TO PHILLIES.

Pittsburgh, August 12.—Josh Devore, centre fielder of the Cincinnati Nationals for the past few weeks, has been purchased by the Philadelphia Nationals. He left the team here last night for Philadelphia. Joe Tinker, manager of the Reds, confirmed the news of the deal yesterday afternoon. Devore declared himself satisfied with the transfer for the reason that he will have a chance in the fight against McGraw's Giants, which discarded him. "I kept Beals Becker out of a regular job with New York, I beat him out of his job with Cincinnati. Now I wonder if I am going to get his job away from him in Philadelphia," speculated the fast fielder.

LAST GAME A DEFEAT.

LaCrosse, Wis., Aug. 12—Pitching his last game in the Northern League before reporting to the New York Giants on August 15, Rube Schauer, of the Superior team, for whom Manager McGraw paid $15,000, was defeated here Sunday. LaCrosse won, 2 to 0. Kramer for LaCrosse allowed only three hits, while seven drives were bunched off the pitching of the new Giant.

TESREAU A RELIABLE STARTER FOR McGRAW

"Big Jeff" Has Been Called Upon Oftener Than Any Other Giant Twirler.

John McGraw has called on Jeff Tesreau oftener to start battles this year than any other member of the Giants pitching staff. Up to August 1, the "Little Napoleon" had given the pitching assignment to the big spitballer 25 times. Jeff only went the route on eight occasions, but on many of the times he was derricked, he was lifted to allow a pinch hitter to be inserted into the proceedings, and not because he was not performing to the satisfaction of his commander.

Were Hugh Chalmers, of Detroit, to offer a car to the National League pitcher who twirled the greatest number of complete games instead to the player who is most valuable to his team, Christy Mathewson undoubtedly would be riding around in a new auto next fall. "Big Six" has opened on the firing line in twenty-two skirmishes for the Giants this year and has lasted through seventeen engagements, which gives him a finishing average of .773. Matty quit twice because he had to, twice because his team had an enormous lead and once because McGraw wished to shove Harry McCorminck in as a pinch hitter.

The club that has compelled Mathewson to retire under fire is St. Louis, the team that handed him his first beating 12 years ago, when he first became famous. The Cardinals ought to be proud of themselves for their showing against "Big Six" this year. They have received five of the thirteen passes Matty has issued this season, Ed Konetchy and Miller Huggins each obtaining two and Steve Evans one. The eight other National Leaguers who have been honored with complimentaries by Mathewson this season are Viox and Menor, of Pittsburgh; Bates and Groh, of Cincinnati; Zimmerman, of Chicago, and Titus, Rariden and Maranville, of Boston.

The figures below show the number of games started and completed by the Giants pitchers this season.

POLICE RESCUE UMPIRE.

Portland, Me., Aug 12—Umpire Rorty was escorted from the field by a squad of police yesterday after he had forfeited the Lawrence-Portland New England League game to Lawrence in the sixth inning. While the crowd surged around him he was struck once on the head, but not seriously hurt. Lawrence was leading at the time, 4 to 3. The trouble started when Hickman, of Portland, was declared out for interference. This out completed a double play which prevented Portland from scoring the tying run.

DAHLEN AFTER KING COLE.

Columbus, O., Augg. 12—Manager William Dahlen, of the Brooklyn club, has been in town for two days looking over King Cole, the former major league twirler, and two other star local players. On Sunday Dahlen saw Cole pitch Columbus to a 4 to 3 victory over St. Paul, keeping up the great work he has been doing in the American Association this year. Neither Dahlen nor the officials of Columbus club, last night, would say if any business had been done.

"RANDOLPH DAY" AT PARKER FIELD WHEN SOMERVILLE PLAYS THE PETS

A movement was launched yesterday afternoon to hold a "Randolph Day" on Parker Field next Saturday afternoon when the Plainfield and Somerville teams meet in what may prove to be the final Central League clash of the season. Cliff has done more to make baseball what it has been in this city during the present season than any other player and his advent into the big leagues, which is scheduled to take place next month, is a signal for some kind of a celebration in his honor. The wise fans are wary of holding it Saturday, however, as so much depends on the outcome of that battle, and in order to allow the Pets to win, the curly headed ballist will have to smash all precedents, for it is customary for a pitcher to lose on a day when he is honored by a delegation of fans from his home street.

Most of the fans are willing to take a chance and Manager Dorflinger will probably arrange a big session for the local hillock performer on the occasion of the big game with Somerville. This contest is an all important one to the Plainfield management and the team itself, for should the Pets lose, it would mean a strip of bunting for the Somerville county seat delegation and should the Pets win it would mean a tie for first place honors with the Torpey crew. A tie would mean a play-off to be staged sometime next month and would afford the fans a chance to have another baseball treat such as the one staged here two years ago when the Plainfield nine won a post season game for the pennant over the same Somerville outfit. Torpey and his men are anxious to get even for that walloping, however, and it is a safe bet that they will come here armed to the teeth.

Another feature that will prove interesting to the local fans and which Manager Dorflinger is planning to stage on that date, is the raising of the Central League championship pennant won two years ago by the Pets. There is a flagpole at Parker Field and this will serve as a fitting time and place to hoist the cloth that was won by the Pets in the league race of 1911.

"MAC" SAYS

Plainfield fans must not kick if their team finishes second to the Somervillians this season in the Central League race. Consider the feelings of the baseball bugs in the other two cities which will finish below the Pets And Dunellen really expected to run away with the pennant, while High Bridge was hopeful of coming in as a runner-up with Dunellen in front.

Daily proverb—the fastest pair of legs in baseball cannot run bases when directed by a head of bone. A word to the wise is sufficient. Certain Central ballists ought to profit by what happened Saturday afternoon at Dunellen.

We are in receipt of a song written by that far-famed baseball manager, Ernest Dorflinger, entitled, "I'd like to know." So would a whole lot of other baseball bugs. Saturday is not far distant, however, and after the fray we will hear for better or for worse.

Not that we are an expert on songology, but after reading Ernest's ballad we are convinced that he is "some manager" but nothing more.

Having recovered a sack of epistles on the subject, "What's the matter with Dunellen," we take this opportunity to settle the public aright. This county pays a coroner a large salary to answer just such queries. No, the coroner does not edit our "Query column."

There may be a few rapid-fire conversationalists in the Central League but none of them have anything on Warry McLaughlin, who goes through nine long innings with 147 pitched balls.

PLAN TO REPLACE CARRIGAN.

Milwaukee, Aug. 12—Friends of George McBride, shortstop, and captain of the Washington Baseball Club, declare that they have positive assurances of McBride's selection as manager of the Boston Red Sox for next season. McBride's family lives here and the report is not denied. McBride, Milan and Ainsmith, of the Senators, are reported to be in line for trading with the Red Sox. Carrigan, now manager, and Tris Speaker are two of the players Washington expects to get under the present plans. Jim McAleer, president of the Boston club, and formerly McBride's employer, is said to be eager to complete the deal.

DATE SELECTED FOR ANNUAL ARMY-NAVY FOOTBALL GAME

Annapolis, Md., August 12.—The Saturday following Thanksgiving Day, November 29, has been selected as the date of the next Army-Navy football game, though representatives of the naval and military academies have not yet selected the place for playing the game.

The Army is dissatisfied with Franklin Field, Philadelphia, its representatives claiming the 8,000 tickets received are not sufficient and that many army officers are compelled to take undesirable seats. They propose either that the game be played regularly in New York, or that it alternate between Annapolis and West Point.

Naval people consider New York too far away and that Annapolis and West Point could not take care of the crowds.

FOREIGN STARS TO COMPETE.

New York, August 12.—The annual open championship tournament of the Metropolitan Golf Association, which will be the biggest event of the year for golfers of the New York district, will begin on the Salisbury links at Garden City, L. I., tomorrow. The tournament this year promises to attract extraordinary attention. In addition to the cream of the American amateurs and professionals the participants will include the quartette of foreign experts recently arrived on this side. Harry Vardon, Edward Ray and Alfred Reed considered three of the best players in England, together with Louis Tellier, a famous French professional, will try their skill against the best of the American players.

MYERS GOT CASH.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 12—The National Baseball Commission handed down a finding yesterday in which it allowed the claim of Player Ralph Myers, of the Boston National League Club, for $300 due him from the Spokane club, of the Northwestern League. Myers was promised one-third of his purchase price. This was $1,200, and $100 of Myers's share has been paid. The commission allowed the remainder.

BRAVES NEW MATERIAL.

Boston, Aug. 12—The Boston Nationals have obtained four additional players toward strengthening the team for next season. Two are infielders and two are outfielders. The infielders are Dugey, second baseman of the Waco Texas League Club, and McCleskey, a third baseman of the Albany, Ga., Club of the South Atlantic League. From the Dallas Club the Boston Braves bought two outfielders—Wilson and Duncan—now batting better than .300. Dugey leads the league in base running. He was sold for $2,000.

WHO PITCHED FOR BRUNSWICK NINE?

Identity of Box Artist Who Beat Plainfield Is Still a Mystery.

Fans who attended the Plainfield-New Brunswick game Sunday afternoon at Amusement Park are still speculating on the identity of the individual who heaved the pill across the rubber for the Driscoll crew and many varied are the expressed opinions. Some are inclined to take the word of the official announcer and let him pass as "Wilson, that's all," but the wiser bugs shake their heads and begin to relate other tricks of the wiley Dave Driscoll when questioned on the subject. At any rate it's safe to bet that the twirler's name was not Wilson or Scanlon, but there are a wide gallery of stars with whom that countenance could be connected.

Dopesters appeared to be almost unanimous yesterday in proclaiming him "Cannon Ball" Smith, the star moundsman of the Montreal contender for the International League bunting and who for six years adorned the rubber for the Chicago Cubs in the National League show. This was the accepted opinion yesterday but other views have been expressed since that time which seem to indicate that the burly pitcher wears the clothes of one "Del" Mason, at least veteran followers of the Pets say he is the man, having seen him perform against the Pets on Crescent Oval years ago. No matter who he may turn out to be the battery star was some stingy server when it came to handing out hits. If it was "Del" Mason the Plainfielders might be well satisfied with their showing, for it was Mason who brought the Eastern League pennant to Baltimore several years ago and it was Mason that twirled on local sandlots when father was a boy.

ATHLETICS GOT REVENGE AT HANDS OF THE ROVERS

The Athletic team of the Parker Field Senior League took revenge for its defeat of last Friday afternoon, on the playground, yesterday trouncing the Rovers to the tune of 9 to 5. Both pitchers were hit freely, but Lawton was accorded poor support. Seidel made the feature catch of the contest. Cantor and Porter led the batting.

FEAR TWO BOATS ARE LOST AT SEA

Watchers at Barnegat Look For Wreckage and Bodies.

BLOWN OUT BY STORM.

Vessels Appeared to Be In Company, and One of Them Seemed to Be Disabled, Those Who Saw Them Declare. Storm Broke Before They Could Reach Channel.

Barnegat, N. J., Aug. 12.—The crew of the local life saving station spent many hours out on the ocean searching and signaling for two motorboats which were driven seaward by the storm. The life savers are keeping watch along the coast for any sign of wreckage and for bodies from the boats. It is not known that the boats and the persons in them were lost, but it is feared that this is the case.

The boats were thirty and fifty feet long, those who saw them said. They were seen coming down the coast from the north. They headed for the inlet and boatmen say the man sailing the larger boat knew something about the coast, but that his knowledge was a bit out of date. The boats appeared to be in company, and one of them, the smaller, made rough work of it, and from this it was thought she was disabled and her engine dead and that she was being towed by the other.

When the storm threatened the leading boat made as if to come through the inlet by way of the old north channel, which is no longer available for boats. When the navigator realized that the channel no longer existed the leader put about and the other followed again, as if being towed. They then headed for the lower channel, but before this could be reached the storm broke and the boats were lost to sight, and those familiar with such vessels say they could not have come in during the storm.

ONLY NINE MOTORISTS FINED

Few Owners Violated at Week End Speed Laws.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 12.—Although motor cars by the thousands crowded the White Horse pike between Camden and the seashore at the week end, only nine motorists were arrested. A week ago more than a hundred were fined.

Those arrested paid fines to Justice of the Peace Danaker. They were:

William J. Fox, 1136 South Fifty-second street; Henry Reynolds, 2500 South Twentieth street; Frederick Grill, 1928 Diamond street; Mrs. M. Arkainacht, 1913 Spruce street; Dr. John Hollepeter, 1911 Spruce street; Raymond Homan, all of Philadelphia; H. T. Summer of Lancaster, William Rittenler, Oak lane, and A. G. Foystman of Merchantville, who showed a disposition to resist arrest and was fined $25. A fine of $40 was imposed upon Rittenler because he lacked a driver's license.

LUTHER MARTIN BEATS PONY.

West Orange Man Held on Complaint of Girl Driver's Father.

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 12.—Because it annoyed him to see a girl, a neighbor, driving her pony cart up and down the street, Luther Martin, Jr., a manufacturer, until recently of Philadelphia, but now a resident of this city, seized and beat the little animal as it was being driven past his home, it is said, July 30.

The girl was Dorothhy Davis, the sixteen-year-old daughter of G. Howlett Davis. Her father filed a complaint and Mr. Martin was held under $200 bail.

Mr. Martin is a manufacturer of lampblack and was the active head of the Luther Martin company, Milnor and Cottfan streets, Tacony, until his removal here.

BOY TELLS HOW HE WAS SHOT

Dying Statement Increases Mystery of Trowarthan Case.

Rockaway, N. J., Aug. 12.—John, the fifteen-year-old son of Thomas Trowarthan of Middletown, who was shot on Friday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Ellen Ryan of Mount Hope, told County Detective Brennan of Morristown and Constable Jennings of Rockaway that he was shot by somebody in the house as he was about to mount the porch steps.

He had been out gathering firewood and was returning when the shot was fired.

The boy's condition is almost hopeless and the case is mysterious. A revolver was found on the scene and the boy was supposed to have shot himself accidentally.

Finds Ferret on Perch.

East Orange, N. J., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Robert D. Ekler found a white ferret on the back porch of her home, 40 Warrington place. She turned it over to the police.

WILL HOLD ADRIANOPLE.

Turkey Tells Powers City Will Not Be Evacuated.

Constantinople, Aug. 12.—Turkey, in a note to the powers, firmly declined to give up Adrianople. The note explains that the Turkish invasion of the Midia-Maritza zone, which is beyond the new frontier fixed by the treaty of London, was forced by the atrocities of the Bulgarians.

HENRY P. DAVISON.

Member of Morgan Firm Acts as a Life Saver.

One of the heroes of the rescue incidents of the big New York storm was Henry P. Davison, banker, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., who was aboard his yacht, the Skipaki, when the Falcon, another yacht, sank off the Long Island shore across the sound from New Rochelle. P. C. Pfeiffer of 308 Huguenot street, Mount Vernon, of the New Rochelle Yacht club, and his brother, B. C. Pfeiffer, were thrown into the waves when the Falcon foundered. Mr. Davison hurried to the spot in his yacht and with the assistance of those aboard the Skipaki working under his direction rescued the brothers.

MISS PANKHURST HURT IN CLASH WITH POLICE

Suffragette's Arm Bruised as She Resists Arrest.

London, Aug. 12.—Seventeen militant suffragettes or sympathizers were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from a week to two months or bound over to keep the peace as a sequel to the attempt to storm Premier Asquith's official residence in Downing street.

Sylvia Pankhurst, the leader of the storming party, was not among the prisoners, as she had been taken direct to Holloway jail to serve another portion of her previous sentence.

One of Miss Pankhurst's arms was twisted and bruised in the clash. She is still suffering from the effects of her "hunger strike" during her last detention in jail, but her condition is not dangerous.

At the weekly meeting of the Women's Social and Political union today Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was present, attended by a nurse, and Miss Annie Kenny, another suffragette leader, was also on the platform. Both were given an ovation.

A number of foreign delegates to the international medical congress occupied front seats at the meeting of the union.

Mrs. Pankhurst made a brief speech, which lacked the fire and militancy of her previous addresses. She welcomed the doctors, saying she supposed "our foreign friends are trying to understand the strange movement which is sweeping the whole world and making the so called weaker sex able to go through experiences which would have been deemed incredible a few years ago."

PURSUING TUNGAN TRIBES.

Chinese Troops Moving to Comply With Japanese Demand.

Amoy, China, Aug. 12.—A column of 500 government troops was dispatched from here in pursuit of the Tungan tribesmen who were responsible for the recent disturbances here, in which a number of Formosans were killed, leading to a demand from the Japanese government for an indemnity and for the execution of the leaders of the tribe.

Strong resistance is expected to be offered by the tribesmen against the arrest of their leaders. The Tungans are fairly well armed.

THOMAS FRANKLIN PARDONED

Ex-Captain Was Sent to Atlanta Penitentiary in 1908.

West Point, Aug. 12.—Ex-Captain Thomas Franklin, U. S. N., who was sentenced to the Atlanta prison for two and a half years, has been pardoned unconditionally by President Wilson.

Franklin was treasurer of the Military academy from 1902 to 1908. After leaving for duty in the Philippines irregularities were discovered in his accounts. He was brought back for trial and pleaded guilty.

$150,000 Chicago Fire.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Six firemen were injured and property valued at $150,000 was destroyed by fire in the plant of the American Cocoanut Butter company. Three ammonia tanks exploded before the flames were extinguished.

GUARDING THE CZARWITCH.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—The little Grand Duke Alexis, only son of the Czar and heir to the throne of Russia, entered upon his tenth year today, having been born at Peterhof, August 12, 1904. In celebration of the anniversary flags were displayed everywhere today and the usual salutes were fired at all the naval and military stations throughout the empire. It is safe to assert that no other boy in the world is guarded so assiduously against lurking perils as is the Grand Duke Alexis. Recent rumors of renewed activities on the part of the Nihilists and Terrorists have caused increased precautions to be taken for the safety of the imperial heir. From the moment that he arises in the morning until he retires at night his every movement is watched over by trusted soldiers. His bodyguard, composed of fifty of the most loyal and trusted Cossacks, remains with him at all times. In the school room, in the play room and in all other chambers of the palace frequented by the Grand Duke the soldiers are to be seen standing like statues. When the boy is taken into the great garden to romp and play, the gates are guarded by sentinels, and none may enter without the password.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ON PARADE.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 12—This was the big day of the thirty-second triennial conclave of the Knights Templar, the day of the great parade, when upwards of 20,000 sir knights, with cross-hilted swords at shoulder, marched through the streets of Denver in one of the greatest demonstrations of its kind in the history of the order. Thousands of spectators were gathered along the line of march to witness the brilliant pageant. Thirty thousand persons, including the governor of Colorado, the mayor of Denver, the officers of the grand encampment and many invited guests, reviewed the procession from the mammoth grandstands in the court of honor. The parade was almost six miles in length. Interspersing the various commanderies were fifty of the most famous bands in the country.

IMPEACH SULZER; VOTE 79 TO 45

New York Assembly Acted After Strenuous Session Lasting All Night.

HIS WIFE TAKES BLAME

Sensational Statement By Minority Leader Hinman, Who Quoted Mrs. Sulzer As Saying That She Was to Blame For All Stock Transactions.

IMPEACHED GOVERNORS

Seth Sothell, Colony of North Carolina, 1689, removed.
Charles Robinson, Kansas, 1862, acquitted.
Harrison Reed, Florida, 1868, charged dropped.
William W. Holden, North Carolina, 1870, removed.
Powell Clayton, Arkansas, 1871, charges dropped.
David Butler, Nebraska, 1871, removed.
Henry C. Warmoth, Louisiana, 1872, term expired and proceedings dropped.
Adelbert Ames, Mississippi, 1876, resigned.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Albany, N. Y., August 13.—By a vote of 79 to 45, taken at 5.16 o'clock this morning, Governor William Sulzer was ordered impeached by the House of Assembly. Three more votes than the necessary majority of 76 were cast, and thirty did not vote. The lower house of the New York State legislature had been in continuous session since eleven minutes after ten last night.

This is the first time that a Governor has been impeached since 1876, when action was taken against Governor Adelbert Ames, of Mississippi, who resigned before the impeachment proceedings were completed. In the history of the country since 1689, but eight Governors have had impeachment proceedings brought against them, and only three have been removed as a result of such proceedings.

A dramatic surprise was sprung in the early hours of the morning by Assemblyman Hinman, minority leader, who when speaking on behalf of the Republicans, declared that Mrs. Sulzer had issued a statement shouldering the full blame for all the stock transactions charged against her husband by the Frawley Committee.

Information from a source of unquestioned authority was to the effect that in a 3,000 word statement which Governor Sulzer was prevented by his counsel from issuing on Sunday night there was contained the assertion that the Wall street undertakings represented to be those of the governor were in reality business dealings of Mrs. Sulzer.

Had Necessary Votes.

The first roll call indicated that the organization had the votes to carry out its program to impeach the governor before adjournment. One hundred and twenty-two members answered to their names, as follows: Democrats, 85; Republicans, 35; Progressives, 2.

Of the eighty-five Democrats present Majority Leader Levy was confident that seventy-eight—two more than a majority—would vote for the impeachment resolution.

Independent Democrats mustered only a handful. Majority Leader Levy let it be known that he would personally reply to some of the anticipated speeches opposing impeachment. Half a dozen lieutenants expected to aid him. Assemblymen Hinman, Schaap and Gibbs were prepared to lead the attack on the resolution.

Absentees on the first roll call were:

Democrats—Brewster, Evans, Hearn, Ingram, Kornobis and Willmott.

Republicans—Alder, Allen, Brereton, Gillett, Hopkins, Horton, Jones, Knight, Macdonald, Maehold, Pappert, Pembleton, Phillips, Richardson, J. A. Smith, Sullivan, Sweet, Vert and Yeomans.

Progressives—Jude and Volk.

Speaker Smith announced that several of these absentees were known to be in the city and the sergeant at arms was instructed to look for them. Two of the three absent Democrats from Kings were reported to be on the way, and it was said that the one other from Kings was too ill to attend the session.

Hinman Opens Debate.

Upon Mr. Levy's call for the order of business, Assemblyman Hinman opened the debate with an arraignment of the absentees and a repetition of his declaration that he believed the assembly was without the pale of the constitution in considering impeachment at an extraordinary session not called for that purpose.

Every act of Mr. Sulzer's with relation to campaign funds brought out by the Frawley committee, Mr. Hinman asserted in his opening speech, dated back to a period before the governor took his oath of office. Reference was made to a resolution adopted by the

MRS. SULZER SAYS SHE IS TO BLAME

Admits Having Taken Checks But Her Statement Is Ignored.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Albany, Aug. 13.—In a brief statement from Mrs. Sulzer she admits having taken checks given to the Governor for campaign purposes, saying that she intended to store the money away for a "rainy day," and at the time saw no harm in her acts.

Mrs. Sulzer declares that Matthew T. Horgan, secretary to the Frawley committee, was fully aware of the fact that she had indorsed the Governor's checks and deposited them. Mr. Horgan and his wife at that time were practically members of the Sulzer household, she asserts, and Horgan advised her in financial matters.

At the time of Governor Sulzer's nomination, Mrs. Sulzer, explains, the Sulzer finances were at an extremely low ebb. Mr. Sulzer's financial obligations amounted to more than $40,000, and some of them were pressing.

Mrs. Sulzer accompanies her confession with the declaration that her bank books and the love letters sent her by Governor Sulzer have been stolen.

Mrs. Sulzer's name was brought into the controversy in an effort to delay action. Republican Leader Hinman stated at 1:30 o'clock that he had learned that the Governor's wife had issued a statement taking responsibility for acts charged to Mr. Sulzer. He asked postponement of action until otmorrow.

The motion was voted down, 73 to 49.

It is reported today that Mrs. Sulzer is preparing a detailed statement of her alleged Wall street transactions in which her husband's campaign funds were involved. It is said that Governor Sulzer was ignorant of his wife's financial operations until the Frawley Committee started its investigations. Mrs. Sulzer at this time, it is said, wanted to make a complete statement, after telling her husband of her stock dealings, but that he refused to allow her to do so. According to Mrs. Sulzer many private documents belonging both to the Governor and herself have disappeared, among them being many which could be used to substantiate her story concerning her alleged use of the Governor's campaign funds. Mrs. Sulzer's friends also say her love letters have also been stolen.

No site has been selected as yet for the tuberculosis hospital.

REPORT CONCERNING LOCAL AUTOIST WAS ERRONEOUS

In an effort to avoid striking Mildred Sickles, the three-years-old daughter of W. H. Sickles, of Netcong, yesterday afternoon, Jesse J. Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Lake, of 410 East Second street, this city, did some sensational automobile driving that resulted in a story being circulated to the effect that the Plainfield man had been badly injured and his car put out of running order by being dashed against a cement wall when he swerved to one side of the street. A letter received by the young man's parents here today, states that the car is none the worse for the incident as nothing was injured. Mr. Lake is at present enjoying a two weeks' vacation in his mother's Overland car and it was while going from here to Netcong that the incident occurred.

The youngster had just been called across the street by some playmates as the automobile approached and ran into the roadway a short distance ahead of the machine. Mr. Lake, who was driving, was compelled to turn the car quickly, but did not strike the stone wall on one side of the street in doing so, as stated.

WINE THIEF CAUGHT WITH STOLEN GOODS

Fanwood Marshal, Hiding in Cellar, Watched Thief Gather Loot.

Playing the role of "Sherlocko the Monk" and hiding himself in the dark and gloomy parts of Felix Korn's wine cellar last night, Marshal Frank Logan, of the Fanwood police force, made a sensational capture of Eugene McPherson, an ebony colored wine consumer, and landed him in the jail at that place. Mr. Korn complained to the Fanwood police last week that some intruder was getting away with his wine during the hours of the night and after several trips a considerable portion of the fluid had been removed from his cellar by the thirsty miscreant.

The proprietor of the house could give no clue to the identity of the burglar and the mystery of the missing wine baffled the police until last night when Logan tried out his novel scheme for capturing the wine stealer. The marshal watched McPhearson enter the cellar window at 9.30 o'clock last night and after the colored man had loaded up with the amber colored fluid the officer of the law made his appearance and took him to jail together with his loot. He was relieved of the wine after being locked up ,however, and when arraigned before Recorder Charles Sheelen he plead guilty to the charge and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury. McPhearson has been doing odd jobs about Fanwood and Scotch Plains for some time past and was a familiar figure on the village streets. He was taken to the Union County jail today.

ROSENBAUM BROS. OUTGROW STORE--TO BUILD ADDITION

Rosenbaum Brothers, because of the rapidly growing demand upon their store, have taken the entire second floor of the building they occupy at 115-117 West Front street. The floor will be given over to their line of cloaks and suits for women, while the extra space gained on the first floor will make room for a larger dress goods department. The windows will also be enlarged. Work on making the alterations is now in progress, and business is being continued as usual while the changes are made. The stairway leading to the new department will be located to the right of the entrance to the main floor.

WARREN CHAPEL EXCUSION THE LAST OF THE SEASON

The last excursion of the season to Asbury Park is scheduled for tomorrow, when Warren chapel will hold its annual outing. With the weather prophets promising a fair day, a great number will, no doubt, take advantage of the trip and spend a day at the popular shore resort.

Orchestras of unusual merit are playing at the various pavilions. Suhr's orchestra is again appearing at the South End in Ocean Grove, and it is expected that many of the local people will spend a portion of their time listening to the local musicians.

The committee having charge of the excursion are as follows: George Hoagland, Andrew Stiglitz, Theodore Martin, Charles Mumford, Rodney Lewis and Joseph W. Gavett. The train will leave the North Avenue station at 8:15 and Asbury at 6:10 in the evening, stopping at Netherwood both ways.

SUPREME COURT DECISION MAY AFFECT THE SYSTEM

New York, Aug. 13.—In a decision handed down by Justice Philbin in the Supreme Court it is held that payment of a check through the Clearing House when sufficient funds are on deposit to meet the instrument is the same as payment over the counter of a bank.

It is considered that this decision may affect the present system of the N. Y. Clearing House should it be sustained by the higher courts. The decision was rendered in a suit brought by H. Hentz & Co. against the National City Bank in regard to a check for $25,000.

NEW CIVIC BODY FOR PISCATAWAY

Fifty Representative Citizens Effected Organization In New Market Last Night.

PLAN EXTENSIVE WORK

Local Board of Trade Delegation Assist In Formation—Officers Elected—Trouble In Selecting a Name—Enthusiasm Reigned Supreme.

A delegation of over fifty of Piscataway Township's leading citizens and taxpayers answered the call for the formation of a civic body to take charge of the township's municipal interests at an organization meeting held last night in Friendship Hall, New Market, and enthusiasm reigned supreme during the launching of the new movement which in time will probably assume supreme charge of the citizens' welfare n that section. The formation of such a body was suggested by F. T. Vail, of New Market, and it was largely due to his efforts that the organization was so successfully effected last night.

A delegation from the local Board of Trade composed of President William Jeffery and A. S. Herr went to New Market last night to lend what help they could in organizing the new body and both entered their names as charter members, being land owners in that township. Mr. Jeffery was called upon by Chairman Vail to address the prospective members and he outlined the necessity for an association of this nature in every community and related certain features that would aid in establishing the body on a firm basis in the township and make it recognized by the higher legislative organs of the State. Mr. Jeffery suggested that it be named the Piscataway Board of Trade but some strenuous opposition was entered to this title by certain applicants for membership who wanted the word "citizen" and "taxpayer" included and it was finally agreed to call it the Taxpayers' Association of Piscataway Township.

Counsellor Vermuehl opposed the name Board of Trade because of certain difficulties he had had with the New Brunswick Board and related incidents that he had been confronted with during his connection with the New Brunswick body. Mr. Vermuehl stated that the Board of Trade of the place had sought "to run the town under the Commission form of government" and had "proven themselves a greedy organization by snatching a slice of Piscataway Township in forming the new Borough of Middlesex."

Many signatures were affixed to the charter last night and the new organization promises to be a flourishing one and an influential organ through which civic matters can be discussed in the community. A constitution was accepted at last night's meeting and the following officers were elected: President, F. T. Vail; vice-president, George Vermuehl; secretary-treasurer, DeWitt Giles.

When it was finally voted to name the body the "Taxpayers' Association of Piscataway Township," Mr. Jeffery offered a resolution to make the vote unanimous and this was enthusiastically accepted. Mr. Jeffery's move led Mr. Vermuehl, who had offered strenuous opposition to naming it the Board of Trade, to address the gathering complimenting the Plainfield members on what they had accomplished through their Board of Trade and in return Mr. Jeffery assured the new association of any support that the Queen City organization could give.

A communication was received from the Dunellen Board of Trade inviting the Piscataway body to join with the affiliated Boards of Trade of Middlesex county, but no action was taken on the matter other than to offer a vote of thanks to the Dunellen association. An application will be made to the Board of Education before the next meeting for the use of the school building in which to meet and the next gathering will be held on Tuesday evening, September 9, probably in the schoolhouse.

CHIMNEY FIRE AT SAURER PLANT

Intense Heat Ignites Wooden Flue, Causing $100 Damage.

Fire, which was discovered in a wooden chimney at one end of the international Motor Company works at Clinton avenue and West Front street, about 10:30 o'clock last night, threatened serious consequences for a time. An alarm of fire was sent in from box 49, and the department was quick to respond. Within a short time two streams of water were thrown on the blaze and the chemical engine was used. Within a half hour the fire was extinguished. The damage amounted to about $100.

The fire was caused, according to Fire Chief Doane, by the intense heat in the underground chimneys, used as exhaust flues in the testing of motors. These chimneys are under a cement floor and they extend to the wooden chimney which is located against a wooden end of the building. It was doubtless the intense heat from the underground flues that set fire to the wooden chimney.

COUNTY ROAD WORK PROGRESSING

Double Curve In South Avenue, Fanwood, to Be Abolished.

The road committee from the Union County Board of Freeholders, of which Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of this city, is a member, made a tour of inspection of road work throughout the county yesterday and found it to be progressing satisfactorily. The rebuilding of St. George avenue from Six roads to the Yellow Tavern at Rahway, is well underway and one leg of Morris avenue, from Meeker's Inn to Springfield is finished.

The work is also progressing on Terrill road to Martine avenue and from Summit avenue toward Plainfield to the point where a cut is made through the woods at Fanwood to South avenue, which will cut out the double "S" in the road on South avenue.

Bids for the work in the Fanwood section; also for the road work between Westfield and Cranford will be received in about two weeks. The railroad company has about completed the building of a bridge on the Valley road from Mountain avenue to Summit, at which point the county will make a cut of about thirty-three feet through a rock.

Mountain avenue between Springfield and Scotch Plains is being repaired. On Tuesday, September 2, there will be a meeting of commissioners, appointed by the courts, to condemn property along that line a distance of about six miles, the purpose being to widen the road to sixty-six feet. The county has had great success in the use of Amiesite for road building and it is being laid under a guarantee to last so many years; any repairs necessary are made by the contractors and not the county.

FALLS OUT OF WINDOW AND SEVERS AN ARTERY

James MacGilliway, aged 34 years, of 652 South avenue, fell through a window, against which he was leaning, at his home, last night, and cut an artery in his wrist. He was assisted to the house by members of the family and given "first aid" treatment in an effort to stop the flow of blood. He was finally removed to the hospital in the ambulance to receive further treatment.

Mr. MacGilliway was in a greatly weakened condition from the loss of blood, but today he was reported to be improved and will probably be able to leave the hospital in a day or two. In falling through the window Mr. MacGilliway's wrist was cut by broken glass.

NIX!—NO COUNCIL JOB FOR ME, SAYS MR. ADELBERG

Hyman Adelberg, of East Second street, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for councilman from the First ward, stated that he had decided not to enter the race, but to leave the field open for those who had more time to attend to the duties of the office.

Among several who have been mentioned for the honor in the First ward to succeed William Gloak, the retiring member of the Council from that ward, is V. W. Nash, Jr., of North avenue, who is being urged by many of his friends to enter the race.

FIELDER SEEKS SOMERSET VOTES

Acting Governor Touring Co. Today—Started at North Plainfield This Morning.

MADE SHORT ADDRESS

Tells Briefly What He Hopes to Do If Given a Full Three Year Term—Accompanied by Prominent County Democrats.

Making his initial stop and political speech of the day in front of the Blatz Hotel, North Plainfield, Acting Governor James F. Fielder, today toured the principal municipalities of Somerset county in quest of votes for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. In a short address made while standing on the stoop of the borough hostelry, Mr. Fielder pointed to his eight years' record in the assembly and as acting chief executive of the State, as a warrant for what he termed promotion—the Democratic nomination and eventually the governorship.

Nearly every Democrat of prominence in North Plainfield greeted the governor as he stepped from his automobile, accompanied by his private secretary, Edward L. Herrmann, Assemblyman A. M. Beekman, Commissioner of Banking and Insurance George M. Lamonte and D. D. Clark, Jr., a newspaper man. William L. Saunders, of the borough, who planned the tour of the governor, led the committee which welcomed the executive, and later introduced Mr. Fielder before he delivered his short address. Hand-shaking and introductions followed. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., was not present.

In the gathering of politicians many accompanied the governor's party to Watchung, Warrenville, Mt. Bethel, Liberty Corner, Basking Ridge, Bernardsville, Peapack, Bedminster, Pluckemin, North Branch, Raritan, Neshanic Station, East Millstone and Bound Brook, among them being John P. Egan, surrogate of Hudson county; Laurent Townele, secretary of the Fielder league; Andrew E., David T., and John J. Kenney, H. C. Playdell, Freeholder George Kirch, Walter Linbarger, candidate for the county clerk nomination on the Democratic ticket; David Bodine and Sheriff George Mobue, all of North Plainfield; John Shurts and Stewart Kenny, of Somerville, Runyon Field, of Bound Brook, and Henry Rogers, of Warrenville.

After telling his audience how glad he was to be among them, Governor Fielder in his opening remarks said he had been a staunch Democrat ever since he had been able to vote. "And the Democratic party we will find," he continued, "is nearer the people than any party in existence, and if the successful Democratic candidates for any office adhere strictly to Democratic principles their success and the party success is sure to follow. But if we cease to conform with these principles then we will deservedly be failures in serving the people and protecting the public's interests. I intend, if placed by the voters in the governor's chair, to stand strongly by Democratic principles. The principles that have brought success and triumph to President Woodrow Wilson and to the Democratic organization."

At Watchung about fifty voters and several women greeted the governor. Kenneth Schmidt, son of Postmaster George A. Schmidt, presented the executive with a basket of flowers. A small card was attached to the gift and bore the inscription, "Wishing that you are the next governor of New Jersey." The school and fire houses were decorated with American flags. Among those who gathered about and wished Mr. Fielder success were Freeholder John Mobus, Postmaster Schmidt, Albert Perry, William H. Titus, Edward Morfine, J. Y. Wilson, Frank Probst, William Demler, John O'Connor, John Lounsbury, Louis Snowden and John Kelly.

DEN. J. GALBRAITH WILL DEMAND FINAL PAYMENT

Den. J. Galbraith, the local plumbing contractor who installed the $18,000 steam heating and ventilating plant in the Somerset school building, North Plainfield, will appear at the next meeting of the Borough Board of Education on Monday night, August 18, and demand that the last payment, which he claims is due on the contract, be paid, or that he be shown that he has not carried out its provisions. Several disputes have arisen between members of the board and Mr. Galbraith regarding the latter's contract. Richard McDonald and Charles Huff have been appointed janitors for the borough school.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

At the Plainfield theatre, tomorrow night, Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader, the reunited veteran minstrel stars and their combined organizations will be the attraction. After a separation which had existed for nearly ten years, during which time these distinguished artists headed their own respective companies, last season they decided to pool their fortunes and to present to theatregoers a big spectacular revival of old time minstrelsy. The success of the undertaking was immediate. Practically every city of importance in the United States and Canada were visited and everywhere these veteran stars of the minstrel world were greeted with capacity audiences. At the close of last season an arrangement was made for the perpetuity of the combination. Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader have surrounded themselves with an allprominent company of artists, many of whom have headed their own companies in seasons past. Prominent among the assisting artists are Raymond Wylie, the phenomenal male soprano; the Six Musical Brown Brothers, instrumentalists extraordinary, which is said to be the greatest musical organization on the American stage; "Happy Jack" Lambert, distinguished interpreter of negro characters; the Four Meteors, an exceptionally brilliant coterie of vocalists and many others of equal distinction. Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader have given their revival of old time minstrelsy a most magnificent scenic and costume investiture. A street parade will be given on the day of the performance at noon, headed by Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader. The tour is under the personal management of Earl Burgess.

MONKEY SHAKES UP JERSEY CITY

Animal Makes Raid on Crates of Live Geese.

ESCAPED FROM HIS MASTER

After Being Whipped Off Wagon He Takes Passage on a Street Car—Entertains Passengers For Three Blocks Until Captured by Organ Grinder.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 13.—The proverbial "bull in a china shop" would have hung his head with shame if he had witnessed the size of the disturbance created in this city by a tiny monkey dressed in a red sweater and wearing a little green cap on his head.

The monkey belongs to Tony Guido, an organ grinder, living on Fremont street. While Guido was busily engaged playing the latest syncopated music for the impromptu sidewalk dances Mr. Monk suddenly discovered that the chain which had held him firmly bound to his master had parted. He made a flying leap to the rear of a truck loaded with crates of live geese and began making grimaces and chattering defiance at the white winged prisoners.

The driver of the truck finally beat off Mr. Monk with his long lashed whip, and the little animal decided to take passage on a passing street car. For three blocks he entertained the passengers with his comical antics until captured near the Pennsylvania ferry by the panting, perspiring Guido, who had trailed his valuable prize throughout the route of his wanderings. When Guido held the monkey safely in his grip once more he added a length of rope to the broken chain.

CRAZED, ATTACKS FAMILY.

Brass Molder Then Tries to Leap to His Death.

New York, Aug. 13.—Peter Kempf, a brass molder, forty-five years old, while mentally unbalanced as the result of his sufferings from the heat, attacked his family at his home, 4 Nostrand avenue, Williamsburg, and after trying to leap from a fire escape fought two policemen and Ambulance Surgeon Lewis of the Eastern District hospital. It was necessary to put him in a straitjacket.

Fire Threatens Historic Hotel.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Fire which started in an airshaft and arose through the roof of the historic Ebbitt House created consternation among the guests, but did little damage. A second alarm brought out all the downtown fire fighting apparatus, and the blaze was soon under control.

BULL MOOSE AND ELEPHANT MAY COMBINE IN MARYLAND

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 13—Whether the Republicans and Progressives of Maryland are to bury the hatchet and present a united front against the Democrats in the coming sensational election will probably be determined definitely at a mass convention of the leaders of the two parties to be held in this city tomorrow. The present situation is filled with interesting possibilities and the result of the conference will be of interest and importance not only in Maryland but in other States where efforts are being made to amalgamate the Republicans and the Progressives.

The political situation in Maryland is attracting attention just now from the fact that the new method of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people is to have its first tryout here next November, when a successor is to be chosen to the seat of Senator Jackson, who was appointed by the Governor last year to fill the unexpired term of Senator Rayner.

The election will be given added significance by the fact that it will be the first test of public sentiment since the advent of the Democratic national administration.

Of late years Maryland has been a close State politically, though it used to be regarded as a Democratic stronghold. Last year the Democrats won an easy victory because about half the men who had been voting the Republican ticket supported the Progressive party.

Until recently it was the belief that three tickets would be put in the field this fall and that, in consequence the result would be the same as last November, namely, an easy Democratic victory. But with the inception of the movement to reunite the Republicans and Progressives the situation took on a different turn. A straight fight between the Democrats and their opponents will mean an even and hard fought battle. It is settled that the Democrats, whoever their nominee for Senate may be, will ask the voters of the State to support the Democratic party on the ground that the Wilson administration is a success. Naturally there is keenest sort of interest as to what the attitude of the Republican opposition will be toward the tariff, banking and currency, and other reforms advocated by the Wilson administration.

A joint committee made up of leaders of the Republican and Progressives parties has prepared a declaration of principles to be submitted to the mass convention tomorrow.

The platform confines itself largely to State issues, on which the two parties are expected to agree without much difficulty. In regards to national questions the platform indorses nearly all of the important reforms advocated by the national Progressive party, with the exception of the recall of judicial decisions.

PRESIDENT WILSON URGES ACTION ON RURAL CREDITS

Washington, Aug. 13—President Wilson today issued a statement urging action by Congress in behalf of rural credits. He stated that special machinery of a distinct system of banking must be provided for if rural credits are to be successfully and adequately supplied.

A government commission is now in Europe studying the interesting and highly successful methods which have been completed in several countries of the old world and its report will be made to Congress at its regular session next winter.

"SUPPOSING" AT PROCTOR'S.

Suppose that women should take over the reins of government, suppose there were women judges, lawyers, policemen, etc., what chance would the men have? Those who would learn about these things will have an opportunity to do so at Proctor's theatre, tomorrow and the rest of the week, when a big act entitled "Supposing," will be offered by a [illegible]. Jack Wilson will present this act, which is one of the London successes written by Sewell Collins. It's twenty minutes scream. There will be also an act of trained goats, the first of its kind seen here. Fred and Adele Astaire, top-liners as singers and dancers, direct from Proctor's Fifth Avenue theatre; "Help Wanted," offered by William Edmunds & Co., an irristible riot of laughter; the Throwing Tabors, expert Indian club jugglers complete the vaudeville and in addition the feature photo-play, "Mary Stewart," in three reels will be one of the big picture productions.

COLD STORAGE LAW.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 13—The cold storage act passed by the last Pennsylvania legislature, and which is believed to be the first law of its kind enacted by any of the States, will come into effect tomorrow. The principal purpose of the law is to limit the time in which eggs, butter, poultry, etc., may be held in storage. It also contains other important provisions relating to the sanitation and equipment of cold storage warehouses. All cold storage plants are required to take out a State license. Not only the mercantile cold storage warehouses but all similar plants attached to hotels, resaturants and hospitals, in which food is stored for more than 30 days, will be required to comply with the provisions of the new law.

FAITH IN OURSELVES

The world has faith in the man that has faith in himself.

Likewise it has faith in the store that has faith in itself.

For a store to have faith in itself, it must sell better things than its contemporaries; it must throw every good thing away for a better one; it must close the door on everything that savors of "fogeyism," and condition of mind which believes in the Old and shuns the New.

Such, we believe, is the store we lend our name to—a store far in advance of the usual shop for "Most Things Men Wear."

HUERTA'S MAN AGREES TO MEET ENVOY LIND

Chief Cabinet Officer Receives Wilson Emissary.

Mexico City, Aug. 13.—The first success in the indirect diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Mexico was achieved by John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, when he contrived to be received unofficially by Provisional President Huerta's minister of foreign relations. Both Mr. Lind and Senor Gamboa insist that no great importance attaches to the visit. The Mexican government still is insistent in its formal announcements that it will not deal with Mr. Lind officially nor listen to any suggestion from him as to mediation or to any proposal emanating from the government.

Mr. Lind was presented to Senor Gamboa by Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires of the American embassy, in the character of a private citizen. The conversation between the Mexican cabinet officer and Mr. Lind was entirely formal, both men carefully avoiding the subject of politics or the mission intrusted personally to Mr. Lind by President Wilson.

The visit of Mr. Lind consumed only a few minutes of Senor Gamboa's time, and only a small number of persons knew that it had been made. The time selected for the call was when few visitors were in the foreign office, and a disposition was shown in the department to cloak it with secrecy.

No further step was taken by Mr. Lind to advance the object of his mission to Mexico. It is believed there will be little development in the situation before to-morrow. Mr. Lind is in communication with Washington, and it is not improbable that his movements will be governed by instructions from there based on the progress he is able to make here.

MR. STOKES' BLUFF.

Regular press bureau stuff is being sent out from Trenton trying to make it appear that Edward C. Stokes is in doubt about running in the September primary for governor, with a view of creating the impression that Mr. Stokes is being forced into being a candidate. This is sheer nonsense. He has been a candidate for a year. He wants to run and intends to do so. His petitions have been in circulation for signatures for at least two months and you could not drive him out of the race, if he saw a ghost of a chance.

What we dislike is the hypocrisy of this whole thing. If he wishes to run, why does not say so and not pretend otherwise? A part of the same system of hypocrisy is the issuance from his bureau of seeming attacks upon stand-pat Republicans like Murphy, Kean, Baird and others, coupled with the pretense that he, Stokes, is a Progressive. He has not a progressive hair in his head. He is just "playing the game." If he knows what he does believe no one else does. He has the ability, which few possess, and none should desire, of concealing his opinions under general statements, that can be read any way, to fit the reader's views.

Last year he played with the Progressives for a while and then played with the regulars, and ended up the campaign without anybody knowing where he stood or for whom he voted. Did anyone ever hear Stokes say he voted for Taft or for Roosevelt? Possibly he just "dodged" and did not vote for either. That would be in keeping with his course during the whole campaign. The people of New Jersey do not want a man for governor who is all things to all men and without any fixed opinions on any question. That kind of leadership has long since passed away and is no longer useful in the public life of the State or Nation.

Elizabeth is beginning to wake up on the public swimming pool question, and Plainfield should also fall in line. The Times of the county seat calls attention to the efforts being made in Rochester and Trenton to teach the young people of those two cities how to swim, and says that the establishment of public swimming places would be "a practical, sensible innovation, and should be adopted at the earliest possible moment." Attention is called to the fact that in Elizabeth, because of the natural advantages of the place, swimming and wading pools could be established at a minimum expense. Here in Plainfield a public pool is much needed in the west end of the city, where several manufacturing plants are located. When the new High school is completed it is probable that some provision will be made for opening the pool to be contained therein to the general public during the summer months, and while that will be a splendid thing, it will not serve a useful purpose for the people of the West End. The great obstacle to furnishing the pool does not seem to come from the first cost, but from the fact that the expense of maintenance would be so great. When the latter can be provided for, it is probable that some way will be found to supply this long felt want.

Company K, the local national guard organization, is one of which any community might well be proud. The members are all young men, who take more than a passing interest in their work, and always make a splendid showing when out on any kind of duty for the State. That such a result is attained is worthy of more than passing mention when the local facilities given them are taken into consideration. Every year the legislature appropriates money to give armories to other separate companies in other parts of the State, and in many cases the work being done by the favored bodies does not measure up to the standard of Company K. Union county legislators should see to it that the local soldier boys are better taken care of, and it is hoped that next year will see the passage of legislation providing for a suitable local armory.

Former City Judge William N. Runyon says that he is in the hands of his friends, and that he cannot make up his mind whether to run for the city judgeship or not. Sometimes our friends get us into more trouble than our enemies.

RICHARDS NOT OUT FOR RENOMINATION

Dunellen Mayor Refuses to Be a Candidate For Office Again This Year.

Despite constant solicitation on the part of his many supporters in Dunellen, Mayor Charles A. Richards, of that place, will not be a candidate for renomination at the fall primaries. Mayor Richards' term as executive has been marked by unusual progress in Dunellen and should he consent to run for office again next fall, those who are well acquainted with Dunellen politics say he would be accorded an overwhelming victory over any other candidate that might be unearthed between now and that time. Although the present executive is a staunch Democrat, his supporters are not confined to that faction alone, but his support is almost universal.

While no successor has as yet been named to fill the mayoralty chair several have been suggested including R. M. Ryan, a Democrat, A. F. Todd, a Republican and E. B. Latham also a Republican. Mr. Todd is at present a member of the Dunellen Council but his term of office expires this year. There will be two vacancies in the Borough Council this fall to be filled by some new candidates, the terms of Henry Gise and A. F. Todd expiring with the fall elections.

MISSING MAN RETURNS WEAK AND FALTERING

Mysteriously missing for almost a week, Robert Gorman, an employe of George J. Tobin, the local plumbing contractor, put in an appearance shortly after noon today, his mind a blank, and so weak from illness that he was sent in the police ambulance to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment.

With a faltering step, he walked into the Tobin show-rooms in North avenue and several fellow employes greeted him. Seeing that he was sick, they placed him in a chair, bathed his head with cold water and inquired where he had been. He could not tell. He seemed to be in a daze and talked incoherently. When an attempt was made to stand him on his feet he sank to the floor. The ambulance was summoned and the man was taken to the hospital.

WILY KING EDWARD I.

Fooled the Rebellious Welsh With the Prince of Wales.

After a lifelong struggle with the Welsh, Edward I. of England sought to ascertain the cause of their constant rebellion and was informed that they would never be content until they had a prince of their own.

The wily old monarch asked them if a prince born in Wales who could not speak a word of English would be satisfactory, and they received the offer with great enthusiasm, presuming that the king meant one of their own flesh and blood.

His queen, about to give birth to a child, was hurried to the famous Caernarvon castle, where 600 years ago Edward II., the first prince of Wales, was born. Thereupon King Edward, carrying the newly born babe on the ramparts of the castle, announced to the multitude: "Here is your prince, born in your own country, who knows no word of English and who, I promise you, shall be reared by a Welsh foster-mother and shall learn your language. Accept you him as your prince?"

In all the six centuries intervening the eldest son of the king of England has been invested and known as the Prince of Wales. In the year 1911 the present Prince of Wales and the future king of England was invested on the same spot as his predecessor 600 years ago.—T. Owen Charles in National Magazine.

His Thrilling Experience.

The following is an extract from a youthful autobiography:

"I am eleven years old. When I was three I had the scarlet fever. After that I had mumps, measels and whooping cough, soon a great dane jumped and bit my face and then I fell off of a ladder and broke my arm. Mother says boys have much better times now than when she was childish."—Everybody's.

He Knew Her.

"My wife is very particular," said the customer to the house decorator. "She says she wants the walls to match her complexion."

"Oh, she wants 'em painted, then, and not papered," replied the wise man.—Yonkers Statesman.

His Three Laughs.

"The fool," wrote Burne-Jones in one of his letters, "has three laughs. He laughs at what is good, he laughts at what is bad and he laughs at what he does not understand."

What It Proved.

MAKE COMMISSION RULE LEGAL

State Legislature Validates Recent Election Held In Jersey City.

Trenton, Aug. 13—Aided by the votes of three Republican senators the legislature was able to accomplish late yesterday afternoon what it was reconvened by Governor Fielder last Tuesday to do, namely, the enacting of laws to validate the adoption of commission government in Jersey City. Having done this, final adjournment was taken shortly before 5 o'clock. The Republican votes were those of Nichols, of Cumberland; Colgate, of Essex, and White, of Burlington. They voted for both of the Martin bills, one changing the method of quo warranto procedure, and the other designed to overcome the destruction of ballots in the last general election. The bills were signed by the governor at once.

The hearing on the bills developed into an argument between John Milton, corporation counsel of Jersey City under the new commission; J. Warren Dixon, corporation counsel under the old regime, and the members of the committee as to just what the legislature intended when it passed the original Walsh government act.

Following the hearing the senate went into executive session. The assembly also got down to business, and the Fielder-Wittpenn bitterness was again evidenced. Mr. Martin immediately moved for reconsideration of his first bill, which was beaten last week, and it carried, thus indicating that he would later make good his assertion that he had enough votes pledged to pass the measure. In a few minutes the bill went through by a vote of 31 to 16.

Speaker Taylor tried to put his steam roller at work, and announced the bill on final reading before the other members grasped the situation. He admitted that he was too hasty when Majority Leader Egan objected to his tactics.

While the fight was being waged the senate was considering Mr. Martin's second bill, and it was finally passed with Republican help. The vote, 11 to 4, was the same as that recorded just before final adjournment on the first bill. Throughout the day Governor Fielder remained in his office, so that he could take his seat and vote should any Democrat show signs of deserting.

While Governor Fielder's signing of the bills makes them law, and thereby invalidates the proceedings already in the courts there is a strong likelihood that bill 2, as it is called, will be attacked as unconstitutional because of its retroactive feature. The other new law changes the method of quo warranto procedure so that it would be up to the State to prove that the commissioners were not legally in office, instead of putting the burden of proof on the defendants.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Plainfield Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

If your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
If urinary trouble sets in,
Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

A. K. Mattis, 127 West Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement five years ago after receiving a cure through their use and today I confirm all I then said in their favor. The cure has been permanent. I was troubled for years by a dull backache and pains in my head. I believe that it was due to a great measure to a bad fall I had. Nothing seemed to help me and when I read of the good work Doan's Kidney Pills were doing in similar cases, I got a supply at Randolph's Drug Store. They drove away the aches and pains and my experience gave proof of their merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

assembly in 1853, in which it was declared that no official could be impeached for any offense committed before taking office.

"It may be," said Mr. Hinman, "that the governor would not raise any technicalities, but the members of the assembly owe it to themselves not to violate the constitution. In view of the chaos now prevailing in our state we have an opportunity of bringing those responsible to their senses by treating the matter in a dignified and lofty manner. A clerk in a police court could draw a better indictment than that which is presented for our consideration."

Wire Brings Recruits.

Telegraphic commands to absentees kept flowing over the wires in a steady stream all day bore fruit in the afternoon and evening in the arrival of a squad of assemblymen from New York city.

While deputy sergeant at arms hurried through Albany with summonses to compel every assemblyman in the city to take his desk on the assembly floor and self appointed committees met incoming trains, a throng eclipsing any that had stormed the capitol in the memory of the oldest attendant poured through its stone doorways. Two hours before the time set for calling the assembly to order in night session the first comers had taken their stand outside the railing in the assembly chamber. Hundreds were standing at 7:30 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the great doors to the assembly chamber closed in the face of a grumbling crowd in the corridor. The galleries were packed. Hundreds of women were among the crowd.

ONLY UNION VETERAN IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13—As active and vigorous as many men of fifty, Gen. Isaac R. Sherwood, who represents the Ninth Ohio district in Congress passed his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary today. Gen. Sherwood is a man of unique distinction, for of the 435 members of the present House of Representatives he is the only Union veteran of the civil war. This is a rather remarkable distinction, when it is remembered that a decade or so ago a substantial percentage of the members of Congress were war veterans. The Democratic landslide of last November swept three Union veterans, Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, Thistlewood, of Illinois, and Hill, of Connecticut, out of the House and left Gen. Sherwood the lone survivor. In view of the present age of every soldier of the '60s it is reasonable to suppose that the Ohio representaive will be the last of the "boys in blue" to sit in the lower house of Congress.

Late Summer Waists.

A bride of half a dozen years ago worked for weeks and weeks making elaborate fronts for shirt waists. Some were masses of lace and embroidered motifs joined together in cobwebby fashion. Each one was the outcome of hours of work. She gave them to a dressmaker to make and looked upon them as the crowning triumph achieved by her attractive wardrobe.

Today a bride in similar circumstances would have waists of mull, put together, perhaps, with beading sewn in by hand, and decorated with a few hand tucks and perhaps a little simple lace. She would have several serviceable waists of wash silk for traveling. She would have waists of cotton crepe or voile, in plain and figured designs. But the lingerie waist encrusted with lace and embroidery would find no place in her trousseau and the time that the older bride took for embroidering all her waists the modern bride could take to embroider table linen and household supplies or could give to some other activity than that of any sort of embroidery.

Frilling as a Time Saver.

The generous use of frilling will give to the simplest blouse a finished appearance. It can be fastened about the neck, in upstanding or flat effect, about the sleeves, and down the front.

Necks and Sleeves.

The V neck outline is the smart one at present. Full-length sleeves, tight at the wrists, no matter how much they bag above, are also fashionable.

The V neck is easy to manage, and with the addition of a net or lace plated frill of some kind any waist cut in a V in front is soft and becoming. The long sleeve is not so easy to manage but a good deal of help can be got from black velvet. Twist a narrow strip of black velvet ribbon about the wrist of the long bishop sleeves, and tie it in a little, flat bow. Put a similar bow at the collar. Put a frilling, two or three inches wide, at the bottom of the sleeve, to fall over the hand, and you have an easily made and good looking finish.

The Use of Color.

The careful use of color on waists that are made now will help give them smartness. However, avoid the brilliant colors which have been popular in all summer—cerise, violet, bright blue. Choose tan, dark blue, dull rose. There is no way of telling, just now, what colors will last through the winter and what colors will disappear at the first whiff of frost, so it is well to be wary of those that are gaudy and bright and to stick to the more neutral colors that are always becoming.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Votes for Women, With Side Lights on Fine Old Southern Conservatism.

The anti-suffragists point with pride to the conservatism and chivalry of the South, "the hot bed," as they claim, "of prohibition and anti-suffrage." The coupling of these two issues in the South by the antis is designed to give the impression that Southern conservatism has instinctively linked temperance reform with opposition to votes for women as a safeguard to the home. It is interesting to see how this matter works out.

Georgia, which is a leading industrial State, has prohibition. This, however, does not signify a great wave of temperance reform; rather it signifies that the white people have seen fit to place obstacles in the way of the negroes' getting hold of liquor, thereby lessening their liability to crime. Prohibition, in short, has been resorted to by the whites, not as a temperance regime for themselves, but as a means of self defense against the blacks.

When it comes to votes for women, the sentiment of Georgia is firmly against such an extension of the suffrage. And the antis tell us that it is because of the horrible thought of what it would mean to add to the present electorate the unspeakable evil of the ballot in the hands of the negro women.

We admit that it makes one shudder to think of things being any worse down there than they are. These are some of the things that happened within the last month in the "hot bed of anti-suffrage."

The following is a special despatch to the New York Times, an anti-suffrage paper, of August 7:

"There will be no child labor legislation at the present session of the Georgia Legislature. President Anderson of the Senate introduced a measure for the purpose of bettering child labor conditions, but such strenuous opposition developed that the measure has been finally shelved.

"The Anderson bill proposed to raise the age limit for working children from 12 to 13 years for next year, and fixed the age limit for 1915 at 14 years. The measure also provided that all children before being employed, should give proof of their ability to read and write. It was thought this measure would be acceptable both to the mill owners and the friends of the children, but such an undercurrent of opposition developed on the part of the manufacturers that the measure was shelved."

Also on the eighth of last month a progressive big-souled member of the Georgia Legislature introduced a bill raising the age of consent in that State from ten to twelve years!

Where else but in a hot-bed of anti-suffrage could children of twelve be mill workers and girls of ten be empowered to "consent" to their own ruin?

Remember, it is the fathers of these boys and girls who make these laws. That wonderful weapon, "indirect influence," the only weapon that Southern sentiment grants to the mothers shows in this instance for just what it is worth. And the Southern chivalry that shrinks from defiling its women by allowing them at the polls is the same chivalry that for years has fixed the "age of consent" of the potential mothers of the State at ten years.

And yet the antis would have us believe that the vote of the black women would endanger the present "sanctity of the home" in the South. What worse menace to the home could possibly exist than these man-made laws enforcing child labor and making a girl of ten the custodian of her own virtue? What could the black woman do with her ballot that would be more dangerous or disgraceful than this?

Anti-suffragists say with a condescending air that "if there were no alien problem and no negro problem woman suffrage might be feasible." Neither the alien problem nor the negro problem is any problem at all compared with the hideous problem involved in the greed and lust of such voters as these citizens of Georgia who settle these child labor and consent laws today.

In view of all this alarm over the vote of blacks and aliens the following from Jacob Riis, author of "How the Other Half Lives," is most significant. Mr. Riis says:

"I was once an anti, but I have changed my mind. As a progressive, I want my sister in the fight with me, because we are fighting for moral issues, and we need her help." Then he referred to one of his own utterances: "Like a host of others, I once said: 'Woman's place is in the home; let her leave politics alone!' And then one day it dawned upon me that all the things 'clean politics' is reaching out nowadays to protect are summed up in that word 'home.' We make war upon child labor, upon the exploitation of women's work on the social evil; what are they all but the enimies of the home, in which woman has the first and the deepest interest? We need her moral backing, her moral fury when those nearest and dearest to her are in peril."

GRACE SAVAGE SELDEN.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN CAMPAIGN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13—One hundred delegates, representing 4,000,000 women voters, have gathered in the capitol for a three-day conference under the auspices of the National Council of Woman Voters. The delegates have come from Oregon, Californa, Washington, Colorado, Arizona, Wyoming, Kansas, Utah and Idaho, the States having full and complete woman suffrage. Mrs. Emma Smith DeVoe, of Tacoma, Wash., is presiding over the conference. The primary purpose of the conference is to discuss plans for a widespread campaign for "votes for women," to be carried into all the States of the Union not now having woman suffrage. Tomorrow the officials of the council will confer with Representative Henry, chairman of the House rules committee, which now has before it a resolution for the creation of a woman suffrage committee in the House.

PREFERENCE FOR NEGRO.

Cuthbert, Ga., Aug. 13—The Georgia State Agricultural Society, the oldest organization of its kind in the south, began its sixty-eighth annual meeting here today with a large and representative attendance. President John T. Williams called the gathering to order and presided over the opening session. The principal address of the morning was delivered by Dr. David C. Barrow, chancellor of the University of Georgia. Dr. Barrow spoke on the subject of "The Negro." He expressed regret at the tendency of white men to give foreign laborers employment in preference to the negro. Much of the south's future, he declared depends on white men being able to make a faithful and efficient worker out of the negro.

DR. GOWEN TO PREACH.

Rev. Dr. I. W. Gowen will occupy the pulpit at Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning, and in the evening he will preach at the union service to be held in the same church.

Some Cookery Suggestions

PEACH PASTRIES.

PEACHES are nice cooked and therefore may be made into puddings, pies, tarts or such pastries with success.

Peach Puff.—Roll a sheet of puff paste until ten or twelve inches square, cover with sliced peaches, sprinkle well with sugar, roll like a jelly roll, pinching down the edges to retain the fruit, bake in a flat buttered pan until nicely browned. Heat the juice and sweeten to taste.

Fruit Griddlecakes.

Peach Pancakes.—Take a half dozen peaches and peel and halve them. Then shave in slices. Sprinkle with sugar. Beat two eggs into a foam and add a pint of milk. Add one-quarter cup of sugar, a sprinkle of salt and enough flour into which a teaspoonful of baking powder has been stirred to make the mixture into a pancake batter. Stir the peaches into the batter. Put the griddle on the fire and put into it butter as for pancakes. Pour enough batter on the griddle for a cake and fry brown. Serve with butter and sugar.

With Biscuit Dough.

Peach Cobbler.—Line the sides of a baking pan with a biscuit dough. Fill the pan to the top with fresh pared and sliced peaches. Cover the pan with a top crust and prick with a fork to let steam escape. Bake until crust and peaches are done. The oven should not be too hot. When the crust is a light brown remove it to a large plate, top crust down. Take out the peaches, mash and sweeten them; add a little rich cream if liked. Flatten the side crust while warm, cover with peaches, put the other on top and cover with the peaches.

Serve with whipped cream or cold.

Tempting Desserts.

Peach Dumplings.—Sift one pint of flour with one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of sugar. Work into this two tablespoonfuls of lard. Mix with three-fourths of a cupful of very cold water. Have the ingredients very cold, mix quickly and handle little. Roll thin. Take half of a peach for the core of the dumpling. Cut the dough into pieces in which to wrap the halves of peaches. Roll and bake in a quick oven. Serve with a hard sauce.

Peach Fluff. — Take some sliced peaches, six stale macaroons and five tablespoonfuls of sugar. Drain the peaches; run them through fruit press; crush the macaroons; beat these and the sugar into the peaches with a perforated spoon. Pile on small plates or in sherbet cups and put a spoonful of unsweetened cream on top.

Anna Thompson.

Fooling the Farmer's Wife.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Cackling Hen Was Not Popular.

"COME," said daddy after listening to Jack's story of the wonderful things that he could do when he played ball in the field with the other boys; "I've heard it said that self praise is no praise."

Evelyn laughed, and Jack joined in, looking a little ashamed.

"Things like that are apt to grow on one. That's the way it was with Mrs. Biddy.

"Mrs. Biddy was the biggest, whitest and fattest hen in the farmyard. She was a well behaved hen enough until some one—the humbugging old rooster likely—told her she had a very beautiful voice.

"Now, this is a very wrong and a very unfortunate notion for the white hen or for any other hen to get into her head. Laying eggs, not singing, is a hen's business.

"Mrs. Biddy couldn't crow like the roosters, of course. She wouldn't have cared to do that. She would have thought it very unladylike to crow. Mrs. Biddy cackled.

"Now, as you may know, there is a time when every sensible hen is expected to cackle. That is when she lays an egg.

"Mrs. Biddy not only cackled when she laid an egg, but she cackled between times. At first the farmer's wife was deceived and would come running out to Biddy's nest to get an egg every time the hen cackled.

"'Whatever ails that white hen?' the farmer's wife said to her husband. 'She cackles all the time.'

"'A cackling hen is no good, my dear,' the farmer replied. 'You would better put her into the pot.'

"But the farmer's wife was proud of the handsome white hen, and she said that she hoped Mrs. Biddy would stop.

"But Mrs. Biddy didn't stop cackling. After awhile she stopped laying eggs, but she cackled just the same. Some of the other hens made fun of her, some wouldn't have anything to do with her, and even the old gray rooster began to be annoyed. He said she cackled so much and so loudly that folks couldn't hear him crow.

"And so the old gray rooster and all the hens who were tired of hearing her cackling so much joined together and drove her out of the farmyard.

"And she went and roosted on the farmer's nice front porch which that very day the farmer had painted with gray paint.

"And when the farmer's wife saw her roosting there she just called the farmer and said she wouldn't be bothered with that silly old hen any more.

"So Mrs. Biddy did go into the pot, and nobody missed her at all."

Frills Give to Simple Frocks Their Fascinating Summer Charm.

Whether worn by day or by night milady's summer frocks for this season are all of soft clinging fabrics void of starch or crinoline, and made with straight lines and drop shoulders. How varied the chosen type may be developed, for the slender silhouette, by means of frills, sashes and a hundred and one up-to-the-minute accessories, is shown in this illustration.

A smart dress is No. 7864, made of light blue cotton ratine with deep rever-collar and cuffs of white handkerchief linen, and a sash of wide Roman striped ribbon on a white ground. Notice the smart touch in the bow at the middle of the back, and the weighted end of the sash.

The blouse closes at the side-front and is made over a guimpe lining with Duchess closing at the center-front. The skirt has four gores, one a center panel, and is slightly gathered at the belt. This pattern is cut in six sizes, 34 to 44, for size 36 4¼ yards of 36-inch material, with 3-8 yard of 32-inch material or wider for collar and cuffs; and 1 5-8 yards of 36-inch material for the guimpe, will be required. Three yards of ribbon is not too much for a sash of this style, and while it may cost a little it will be found a good investment for it can be used also with other dresses. 15 cents.

Crepe de chine is leading at the moment for dressy and for practical gowns and promises to be even more in favor for fall. The maid in the picture is holding up a fascinating dancing frock of white crepe de chine, so dainty and so much less easily mussed than many tub materials. It hangs gracefully and is delightful to wear. This model is a peasant frock with round collar, and short sleeves lengthened by two shaped sections to correspond with the modish skirt, which is tucked to simulate the three-tier effect. This is size 36, is 1 7-8 yards at the foot. The pattern, No. 7667, is cut in 3 sizes, 34 to 42, size 36 requires 5¼ yards of 36-inch material with 1 yard 22-inch silk for girdle and sash ends. Net frills are a dressy finish, outlining the tucks of the skirt, the sleeve sections and the collar. 15 cents.

American Beauties for Embroidering Many Pretty Novelties.

These flower sprays may be embroidered on so many different novelties that you will find them very useful. They may be developed entirely in white on dining-room linen. For instance, they are very attractive scattered over the carving cloth, luncheon or tea cloth, serving-table cover or embroidered table cloth and should be embroidered in Kensington stitch, adding the turned over portion of the petals so that they will be well raised. The leaves may be worked in long-and-short-stitch or outline and seeding. In colors they are most attractive when embroidering on pillows, sewing bags, traveling cases, negligees and table-covers. If colored embroidery is used, it shold be done with filo silks in Kensington stitch.

These sprays will be very beautiful for decorating a set of bedroom linens, consisting of a bed-spread of heavy linen, finished with linen lace, bureau cover, pin cushion and table cover of heavy round-thread linen which might also be trimmed with a linen lace, with hemstitched hems of plain scalloping. The size of this transfer pattern is 14 inches square and it can be supplied to readers at 10 cents.

BIG DEAL PENDING.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 13—Baseball men gave credence to a tip that Manager McGraw, of the Giants, is dealing with St. Louis for First Baseman Ed Konetchy, and has offered First Baseman Merkle and Pitcher Wiltse in exchange. Since the golf squabble, in which Merkle was involved along with Mathewson, McGraw and Merkle have not been the best of friends.

TIGERS BUY COVALESKIE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 13—Pitcher Harry Covaleskie was sold yesterday to the Detroit Americans. The deal was made by O. B. Andrews, president of the Chattanooga Club. It is said Detroit has a blanket option on the players of this team.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:
Query—How much notice does a landlord have to give before he can raise the rent? V. H.
Answer—One month, if tenancy is monthly; three months, if yearly.

Sporting Editor:
Query—Can a person shoot any suspicious character he finds on his property? H. L. M.
Answer—No. You can't shoot "any suspicious character."

Sporting Editor:
Query—I have an idea which, if completed, would, I think, amount to something. I am unable to complete it myself, but if I could send it to someone who knows more about such things than I do, it might be of some value. E. N. C.
Answer—We know of no dealers in ideas. Perhaps if you should mention something about the nature of your idea, we might be able to refer you to someone.

Sporting Editor:
Query—A says there is no such thing as a "Cincinnati base hit," but that the term is used as a joke. B says that a Cincinnati base hit is made with a man on first and third, and the batter hits the ball to the infield, and the baseman plays for the man going home who slides and is safe C. F.
Answer—How did you remember it all? B is right. A Cincinnati base hit is a hit to the infield, giving the batsman first base on a throw that failed to get the runner at another base or at home plate. The incident B relates corresponds to the last part of my definition.

Sporting Editor:
Query—Is it necessary to obtain a marriage license in Porto Rico or Cuba? J. J. M.
Answer—No marriage licenses are required in Cuba. Until 1909 a marriage license was not needed in Porto Rico. The only requirement is that the ceremony be performed by a minister or a justice of the peace.

Sporting Editor:
Query—How can I bleach my hair at home? I had it bleached at a hair dressers once but it is turning again. H. A. H.

ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL.

Baseball Player Tires of Confinement but Later Agrees to Return.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 13.—George Mangus of Philadelphia, left fielder of the Atlantic City Tri State team, was stricken with an illness which caused his confinement to the City hospital last week. The youth, a six footer, went under an operation last Wednesday. The ward commenced to pall on him this week. A nurse entered his ward. He demanded and got his trousers. Mangus then slipped out with nothing but the trousers and a pajama jacket for covering, escaping by the rear fire escape.

Mangus had been stopping with the other members of the team at the Hotel Lexington, a square and a half away. In his bare feet he trotted to the hotel with nurses and attendants in pursuit. Getting to the hotel he grabbed his key from his box, hurried to his room and locked the door. It took two hours' parley over the top of the transom before he would agree to return to the hospital.

MAKES PITCHING RECORD.

Iowa Twirler Shuts Out Opponents For Twenty-one Innings.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 13—William Whittaker, pitcher for the Keokuk Central association team, set what is believed to be a world's record when he pitched twenty-one consecutive scoreless innings in a double header between the Keokuk and Waterloo teams.

Keokuk won both games, 1 to 0, the second going twelve innings. But five hits were made off Whittaker's delivery.

CANADIAN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Montreal, Aug. 13—Many leading amateur and professional golf experts of the Dominion limbered up on the links of the Royal Montreal Club at Dixie today in anticipation of the championship tournament of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. The tournament will open on the Dixie links tomorrow morning and continue over Friday. The championship is going to be decided by 72 holes of medal play, the first prize of $100 and a gold medal going to the player who turns in the lowest gross score.

RARE PITCHING FEAT.

New London, Conn., Aug. 13.—Pitcher William Powers, of the New London Eastern Association baseball team, performed an unusual pitching feat here yesterday afternoon. He was in the box for both games of a double-header with New Haven, winning both and allowing only eight hits in the 18 innings. The visitors were twice blanked.

LAJOIE 17 YEARS ON DIAMOND.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Napoleon Lajoie, second baseman of the Cleveland American League team, is celebrating the seventeenth anniversary of his entrance into the big leagues today. Lajoie made his debut as a first baseman, playing with the Philadelphia Nationals. Later he went to second base, where he found himself. He was a great hitter from the start. Unofficial figures give him a batting average of .343. Lajoie said today that he will not quit playing baseball until they tear his uniform from his back.

BASEBALL NOTES

Outfielder Lelivelt, of the Cleveland Naps, is hitting with the .300 set this season.

Pitcher Pfeffer, recently sold by Grand Rapids to Brooklyn, is a brother of "Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Cub star.

Gray, of Charleston, is the leading batter, and Long, of Hamilton, is leading the pitchers in the Ohio State League.

President McAleer, of the Red Sox, has purchased Cooney the crack short stop of the Worcester-New England League team.

Clyde Milan, the Washington outfielder and greatest base burglar in captivity, is leading the major leagues in base-stealing.

Bill Brennan, the National League umpire, is a former football star. He used to play fullback on a Minnesota football team.

Davy Jones, Jay Kirke and Charley Jones, ex-big leaguers, now with Toledo, are one, two, three in the American Association batting averages.

About the most exciting battles that have taken place this season were staged in Philadelphia recently when the Naps and the Athletics met.

Hans Lobert, of the Phillies and Max Carey, of the Pirates, are still running neck and neck for the rungetting honors in the National League.

Manager John Ganzel believes that his Rochester Hustlers will yet be able to pull down the leading Newark team, in the International League race.

In Bell and Snow the Winona team of the Northern League, has two great pitchers. Bell won 20 of his first 26 games and Snow copped 14 out of 20 games.

Christy Mathewson is now twirling in his thirteenth consecutive season for the Giants, but is able to show up every young pitcher in the National League at that.

The Detroit Club has purchased Pitcher "Doc" Reynolds from the Topeka Club for the sum of $4,000, the highest price paid for a Western League player this season.

"Three Weeks" is the right dope according to the Traverse City players. In that length of time the T. C. boys have climbed from the cellar to second position in the Michigan State League war.

Pitcher Smith, of the Pittsfield Eastern Association team, is some heaver. After his injured arm was out of splints just one day, he went into the box and pitched a no-hit no-run game against Waterbury.

August 5 was a "Waterloo" for star southpaw flingers. On that day Rucker of the Superbas, Marquard of the Giants, Sallee of the Cardinals, Plank of the Athletics, and Collins of the Red Sox, all got bumped for defeats.

The "Noisy Nine," a famous West Virginia baseball team of forty years ago, will hold its 1915 reunion at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. All the players are living. In connection with the reunion the nine will challenge any team from anywhere that played forty years ago.

SWATFEST RESULTED IN A DEFEAT FOR THE JACKSONS

PARKER FIELD JR. LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.
Laurels 28, Jackson B. C. 15.

Standing of the Clubs:

Jackson B. C.	6	6	.500
Arrow A. C.	2	6	.250
Princeton A. C.	1	5	.155
West Ends	0	4	.000

In a swatfest on Parker Field, yesterday afternoon, in which both aggregations took an active part, the Laurel A. C. contingent trimmed the Jackson Bible Class combination by a score of 28 to 15. Both pitchers were hit hard and the fielders on both sides contributed a number of costly errors, the Jackson men throwing in eight, which had a great deal to do with the lacing the team was handed.

Vincent Mullin again led with the willow, getting four lusty bingles, one of which was a circuit clout and the other a three bagger. Every man on the winning side scored at least one run and many of the players crossed the platter more than once during the time it took to run off eight rounds of play.

COMISKEY FOR ENGLISH; PROFESSOR LIKES SLANG

Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, likes baseball reports best when they are written in plain English, while professors at the University of Chicago deplore the possibility of the elimination of slang from the accounts of games. These unexpected attitudes were learned in a vote being taken by a Chicago paper to determine just how the followers of the national pastime want the games described.

"I am in favor of a clean, plain English story of a baseball game," said Comiskey, who has just returned from the woods of northern Wisconsin. "What readers want to know is who won the game and how it was won. When these facts are covered up with a lot of useless words the reader is apt to grow tired."

"I think it would be pretty tame to report baseball in plain, ordinary English," said Professor Nathaniel Butler. "There is a species of humor on the sporting page which is enjoyable. We want the picturesque in the reports, but the writer shows a defect when it is impossible for the layman to understand him."

20 SCORELESS INNINGS, NEW DIAMOND RECORD

A new league baseball record was made at West Side Park, Jersey City, yesterday, when the Jersey City team and the Torontos, of the Eastern League, went twenty innings without a score. The previous record for a no-score game was made in 1910 at Oakland, Cal., when "Rubber" Krapp twirled eighteen innings for Portland without a tally.

Hearne, who pitched for Toronto yesterday, went the entire twenty innings. He allowed but six hits. Until the ninth inning, only one member of the opposition obtained a safety.

Thompson pitched thirteen innings for Jersey City, and was succeeded by Brandon.

MAY LEAD SUPERBAS.

Harry Smith's fame is spreading. The leader of the Newarks has made such an excellent showing this season that he is now mentioned for the position of manager of the Brooklyn Superbas. Smith is a clever manager and has the faculty of keeping his players in a happy frame of mind. He is also a diplomat and has words of praise for his men when an intricate play goes wrong, when others are wont to try to blame somebody. Smith has the Indians so far ahead in the race this season that the Redskins are conceded to be practically sure pennant winners. Smith has had big league experience as manager of the Boston Nationals, and in the opinion of the magnates of the Newark club, and players, he is well qualified to lead the Superbas.

WORLD'S CHAMPION.

New York, Aug. 13—Andre Grapperon was crowned champion motorcyclist of the world last night at the Brighton Beach Motordrome, when he won the championship from Charley Davis, taking two straight heats over the two-mile course. Grapperon out-generalled Davis in both heats taking the lead in both starts and keeping the Brooklyn boy in the rear by clever jockeying. Grapperon's time for the heats was 1 minute, 34 seconds flat and 1 minute, 34 4-5 seconds.

CHANGES IN BROOKLYN TEAM.

The Brooklyn Club yesterday announced the unconditional release of Outfielder Scheer. Catcher Erwin was sent to Toronto. The club has exercised its claim on Outfielder Hub Northern, of Toronto, and relinquished claims on Pitcher Williams, of Nashville, and Pitcher Schardt, of Indianapolis. Pitcher Frank Allen, of the Brooklyns, is confined to his bed with an attack of ptomaine poisonin.

BALL PLAYER ATTACKS WRITER.

Utica, Aug. 13.—Before the first game of a double-header between Scranton and Utica here Monday, Outfielder Jones of the Scranton team climbed into the stands and attacked a newspaper man, taking exception to an account in a newspaper of a preceding day's game. Jones was taken from the park by deputy sheriffs.

EMERY RELATES MULHALL'S WORK

N. A. M. Head Admits Paying Congress Pages.

CHECKS FOR "COURTESIES"

Denies Mulhall's Statement That Former Representative Jenkins Had Promised to Put Manufacturers' Man on House Judiciary Committee.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The duties of Martin M. Mulhall who claimed to be the N. A. M. lobbyist, were defined to the senate lobby committee by James A. Emery, chief representative of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Mulhall kept me supplied with copies of bills and public documents in relation to the work here and got information of the status of legislation in which we were interested. In this work he gathered information and learned the views of members of congress. He made inquiries about hearings and requested an opportunity for me to appear," said Emery.

Emery denied that Henry Neal and Harry Parker, two negro employees at the capitol were in the pay of the manufacturers. Mulhall swore that for almost a year Emery gave him each month a $100 check, of which $50 was to go to I. H. McMichael, one time chief page of the house, and $50 went to Parker and Neal. Emery denied he ever drew such check. He declared Mulhall told him he had a friend at the capitol who could get public documents and bills. Later Emery learned the friend was McMichael.

Emery testified, however, that he did draw a check for $50, sent it to Mulhall and told him to divide it between Neal and Parker, "merely to pay for the many courtesies they performed for our members."

Made Payments to Mulhall.

"Did you ever make any payments to Mulhall for McMichael?" asked Attorney McCarter for the manufacturers.

"Yes," said the witness, "it never exceeded $20 a month, and it terminated when I left for Europe in 1910."

Emery denied Mulhall's story that former Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin had promised that if re-elected he would see that a man satisfactory to the manufacturers would go on the house judiciary committee.

Emery denied that he tried in 1908 to have Congressman Malby of New York made chairman, succeeding Jenkins. Mulhall testified the manufacturers worked to put Malby in the chairmanship.

Emery testified his only activity against Senator Hughes, when a candidate for congress in 1908, was the distribution of campaign literature among manufacturers giving Hughes' attitude toward labor. He thought it was mailed under the frank of Congressman Littlefield.

Martin M. Mulhall continued his account of his relations with congressmen in his work for the National Association of Manufacturers before the house lobby committee.

HEAT INCREASES MORTALITY.

Figures Show 121 More Died Last Week Than In 1912 Period.

New York, Aug. 13.—The great heat last week caused an increase of 121 deaths, or 77 per cent over the figures for the corresponding week last year. The tables for the past week show 1,390 deaths, with a percentage of 13.50. The average temperature during that time was approximately 8 degrees higher than for the similar interval in 1912. In consequence there was an increased number of deaths from sunstroke.

Deaths which may indirectly be attributed to the warm weather and which rose in number were those due to falls from fire escapes and windows and accidental drownings. Heart diseases showed an additional toll of thirty-five cases, although this is somewhat offset by the reduction in the number of deaths reported from Bright's disease and nephritis.

MAN SWEPT OVERBOARD.

Captain Warren Crowley of Atlantic City Lost In Sunday's Storm.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 13.—When the surviving members of the motor boat Cathcart reached here they reported the drowning of Captain Warren Crowley of this city. During the heavy storm which lashed the Jersey coast late Sunday afternoon, Captain Crowley was swept overboard and the body was not recovered.

The accident occurred while the Cathcart was in the Great bay. When the storm came up the captain was on deck and he was swept overboard before any of his friends could help him. News of the drowning did not reach this city until the party landed. They had been rescued by a fisherman.

CARRIED SLAIN GIRL'S BODY TO LONELY SPOT

New Theory to Explain Murder Mystery.

New York, Aug. 13.—Dr. Albert C. Weston, coroner's physician, asserted that the girl, believed to have been Anna C. Lopeck, whose body was found in a grove in Inwood, near Spuyten Duyvil creek, was murdered elsewhere and the body carried to the spot where it was discovered Sunday night. Dr. Weston examined the ground thoroughly and declared that, as the girl's throat had been cut, there should have been more evidence of hemorrhage at the scene if she was killed in the woods. There was very little, however.

The coroner's physician said that death was caused by blows on the head, the girl's skull being fractured in two places. Dr. Weston said he believed that the murderer or murderers had tried to decapitate the victim in order to prevent identification and that approaching footsteps frightened away the slayer or slayers.

Dr. Weston made only a superficial examination, delaying the autopsy in order to give further opportunity for identification. The body was at the morgue when Dr. Weston found twenty-five stab wounds on the face, two fractures of the skull and two slashes in the throat. The coroner's physician pronounced the police for being slow in sending the body to the morgue, delaying it to allow department photographers to photograph it where found and for the matron at the West One Hundred and Fifty-second street station to examine the clothing.

AVIATOR AND CRAFT LOST.

Hovering Over Lake Erie, Machine Seemed to Collapse and Fall.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 13.—A daring aviator is believed to have perished in Lake Erie about two miles out from Port Dover.

What seemed to be a modern air craft was observed out over the lake, bearing almost directly upon Port Dover. Several people saw it and were watching it from one of the cottages when it suddenly seemed to collapse and disappear. Inquiries are being made at United States ports on Lake Erie.

No comparison can be struck with any other kind, as that is the only kind we sell.

We can show you pieces as low as 98c and as high as $750.00. You are as safe with the low-priced piece as with the higher-priced piece.

TOWNSHIP ADOPTS ANNUAL BUDGET

North Plainfield Committee Appropriates $17,000 For Coming Year.

PLAN JOINT MEETING

Efforts Will Be Made to Abate Soft Coal Nuisance, Regulate Blasting at Quarries and Settle Dividing Line Controversy.

The adoption of the budget for the coming year, together with the passage of an ordinance to prevent the alleged smoke nuisance and a consideration of the advisability of regulating the hours for blasting at the stone quarries, comprised some of the more important matters taken up at the meeting of the North Plainfield Township Committee meeting at Watchung, yesterday.

The Committee also decided to hold a joint meeting with the Warren Township Committee on Thursday night, August 21, to take steps to bring about a more amicable agreement regarding the dividing line between the two townships and to settle the question of unpaid taxes for 1912. Regarding the dividing line question it is likely that the two townships will go to the Legislature and have the line established to the satisfaction of both townships. The commission line will govern this year's assessments and at the joint meeting a decision will be reached as to the 1912 taxes.

There having been numerous complaints from residents of the township regarding the burning of soft coal at the stone quarries, an ordinance was presented and passed prohibiting the burning of soft coal. The Committee received a petition signed by John Herman and many other residents of the township asking that the blasting at the quarries be restricted to certain hours, it being set forth that the present rule made it dangerous for people traveling back and forth on the main road near which the quarries are located. The Committee decided to invite the owners of the quarries to attend the special meeting on Thursday night, August 21, for the purpose of reaching some satisfactory agreement about the blasting.

The budget for the year totals $17,000, which includes the county and State tax. The township appropriation totals $7,000. The principal appropriations are as follows: Roads, $1,800; poor, $1,600; lights, $1,650; township, $7,000; schools, $3,000. It is the belief that the township tax rate will not be much higher than last year.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF J. A. HARNED TO BE HELD HERE

The funeral services of James A. Harned, formerly of Plainfield, will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Friends meeting-house on Watchung avenue. The burial will be in the cemetery back of the meeting-house.

Mr. Harned formerly lived on Craig place, removing from this city about ten years ago. He died in Baltimore, Md., on Wednesday, but no particulars have been received as to his illness. Mr. Harned was a member of the Plainfield meeting-house and a regular attendant at the services when he lived here. He leaves a wife and thre children.

LOCAL DELEGATES WHO WILL ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

Final arrangements for the State Convention of the Young Men's Hebrew Association to be held at New Brunswick, Sunday, September 28 are being made by a committee of the association of that city composed of M. Sauber, J. Strauss, J. Freedman, M. Solomon and N. Aaron.

Delegates selected to represent this city are Samuel Rothberg and Jacob Abrams.

PROGRESSIVE ORGANIZER HERE

Francis D. Potter, of Bridgeton, State organizer of the Progressive party, was a visitor in town last night, staying with his sister, Mrs. C. T. Elliott, of 1126 Watchung avenue. Mr. Potter is sanguine about the prospects for the party at this fall's election, and predicts that after the 1916 election the Republican party will pass out of existence. He was one of the delegates from New Jersey to both the Republican and Progressive conventions at Chicago last year.

BIBLE CLASS TO ORGANIZE A CHORAL

First Presbyterian Young People to Take Up Concert Work.

The Korulimo Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church, has formed a choral society for the fall and winter season, the object being to give the music-loving people of the city time to read and become familiar with some of the best cantatas and oratorios suitable for a mixed chorus. The society will be under the leadership of Tom Daniel, of New York, a widely-known oratorio and concert singer, who has sung in many large cities with great success. He holds a position in the Church of the Divine Paternity, New York city.

Anyone interested is invited to join the society. A nominal fee will be charged to cover the expense of instruction. It is hoped to make the society the largest of its kind in the history of the city. Further information can be secured by communicating with Miss Ruth Sadler, 223 East Sixth street. The society will meet every Tuesday evening, beginning October 7. The place of meeting will be announced later.

HUFF FAMILY VOTERS ALL FOR GOVERNOR FIELDER

While Acting Governor James F. Fielder was touring Somerset county Wednesday in quest of votes for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, he met at South Branch, members of the Huff family, eight of whom are eligible to vote. All of the eight husky Huffs, all farmers and ranging in height from 5 feet six inches to six feet two inches in height, dropped their hoes and rakes and came out to the governor's automobile. After being introduced to the executive all said in chorus, "You're our man; we'll vote for you and so will many others 'round here. You'll be the next gov'nor of the State."

PICKPOCKKETS ABOUT?

James Webley, colored, of 619 West Third street, had his joy turned to sorrow at a local amusement place, last night, when he discovered on making his exit after the curtain had been run down that someone had stolen his dollar watch. Webley after searching every pocket of the suit he wore, in the vicinity of the seat where he sat, reported to Patrolman Wicht that he had been the victim of a pickpocket. Webley gave the names of several people who were sitting near him, one of them a local business man. When a sleuth asked the latter "for the time" he pulled out a solid gold diamond studded "turnip"—but a dollar watch he had not.

EXPECT NO VOTE ON SMALL BOARD

County Clerk Robbins Conferred With County Solicitor Kulp As to Authority.

PETITIONS ARE FILED

Burlington Officials Scoff at Special Election Plan—County Clerk Asked to Call Referendum—Legal Fight May Be the Outcome.

Trenton, Aug. 15—Petitioned to call a special election for a referendum on the smaller Board of Freeholders' act, County Clerk Robbins Wednesday afternoon conferred with County Solicitor Kulp as to whether he has the lawful authority to comply with the demand.

The pursuance of this course by County Clerk Robbins is directly the result of his vain efforts to secure a legal opinion from the State attorney-general, who not only declined to submit, but contended that the opinion should come from the county solicitor, Mr. Kulp. Dr. Robbins also tried to obtain an opinion on the question from the assistant attorney-general, and was also unsuccessful.

The petitions for a special election—one costing the county nearly $11,000—were filed with the county clerk Wednesday morning by Alfred K. Leuckel, Republican, of the Mercer County Board of Taxation, and Robert A. Messler, Democrat, a former city park commissioner. The documents, twenty-four in number, contained upwards of 1,000 signatures, or a few more than the law requires. They request the county clerk to issue notice that the costly election be held on Tuesday, August 26.

Upon accepting the petitions, County Clerk Robbins immediately began his efforts to obtain legal advice on the law. It has been maintained for several weeks that the county clerk is not vested with the power to call a special election, and he could not act one way or the other without first consulting counsel.

With this in mind, Dr. Robbins forwarded to County Solicitor Kulp a brief communication, explaining that he desired legal advice on the situation. County Solicitor Kulp received the letter late Wednesday afternoon, and yesterday consulted other lawyers concerning the matter. He says that his opinion will not be complete for a few days, possibly more than a week.

Like other lawyers, County Solicitor Kulp is of the firm belief that the county clerk cannot accede to the petitioners' demand, and that the law does not state the person who should call a special election. Although his opinion may be changed by a more careful study of the law, the indications are that legal advice will be adverse to the wishes of the small board crowd.

If the opinion is rendered in one week, say next Wednesday, and it advises the clerk to call a referendum the latter will then give the official eight days' notice, which would make Tuesday, September 2, or thereabouts, the special election day. If the opinion opposes the election, then the small board adherents will doubtless start a legal fight to force the county clerk to act.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

Annual Gathering Will Be Held At Ocean Grove September 14 and 15.

At least one of the officials of the local Y. M. C. A., and possibly the full corps, will be represented at a conference of the Employed Officers' Association of New Jersey, made up of paid employes of the Y. M. C. A., which convenes at Ocean Grove, September 14 and 15. C. William Bingeman, Herbert E. Parker and E. C. Ostlin attended the gathering last year which was held at Asbury Park and it is probable that the same representatives will go from here again this year.

Besides Fred B. Smith, who will deliver a special message to the New Jersey men on the first day, G. C. Hubert, secretary at Hartford, Conn., and F. W. Overman, president of the Friends' School, have been engaged to speak, outlining different phases of association work of interest to the Y. M. C. A. workers. The main theme will be "Bible Study."

A session of the various groups, such as boys' secretaries, physical directors, county work men and railroad secretaries will be held September 14, between 2 and 4 o'clock. The opening hour will be 11 o'clock. The conference holds three meetings a year and on December 1 will go to Summit for a meeting.

DAY NURSERY NEEDS FUNDS

Appeals for contributions for the Day Nursery, conducted by the City Union of the King's Daughters, have been made, and it is hoped that there will be a liberal response. This worthy charity has been conducted for a number of years, and this year is doing a splendid work, there being an unusually large number of sick babies to be cared for. In past years the contributions to the work have been liberal, and at the present time funds are very much needed. It is hoped that local people who are away for the summer, and are enjoying themselves in cool spots, will think of the babies in Plainfield who are in need of many things to add to their comfort. Subscriptions for the cause may be sent to the Daily Press, and will promptly be forwarded to the proper persons to be used in this worthy work.

Ceremony Performed In New York City By Two Clergymen.

Miss Anna Rosenson, daughter of Mrs. Ida Rosenson, of 205 Spooner avenue, and Lewis Goldstein, of New York city, were married last evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Levine, 1417 Prospect avenue, the Bronx, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, including a number from this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Rugow and Rev. Cohen Seigman, both of New York city.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levine, Miss Rose Rosenson and Morton Levine. The bride wore white charmeuse trimmed with shantille, white tulle veil, with pearl cap, small wreath of lillies-of-the-valley and she carried a white prayer-book and a bouquet of lillies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Louis Levine wore a gown of white charmeuse, trimmed with bugle. Miss Rose Rosenson wore pink crepe de media, trimmed with shadow lace and rhinestones.

The house was elaborately decorated with ferns and smilax. The table decorations consisted of ferns and pink and white roses. A wedding breakfast was served to about fifty guests. The bride received a large number of useful gifts.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to Albany, N. Y. Upon their return they will reside at 1280 Stebbins avenue, the Bronx. The bride has a large number of friends here. Mr. Goldstein is engaged in business in New York, is also widely-known in this city.

AGED FATHER ALLEGES SON ASSAULTED HIM

William Mitchell, of 1136 East Second street, reported to the police last night that his son George Mitchell, 25 years old, of 1345 Watchung avenue, had brutally assaulted him about 8.30 o'clock, following a quarrel. According to the police, the younger Mitchell called at his father's home to discuss a family matter. One word brought on another, and finally the son, evidently unable to restrain his anger any more, smote his parent a crushing blow on the face, breaking the elder Mr. Mitchell's nose and blackening his cheek in the vicinity of his left optic. The latter made a complaint of assault and battery against his son, who, if apprehended, will be arraigned Monday afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the city court.

BATHER RESCUED BY LIFE-GUARDS

Somerville Man Had a Narrow Escape In Surf at Asbury Park.

QUICKLY RESUSCITATED

None the Worse Today For the Nerve Racking Experience He Underwent—Plainfield Excursionists Witnessed Incident.

A man who gave his name as Walter Clement, and his home as Somerville, was rescued from death by the life guards at Asbury Park, yesterday, after he had been attacked with cramps while swimming beyond the ropes near the Fourth avenue beach. Clement went yesterday on the Warren chapel excursion, which carried about 1,800 persons from this city and vicinity, many of whom witnessed the saving of Clement's life.

The sandy beach was crowded with bathers, who had their attention suddenly diverted from frolics in the surf, to the frantic shouts of a swimmer about 150 yards from shore. Thousands gazed helplessly as the victim had his shouts for help smothered by the water as he sank from view for the first time. Two life-savers, however, and a score of good swimmers started in the direction of the drowning man. The life-guards reached him as he was going down for the third time. Hauled in on the sand he was resuscitated and brought to the medical ward of the Ross pavilion. Although greatly weakened by the ordeal he went through, Clement was able to take the regular excursion train for Plainfield which left the Asbury Park station at 6:16 o'clock in the evening.

The weather, yesterday, at the popular Jersey resort was ideal for bathing and the various pleasures to be enjoyed at the seashore. The trip was made in two sections of thirteen cars each. Joseph W. Gavett headed the committee which looked after the arrangements of the pleasant event.

PLAN AN AUTO TRIP FOR POOR MOTHERS

Charity Organization and Citizens Will Conduct Outing to Boynton Beach.

A movement is underway at the present time to take seventy-five mothers, each with a child, to Boynton Beach for a day's outing next Wednesday, the affair being in charge of the local Charity Orgonization and a number of prominent citizens who will loan their automobiles for the occasion. Special recreative features are being planned for the trip which will be an inovation here, many outings for children having been held, but never one in which the mothers were the guests.

William L. Smalley is in charge of the transportation arrangements and he will have fifteen cars lined up ready for use at 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. All of the mothers who have been invited are of the poorer class and many have never been fortunate enough to enjoy a ride in a "horseless" carriage since that vehicle of transportation has become popular. Those who engineered the children's trip to Boynton Beach two weeks ago, which was such a decided success, are promoting the coming event and this outing is expected to surpass the former one in every way.

Owners of automobiles who can loan their cars and chauffeurs for the afternoon may make the necessary arrangements by notifying William L. Smalley at his meat market, Fourth street and Park avenue. The return to Plainfield will be made about 5:30 o'clock.

ALLEGE PROPRIETOR ASSAULTED PATRONS

Eaters Took Exception to Smelson Sweeping Floor During Meal Hours.

Objecting because Max Smelson, proprietor of the restaurant at 15 Somerset street, attempted to sweep the floor of his establishment while they were eating their dinners today, Truman Bilyer, of New Market, and John Conroy, of North Plainfield, were attacked by Smelson, according to the police. All three were arrested by Patrolman Flatley, who charged them with disorderly conduct.

Smelson, the other two men assert, became angered when they told him it was unsanitary to sweep his place while meals were being served. This, the men claim, caused Smelson to deal Bilyer a crashing blow in the face. A free-for-all fight followed, which was interrupted by the timely arrival of Flatley. Dishes, chairs and edibles were knocked over in the scuffle.

FORMING COMPANY TO ERECT HOTEL

Promoters Trying to Interest Westfield Business Men In New Scheme.

Westfield, Aug. 15—Plans are being formed here to incorporate a company, with the object in view of erecting a handsome hotel in the business section. The men interested in the movement will subscribe for shares of $100 each, and in the event of a sufficient sum of money being assured, the company will be organized and the plans put through.

It is proposed to locate the hotel at the corner of North avenue and Prospect street, on the property owned by Councilman Robert H. Hohenstein. This corner is at present occupied by old fashioned frame structures. The location is thought to be ideal for such a hotel, being directly opposite the Westfield station.

One of the objects for building such a hotel is to furnish a cosy place for the New York business man who is often compelled to remain in Westfield during the summer while his family is at a summer resort. A banquet hall is also to be a feature of the hotel, where society functions may be held.

No plans as yet have been drawn for the building.

UNIFORMED RANK FORMED IN JR. O. U. A. M. BODY

A company of the uniform rank, Jr. O. U. A. M., to be known as Co. I, Fourth Regiment, was formed last night, composed entirely of members of Somerset Council, No. 104. The officers elected were as follows: Captain, Fred Lanning; first lieutenant, Arthur Joy; second lieutenant, Guy Thomas.

While this is a new departure for the local councils of the order, the uniform rank throughout the other end of Union county, together with Essex and Hudson counties, is very strong. It is expected that the other three councils in the city will take up the matter in the near future.

DUTCH ARMS SURPRISE REV. ROYAL A. STOUT

Rev. Royal A. Stout, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, who is soon to leave to accept the pastorate of the Green Hill Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, was given a surprise party at the parsonage, last night, by the members of the Dutch Arms, men's association. The affair, which was arranged by O. P. Wahlig, president of the Dutch Arms, afforded an opportunity for the men to express their regret upon the departure of Mr. Stout and to wish him success in his new field.

Another surprise came in the presentation to Mr. Stout of a handsome watch fob bearing the coat of arms of the Reformed Church of America, and a box of choice cigars. These were presented by Mr. Wahlig and Mr. Stout made a happy response in thanking the men for their kindness and good wishes. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mr. Stout, who has been pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church from its inception, will preach there Sunday for the last time as pastor, and on September 1 he will begin his pastorate of the Green Hill Presbyterian church, Philadelphia. No thought has as yet been given to his successor at the local church.

SENATOR PIERCE ON TAX REFORM

Candidate For Republican Gubernatorial Nomination Discusses Platform Plank.

MAKE BURDEN EQUAL

Union County Candidate for Honors at Hands of People, Follow His Promise—Elaborates On Plank On Taxation.

Cranford, Aug. 15—Pursuant to his promise to discuss the five planks of his Gubernatorial platform, Senator Pierce issued a statement today explaining his second plank. The statement follows in full:

"It is a first principle in taxation that the burden shall fall equally. It does not fall equally at the present time in New Jersey.

"To illustrate, from cases presented to the recent Tax Commission: In Camden county, a highway separates taxing districts assessed at different ratios, the lower assessed side has been built up and developed, while the land across the road remained unimproved.

"In Elizabeth, the main street is the boundary line between districts. The commission was informed the less valuable side of the street is assessed higher than the more valuable side.

"In a rural community, two assessors assessed the same parcel, each supposing it to be in his district. One returned it at $350 and the other at $1,050.

"In Asbury Park, according to an estimate given by the Mayor intended as conservative, small properties and cottages are assessed at seventy per cent. of value, business and hotel properties at from thirty to fifty per cent.

"The above cases are types of conditions existing generally through the State. The Tax Commission, after visiting every county, made this State-wide finding.

"'The ratio of assessment to value varies in different districts, and frequently between taxpayers in the same district, the variance ranging from thirty per cent. of value to full value and above.'

"The fundamental trouble is the fact that the present system of assessment in New Jersey is less a system than an aggregation of detached units. The units (taxing districts) are working largely independently, with imperfect control by the county boards, and less by the State Board of Equalization. There is no proper continuity of authority from top to bottom. The result is lack of equalization.

"In applying a remedy, the tax commission adopted the principle that the work of assessment should be put upon a business basis, and conducted efficiently as a private business is conducted; a central authority at the top subject to change of administration, but the routine work to be kept in the hands of a permanent body of trained employes, secure in their position and free from political or other influence.

"Like a private business, the authority at the top to issue uniform rules and instructions, with power to enforce them; books and papers to be standardized; a State Supervisor to be responsible for general efficiency and for equalization between counties; a county assessor to be responsible for equalization within the county; and the local assessor to be appointed instead of elected, to have a district sufficiently large to require his full time, to give his full time, to be properly paid, and to be removable only for cause.

"The bills offered by the tax commission represent the combined study of experts, local officials and men of practical experience within the State. I am advised by A. C. Pleydell, secretary of the New York Tax Reform Association—a competent authority, familiar with methods in other States—that the proposed legislation, if adopted, would give New Jersey the best system of assessment in force in any State in the Union.

"I am proposing, whether I win or lose the Gubernatorial race, to use all honorable effort to place the substance of the legislation upon the statute books."

At their meeting yesterday afternoon in the Babcock building, members of Washington Camp, No. 1, P. O. One candidate was voted into membership at the business meeting and another application for membership was received. The attendance was large.

COURT WILL DECIDE WHO IS GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Albany, August 15.—It was declared here this morning that before the day ends the legal machinery necessary to have the higuest court of the State take cognizance of the dispute as to whether William Sulzer or Martin H. Glynn is Governor, will have been set in motion.

It was said that a proposition will be broached to Governor Sulzer later in the day to have an agreed statement of facts prepared and submitted to the appellate division, third department, no later than Monday next. The court will make a pro forma decision, or will hand down a decision that can be appealed speedily to the court of appeals.

The court cannot be convened, however, in less than 10 days. It has been intimated that the case would be taken to the supreme court of the United States, but it was said today that this is improbable.

POLITICIANS ARE BECOMING ACTIVE

Knapp to Oppose English For Progressive State Committee.

Promise of a lively scrap at the Progressive primaries in September is made by the announcement today that Edgar A. Knapp, of Elizabeth, will oppose County Chairman John K. English for election as State Committeeman. English is supporting the candidacy of Edmund B. Osborne for the gubernatorial nomination and Knapp is an ardent Colby man having called the meeting to be held in Elizabeth next Wednesday to form a county Colby League. In making his announcement Mr. Knapp pledges himself to the platform of Senator Colby, which was published in the Press several weeks ago, and says that he is entering the fight at the request of most of the leaders in the Progressive party in New Jersey. Mr Knapp requests the active support of all who believe in Senator Colby and his candidacy.

With the failure of the Legislature to pass a mandatory small board of freeholder bill, booms for candidates for the large board are expected to be launched throughout the county in a few days. The action of the Legislature has been awaited in determining whether or not various ones would run for freeholder. Petitions are already in circulation for J. Hervey Doane, of Plainfield, in the Republican party.

William Mayo Atkinson is confident that he will be elected Democratic State Committeeman over General Dennis F. Collins. "The reports that come to me, and the statements that are made, indicate my election," he said today. Mr. Atkinson was much interested in the discussion over the possible defeat of Edward E. Grosscup for Democratic State Chairman Mr. Atkinson issued the following statement upon it: "It is rather early to raise this question, for no one knows who will constitute the next State committee. The man most interested is the party's candidate for Governor. I am personally for Governor Fielder's nomination, and I know that his friends are not making the mistake of assuming that it is all over but the shouting. Mr. Katzenbach has much strength, but there are many who would prefer some new and third man to enter the contest." Whoever was the candidate, however, Mr. Atkinson believed should be consulted in the choosing of the chairman. "I do not propose to pledge myself to any particular candidate at this time," he said. "It is up to the Democratic party to get together in this State," he concluded, "so that whoever is nominated for Governor can be elected."

Frederick S. Taggart, of Westfield, Bull Moose candidate for surrogate last fall, is one of those being considered as an aspirant for an Assembly nomination. Mr. Taggart made a good run at the polls in November. Romeyn Berry, of Summit, who was an Assembly candidate, is also mentioned. Mr Berry is chairman of the committee that is in charge of the preparation of nominating petitions, and doing other work in connection with the launching of booms.

EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR MOSQUITO EXTERMINATION

East Rutherford, August 15.—An official inspection of the mosquito extermination work being done at Pompton will be made within the near future, for all the members of the board stated Wednesday afternoon that they are anxious to personally assure themselves as to the efficacy of the undertaking. But before the official visit is made the engineer and one or two individual members will inspect the place and report to the commission at its next session.

During the past week the commission had printed 30,000 postcards, which will be sent broadcast throughout the country as soon as they are addressed. It is expected that all can be mailed within about a week. The cards bear brief but valuable information to the public on the question of mosquito extermination and will go a great way towards enlightening citizens how they may hope to get rid of the mosquitoes and also prevent them from breeding. The burden of the card is that most mosquitoes are born right on the property where they molest the residents and where they could easily be exterminated with a little care.

SEN. MARTINE FLAYS TRUST CONDITIONS IN NEW JERSEY

That Senator James E. Martine is somewhat disgusted with the corporation laws as they exist in the State of New Jersey, is evidenced by the remarks of the representative of this commonwealth in the Senate, on the floor of that body on Wednesday.

While Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, was discussing the manufacture of aluminum goods and the making of aluminum castings, he remarked that several large plants of the United States had been united under the corporate name of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co., of New Jersey.

To this statement, Senator Martine replied, "I am quite free to confess that the little commonwealth of New Jersey has been the festering place, the spawning pool, of a thousand iniquities, of which I am heartily ashamed." Continuing he said, "We Democrats have done our best to allay the iniquity, and in a measure we have succeeded, but we are hoping nevertheless, for better results than we have thus far obtained."

Mr. Kenyon replied that considering the long residence of the Senator in his State, he was surprised that these conditions existed.

SULZER PLANS TO INDICT MURPHY

Will Accuse Tammany Leader of Treason.

HOLDS ON TO HIS OFFICE

Declares That Murphy Coerced Members of Assembly — Formal Demand Will Be Made by Glynn For Possession of Executive Chamber.

Albany, Aug. 15.—William Sulzer still is in possession of the executive suit in the capitol and the governor's privy seal, although impeachment clouds his title to the office of governor. Meanwhile Martin H. Glynn is recognized by many as acting governor, and the government of the state of New York is a government divided against itself.

The capitol was stirred by the report that Mr. Sulzer and his friends were planning a most sensational vengeance on Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, and several of his lieutenants who managed the fight in the assembly which led up to the impeachment vote. It was strongly intimated that Charles F. Murphy, Senator James J. Foley from Murphy's district, Deputy Comptroller Michael Walsh, Senator James J. Frawley, head of the Frawley investigating committee, and Speaker A. E. Smith of the assembly might be charged with treason as a result of the activities in which they engaged during the momentous night when the assembly was voting on the impeachment resolution. Evidence actually is being collected and precedents looked up.

Collecting Evidence.

It was learned from a reliable source that some of Mr. Sulzer's counsel already had been instructed to formulate the charges and collect evidence to indict and convict those of his opponents whom Mr. Sulzer held chiefly responsible for the humiliation that was heaped upon him through the action of the assembly in the early hours on Wednesday.

The Sulzer forces accuse the Tammany leaders mentioned as having acted as a board of strategy in directing the operations of Mr. Sulzer's enemies and working telephone lines in various directions with a view of bringing to bear upon Democratic members of the assembly the pressure of party bosses throughout the state.

If the necessary proof should be obtained the prosecution would be brought on the ground that the action in the assembly was part of a plot on the part of the leaders to seize control of the government of the state for Tammany Hall and that to attain their ends they were bringing illegal pressure to bear on a grand jury. On the night the impeachment was found the assembly performed the function of a grand jury. In time of war treason is a capital offense.

Mr. Sulzer actually transacted some official business yesterday, while Mr Glynn sat in his little office adjoining the senate chamber, prepared to discharge any duties that came before him. But Mr. Glynn held his post under difficulties, for he not only lacked the governor's seal, but the record and other tools necessary for a governor.

When Mr. Sulzer left for the day he told the newspaper correspondents that he would retain control of his office in the capitol and continue to exercise the powers and duties of governor until the courts ruled that impeachment proceedings automatically had suspended him from office.

Glynn Recognized.

In one respect Mr. Glynn has scored over his rival. Adjutant General Thomas De Witt Hamilton telegraphed from Washington to his chief of staff, Lieutenant Colonel Edward V. Howard, to inform Mr. Glynn that henceforth he would be recognized as commander in chief of the national guard. The incident caused a stir at the capitol, because General Hamilton was appointed to his present office by Mr Sulzer.

Colonel Howard asked Mr. Glynn if he had any orders for the state militia. Mr. Glynn said he had none, but that when he had he would transmit them to the adjutant general in writing. The foundation for a test of Mr. Sulzer's right to exercise the powers of chief executive will be laid today, in all probability.

After a conference with President Robert F. Wagner of the senate and Deputy Attorney General Kellogg, Mr. Glynn decided to make a formal demand on Mr. Sulzer for possession of the executive offices at the capitol and the privy seal of the governor. This is the seal used on all documents executed under the governor's personal direction and not requiring the counter signature of the secretary of state.

RECALL OF COMMISSIONERS.

Two recall elections in commission government cities have given the enemies of that plan an opportunity to call attention to alleged failure where it has been tried. In Atlantic City and Long Branch the recall has been invoked, and all sorts of stories have been sent out about the "failure" of commission government in these two places. In Atlantic City commission government was taken in preference to a much worse government, and even those who are loudly demanding the recall of three of the officials say that the new method is much better tthan the old. They just want to get rid of three men whom they have elected, and whom they consider absolutely incompetent.

Commission government in Long Branch has been more than once criticised by the Record of that city, and many times its columns have unhesitatingly condemned the work of some of the men on the commission. Had the paper advocated the recall it would not have been surprising, but the action taken by that publication explains the situation there so thoroughly that we cannot refrain from printing the splendid testimonial to the efficiency of the new form there. Here is the way the Record sums up the situation:

All who have followed the course of this paper in the past will admit that it has never acted as the organ of any political party or faction; as between persons or candidates The Record has been independent, and will remain so, but on questions of principles it has and will continue to take decided and definite stands. No more vital question has ever been presented to the people of this city than that raised by the petition filed yesterday, asking for an election to recall the mayor of this city, Bryant B. Newcomb, and Commissioners Arrowsmith and Woolley, on the alleged grounds of incompetency and neglect of duty.

The question resolves itself into the proposition: "Does this city desire to continue under a business administration, divorced from politics, or does it not?" No good citizen can afford to remain neutral. Whether we believe in commission form of government or not, we must admit that since it was inaugurated here it has worked out more to the advantage and general good of the entire city than any previous form of government. Much work of vital importance to the city has been undertaken and carried forth under the present form of government. The Record has not always agreed with everything done by the commissioners, individually or as an entire body, but it has always given them credit for honesty of purpose, and no one can dispute that fact.

The petition itself, as well as the persons who secured the signatures, and the methods employed in procuring the signatures should dignify it with no consideration from those respectable law-abiding citizens who have at heart the future welfare and development of this city. The petition contains the names of few, if any, business men of large property interest in the city, and of no prominent summer residents. It has taken nearly eight months to secure the signatures by some small, disgruntled and disappointed politicians, probably mere cat's-paws for others higher up who did not even dare to sign it. The mere inspection of the petition should disgust the intelligent people of this city. We print in another column of this issue the names of signers so far as they can be deciphered from an inspection had of the original petition on file. Read it over and examine the original on file. It is to be regretted that the city is to be further burdened with the costs of an election (possibly three) over a proposition that, when the voters are fully aroused, there can be but one answer, the vindication of the officials attacked.

Can any stronger testimony be asked than the statement by the Record that it "must admit that since it (commission government) was inaugurated here it has worked out more to the advantage and general good of the entire city than any previous form of government." It is also interesting to note the method of securing the names of the petitioners. That one thing alone proves pretty conclusively that the good citizens of Long Branch are satisfied with the commissioners work, for no newspaper would dare to offend the influential business and social interests of the city to the extent that such an article as this would offend them if the statement about the character of the signers were untrue. Its pretty safe to predict that there will be no recall in Long Branch.

THE CURRENCY BILL.

In an article, probably written by Dr. Lyman Abbott, The Outlook handles the currency question and the pending bill in Congress with unusual skill and forcefulness. Who is opposing the pending currency bill? With the exception of a few bankers there is a general demand for its passage. And even the opposition of the bankers is not general or especially strong. The fact is that the only things alleged against it are those founded in selfishness; some provisions of the bill which the public can easily see may cut their profits or limit their control.

Why should the bankers control the currency of the country or for that matter the management in the last analysis of the operation of the banks? The government should have the last say as to everything concerning banking whether it relate to the issuance of the currency or even the rate of interest. The government should never allow money to be scarce, and hence never allow a bank an opportunity for that reason to raise interest rates.

If the railroads are to be controled by a Public Utilities Commission, why not the banks by a governmental commission? The more governmental control you get the stronger the public confidence will be in the bank. The government helps every line of business into which it puts its hand. The banks have been helped by the postal savings department of the government. The Outlook shows this by giving the figures in thirty-eight States, all of which show increase in savings bank deposits since the opening of the postal savings department.

The truth is that such action by the government both educates and promotes confidence by taking hold of such matters. The people of the United States believe in their government, and feel that here is the one place, if not the only one, where they are assured of equal opportunity and security if there is any place where these are to be found.

AS DAVE CARNEY VIEWS POLITICAL SITUATION

In the Review of today, Editor "Dave" Carney, the sage of North avenue, makes a number of pertinent comments on politics, some of which follow:

Judge Runyon was one of the first to forsake the Regulars some years ago and become affiliated with the New Idea movement.

Judge DeMeza last year was a supporter of the Progressives and the Regulars now want to beat him for that reason alone.

Alexander Milne will again be a candidate for the Borough Council according to statements made by his friends in the borough this week.

The Union County Republican outing on Saturday was a tame affair. About three hundred constituted the party and the listlessness of the participants was very perceptible.

The Union County Democrats will journey to Witzell's Grove, Long Island, next Wednesday. There will be a large party, a merry time and something doing all the while they are together.

Former Congressman Fowler was on the Republican outing just as a common ordinary excursionist and received no more consideration than due as such. He has lost the magnetism of a few years ago that made him the center of attraction on events of this character.

With the Colby forces utilizing moving pictures to aid their gubernatorial campaign in North Jersey and the Prohibitionists enlivening their campaign with stirring songs by a male quartet, the New Jersey fight for the Governorship is assuming novel characteristics.

Former Councilman Buxton, of the Fourth ward, of this city, was accosted on the Republican outing last Saturday by a colored constituent from his ward thusly: "Scuse me, Mr. Buxton, Ise de leader of the colored men of the Fourth ward and can get them to do pretty much what I ask them to do; de situation is such that they will do as I tell them. Now, if yau want me to interest myself in the primaries, say so, but I must have the price of one month's rent to start with." "Buck" didn't yield.

GOVERNOR QUESTION NEARING A CRISIS

New York State Legislature Is Today Divided Between Two Factions.

Albany, Aug. 15—The government of New York State, divided against itself, will meet a crisis today when Acting Governor Glynn, claiming authority under the constitution, tries to wrest from William Sulzer, impeached, the authority which he still exercises.

The great seal of the State is locked up with steel chain and padlock, and the secretary of State has the key. Governor Sulzer sits in the executive chambers, and, keeping clerks and stenographers on the jump, continues to exercise the functions of his office.

In an obscure office Acting Governor Glynn sat with nothing to do yesterday, although the legislature, the National Guard and Tammany were behind him.

What further action will then be taken by Mr. Glynn was not indicated today, but the general expectation was that the rival claimants to the governor's chair would resort to the courts for a test case under a nagreed state af facts.

William Sulzer has a lot of friends. Many of his counsel have volunteered their services without expectation of financial reward. He received assurances of support from men throughout the State whose support amounts to something.

The State departments are fairly evenly split today as to their recognition of the rival governors. Here are the divisions:

Sulzer.

Department of Prisons.
Commission of Highways.
Public Service Commission, second district.
Hospital Commission.
Civil Service Commission.
Superintendent of Banks.
Health Department.
State Architect (?)
Executive Department (a part).
Superintendent of Insurance.

Glynn.

The Legislature.
The State Comptroller.
The Attorney-General.
State Engineer and Surveyor.
Excise Commissioner.
Conservation Commission.
Board of Agriculture.
State Fair Commission.
Canal Board.
State Prison Commission.
Fiscal Supervisor.
Board of Charities.
Board of Efficiency and Economy.
Board of Claims.
Superintendent of Elections.
Fire Marshal's Office.
Public Service Commission, first district.
Tax Commission.
Board of Trustees of Public Buildings.

FOLLOWED PRESS ADVICE; COMPLAINED OF DOG CATCHER

As suggested in an editorial in last night's edition of this paper regarding dog-catchers and their privileges as regulated by ordinance and law, a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Woodbine, 811 Hillside avenue, telephoned to police headquarters this morning, saying that a dog-catcher employed by the city had trespassed upon the front lawn of her house to capture a small dog which was running at large near the dwelling. Mrs. Woodbine was indignant at what she termed a suppression of reasonable liberty and freedom. She said she did not see the alleged unlawful act of the dog-catcher, but that neighbors had told her. Chief Kiely is investigating.

Although a proclamation made some time ago by Mayor Percy H. Stewart, prohibits a dog on public thoroughfares, unless firmly attached to a leach and accompanied by a person over the age of twelve years, dog-owners have an undisputed right to allow their pets to roam at will on their private property.

FOUND DOG ALL RIGHT.

When Patrolman Welch called at the home of Mrs. A. E. Van Doren at 615 East Second street, this morning, to investigate a complaint that had been made to Police Chief Kiely regarding a dog which she is harboring, she denied that the mongrel had caused a nuisance and said the complaint came from "jealous and finicky neighbors." Welch reported that the dog was "all right" and was playing with some children attached to a leash.

ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT.

James Lyons, of 541 West Fifth street, was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman Welch, on complaint of his wife, who charges him with non-support. He will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

"The Family Cupboard," latest of the new "thrillers," will be presented at the Plainfield Theatre, Tuesday evening, August 19, by William A. Brady, ltd. The cast—an exceptionally large one—will be headed by William Morris and Irene Fenwick. The story of the play concerns the family of Charles Nelson, a New York man of wealth. Through the desire on the part of his wife to become a social leader, the husband finds himself robbed of the companionship he knew before the "society bee" had poisoned her nature. Eventually, the absence of his comradeship drives the husband to distraction and he seeks elsewhere for his happiness. The revelations that follow bring to the surface a most unusual family skeleton, with both the father and his young son enmeshed in the tangle. Throughout the four acts of the play there are many startling scenes, and the climaxes follow in such rapid succession that from the rise of the curtain until the final scene there is an abundance of thrills. The complete cast: William Morris, Irene Fenwick, Olive Harper Thorne, Forrest Winnant, Irene Romaine, Douglas J. Wood, Ruth Benson, Frank Hatch, Alice Lindahl, Frances Kiffen, Philip Leigh, Franklin Ardell, Wallace Erskine, Rae Selwyn, Barney Johnson.

Warren Township Settles Long Disputed Question at Special Election.

The long disputed question of erecting a new school building in Warren township was finally settled at a special school election held at Warrenville, yesterday afternoon. At that time by a vote of 71 to 2 it was decided to build a one-room school building at Mt. Bethel and to make the necessary repairs to the other school at Warrenville, at an expense not to exceed $4,500. The new building will be erected on Alfred B. Binz's land, an option on which has been secured. The action yesterday was in reality a compromise between a two-room school building and one at Mt. Bethel.

The new school, it is expected, will cost approximately about $2,800. The committee in charge will at once proceed to get bids for the work, but it is hardly thought possible to complete the new building in time for use this fall. It will probably be early in the spring before the school is finished, unless the winter should be an open one. The question of building a new school, one that would meet the requirements of the State law, has been one of controversy for a long time. Some people favored a two-room building and others wanted a one-room structure. Some wanted it located at one place and others favored another site.

Recently, the State school authorities informed the township school board that unless a suitable building was erected, the State apportionment of school funds would be withheld and it is though that this ultimatum had the effect of hastening a decision.

As indicated at yesterday's vote there was a large attendance at the school election. Charles L. Crabb was chairman and John E. Flammer, secretary. The situation was explained and the proposition to build a one-room school at Mt. Bethel and repair the one at Warrenville was submitted, it being understood as a compromise over several other propositions, and it was carried by an overwhelming vote.

CAMDEN STIRRED BY RUMOR OF SCANDALS

Detectives Probing Immorality In the Training and High School to Get Evidence.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—Stirred by the persistent rumors of immorality among the students of their coeducational Manual Training and High School, the residents of this city are awaiting with manifest impatience for Prosecutor Kraft to submit to the Board of Education the result of the investigation Burns' detectives have been making since early summer of the grave charges which set the tongues of gossips wagging several months ago.

The prosecution of at least one man is said to have already been foreshadowed by the preliminary report the detectives have made to Prosecuor Kraft, who is expected to return soon from his summer residence at Harvey Cedars, N. J., for the purpose of conferring with Edmund S. Reed, Jr., president of the Board of Education, and James E. Bryan, the supervising principal of Camden's school system, upon a subject which has thoroughly aroused the parents of Camden.

They are said, however, to have unearthed the eight or nine cases of flagrant immorality and to have found that the standard of morality at the school has been far from as bad as the gossips have portrayed it. Camden parents naturally resent any reflection being cast upon their boys or girls by indiscriminate reports of evil among the students of the school and that is why they are so anxious to have Prosecutor Kraft make known the result of the Burns men's report at the earliest possible time.

Ugly rumors have been in circulation for months, and more than once in that period parents went to the office of Edmund E. Reed, president of the Board of Education, and demanded that something be done to end the more or less indefinite scandals. That official cognizance of these rumors had been taken was not made generally known until yesterday, when, at a monthly meeting of the Board of Freeholders of Camden county, a bill for $672.84 to cover the progress of the school investigation thus far was presented. This bill was indorsed by Prosecutor Kraft. The bill was tabled so that the total amount may be paid at the end of the investigation.

Teachers at the school, not more than two, have been the object of rumors, and because of this the inquiry will be pressed to the end. James Bryan, superintendent of schools, and Miss Clara Burroughs, the principal of the High School, have admitted that the rumors are not entirely without foundation, and they are and have been assisting in the investigation.

Does Your Kitchen Fit You?

In an agricultural extension course, where progressive young farmers are taught how to carry on the details of the farm life with as much efficiency as the young banker or merchant is taught to carry on the details of banking or merchandise, there is a course of lectures on kitchen economics.

A group of husky, animated young would-be farmers, many of them sons of city men, who saw a big future in agriculture, were once listening to an expert in domestic science discourse on food values and the chemistry of cookery.

She happened to take up the subject of the kitchen sink, and she urged them to have the sink made to fit the woman who must stand before it three times a day. A tall woman should not be forced to break her back over a low sink, said the lecturer, nor a short one to stretch her arms out of the sockets over a tall sink.

This was the comment of one young farmer—a bachelor and as yet free of heart: "I think it would be simpler to get a wife to fit the sink."

Apparently it is with such idea in mind that many houses are built. Certainly many kitchens are so made and furnished that no woman, unless she were especially chosen with a view to living in those particular kitchens, would ever find working in them easy.

It is really a much simpler matter to make your kitchen fit you than to try to make yourself fit your kitchen. Spend a great deal of thought and a little money making it convenient, and you will save the little it costs in strength gained for other work.

Begin with the sing. It is not low enough, have a little rack of boards made to stand on. If it is too low there is nothing to do but to have a plumber make it higher.

Next, how about the relation of stove to sink, sink to table, pantry to dining room, cupboards for dishes to sink? If the arrangement makes many steps necessary, change the arrangement. Have the table on which the food is prepared near both sink and stove, if that is possible. And if possible have the shelves for holding china near the sink. If you cannot do this have a table for holding the dishes near the sink, so that they can all be piled there as they are washed and dried and then carried on trays to the shelves where they belong.

Have the icebox within easy access of the kitchen. The cellar icebox, which doubtless does take less ice than the one in the kitchen, is so wearing on the strength of the cook that it is often an extravagance.

Have shelves low enough so that you can reach them without straining, or else have a little step to stand on. Have gas or electric light brackets high enough so that you will not run into them and so put out your eye when you go into the room in the dark. Have a chair conveniently placed by a window so that you can sit to prepare vegetables and mix cakes and do many other pieces of kitchen work.

To sum up, have the kitchen arranged with some idea of making it a comfortable and convenient place in which much of the work of the household must be done.

Woman's World

Miss Jessie Wilson to Be White House Bride.

Photo of Mr. Sayre © 1913, by American Press Association.

MISS JESSIE WOODROW WILSON AND FRANCIS BOWES SAYRE.

"Who'll be the thirteenth White House bride?" This is a question that was asked in the spring, when the three attractive daughters of President Wilson became occupants of the executive mansion.

Twelve weddings have taken place in this historic mansion, and now Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, the president's second daughter and the beauty of the trio, has thrown superstition to the winds and announces her intention of becoming the thirteenth bride of the White House.

Miss Wilson's fiance is Francis Bowes Sayre, scion of the old and wealthy Sayre family of eastern Pennsylvania, which built and partly owns the Lehigh Valley railroad.

Miss Jessie Wilson was born at Gainesville, Ga., where the family used to visit relatives of Mrs. Wilson during Professor Wilson's vacations while he was a member of the faculty of Bryn Mawr college. Her early education was at home under a German governess. After finishing her studies at the Baltimore Woman's college she went into settlement work. She is the youngest member of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association, and she composed a number of the prayers read at the Y. M. C. A. convention at Richmond, Va.

Although Miss Jessie's eloquence and serious mindedness have led her into the field of social betterment, she is quite as alive to the pleasures of sport. She plays tennis, rides horseback, swims and dances. She is a blond, like her mother, with a Greek profile, a delicate rose pink complexion and large blue eyes.

Mr. Sayre is a graduate of Williams college and of the Harvard law school. For the past year he has been connected with the district attorney's office at New York in a clerical capacity.

Miss Wilson's fiance is also interested in social settlement work. He spent the winter of 1909-10 in Alabama coal mines and out west. He put in two summers with Dr. Grenfels, the Labrador missionary, and devoted several summers to travel in Alaska and northern Siberia.

Mr. Sayre's mother, daughter of John Williamson Nevin, president of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa., is a descendent of Hugh Williamson of North Carolina, one of the framers of the United States constitution. She is a sister of the late Robert J. Nevin, head of the American church of Rome. One of her sons is now a minister in China.

No Breakfast and a Good Complexion.

At a summer camp in the mountains last year there was a young woman whose color and complexion were the envy and admiration of every one. She never appeared until about 10 o'clock, when the other campers, after a leisurely breakfast and half an hour or so spent in waiting for the mail, had gathered to receive it on the steps of the lodge where they ate and danced together. Then this girl of the lovely complexion would appear, radiant, enthusiastic, fresh—dressed for tennis, golf, tramping and boating.

The secret of her freshness lay in an egg and an orange. Instead of eating breakfast in the usual way, she ate an egg soft boiled over a spirit lamp and the juice of an orange. She ate this meager but sustaining breakfast in her room and so was not tempted by the hot breads and cakes, muffins and meat dishes which were served in the camp dining room, hence her lovely complexion. Moreover, she saved much time. She could eat her breakfast slowly in ten minutes, and she could eat it without dressing. Then she had an hour or so undisturbed in which she could write letters, mend, sew or do anything else which needed daily attention. By 10, freshly dressed for the day's sport, she would appear.

The method of this girl might be practiced by any one away for the summer to the improvement of health.

Some Whims of Fashion as Interpreted by the Different Degrees of Elaboration — Mother and Daughter Wear Similar Styles.

Fashion is the keynote of the present century from all points for personal adornment. Prompted first by necessity and later by vanity, these two fundamental principles inherit in all people, at all times, have traveled hand in hand until today, an occasion can scarcely arise that cannot be met with pleasing costumes of really artistic conception. For morning, afternoon or evening wear the styles are picturesque this year because the modern woman is suiting her clothes to her surroundings.

Every woman likes to have a few gowns in her wardrobe for wear when she is on her holiday. What could be prettier than the model shown in figure No. 7878? It may be easily developed in cotton crepe showing a woven figure of some attractive light shade, or it may be of a bordered fabric. In this case, the border will make a handsome trimming such as the one depicted on this model. The gown closes at the back. The bodice is in overblouse style, with gathered guimpe having a frill of lace in Medici effect at the back, the border forms a band over the shoulders giving it the elongated effect. The sleeves are set in underneath. They are elbow length finished with a cuff. Skirt has a front gore and straight sides and back with tunic at sides. The crushed belt with buckle gives an added touch of charm to the waistline which is shortened by its use. This pattern is cut in five sizes, 34 to 42. Size 36 requires 6½ yards 36-inch material. For the girdle which is not included in the pattern, it will take about 3-4 yards of silk cut on the bias, or 3-4 yard wide ribbon.

It seems quite a fad to have the little daughter's gowns harmonize with mother's in both style and fabric, yet modified to suit the little figure. A fair example of this type is offered in No. 7906. It can be made up of figured cotton crepe or silk in a most becoming style for the little tot. This airy fairy model has frilling at the neck just as her mamma might have and it becomes the young lady very much. In fact it is a pretty finish to the throat. This is a guimpe dress with the short sleeves, and slips on over the head, therefore, has no buttons and buttonholes to bother with. It is in long-wasted style with the wide belt below natural waistline. This is of contrasting fabric or ribbon. The pattern of this charming frock is cut in four sizes, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 requires 2 3-8 yards, 36-inch material, with 1 3-8 yards 36-inch fabric for the guimpe. 15 cents.

PEACH DAINTIES.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Egg Sandwiches.
String-Bean Salad.
Peach Meringue.
Sugar Cakes.
Buttermilk.

DESSERTS light and dainty are appropriate for the summer luncheon. Many such may be made with fresh peaches, as suggested here.

Useful as Cake Filling.

Peach Cream.—Pare and cut into small pieces four ripe peaches. Put them into a bowl with a cupful of powdered sugar and the white of one egg. Beat well until this becomes a thick, smooth cream. Serve in sherbet cups with a dash of whipped cream. This makes a delicious cake filling.

A Rich Pastry.

Peach Meringue.—Take a dozen peaches, pare, stew and press them through a colander. Line two deep pie dishes with puff paste, sweeten the peaches to taste, fill the paste even with the fruit and bake in a quick oven. Whip the whites of six eggs and six tablespoonfuls of sugar to a stiff froth, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, heap on the pies and brown in the oven.

With Gelatin and Nuts.

Peach Float.—A delicious way to serve peaches is to crush them and place in cocktail glasses with peach gelatin. Top with generous quantity of whipped cream and maraschino cherry, walnut meats or crushed macaroons.

Peaches and Cake.

Peach Custard.—Heat half a cupful of milk in a double boiler, dissolve a tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little water and stir into milk. Beat an egg yolk and a tablespoonful of sugar until creamy, then add a little of the hot milk, stir smooth, then pour back into the milk and stir until smooth. Add a pinch of salt to white of an egg and beat until stiff. Stir into hot custard; beat until smooth. Remove from fire and beat from time to time until cooled, then prepare dessert as follows: Take sherbet cups and place upright in them three halves of lady fingers; pour in one rounded tablespoonful of sliced peaches, then enough custard to fill cup two-thirds full, then top off with some whipped cream and place a candied cherry on top.

They Bought a Fairy Book.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Birthday Gift That Jimmy Bought.

THE children were smiling. Tomorrow was grandma's birthday. Grandma was to have a birthday dinner. Jack and Evelyn would go to the dinner. Besides that, each had nice presents with which to surprise her. They had saved their money to buy them. Of course daddy teased them a great deal about these presents.

"I hope," said he, "that your present won't be like Jimmy's present for his papa. Jimmy's papa was going to have a birthday. Jimmy's mother had said to him, 'Now, Jimmy, I think it would be very nice for you to save your money and give your father a nice gift on his birthday.'

"Jimmy was quite taken with the idea. He went shopping with his mother when she went out to buy a pair of slippers as her present for father.

"They visited several shops and walked all over them, but there wasn't anything that Jimmy could buy for a dollar which he thought would do.

"When a little boy has taken a dollar out of his savings bank to spend on somebody else he is apt to be very careful what he buys. So Jimmy couldn't make up his mind what to buy.

"'I am afraid you will have to do your shopping by yourself after this,' Jimmy's mother said. 'I am tired having the shop people show us all they have to sell without buying something.'

"So the next day Jack started out alone, and on his way to the shop Jimmy met Polly. Polly was the little girl who lived next door, and they were great chums.

"'Where are you going, Jimmy?' asked Polly.

"'I'm going a-shopping,' Jimmy answered.

"'Why, how funny!' exclaimed Polly. 'I didn't know boys shopped.'

"'Oh, yes,' Jimmy replied; 'I'm going to buy my father a birthday present.'

"'Oh, are you?' said Polly. 'Well, I thought only ladies went shopping.'

"'Well, mother went with me yesterday, but she couldn't go along today.'

"'Oh, couldn't she?' Polly cried. 'Then I'll go and help you shop.'

"Jimmy thought this might be better, so he told Polly to come along.

"Polly did have some odd ideas about buying presents. She stopped at a counter where books were sold and, with a squeal of delight, picked up a beautiful fairy book.

"'Why,' she cried, 'here's a perfectly grand fairy book! Let's buy that for your daddy. He can have a lovely time reading it to us evenings.'

"And that was what Jimmy bought for his father's birthday gift. But I hope nobody buys daddy a fairy book for his birthday."

An Artistic Tudor Rose Design for a Runner, Table-Cover or Pillow.

The Tudor rose has always been a favorite motive for embroidering since the days when Mary Tudor used it on the hangings of her bed-room. This design, 14450, has many possibilities for adaptation for it may be used on runners of linen, canvas, poplin or silk; pillows for the living-room, hall or bed-room, of crafts canvas embroidered with wool or silk, or of linen. The design is also appropriate for decorating chair cushions, portiers and couch-covers of monks cloth, arras cloth, denim or Russian crash. On these heavy fabrics the motifs may be embroidered with very heavy mercerized cotton or with wools, using solid work for the leaves and stems, and either solid work or outline-stitch and darning for the roses. In a room in which brown predominates, the roses might be worked in three shades of yellow or old gold with the leaves in dark brown; or the rose might be in three shades of blue, while in bed-room, the design will be very prettily carried out by embroidering the roses in three shades of pink and the leaves in gray or gray green.

Each corner is 9 by 9 inches and the pattern includes 4 transfers of the design for 15 cents.

SUGGESTIONS FOR WIVES; TELLS HOW TO RULE HUBBIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15—Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President of the United States, has given out a few rules by which a woman can keep her husband happy if she wants so to do. Among the rules are:

First—Keep the wheels of the domestic machinery running smoothly.

Second—No man is happy unless his home surroundings are pleasant.

Third—Men do not mention things that go wrong in the household, but they notice them just the same.

Fourth—A wife should be the companion of her husband as well as his wife.

Fifth—It is a woman's place to superintend the actual work in the home.

Sixth—The paid housekeeper has her drawbacks when it comes to taking charge of the home.

Seventh—The touch of the mistress is needed to give the home feeling.

Eighth—Avoid silly fads.

Ninth—Spend not even one penny more than the family income permits.

Tenth—Do not wrangle with or nag your husband.

—Advertise in the Plainfield Daily Press. It pays.

FINAL LEAGUE GAMES ON CENTRAL CIRCUIT

Plainfield and Somerville Head the Bill For Tomorrow Afternoon.

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY LEAGUE.

Games Tomorrow.

Somerville at Plainfield.
Dunellen at High Bridge.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P. C.
Somerville	9	3	.750
Plainfield	9	4	.692
Dunellen	5	8	.384
High Bridge	1	7	.125

Manager Dorflinger and his crew of Central Leaguers will be given their last opportunity to land on top of the league heap in the pennant race tomorrow afternoon, when the Somerville nine, the present top notchers come to Parker Field for the final game of the league season. If Plainfield loses, it will be good-bye flag and everything else that goes to a champion, but if the Pets win it will mean a tie with the Somerset county contingent and another chance to win the coveted bunting. George Ortlieb and Eddie Kraft will be the opposing box artists and the teams will probably fight to a finish for the contest.

Dunellen is scheduled to play at High Bridge, but because of a lack of baseballically inclined fandom and the unimportance of the contest, it having no bearing on the deciding of the league title, it is more than likely that the game will be called off before the time it is scheduled to be sent under way. High Bridge fans are enthused over the chances of the Somerville crew to beat the locals, and many from that town will make the trip to this city to witness the star card on tomorrow's bill.

TINKER BLAMES HERRMAN.

Cincinnati, Aug. 15.—A statement attributed to Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati team, now playing in Philadelphia, and published here yesterday, quotes him as saying that the condition of his team at present is bad and that possibilities for improving it are worse. He blames President August Herrmann of the club for disposing of a number of players that, while worthless to the Cincinnati club as players, would have been invaluable in trades that might be made.

S. S. TEAMS BACK ON THE DIAMOND

After a Week's Let-up the Bible Class Aggregations Will Renew Hostilities.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Park Avenue vs. First Baptist.
Hope Chapel vs. First Presbyterian.

Standing of Clubs.

First Presbyterian	3	5	.375
Park Avenue	0	8	.000

Hostilities will be resumed in the Sunday-school League tomorrow afternoon after a two weeks letup, necessitated by the Hope Chapel outing last week. The organization's schedule is rapidly nearing completion and the race is tightening down to a trio of contenders.

Hope Chapel will take the field against the Presbyterians tomorrow afternoon and the Park Avenue crew will endeavor to gain its first victory at the expense of the First Baptist contingent, an almost impossibility.

SWEDISH RIFLEMEN COMING.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 15—The team of Swedish marksmen which is to participate in the international shooting contest at Camp Perry, O., from September 1 to 9, will leave Gothenburg for the United States by steamer today, and expects to reach Camp Perry, August 28 or 29. The team consists of the following well-known riflemen: T. Bjoerkman, Maurice Ericson, Joh. Nilsson, R. Stare, C. Wallenborg, O. Christiansson, Lieut. S. Haultrantz and E. Ohlsson. The pistol shots going with the party are Lieut. W. Carlberg, Casimir Reuterskiooeld and R. Loepman.

TURF SCANDAL DECISION TODAY

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 15—The Stewards of the Jockey Club after hearing testimony in the case of Jockey John Wilson, "Dollar" John Langemann and Robert Mendelson, last night, announced that a ruling in the matter would not be made public until today. This is the case that grew out of the running of Working Lad and Helft during the Belmont Park meeting. The three men tried yesterday are under suspension.

ROYALS AND PETS WILL PLAY SERIES

Plainfield Ballists to Meet For the City Championship Soon.

Manager Pete Simmons, of the Royal Colored Giants, announced this morning that he was negotiating with Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield Pets, to inaugurate a series to be started a week from tomorrow on Parker Field, between these two rivals. Plans are about completed for the big card and Simmons is arranging a team of stars to uphold the colored baseball interests in this city.

The Royals have already scored a victory over the Scotch Plains contingent and are firmly convinced that the championship of Plainfield and Central New Jersey belongs to them. Should Plainfield be successful in winning the championship of the Central League the Royals will have all the more to fight for, as a victory over the Pets would then mean a Central New Jersey championship for them.

FLIGHT AROUND ENGLAND.

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 15—This city is filled with visitors from all parts of the United Kingdom and many foreigners who have come here to witness the start tomorrow of the great waterplane flight around Great Britain, in which a number of the best craft of this type in Great Britain will compete for the $25,000 prize offered by the proprietors of the Daily Mail to the aircraft which first completes the prescribed circuit within a period not exceeding seventy-two hours. The contest which will be formally opened tomorrow, is held under the auspices of the Royal Aero Club, which has mapped out the route for the flight and has set down the rules governing the race. The start will be made from here and the route will follow a line via Dover, Yarmouth, Scarbougb, Aberdeen, Inverness, Oban, Dublin and Falmouth, back to Southampton water. The controls will be at or near the places mentioned and competitors must alight at each of these controls for purposes of identification. Each aircraft must remain for thirty minutes at each control, but this time will not be counted as part of the seventy-two hours. Stoppage between the controls are not prohibited, but the time thus consumed is counted as part of the flying time. Only British subjects and pilots registered and licensed under the rules of the Royal Aero Club will be permitted to take part in the race. Each machine must carry a passenger in addition to its pilot and their combined weight must not be less than 265 pounds. Any deficiency in weight must be made up by ballast. Only machines entirely built in Great Britain or the British colonies will be permitted to take part in the race. Towing is not prohibited, but the finishing line must be crossed in flight.

NEW MOTORCYCLE RECORD.

Charlie Davis, of Brooklyn, and Henri St. Yves, of Paris, won the seventy-five-mile team race at the Brighton Beach motordrome last night. They covered the distance in 58 minutes and 30 seconds, establishing a new record. The team composed of John Cox, of New York, and Paul Ohne, of Brooklyn, was second with seventy-three miles and two laps to its credit, while Mike Costello and George Mercier were third, one mile behind.

JACK COOMBS INJURED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Jack Coombs who just got back with the Athletics after being out with typhoid fever, was painfully injured in batting practice yesterday. A liner from Oldring's bat hit him on the kneecap and his teammates had to carry him from the field.

Because of the Spicer outing at Highland Beach tomorrow and the probability of a similar affair being held by the Saurer people the contest between these two aggregations in the City League has been called off, leaving the Dixie Giants-West End A. C. game as the solitary attraction.

The Dixie Giants will take the field as follows: Maiden, cf.; Coleman, lf.; Williams, 3b.; McLane, ss.; Simmons, 2b.; Kline, p.-1b.; Hall, p.-1b.; Carter, rf.; Garner, c.; Powell, substitute, Rodgers, substitute.

UMPIRE'S WORD GOES.

St. Louis, Aug. 15—The local American League Club will be without the services of two of its best pitchers for some time. Roy Mitchell, star right hander, who alleges he was insulted by Umpire O'Loughlin in New York on Tuesday and who engaged in a verbal battle with the arbiter, yesterday received notice from President Ban Johnson, of the American League, that he had been indefinitely suspended.

AUTOIST WHO HIT COP PEEVED OVER JAIL LIFE

New Brunswick, Aug. 15.—Admitting that he struck Special Officer Wehrfritz in the face with his straw hat and kicked him on the shins, Augustus Shaefer, of Neilson street, a local autoist, charged by the officer with warning automobile drivers Sunday afternoon that the police were watching speeders, was held by Recorder Houghton for the Grand Jury on a charge of assault. He was released under $200 bail.

Schafer declared he was kept in the lock-up from Sunday afternoon until Monday morning without having an opportunity to engage counsel. He declared the condition of the cell was so insanitary that he had to burn his clothing after he left.

SUFFRAGETTES AT PROCTOR'S.

Men especially will be interested in the big act entitled "Supposing," which is being presented at Proctor's, this week, indicating what would happen when women get into power. It is a big London comedy success in which a large company of women and one "henpeck" man take part. The lone man is on trial and the sketch affords one surprise after another. The kiddies will like the trained goats which Mr. Dunbar presents. Their amusing tricks and antics appeal to the little ones and amuse the older people. Fred and Adele Astaire are classy singers and dancers. "Help Wanted" is a rip-roaring comedy farce presented by William Edmunds & Co. The Italian character is unusually good. The Tabors offer an especially fine Indian club juggling act. The feature photo play for today is "The Snare of Fate," an excellent Vitagraph. Other good pictures are shown at each performance.

CRACK RIFLE SHOTS NOW AT CAMP PERRY

Representatives of Foreign Nations Competing for Honors at Annual Match.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 15—Nearly a thousand sharpshooters from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries are encamped here, ready to compete in the series of national and international shooting matches with rifle, pistol and revolver, which were formally opened at this range today and are scheduled to continue until September 9. The tournament, the largest ever held in this country and, perhaps anywhere in the world, began today with the contests of the National Rifle Association and of the Ohio Rifle Association, which will continue until and including Saturday of this week. On the following Monday, August 25, the national matches—team, individual and pistol—by authority of Congress and the National Board of Promotion of Rifle Practice, will begin to continue until the following Saturday. Next in order will be the nearly half a hundred international matches under the auspices of the Confederacion Pan-American a de Tiro (the Pan-American Shooting Union), L'Union Internationale des Federations et Association de Tir (the International Union of Rifle Associations), and the National Rifle Association of America, which will continue until Tuesday, September 9, on which day the tournaments will close.

Seven foreign countries and the United States will line up in the international contests for world championships, and the United States Infantry, Cavalry, Navy and Marine Corps and the pick of the National Guards of a majority of the States of the Union will compete for the $3000 national trophy and the team championship of the United States. Canada will try to take back to Ottawa the historic Palma trophy, first shot for in 1876, which the United States team in 1907 won at Ottawa by the world's score of 1712, and which another team, selected at Sea Girt last September, captured by another world record breaking score of 1720.

Among the foreign countries to take part in the international contests are Mexico, Cuba, Argentina, Switzerland, France, Sweden and a number of other countries. Cash and silver and bronze trophies of from $150 to $2,000 in value, amounting in the aggregate to about $50,000, make a prize list four times greater than at any shooting tourney ever held in North America. The cash prizes alone in the international matches foot up more than $14,000. In addition to these general prizes there are many special prizes and trophies to be competed for. What promises to be the most interesting contest will be the international rifle shooting championship of the world, on a decimal ring target at 300 metres, using what is designated abroad as the "free rifle." This method of free-hand shooting with the hair-trigger, is comparatively new to American sharpshooters, but is generally practiced by experts in European countries.

PETS' LAST CHANCE FOR THE BUNTING

Locals Will Have to Beat Somerville Tomorrow and Then a Tie Will Exist.

The Plainfield Pets will meet the Somerville ball slingers here tomorrow afternoon with but one change in the lineup. Harter taking his old position in center field, and Washburn playing short.

George Ortlieb will probably sling them over for the Pets with Nelson behind the bat to receive them. Dorflinger says he is going to give Somerville the worst beating it ever received.

The Pets are just one half a game behind the Somerville team, so it is up to the locals to tie them this Saturday, which if they do, will make it necessary for the tie to be played off at some future date.

This will be the last game of the league and the last chance for the Pets to get back at Somerville for the awful beating they received at their hands several weeks ago.

Jack Torpey, who is manager of the Somerville team, but plays with Plainfield on Sundays, is also confident that his outfit will go home with another victory to his credit.

The local manager says he expects a record-breaking crowd and there will be extra cars run for this game so everyone will find accommodation.

CHICAGO'S PERRY CARNIVAL.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Chicago's lake front today took on a gala appearance in preparation for a week's celebration of the centennial of Perry's victory on Lake Erie. The festivities are scheduled to begin tomorrow with a review of the State troops by Governor Dunne and Mayor Harrison. The military review will be succeeded by the naval review of the Great Lakes Squadron, and then the signal will be given for the approach of Perry's flagship, Niagara, from the yacht harbor. The famous old craft will be greeted with a cannonade salute of 21 guns. For an entire week the lake front will be alive with the events of the centennial celebration and the mammoth water carnival, including world's championship hydroplane races and naval sham battles.

MEMORIAL TO PILGRIMS.

London, Aug. 15.—Ambassador Page, together with many prominent members of the American colony in London, journeyed to Southampton today to attend the dedication of an imposing memorial erected there to the Pilgrim Fathers. The memorial stands on the quay where the Pilgrims gathered in prayer on that memorable day in 1620 before embarking on the Mayflower to begin their journey to the great unknown land across the sea. A feature of the memorial is a tablet inscribed in memory of John Alden, the youngest of the Pilgrims and who was given immortal fame by the poet Longfellow. The cost of the tablet was contributed by the Alden Kindred of America, composed of descendants of John and Priscilla Alden.

STATE CLOSES NEWARK BANK

Examiners Find Big Shortage In Roseville Trust Co.

IT MAY EXCEED $200,000.

Officers of Trust Company Were Trying to Get In Touch With Treasurer of Institution, but He Could Not Be Found—Depositors' Loss Not Known.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 15.—The doors of the Roseville Trust company at Roseville avenue and Orange street, this city, were closed by Commissioner of Banking and Insurance Charles H. La Monte following an examination made by Bank Examiners Ferguson and Harden. It is reported that the examiners found a shortage of from $200,000 to $250,000, but no official statement has as yet been made.

The officers of the bank are: President, William P. O'Dell; first vice president, William Fairlee; second vice president, H. W. Foster; secretary and treasurer, Raymond E. Smith.

The officers of the trust company were trying to get in touch with Raymond E. Smith of Orange, secretary and treasurer of the institution, but he could not be found either at his office or at his home.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 15.—The New Jersey department of banking and insurance closed the doors of the Roseville Trust company at Newark upon the discovery of a shortage in the institution's funds said to amount to about $200,000.

Thomas K. Johnson asserted that the doors of the institution were ordered closed because an investigation showed a discrepancy sufficient, he believed, to wipe out the total capital stock and surplus. He said he could not tell what the loss to the depositors would be until the inspection was finished.

The inspectors discovered the discrepancy while going over the bank's accounts. The last inspection was made on Oct. 12, 1912.

The Roseville Trust company was incorporated in July, 1908, and commenced business on Dec. 1, 1908. The company's last report, on June 4 last, was as follows: Assets, $1,000,094.00; surplus fund, $50,000; undivided profits, $43,019.40; deposits, $702,975.94, and paid up capital stock, $100,000.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—The carelessness of a burglar in dropping a lighted match in the home of Mrs. Lillian Rhodes, 320 North Sixth street, came near resulting in the destruction of the house by fire. Mrs. Rhodes was awakened before daylight by smoke. She hastened to the kitchen and saw a pile of paper burning. She threw water on the fire and extinguished it.

She summoned the police, who said that a burglar had been in the house. Investigation showed that he had forced the back door open. Only a few trinkets were stolen.

TOWNSHIP ADOPTS ANNUAL BUDGET

North Plainfield Committee Appropriates $17,000 For Coming Year.

PLAN JOINT MEETING

Efforts Will Be Made to Abate Soft Coal Nuisance, Regulate Blasting at Quarries and Settle Dividing Line Controversy.

The adoption of the budget for the coming year, together with the passage of an ordinance to prevent the alleged smoke nuisance and a consideration of the advisability of regulating the hours for blasting at the stone quarries, comprised some of the more important matters taken up at the meeting of the North Plainfield Township Committee meeting at Watchung, yesterday.

The Committee also decided to hold a joint meeting with the Warren Township Committee on Thursday night, August 21, to take steps to bring about a more amicable agreement regarding the dividing line between the two townships and to settle the question of unpaid taxes for 1912. Regarding the dividing line question it is likely that the two townships will go to the Legislature and have the line established to the satisfaction of both townships. The commission line will govern this year's assessments and at the joint meeting a decision will be reached as to the 1912 taxes.

There having been numerous complaints from residents of the township regarding the burning of soft coal at the stone quarries, an ordinance was presented and passed prohibiting the burning of soft coal. The Committee received a petition signed by John Herman and many other residents of the township asking that the blasting at the quarries be restricted to certain hours, it being set forth that the present rule made it dangerous for people traveling back and forth on the main road near which the quarries are located. The Committee decided to invite the owners of the quarries to attend the special meeting on Thursday night, August 21, for the purpose of reaching some satisfactory agreement about the blasting.

The budget for the year totals $17,000, which includes the county and State tax. The township appropriation totals $7,000. The principal appropriations are as follows: Roads, $1,800; poor, $1,600; lights, $1,650; township, $7,000; schools, $3,000. It is the belief that the township tax rate will not be much higher than last year.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF J. A. HARNED TO BE HELD HERE

The funeral services of James A. Harned, formerly of Plainfield, will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Friends meeting-house on Watchung avenue. The burial will be in the cemetery back of the meeting-house.

Mr. Harned formerly lived on Craig place, removing from this city about ten years ago. He died in Baltimore, Md., on Wednesday, but no particulars have been received as to his illness. Mr. Harned was a member of the Plainfield meeting-house and a regular attendant at the services when he lived here. He leaves a wife and thre children.

LOCAL DELEGATES WHO WILL ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

Final arrangements for the State Convention of the Young Men's Hebrew Association to be held at New Brunswick, Sunday, September 28 are being made by a committee of the association of that city composed of M. Sauber, J. Strauss, J. Freedman, M. Solomon and N. Aaron.

Delegates selected to represent this city are Samuel Rothberg and Jacob Abrams.

PROGRESSIVE ORGANIZER HERE

Francis D. Potter, of Bridgeton, State organizer of the Progressive party, was a visitor in town last night, staying with his sister, Mrs. C. T. Elliott, of 1126 Watchung avenue. Mr. Potter is sanguine about the prospects for the party at this fall's election, and predicts that after the 1916 election the Republican party will pass out of existence. He was one of the delegates from New Jersey to both the Republican and Progressive conventions at Chicago last year.

HUFF FAMILY VOTERS ALL FOR GOVERNOR FIELDER

While Acting Governor James F. Fielder was touring Somerset county Wednesday in quest of votes for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, he met at South Branch, members of the Huff family, eight of whom are eligible to vote. All of the eight husky Huffs, all farmers and ranging in height from 5 feet six inches to six feet two inches in height, dropped their hoes and rakes and came out to the governor's automobile. After being introduced to the executive all said in chorus, "You're our man; we'll vote for you and so will many others 'round here. You'll be the next gov'nor of the State."

PICKPOCKKETS ABOUT?

James Webley, colored, of 619 West Third street, had his joy turned to sorrow at a local amusement place, last night, when he discovered on making his exit after the curtain had been run down that someone had stolen his dollar watch. Webley after searching every pocket of the suit he wore, in the vicinity of the seat where he sat, reported to Patrolman Wicht that he had been the victim of a pickpocket. Webley gave the names of several people who were sitting near him, one of them a local business man. When a sleuth asked the latter "for the time" he pulled out a solid gold diamond studded "turnip"—but a dollar watch he had not.

NO SUNDAY CONCERT.

The Playground Commission announced today that there would be no concert at Parker Field Sunday afternoon as has been the custom for the past few weeks, but that a concert would be given at the city park on Sunday afternoon, August 24. There is considerable expense attached to this form of entertainment and the commission has no fund upon which to draw.

EXPECT NO VOTE ON SMALL BOARD

County Clerk Robbins Conferred With County Solicitor Kulp As to Authority.

PETITIONS ARE FILED

Burlington Officials Scoff at Special Election Plan—County Clerk Asked to Call Referendum—Legal Fight May Be the Outcome.

Trenton, Aug. 15—Petitioned to call a special election for a referendum on the smaller Board of Freeholders' act, County Clerk Robbins Wednesday afternoon conferred with County Solicitor Kulp as to whether he has the lawful authority to comply with the demand.

The pursuance of this course by County Clerk Robbins is directly the result of his vain efforts to secure a legal opinion from the State attorney-general, who not only declined to submit, but contended that the opinion should come from the county solicitor, Mr. Kulp. Dr. Robbins also tried to obtain an opinion on the question from the assistant attorney-general, and was also unsuccessful.

The petitions for a special election—one costing the county nearly $11,000—were filed with the county clerk Wednesday morning by Alfred K. Leuckel, Republican, of the Mercer County Board of Taxation, and Robert A. Messler, Democrat, a former city park commissioner. The documents, twenty-four in number, contained upwards of 1,000 signatures, or a few more than the law requires. They request the county clerk to issue notice that the costly election be held on Tuesday, August 26.

Upon accepting the petitions, County Clerk Robbins immediately began his efforts to obtain legal advice on the law. It has been maintained for several weeks that the county clerk is not vested with the power to call a special election, and he could not act one way or the other without first consulting counsel.

With this in mind, Dr. Robbins forwarded to County Solicitor Kulp a brief communication, explaining that he desired legal advice on the situation. County Solicitor Kulp received the letter late Wednesday afternoon, and yesterday consulted other lawyers concerning the matter. He says that his opinion will not be complete for a few days, possibly more than a week.

Like other lawyers, County Solicitor Kulp is of the firm belief that the county clerk cannot accede to the petitioners' demand, and that the law does not state the person who should call a special election. Although his opinion may be changed by a more careful study of the law, the indications are that legal advice will be adverse to the wishes of the small board crowd.

If the opinion is rendered in one week, say next Wednesday, and it advises the clerk to call a referendum the latter will then give the official eight days' notice, which would make Tuesday, September 2, or thereabouts, the special election day. If the opinion opposes the election, then the small board adherents will doubtless start a legal fight to force the county clerk to act.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

Annual Gathering Will Be Held At Ocean Grove September 14 and 15.

At least one of the officials of the local Y. M. C. A., and possibly the full corps, will be represented at a conference of the Employed Officers' Association of New Jersey, made up of paid employes of the Y. M. C. A., which convenes at Ocean Grove, September 14 and 15. C. William Bingeman, Herbert E. Parker and E. C. Ostlin attended the gathering last year which was held at Asbury Park and it is probable that the same representatives will go from here again this year.

Besides Fred B. Smith, who will deliver a special message to the New Jersey men on the first day, G. C. Hubert, secretary at Hartford, Conn., and F. W. Overman, president of the Friends' School, have been engaged to speak, outlining different phases of association work of interest to the Y. M. C. A. workers. The main theme will be "Bible Study."

A session of the various groups, such as boys' secretaries, physical directors, county work men and railroad secretaries will be held September 14, between 2 and 4 o'clock. The opening hour will be 11 o'clock. The conference holds three meetings a year and on December 1 will go to Summit for a meeting.

DAY NURSERY NEEDS FUNDS

Appeals for contributions for the Day Nursery, conducted by the City Union of the King's Daughters, have been made, and it is hoped that there will be a liberal response. This worthy charity has been conducted for a number of years, and this year is doing a splendid work, there being an unusually large number of sick babies to be cared for. In past years the contributions to the work have been liberal, and at the present time funds are very much needed. It is hoped that local people who are away for the summer, and are enjoying themselves in cool spots, will think of the babies in Plainfield who are in need of many things to add to their comfort. Subscriptions for the cause may be sent to the Daily Press, and will promptly be forwarded to the proper persons to be used in this worthy work.

MISS ROSENSON BRIDE OF LEWIS GOLDSTEIN

Ceremony Performed In New York City By Two Clergymen.

Miss Anna Rosenson, daughter of Mrs. Ida Rosenson, of 205 Spooner avenue, and Lewis Goldstein, of New York city, were married last evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Levine, 1417 Prospect avenue, the Bronx, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, including a number from this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Rugow and Rev. Cohen Seigman, both of New York city.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levine, Miss Rose Rosenson and Morton Levine. The bride wore white charmeuse trimmed with shantille, white tulle veil, with pearl cap, small wreath of lillies-of-the-valley and she carried a white prayer-book and a bouquet of lillies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Louis Levine wore a gown of white charmeuse, trimmed with bugle. Miss Rose Rosenson wore pink crepe de media, trimmed with shadow lace and rhinestones.

The house was elaborately decorated with ferns and smilax. The table decorations consisted of ferns and pink and white roses. A wedding breakfast was served to about fifty guests. The bride received a large number of useful gifts.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to Albany, N. Y. Upon their return they will reside at 1280 Stebbins avenue, the Bronx. The bride has a large number of friends here. Mr. Goldstein is engaged in business in New York, is also widely-known in this city.

AGED FATHER ALLEGES SON ASSAULTED HIM

William Mitchell, of 1136 East Second street, reported to the police last night that his son George Mitchell, 25 years old, of 1345 Watchung avenue, had brutally assaulted him about 8.30 o'clock, following a quarrel. According to the police, the younger Mitchell called at his father's home to discuss a family matter. One word brought on another, and finally the son, evidently unable to restrain his anger any more, smote his parent a crushing blow on the face, breaking the elder Mr. Mitchell's nose and blackening his cheek in the vicinity of his left optic. The latter made a complaint of assault and battery against his son, who, if apprehended, will be arraigned Monday afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the city court.

BATHER RESCUED BY LIFE-GUARDS

Somerville Man Had a Narrow Escape In Surf at Asbury Park.

QUICKLY RESUSCITATED

None the Worse Today For the Nerve Racking Experience He Underwent—Plainfield Excursionists Witnessed Incident.

A man who gave his name as Walter Clement, and his home as Somerville, was rescued from death by the life guards at Asbury Park, yesterday, after he had been attacked with cramps while swimming beyond the ropes near the Fourth avenue beach. Clement went yesterday on the Warren chapel excursion, which carried about 1,800 persons from this city and vicinity, many of whom witnessed the saving of Clement's life.

The sandy beach was crowded with bathers, who had their attention suddenly diverted from frolics in the surf, to the frantic shouts of a swimmer about 150 yards from shore. Thousands gazed helplessly as the victim had his shouts for help smothered by the water as he sank from view for the first time. Two life-savers, however, and a score of good swimmers started in the direction of the drowning man. The life-guards reached him as he was going down for the third time. Hauled in on the sand he was resuscitated and brought to the medical ward of the Ross pavilion. Although greatly weakened by the ordeal he went through, Clement was able to take the regular excursion train for Plainfield which left the Asbury Park station at 6:16 o'clock in the evening.

The weather, yesterday, at the popular Jersey resort was ideal for bathing and the various pleasures to be enjoyed at the seashore. The trip was made in two sections of thirteen cars each. Joseph W. Gavett headed the committee which looked after the arrangements of the pleasant event.

PLAN AN AUTO TRIP FOR POOR MOTHERS

Charity Organization and Citizens Will Conduct Outing to Boynton Beach.

A movement is underway at the present time to take seventy-five mothers, each with a child, to Boynton Beach for a day's outing next Wednesday, the affair being in charge of the local Charity Orgonization and a number of prominent citizens who will loan their automobiles for the occasion. Special recreative features are being planned for the trip which will be an inovation here, many outings for children having been held, but never one in which the mothers were the guests.

William L. Smalley is in charge of the transportation arrangements and he will have fifteen cars lined up ready for use at 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. All of the mothers who have been invited are of the poorer class and many have never been fortunate enough to enjoy a ride in a "horseless" carriage since that vehicle of transportation has become popular. Those who engineered the children's trip to Boynton Beach two weeks ago, which was such a decided success, are promoting the coming event and this outing is expected to surpass the former one in every way.

Owners of automobiles who can loan their cars and chauffeurs for the afternoon may make the necessary arrangements by notifying William L. Smalley at his meat market, Fourth street and Park avenue. The return to Plainfield will be made about 5:30 o'clock.

ALLEGE PROPRIETOR ASSAULTED PATRONS

Eaters Took Exception to Smelson Sweeping Floor During Meal Hours.

Objecting because Max Smelson, proprietor of the restaurant at 15 Somerset street, attempted to sweep the floor of his establishment while they were eating their dinners today, Truman Bilyer, of New Market, and John Conroy, of North Plainfield, were attacked by Smelson, according to the police. All three were arrested by Patrolman Flatley, who charged them with disorderly conduct.

Smelson, the other two men assert, became angered when they told him it was unsanitary to sweep his place while meals were being served. This, the men claim, caused Smelson to deal Bilyer a crashing blow in the face. A free-for-all fight followed, which was interrupted by the timely arrival of Flatley. Dishes, chairs and edibles were knocked over in the scuffle.

FORMING COMPANY TO ERECT HOTEL

Promoters Trying to Interest Westfield Business Men In New Scheme.

Westfield, Aug. 15—Plans are being formed here to incorporate a company, with the object in view of erecting a handsome hotel in the business section. The men interested in the movement will subscribe for shares of $100 each, and in the event of a sufficient sum of money being assured, the company will be organized and the plans put through.

It is proposed to locate the hotel at the corner of North avenue and Prospect street, on the property owned by Councilman Robert H. Hohenstein. This corner is at present occupied by old fashioned frame structures. The location is thought to be ideal for such a hotel, being directly opposite the Westfield station.

One of the objects for building such a hotel is to furnish a cosy place for the New York business man who is often compelled to remain in Westfield during the summer while his family is at a summer resort. A banquet hall is also to be a feature of the hotel, where society functions may be held.

No plans as yet have been drawn for the building.

UNIFORMED RANK FORMED IN JR. O. U. A. M. BODY

A company of the uniform rank, Jr. O. U. A. M., to be known as Co. I, Fourth Regiment, was formed last night, composed entirely of members of Somerset Council, No. 104. The officers elected were as follows: Captain, Fred Lanning; first lieutenant, Arthur Joy; second lieutenant, Guy Thomas.

While this is a new departure for the local councils of the order, the uniform rank throughout the other end of Union county, together with Essex and Hudson counties, is very strong. It is expected that the other three councils in the city will take up the matter in the near future.

DUTCH ARMS SURPRISE REV. ROYAL A. STOUT

Rev. Royal A. Stout, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, who is soon to leave to accept the pastorate of the Green Hill Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, was given a surprise party at the parsonage, last night, by the members of the Dutch Arms, men's association. The affair, which was arranged by O. P. Wahlig, president of the Dutch Arms, afforded an opportunity for the men to express their regret upon the departure of Mr. Stout and to wish him success in his new field.

Another surprise came in the presentation to Mr. Stout of a handsome watch fob bearing the coat of arms of the Reformed Church of America, and a box of choice cigars. These were presented by Mr. Wahlig and Mr. Stout made a happy response in thanking the men for their kindness and good wishes. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mr. Stout, who has been pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church from its inception, will preach there Sunday for the last time as pastor, and on September 1 he will begin his pastorate of the Green Hill Presbyterian church, Philadelphia. No thought has as yet been given to his successor at the local church.

SENATOR PIERCE ON TAX REFORM

Candidate For Republican Gubernatorial Nomination Discusses Platform Plank.

MAKE BURDEN EQUAL

Union County Candidate for Honors at Hands of People, Follow His Promise—Elaborates On Plank On Taxation.

Cranford, Aug. 15—Pursuant to his promise to discuss the five planks of his Gubernatorial platform, Senator Pierce issued a statement today explaining his second plank. The statement follows in full:

"It is a first principle in taxation that the burden shall fall equally. It does not fall equally at the present time in New Jersey.

"To illustrate, from cases presented to the recent Tax Commission: In Camden county, a highway separates taxing districts assessed at different ratios, the lower assessed side has been built up and developed, while the land across the road remained unimproved.

"In Elizabeth, the main street is the boundary line between districts. The commission was informed the less valuable side of the street is assessed higher than the more valuable side.

"In a rural community, two assessors assessed the same parcel, each supposing it to be in his district. One returned it at $350 and the other at $1,050.

"In Asbury Park, according to an estimate given by the Mayor intended as conservative, small properties and cottages are assessed at seventy per cent. of value, business and hotel properties at from thirty to fifty per cent.

"The above cases are types of conditions existing generally through the State. The Tax Commission, after visiting every county, made this State-wide finding.

"'The ratio of assessment to value varies in different districts, and frequently between taxpayers in the same district, the variance ranging from thirty per cent. of value to full value and above.'

"The fundamental trouble is the fact that the present system of assessment in New Jersey is less a system than an aggregation of detached units. The units (taxing districts) are working largely independently, with imperfect control by the county boards, and less by the State Board of Equalization. There is no proper continuity of authority from top to bottom. The result is lack of equalization.

"In applying a remedy, the tax commission adopted the principle that the work of assessment should be put upon a business basis, and conducted efficiently as a private business is conducted; a central authority at the top subject to change of administration, but the routine work to be kept in the hands of a permanent body of trained employes, secure in their position and free from political or other influence.

"Like a private business, the authority at the top to issue uniform rules and instructions, with power to enforce them; books and papers to be standardized; a State Supervisor to be responsible for general efficiency and for equalization between counties; a county assessor to be responsible for equalization within the county; and the local assessor to be appointed instead of elected, to have a district sufficiently large to require his full time, to give his full time, to be properly paid, and to be removable only for cause.

"The bills offered by the tax commission represent the combined study of experts, local officials and men of practical experience within the State. I am advised by A. C. Pleydell, secretary of the New York Tax Reform Association—a competent authority, familiar with methods in other States—that the proposed legislation, if adopted, would give New Jersey the best system of assessment in force in any State in the Union.

"I am proposing, whether I win or lose the Gubernatorial race, to use all honorable effort to place the substance of the legislation upon the statute books."

COURT WILL DECIDE WHO IS GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Albany, August 15.—It was declared here this morning that before the day ends the legal machinery necessary to have the higuest court of the State take cognizance of the dispute as to whether William Sulzer or Martin H. Glynn is Governor, will have been set in motion.

It was said that a proposition will be broached to Governor Sulzer later in the day to have an agreed statement of facts prepared and submitted to the appellate division, third department, no later than Monday next. The court will make a pro forma decision, or will hand down a decision that can be appealed speedily to the court of appeals.

The court cannot be convened, however, in less than 10 days. It has been intimated that the case would be taken to the supreme court of the United States, but it was said today that this is improbable.

Knapp to Oppose English For Progressive State Committee.

Promise of a lively scrap at the Progressive primaries in September is made by the announcement today that Edgar A. Knapp, of Elizabeth, will oppose County Chairman John K. English for election as State Committeeman. English is supporting the candidacy of Edmund B. Osborne for the gubernatorial nomination and Knapp is an ardent Colby man having called the meeting to be held in Elizabeth next Wednesday to form a county Colby League. In making his announcement Mr. Knapp pledges himself to the platform of Senator Colby, which was published in the Press several weeks ago, and says that he is entering the fight at the request of most of the leaders in the Progressive party in New Jersey. Mr Knapp requests the active support of all who believe in Senator Colby and his candidacy.

With the failure of the Legislature to pass a mandatory small board of freeholder bill, booms for candidates for the large board are expected to be launched throughout the county in a few days. The action of the Legislature has been awaited in determining whether or not various ones would run for freeholder. Petitions are already in circulation for J. Hervey Doane, of Plainfield, in the Republican party.

William Mayo Atkinson is confident that he will be elected Democratic State Committeeman over General Dennis F. Collins. "The reports that come to me, and the statements that are made, indicate my election," he said today. Mr. Atkinson was much interested in the discussion over the possible defeat of Edward E. Grosscup for Democratic State Chairman Mr. Atkinson issued the following statement upon it: "It is rather early to raise this question, for no one knows who will constitute the next State committee. The man most interested is the party's candidate for Governor. I am personally for Governor Fielder's nomination, and I know that his friends are not making the mistake of assuming that it is all over but the shouting. Mr. Katzenbach has much strength, but there are many who would prefer some new and third man to enter the contest." Whoever was the candidate, however, Mr. Atkinson believed should be consulted in the choosing of the chairman. "I do not propose to pledge myself to any particular candidate at this time," he said. "It is up to the Democratic party to get together in this State," he concluded, "so that whoever is nominated for Governor can be elected."

Frederick S. Taggart, of Westfield, Bull Moose candidate for surrogate last fall, is one of those being considered as an aspirant for an Assembly nomination. Mr. Taggart made a good run at the polls in November. Romeyn Berry, of Summit, who was an Assembly candidate, is also mentioned. Mr Berry is chairman of the committee that is in charge of the preparation of nominating petitions, and doing other work in connection with the launching of booms.

EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR MOSQUITO EXTERMINATION

East Rutherford, August 15.—An official inspection of the mosquito extermination work being done at Pompton will be made within the near future, for all the members of the board stated Wednesday afternoon that they are anxious to personally assure themselves as to the efficacy of the undertaking. But before the official visit is made the engineer and one or two individual members will inspect the place and report to the commission at its next session.

During the past week the commission had printed 30,000 postcards, which will be sent broadcast throughout the country as soon as they are addressed. It is expected that all can be mailed within about a week. The cards bear brief but valuable information to the public on the question of mosquito extermination and will go a great way towards enlightening citizens how they may hope to get rid of the mosquitoes and also prevent them from breeding. The burden of the card is that most mosquitoes are born right on the property where they molest the residents and where they could easily be exterminated with a little care.

SEN. MARTINE FLAYS TRUST CONDITIONS IN NEW JERSEY

That Senator James E. Martine is somewhat disgusted with the corporation laws as they exist in the State of New Jersey, is evidenced by the remarks of the representative of this commonwealth in the Senate, on the floor of that body on Wednesday.

While Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, was discussing the manufacture of aluminum goods and the making of aluminum castings, he remarked that several large plants of the United States had been united under the corporate name of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co., of New Jersey.

To this statement, Senator Martine replied, "I am quite free to confess that the little commonwealth of New Jersey has been the festering place, the spawning pool, of a thousand iniquities, of which I am heartily ashamed." Continuing he said, "We Democrats have done our best to allay the iniquity, and in a measure we have succeeded, but we are hoping nevertheless, for better results than we have thus far obtained."

Mr. Kenyon replied that considering the long residence of the Senator in his State, he was surprised that these conditions existed.

SULZER PLANS TO INDICT MURPHY

Will Accuse Tammany Leader of Treason.

HOLDS ON TO HIS OFFICE

Declares That Murphy Coerced Members of Assembly — Formal Demand Will Be Made by Glynn For Possession of Executive Chamber.

Albany, Aug. 15.—William Sulzer still is in possession of the executive suit in the capitol and the governor's privy seal, although impeachment clouds his title to the office of governor. Meanwhile Martin H. Glynn is recognized by many as acting governor, and the government of the state of New York is a government divided against itself.

The capitol was stirred by the report that Mr. Sulzer and his friends were planning a most sensational vengeance on Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, and several of his lieutenants who managed the fight in the assembly which led up to the impeachment vote. It was strongly intimated that Charles F. Murphy, Senator James J. Foley from Murphy's district, Deputy Comptroller Michael Walsh, Senator James J. Frawley, head of the Frawley investigating committee, and Speaker A. E. Smith of the assembly might be charged with treason as a result of the activities in which they engaged during the momentous night when the assembly was voting on the impeachment resolution. Evidence actually is being collected and precedents looked up.

Collecting Evidence.

It was learned from a reliable source that some of Mr. Sulzer's counsel already had been instructed to formulate the charges and collect evidence to indict and convict those of his opponents whom Mr. Sulzer held chiefly responsible for the humiliation that was heaped upon him through the action of the assembly in the early hours on Wednesday.

The Sulzer forces accuse the Tammany leaders mentioned as having acted as a board of strategy in directing the operations of Mr. Sulzer's enemies and working telephone lines in various directions with a view of bringing to bear upon Democratic members of the assembly the pressure of party bosses throughout the state.

If the necessary proof should be obtained the prosecution would be brought on the ground that the action in the assembly was part of a plot on the part of the leaders to seize control of the government of the state for Tammany Hall and that to attain their ends they were bringing illegal pressure to bear on a grand jury. On the night the impeachment was found the assembly performed the function of a grand jury. In time of war treason is a capital offense.

Mr. Sulzer actually transacted some official business yesterday, while Mr Glynn sat in his little office adjoining the senate chamber, prepared to discharge any duties that came before him. But Mr. Glynn held his post under difficulties, for he not only lacked the governor's seal, but the record and other tools necessary for a governor.

When Mr. Sulzer left for the day he told the newspaper correspondents that he would retain control of his office in the capitol and continue to exercise the powers and duties of governor until the courts ruled that impeachment proceedings automatically had suspended him from office.

Glynn Recognized.

In one respect Mr. Glynn has scored over his rival. Adjutant General Thomas De Witt Hamilton telegraphed from Washington to his chief of staff, Lieutenant Colonel Edward V. Howard, to inform Mr. Glynn that henceforth he would be recognized as commander in chief of the national guard. The incident caused a stir at the capitol, because General Hamilton was appointed to his present office by Mr Sulzer.

Colonel Howard asked Mr. Glynn if he had any orders for the state militia. Mr. Glynn said he had none, but that when he had he would transmit them to the adjutant general in writing. The foundation for a test of Mr. Sulzer's right to exercise the powers of chief executive will be laid today, in all probability.

After a conference with President Robert F. Wagner of the senate and Deputy Attorney General Kellogg, Mr. Glynn decided to make a formal demand on Mr. Sulzer for possession of the executive offices at the capitol and the privy seal of the governor. This is the seal used on all documents executed under the governor's personal direction and not requiring the counter signature of the secretary of state.

RECALL OF COMMISSIONERS.

Two recall elections in commission government cities have given the enemies of that plan an opportunity to call attention to alleged failure where it has been tried. In Atlantic City and Long Branch the recall has been invoked, and all sorts of stories have been sent out about the "failure" of commission government in these two places. In Atlantic City commission government was taken in preference to a much worse government, and even those who are loudly demanding the recall of three of the officials say that the new method is much better tthan the old. They just want to get rid of three men whom they have elected, and whom they consider absolutely incompetent.

Commission government in Long Branch has been more than once criticised by the Record of that city, and many times its columns have unhesitatingly condemned the work of some of the men on the commission. Had the paper advocated the recall it would not have been surprising, but the action taken by that publication explains the situation there so thoroughly that we cannot refrain from printing the splendid testimonial to the efficiency of the new form there. Here is the way the Record sums up the situation:

All who have followed the course of this paper in the past will admit that it has never acted as the organ of any political party or faction; as between persons or candidates The Record has been independent, and will remain so, but on questions of principles it has and will continue to take decided and definite stands. No more vital question has ever been presented to the people of this city than that raised by the petition filed yesterday, asking for an election to recall the mayor of this city, Bryant B. Newcomb, and Commissioners Arrowsmith and Woolley, on the alleged grounds of incompetency and neglect of duty.

The question resolves itself into the proposition: "Does this city desire to continue under a business administration, divorced from politics, or does it not?" No good citizen can afford to remain neutral. Whether we believe in commission form of government or not, we must admit that since it was inaugurated here it has worked out more to the advantage and general good of the entire city than any previous form of government. Much work of vital importance to the city has been undertaken and carried forth under the present form of government. The Record has not always agreed with everything done by the commissioners, individually or as an entire body, but it has always given them credit for honesty of purpose, and no one can dispute that fact.

The petition itself, as well as the persons who secured the signatures, and the methods employed in procuring the signatures should dignify it with no consideration from those respectable law-abiding citizens who have at heart the future welfare and development of this city. The petition contains the names of few, if any, business men of large property interest in the city, and of no prominent summer residents. It has taken nearly eight months to secure the signatures by some small, disgruntled and disappointed politicians, probably mere cat's-paws for others higher up who did not even dare to sign it. The mere inspection of the petition should disgust the intelligent people of this city. We print in another column of this issue the names of signers so far as they can be deciphered from an inspection had of the original petition on file. Read it over and examine the original on file. It is to be regretted that the city is to be further burdened with the costs of an election (possibly three) over a proposition that, when the voters are fully aroused, there can be but one answer, the vindication of the officials attacked.

Can any stronger testimony be asked than the statement by the Record that it "must admit that since it (commission government) was inaugurated here it has worked out more to the advantage and general good of the entire city than any previous form of government." It is also interesting to note the method of securing the names of the petitioners. That one thing alone proves pretty conclusively that the good citizens of Long Branch are satisfied with the commissioners work, for no newspaper would dare to offend the influential business and social interests of the city to the extent that such an article as this would offend them if the statement about the character of the signers were untrue. Its pretty safe to predict that there will be no recall in Long Branch.

THE CURRENCY BILL.

In an article, probably written by Dr. Lyman Abbott, The Outlook handles the currency question and the pending bill in Congress with unusual skill and forcefulness. Who is opposing the pending currency bill? With the exception of a few bankers there is a general demand for its passage. And even the opposition of the bankers is not general or especially strong. The fact is that the only things alleged against it are those founded in selfishness; some provisions of the bill which the public can easily see may cut their profits or limit their control.

Why should the bankers control the currency of the country or for that matter the management in the last analysis of the operation of the banks? The government should have the last say as to everything concerning banking whether it relate to the issuance of the currency or even the rate of interest. The government should never allow money to be scarce, and hence never allow a bank an opportunity for that reason to raise interest rates.

If the railroads are to be controled by a Public Utilities Commission, why not the banks by a governmental commission? The more governmental control you get the stronger the public confidence will be in the bank. The government helps every line of business into which it puts its hand. The banks have been helped by the postal savings department of the government. The Outlook shows this by giving the figures in thirty-eight States, all of which show increase in savings bank deposits since the opening of the postal savings department.

The truth is that such action by the government both educates and promotes confidence by taking hold of such matters. The people of the United States believe in their government, and feel that here is the one place, if not the only one, where they are assured of equal opportunity and security if there is any place where these are to be found.

AS DAVE CARNEY VIEWS POLITICAL SITUATION

In the Review of today, Editor "Dave" Carney, the sage of North avenue, makes a number of pertinent comments on politics, some of which follow:

Judge Runyon was one of the first to forsake the Regulars some years ago and become affiliated with the New Idea movement.

Judge DeMeza last year was a supporter of the Progressives and the Regulars now want to beat him for that reason alone.

Alexander Milne will again be a candidate for the Borough Council according to statements made by his friends in the borough this week.

The Union County Republican outing on Saturday was a tame affair. About three hundred constituted the party and the listlessness of the participants was very perceptible.

The Union County Democrats will journey to Witzell's Grove, Long Island, next Wednesday. There will be a large party, a merry time and something doing all the while they are together.

Former Congressman Fowler was on the Republican outing just as a common ordinary excursionist and received no more consideration than due as such. He has lost the magnetism of a few years ago that made him the center of attraction on events of this character.

With the Colby forces utilizing moving pictures to aid their gubernatorial campaign in North Jersey and the Prohibitionists enlivening their campaign with stirring songs by a male quartet, the New Jersey fight for the Governorship is assuming novel characteristics.

Former Councilman Buxton, of the Fourth ward, of this city, was accosted on the Republican outing last Saturday by a colored constituent from his ward thusly: "Scuse me, Mr. Buxton, Ise de leader of the colored men of the Fourth ward and can get them to do pretty much what I ask them to do; de situation is such that they will do as I tell them. Now, if yau want me to interest myself in the primaries, say so, but I must have the price of one month's rent to start with." "Buck" didn't yield.

GOVERNOR QUESTION NEARING A CRISIS

New York State Legislature Is Today Divided Between Two Factions.

Albany, Aug. 15—The government of New York State, divided against itself, will meet a crisis today when Acting Governor Glynn, claiming authority under the constitution, tries to wrest from William Sulzer, impeached, the authority which he still exercises.

The great seal of the State is locked up with steel chain and padlock, and the secretary of State has the key. Governor Sulzer sits in the executive chambers, and, keeping clerks and stenographers on the jump, continues to exercise the functions of his office.

In an obscure office Acting Governor Glynn sat with nothing to do yesterday, although the legislature, the National Guard and Tammany were behind him.

What further action will then be taken by Mr. Glynn was not indicated today, but the general expectation was that the rival claimants to the governor's chair would resort to the courts for a test case under a nagreed state af facts.

William Sulzer has a lot of friends. Many of his counsel have volunteered their services without expectation of financial reward. He received assurances of support from men throughout the State whose support amounts to something.

The State departments are fairly evenly split today as to their recognition of the rival governors. Here are the divisions:

Sulzer.

Department of Prisons.
Commission of Highways.
Public Service Commission, second district.
Hospital Commission.
Civil Service Commission.
Superintendent of Banks.
Health Department.
State Architect (?)
Executive Department (a part).
Superintendent of Insurance.

Glynn.

The Legislature.
The State Comptroller.
The Attorney-General.
State Engineer and Surveyor.
Excise Commissioner.
Conservation Commission.
Board of Agriculture.
State Fair Commission.
Canal Board.
State Prison Commission.
Fiscal Supervisor.
Board of Charities.
Board of Efficiency and Economy.
Board of Claims.
Superintendent of Elections.
Fire Marshal's Office.
Public Service Commission, first district.
Tax Commission.
Board of Trustees of Public Buildings.

FOLLOWED PRESS ADVICE; COMPLAINED OF DOG CATCHER

As suggested in an editorial in last night's edition of this paper regarding dog-catchers and their privileges as regulated by ordinance and law, a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Woodbine, 811 Hillside avenue, telephoned to police headquarters this morning, saying that a dog-catcher employed by the city had trespassed upon the front lawn of her house to capture a small dog which was running at large near the dwelling. Mrs. Woodbine was indignant at what she termed a suppression of reasonable liberty and freedom. She said she did not see the alleged unlawful act of the dog-catcher, but that neighbors had told her. Chief Kiely is investigating.

Although a proclamation made some time ago by Mayor Percy H. Stewart, prohibits a dog on public thoroughfares, unless firmly attached to a leach and accompanied by a person over the age of twelve years, dog-owners have an undisputed right to allow their pets to roam at will on their private property.

FOUND DOG ALL RIGHT.

When Patrolman Welch called at the home of Mrs. A. E. Van Doren at 615 East Second street, this morning, to investigate a complaint that had been made to Police Chief Kiely regarding a dog which she is harboring, she denied that the mongrel had caused a nuisance and said the complaint came from "jealous and finicky neighbors." Welch reported that the dog was "all right" and was playing with some children attached to a leash.

ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT.

James Lyons, of 541 West Fifth street, was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman Welch, on complaint of his wife, who charges him with non-support. He will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

"The Family Cupboard," latest of the new "thrillers," will be presented at the Plainfield Theatre, Tuesday evening, August 19, by William A. Brady, ltd. The cast—an exceptionally large one—will be headed by William Morris and Irene Fenwick. The story of the play concerns the family of Charles Nelson, a New York man of wealth. Through the desire on the part of his wife to become a social leader, the husband finds himself robbed of the companionship he knew before the "society bee" had poisoned her nature. Eventually, the absence of his comradeship drives the husband to distraction and he seeks elsewhere for his happiness. The revelations that follow bring to the surface a most unusual family skeleton, with both the father and his young son enmeshed in the tangle. Throughout the four acts of the play there are many startling scenes, and the climaxes follow in such rapid succession that from the rise of the curtain until the final scene there is an abundance of thrills. The complete cast: William Morris, Irene Fenwick, Olive Harper Thorne, Forrest Winnant, Irene Romaine, Douglas J. Wood, Ruth Benson, Frank Hatch, Alice Lindahl, Frances Kiffen, Philip Leigh, Franklin Ardell, Wallace Erskine, Rae Selwyn, Barney Johnson.

VOTE FOR ONE-ROOM SCHOOL BUILDING

Warren Township Settles Long Disputed Question at Special Election.

The long disputed question of erecting a new school building in Warren township was finally settled at a special school election held at Warrenville, yesterday afternoon. At that time by a vote of 71 to 2 it was decided to build a one-room school building at Mt. Bethel and to make the necessary repairs to the other school at Warrenville, at an expense not to exceed $4,500. The new building will be erected on Alfred B. Binz's land, an option on which has been secured. The action yesterday was in reality a compromise between a two-room school building and one at Mt. Bethel.

The new school, it is expected, will cost approximately about $2,800. The committee in charge will at once proceed to get bids for the work, but it is hardly thought possible to complete the new building in time for use this fall. It will probably be early in the spring before the school is finished, unless the winter should be an open one. The question of building a new school, one that would meet the requirements of the State law, has been one of controversy for a long time. Some people favored a two-room building and others wanted a one-room structure. Some wanted it located at one place and others favored another site.

Recently, the State school authorities informed the township school board that unless a suitable building was erected, the State apportionment of school funds would be withheld and it is though that this ultimatum had the effect of hastening a decision.

As indicated at yesterday's vote there was a large attendance at the school election. Charles L. Crabb was chairman and John E. Flammer, secretary. The situation was explained and the proposition to build a one-room school at Mt. Bethel and repair the one at Warrenville was submitted, it being understood as a compromise over several other propositions, and it was carried by an overwhelming vote.

CAMDEN STIRRED BY RUMOR OF SCANDALS

Detectives Probing Immorality In the Training and High School to Get Evidence.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—Stirred by the persistent rumors of immorality among the students of their coeducational Manual Training and High School, the residents of this city are awaiting with manifest impatience for Prosecutor Kraft to submit to the Board of Education the result of the investigation Burns' detectives have been making since early summer of the grave charges which set the tongues of gossips wagging several months ago.

The prosecution of at least one man is said to have already been foreshadowed by the preliminary report the detectives have made to Prosecuor Kraft, who is expected to return soon from his summer residence at Harvey Cedars, N. J., for the purpose of conferring with Edmund S. Reed, Jr., president of the Board of Education, and James E. Bryan, the supervising principal of Camden's school system, upon a subject which has thoroughly aroused the parents of Camden.

They are said, however, to have unearthed the eight or nine cases of flagrant immorality and to have found that the standard of morality at the school has been far from as bad as the gossips have portrayed it. Camden parents naturally resent any reflection being cast upon their boys or girls by indiscriminate reports of evil among the students of the school and that is why they are so anxious to have Prosecutor Kraft make known the result of the Burns men's report at the earliest possible time.

Ugly rumors have been in circulation for months, and more than once in that period parents went to the office of Edmund E. Reed, president of the Board of Education, and demanded that something be done to end the more or less indefinite scandals. That official cognizance of these rumors had been taken was not made generally known until yesterday, when, at a monthly meeting of the Board of Freeholders of Camden county, a bill for $672.84 to cover the progress of the school investigation thus far was presented. This bill was indorsed by Prosecutor Kraft. The bill was tabled so that the total amount may be paid at the end of the investigation.

Teachers at the school, not more than two, have been the object of rumors, and because of this the inquiry will be pressed to the end. James Bryan, superintendent of schools, and Miss Clara Burroughs, the principal of the High School, have admitted that the rumors are not entirely without foundation, and they are and have been assisting in the investigation.

Does Your Kitchen Fit You?

In an agricultural extension course, where progressive young farmers are taught how to carry on the details of the farm life with as much efficiency as the young banker or merchant is taught to carry on the details of banking or merchandise, there is a course of lectures on kitchen economics.

A group of husky, animated young would-be farmers, many of them sons of city men, who saw a big future in agriculture, were once listening to an expert in domestic science discourse on food values and the chemistry of cookery.

She happened to take up the subject of the kitchen sink, and she urged them to have the sink made to fit the woman who must stand before it three times a day. A tall woman should not be forced to break her back over a low sink, said the lecturer, nor a short one to stretch her arms out of the sockets over a tall sink.

This was the comment of one young farmer—a bachelor and as yet free of heart: "I think it would be simpler to get a wife to fit the sink."

Apparently it is with such idea in mind that many houses are built. Certainly many kitchens are so made and furnished that no woman, unless she were especially chosen with a view to living in those particular kitchens, would ever find working in them easy.

It is really a much simpler matter to make your kitchen fit you than to try to make yourself fit your kitchen. Spend a great deal of thought and a little money making it convenient, and you will save the little it costs in strength gained for other work.

Begin with the sing. It is not low enough, have a little rack of boards made to stand on. If it is too low there is nothing to do but to have a plumber make it higher.

Next, how about the relation of stove to sink, sink to table, pantry to dining room, cupboards for dishes to sink? If the arrangement makes many steps necessary, change the arrangement. Have the table on which the food is prepared near both sink and stove, if that is possible. And if possible have the shelves for holding china near the sink. If you cannot do this have a table for holding the dishes near the sink, so that they can all be piled there as they are washed and dried and then carried on trays to the shelves where they belong.

Have the icebox within easy access of the kitchen. The cellar icebox, which doubtless does take less ice than the one in the kitchen, is so wearing on the strength of the cook that it is often an extravagance.

Have shelves low enough so that you can reach them without straining, or else have a little step to stand on. Have gas or electric light brackets high enough so that you will not run into them and so put out your eye when you go into the room in the dark. Have a chair conveniently placed by a window so that you can sit to prepare vegetables and mix cakes and do many other pieces of kitchen work.

To sum up, have the kitchen arranged with some idea of making it a comfortable and convenient place in which much of the work of the household must be done.

Woman's World

Miss Jessie Wilson to Be White House Bride.

Photo of Mr. Sayre © 1913, by American Press Association.

MISS JESSIE WOODROW WILSON AND FRANCIS BOWES SAYRE.

"Who'll be the thirteenth White House bride?" This is a question that was asked in the spring, when the three attractive daughters of President Wilson became occupants of the executive mansion.

Twelve weddings have taken place in this historic mansion, and now Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, the president's second daughter and the beauty of the trio, has thrown superstition to the winds and announces her intention of becoming the thirteenth bride of the White House.

Miss Wilson's fiance is Francis Bowes Sayre, scion of the old and wealthy Sayre family of eastern Pennsylvania, which built and partly owns the Lehigh Valley railroad.

Miss Jessie Wilson was born at Gainesville, Ga., where the family used to visit relatives of Mrs. Wilson during Professor Wilson's vacations while he was a member of the faculty of Bryn Mawr college. Her early education was at home under a German governess. After finishing her studies at the Baltimore Woman's college she went into settlement work. She is the youngest member of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association, and she composed a number of the prayers read at the Y. M. C. A. convention at Richmond, Va.

Although Miss Jessie's eloquence and serious mindedness have led her into the field of social betterment, she is quite as alive to the pleasures of sport. She plays tennis, rides horseback, swims and dances. She is a blond, like her mother, with a Greek profile, a delicate rose pink complexion and large blue eyes.

Mr. Sayre is a graduate of Williams college and of the Harvard law school. For the past year he has been connected with the district attorney's office at New York in a clerical capacity.

Miss Wilson's fiance is also interested in social settlement work. He spent the winter of 1909-10 in Alabama coal mines and out west. He put in two summers with Dr. Grenfels, the Labrador missionary, and devoted several summers to travel in Alaska and northern Siberia.

Mr. Sayre's mother, daughter of John Williamson Nevin, president of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa., is a descendent of Hugh Williamson of North Carolina, one of the framers of the United States constitution. She is a sister of the late Robert J. Nevin, head of the American church of Rome. One of her sons is now a minister in China.

No Breakfast and a Good Complexion.

At a summer camp in the mountains last year there was a young woman whose color and complexion were the envy and admiration of every one. She never appeared until about 10 o'clock, when the other campers, after a leisurely breakfast and half an hour or so spent in waiting for the mail, had gathered to receive it on the steps of the lodge where they ate and danced together. Then this girl of the lovely complexion would appear, radiant, enthusiastic, fresh—dressed for tennis, golf, tramping and boating.

The secret of her freshness lay in an egg and an orange. Instead of eating breakfast in the usual way, she ate an egg soft boiled over a spirit lamp and the juice of an orange. She ate this meager but sustaining breakfast in her room and so was not tempted by the hot breads and cakes, muffins and meat dishes which were served in the camp dining room, hence her lovely complexion. Moreover, she saved much time. She could eat her breakfast slowly in ten minutes, and she could eat it without dressing. Then she had an hour or so undisturbed in which she could write letters, mend, sew or do anything else which needed daily attention. By 10, freshly dressed for the day's sport, she would appear.

The method of this girl might be practiced by any one away for the summer to the improvement of health.

Some Whims of Fashion as Interpreted by the Different Degrees of Elaboration — Mother and Daughter Wear Similar Styles.

Fashion is the keynote of the present century from all points for personal adornment. Prompted first by necessity and later by vanity, these two fundamental principles inherit in all people, at all times, have traveled hand in hand until today, an occasion can scarcely arise that cannot be met with pleasing costumes of really artistic conception. For morning, afternoon or evening wear the styles are picturesque this year because the modern woman is suiting her clothes to her surroundings.

Every woman likes to have a few gowns in her wardrobe for wear when she is on her holiday. What could be prettier than the model shown in figure No. 7878? It may be easily developed in cotton crepe showing a woven figure of some attractive light shade, or it may be of a bordered fabric. In this case, the border will make a handsome trimming such as the one depicted on this model. The gown closes at the back. The bodice is in overblouse style, with gathered guimpe having a frill of lace in Medici effect at the back, the border forms a band over the shoulders giving it the elongated effect. The sleeves are set in underneath. They are elbow length finished with a cuff. Skirt has a front gore and straight sides and back with tunic at sides. The crushed belt with buckle gives an added touch of charm to the waistline which is shortened by its use. This pattern is cut in five sizes, 34 to 42. Size 36 requires 6½ yards 36-inch material. For the girdle which is not included in the pattern, it will take about 3-4 yards of silk cut on the bias, or 3-4 yard wide ribbon.

It seems quite a fad to have the little daughter's gowns harmonize with mother's in both style and fabric, yet modified to suit the little figure. A fair example of this type is offered in No. 7906. It can be made up of figured cotton crepe or silk in a most becoming style for the little tot. This airy fairy model has frilling at the neck just as her mamma might have and it becomes the young lady very much. In fact it is a pretty finish to the throat. This is a guimpe dress with the short sleeves, and slips on over the head, therefore, has no buttons and buttonholes to bother with. It is in long-wasted style with the wide belt below natural waistline. This is of contrasting fabric or ribbon. The pattern of this charming frock is cut in four sizes, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 requires 2 3-8 yards, 36-inch material, with 1 3-8 yards 36-inch fabric for the guimpe. 15 cents.

PEACH DAINTIES.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Egg Sandwiches.
String-Bean Salad.
Peach Meringue.
Sugar Cakes.
Buttermilk.

DESSERTS light and dainty are appropriate for the summer luncheon. Many such may be made with fresh peaches, as suggested here.

Useful as Cake Filling.

Peach Cream.—Pare and cut into small pieces four ripe peaches. Put them into a bowl with a cupful of powdered sugar and the white of one egg. Beat well until this becomes a thick, smooth cream. Serve in sherbet cups with a dash of whipped cream. This makes a delicious cake filling.

A Rich Pastry.

Peach Meringue.—Take a dozen peaches, pare, stew and press them through a colander. Line two deep pie dishes with puff paste, sweeten the peaches to taste, fill the paste even with the fruit and bake in a quick oven. Whip the whites of six eggs and six tablespoonfuls of sugar to a stiff froth, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, heap on the pies and brown in the oven.

With Gelatin and Nuts.

Peach Float.—A delicious way to serve peaches is to crush them and place in cocktail glasses with peach gelatin. Top with generous quantity of whipped cream and maraschino cherry, walnut meats or crushed macaroons.

Peaches and Cake.

Peach Custard.—Heat half a cupful of milk in a double boiler, dissolve a tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little water and stir into milk. Beat an egg yolk and a tablespoonful of sugar until creamy, then add a little of the hot milk, stir smooth, then pour back into the milk and stir until smooth. Add a pinch of salt to white of an egg and beat until stiff. Stir into hot custard; beat until smooth. Remove from fire and beat from time to time until cooled, then prepare dessert as follows: Take sherbet cups and place upright in them three halves of lady fingers; pour in one rounded tablespoonful of sliced peaches, then enough custard to fill cup two-thirds full, then top off with some whipped cream and place a candied cherry on top.

They Bought a Fairy Book.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Birthday Gift That Jimmy Bought.

THE children were smiling. Tomorrow was grandma's birthday. Grandma was to have a birthday dinner. Jack and Evelyn would go to the dinner. Besides that, each had nice presents with which to surprise her. They had saved their money to buy them. Of course daddy teased them a great deal about these presents.

"I hope," said he, "that your present won't be like Jimmy's present for his papa. Jimmy's papa was going to have a birthday. Jimmy's mother had said to him, 'Now, Jimmy, I think it would be very nice for you to save your money and give your father a nice gift on his birthday.'

"Jimmy was quite taken with the idea. He went shopping with his mother when she went out to buy a pair of slippers as her present for father.

"They visited several shops and walked all over them, but there wasn't anything that Jimmy could buy for a dollar which he thought would do.

"When a little boy has taken a dollar out of his savings bank to spend on somebody else he is apt to be very careful what he buys. So Jimmy couldn't make up his mind what to buy.

"'I am afraid you will have to do your shopping by yourself after this,' Jimmy's mother said. 'I am tired having the shop people show us all they have to sell without buying something.'

"So the next day Jack started out alone, and on his way to the shop Jimmy met Polly. Polly was the little girl who lived next door, and they were great chums.

"'Where are you going, Jimmy?' asked Polly.

"'I'm going a-shopping,' Jimmy answered.

"'Why, how funny!' exclaimed Polly. 'I didn't know boys shopped.'

"'Oh, yes,' Jimmy replied; 'I'm going to buy my father a birthday present.'

"'Oh, are you?' said Polly. 'Well, I thought only ladies went shopping.'

"'Well, mother went with me yesterday, but she couldn't go along today.'

"'Oh, couldn't she?' Polly cried. 'Then I'll go and help you shop.'

"Jimmy thought this might be better, so he told Polly to come along.

"Polly did have some odd ideas about buying presents. She stopped at a counter where books were sold and, with a squeal of delight, picked up a beautiful fairy book.

"'Why,' she cried, 'here's a perfectly grand fairy book! Let's buy that for your daddy. He can have a lovely time reading it to us evenings.'

"And that was what Jimmy bought for his father's birthday gift. But I hope nobody buys daddy a fairy book for his birthday."

An Artistic Tudor Rose Design for a Runner, Table-Cover or Pillow.

The Tudor rose has always been a favorite motive for embroidering since the days when Mary Tudor used it on the hangings of her bed-room. This design, 14450, has many possibilities for adaptation for it may be used on runners of linen, canvas, poplin or silk; pillows for the living-room, hall or bed-room, of crafts canvas embroidered with wool or silk, or of linen. The design is also appropriate for decorating chair cushions, portiers and couch-covers of monks cloth, arras cloth, denim or Russian crash. On these heavy fabrics the motifs may be embroidered with very heavy mercerized cotton or with wools, using solid work for the leaves and stems, and either solid work or outline-stitch and darning for the roses. In a room in which brown predominates, the roses might be worked in three shades of yellow or old gold with the leaves in dark brown; or the rose might be in three shades of blue, while in bed-room, the design will be very prettily carried out by embroidering the roses in three shades of pink and the leaves in gray or gray green.

Each corner is 9 by 9 inches and the pattern includes 4 transfers of the design for 15 cents.

SUGGESTIONS FOR WIVES; TELLS HOW TO RULE HUBBIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15—Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President of the United States, has given out a few rules by which a woman can keep her husband happy if she wants so to do. Among the rules are:

First—Keep the wheels of the domestic machinery running smoothly.

Second—No man is happy unless his home surroundings are pleasant.

Third—Men do not mention things that go wrong in the household, but they notice them just the same.

Fourth—A wife should be the companion of her husband as well as his wife.

Fifth—It is a woman's place to superintend the actual work in the home.

Sixth—The paid housekeeper has her drawbacks when it comes to taking charge of the home.

Seventh—The touch of the mistress is needed to give the home feeling.

Eighth—Avoid silly fads.

Ninth—Spend not even one penny more than the family income permits.

Tenth—Do not wrangle with or nag your husband.

FINAL LEAGUE GAMES ON CENTRAL CIRCUIT

Plainfield and Somerville Head the Bill For Tomorrow Afternoon.

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY LEAGUE.

Games Tomorrow.

Somerville at Plainfield.
Dunellen at High Bridge.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P. C.
Somerville	9	3	.750
Plainfield	9	4	.692
High Bridge	1	7	.125

Manager Dorflinger and his crew of Central Leaguers will be given their last opportunity to land on top of the league heap in the pennant race tomorrow afternoon, when the Somerville nine, the present top notchers come to Parker Field for the final game of the league season. If Plainfield loses, it will be good-bye flag and everything else that goes to a champion, but if the Pets win it will mean a tie with the Somerset county contingent and another chance to win the coveted bunting. George Ortlieb and Eddie Kraft will be the opposing box artists and the teams will probably fight to a finish for the contest.

Dunellen is scheduled to play at High Bridge, but because of a lack of baseballically inclined fandom and the unimportance of the contest, it having no bearing on the deciding of the league title, it is more than likely that the game will be called off before the time it is scheduled to be sent under way. High Bridge fans are enthused over the chances of the Somerville crew to beat the locals, and many from that town will make the trip to this city to witness the star card on tomorrow's bill.

TINKER BLAMES HERRMAN.

Cincinnati, Aug. 15.—A statement attributed to Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati team, now playing in Philadelphia, and published here yesterday, quotes him as saying that the condition of his team at present is bad and that possibilities for improving it are worse. He blames President August Herrmann of the club for disposing of a number of players that, while worthless to the Cincinnati club as players, would have been invaluable in trades that might be made.

S. S. TEAMS BACK ON THE DIAMOND

After a Week's Let-up the Bible Class Aggregations Will Renew Hostilities.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Games Tomorrow.

Park Avenue vs. First Baptist.
Hope Chapel vs. First Presbyterian.

Standing of Clubs.

Hope Chapel	6	2	.750
Monroe M. E.	4	4	.500
First Presbyterian	3	5	.375
Park Avenue	0	8	.000

Hostilities will be resumed in the Sunday-school League tomorrow afternoon after a two weeks letup, necessitated by the Hope Chapel outing last week. The organization's schedule is rapidly nearing completion and the race is tightening down to a trio of contenders.

Hope Chapel will take the field against the Presbyterians tomorrow afternoon and the Park Avenue crew will endeavor to gain its first victory at the expense of the First Baptist contingent, an almost impossibility.

SWEDISH RIFLEMEN COMING.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 15—The team of Swedish marksmen which is to participate in the international shooting contest at Camp Perry, O., from September 1 to 9, will leave Gothenburg for the United States by steamer today, and expects to reach Camp Perry, August 28 or 29. The team consists of the following well-known riflemen: T. Bjoerkman, Maurice Ericson, Joh. Nilsson, R. Stare, C. Wallenborg, O. Christiansson, Lieut. S. Haultrantz and E. Ohlsson. The pistol shots going with the party are Lieut. W. Carlberg, Casimir Reuterskiooeld and R. Loepman.

TURF SCANDAL DECISION TODAY

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 15—The Stewards of the Jockey Club after hearing testimony in the case of Jockey John Wilson, "Dollar" John Langemann and Robert Mendelson, last night, announced that a ruling in the matter would not be made public until today. This is the case that grew out of the running of Working Lad and Helft during the Belmont Park meeting. The three men tried yesterday are under suspension.

ROYALS AND PETS WILL PLAY SERIES

Plainfield Ballists to Meet For the City Championship Soon.

Manager Pete Simmons, of the Royal Colored Giants, announced this morning that he was negotiating with Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield Pets, to inaugurate a series to be started a week from tomorrow on Parker Field, between these two rivals. Plans are about completed for the big card and Simmons is arranging a team of stars to uphold the colored baseball interests in this city.

The Royals have already scored a victory over the Scotch Plains contingent and are firmly convinced that the championship of Plainfield and Central New Jersey belongs to them. Should Plainfield be successful in winning the championship of the Central League the Royals will have all the more to fight for, as a victory over the Pets would then mean a Central New Jersey championship for them.

FLIGHT AROUND ENGLAND.

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 15—This city is filled with visitors from all parts of the United Kingdom and many foreigners who have come here to witness the start tomorrow of the great waterplane flight around Great Britain, in which a number of the best craft of this type in Great Britain will compete for the $25,000 prize offered by the proprietors of the Daily Mail to the aircraft which first completes the prescribed circuit within a period not exceeding seventy-two hours. The contest which will be formally opened tomorrow, is held under the auspices of the Royal Aero Club, which has mapped out the route for the flight and has set down the rules governing the race. The start will be made from here and the route will follow a line via Dover, Yarmouth, Scarbougb, Aberdeen, Inverness, Oban, Dublin and Falmouth, back to Southampton water. The controls will be at or near the places mentioned and competitors must alight at each of these controls for purposes of identification. Each aircraft must remain for thirty minutes at each control, but this time will not be counted as part of the seventy-two hours. Stoppage between the controls are not prohibited, but the time thus consumed is counted as part of the flying time. Only British subjects and pilots registered and licensed under the rules of the Royal Aero Club will be permitted to take part in the race. Each machine must carry a passenger in addition to its pilot and their combined weight must not be less than 265 pounds. Any deficiency in weight must be made up by ballast. Only machines entirely built in Great Britain or the British colonies will be permitted to take part in the race. Towing is not prohibited, but the finishing line must be crossed in flight.

NEW MOTORCYCLE RECORD.

Charlie Davis, of Brooklyn, and Henri St. Yves, of Paris, won the seventy-five-mile team race at the Brighton Beach motordrome last night. They covered the distance in 58 minutes and 30 seconds, establishing a new record. The team composed of John Cox, of New York, and Paul Ohne, of Brooklyn, was second with seventy-three miles and two laps to its credit, while Mike Costello and George Mercier were third, one mile behind.

JACK COOMBS INJURED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Jack Coombs who just got back with the Athletics after being out with typhoid fever, was painfully injured in batting practice yesterday. A liner from Oldring's bat hit him on the kneecap and his teammates had to carry him from the field.

UMPIRE'S WORD GOES.

St. Louis, Aug. 15—The local American League Club will be without the services of two of its best pitchers for some time. Roy Mitchell, star right hander, who alleges he was insulted by Umpire O'Loughlin in New York on Tuesday and who engaged in a verbal battle with the arbiter, yesterday received notice from President Ban Johnson, of the American League, that he had been indefinitely suspended.

AUTOIST WHO HIT COP PEEVED OVER JAIL LIFE

New Brunswick, Aug. 15.—Admitting that he struck Special Officer Wehrfritz in the face with his straw hat and kicked him on the shins, Augustus Shaefer, of Neilson street, a local autoist, charged by the officer with warning automobile drivers Sunday afternoon that the police were watching speeders, was held by Recorder Houghton for the Grand Jury on a charge of assault. He was released under $200 bail.

Schafer declared he was kept in the lock-up from Sunday afternoon until Monday morning without having an opportunity to engage counsel. He declared the condition of the cell was so insanitary that he had to burn his clothing after he left.

SUFFRAGETTES AT PROCTOR'S.

Men especially will be interested in the big act entitled "Supposing," which is being presented at Proctor's, this week, indicating what would happen when women get into power. It is a big London comedy success in which a large company of women and one "henpeck" man take part. The lone man is on trial and the sketch affords one surprise after another. The kiddies will like the trained goats which Mr. Dunbar presents. Their amusing tricks and antics appeal to the little ones and amuse the older people. Fred and Adele Astaire are classy singers and dancers. "Help Wanted" is a rip-roaring comedy farce presented by William Edmunds & Co. The Italian character is unusually good. The Tabors offer an especially fine Indian club juggling act. The feature photo play for today is "The Snare of Fate," an excellent Vitagraph. Other good pictures are shown at each performance.

CRACK RIFLE SHOTS NOW AT CAMP PERRY

Representatives of Foreign Nations Competing for Honors at Annual Match.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 15—Nearly a thousand sharpshooters from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries are encamped here, ready to compete in the series of national and international shooting matches with rifle, pistol and revolver, which were formally opened at this range today and are scheduled to continue until September 9. The tournament, the largest ever held in this country and, perhaps anywhere in the world, began today with the contests of the National Rifle Association and of the Ohio Rifle Association, which will continue until and including Saturday of this week. On the following Monday, August 25, the national matches—team, individual and pistol—by authority of Congress and the National Board of Promotion of Rifle Practice, will begin to continue until the following Saturday. Next in order will be the nearly half a hundred international matches under the auspices of the Confederacion Pan-American a de Tiro (the Pan-American Shooting Union), L'Union Internationale des Federations et Association de Tir (the International Union of Rifle Associations), and the National Rifle Association of America, which will continue until Tuesday, September 9, on which day the tournaments will close.

Seven foreign countries and the United States will line up in the international contests for world championships, and the United States Infantry, Cavalry, Navy and Marine Corps and the pick of the National Guards of a majority of the States of the Union will compete for the $3000 national trophy and the team championship of the United States. Canada will try to take back to Ottawa the historic Palma trophy, first shot for in 1876, which the United States team in 1907 won at Ottawa by the world's score of 1712, and which another team, selected at Sea Girt last September, captured by another world record breaking score of 1720.

Among the foreign countries to take part in the international contests are Mexico, Cuba, Argentina, Switzerland, France, Sweden and a number of other countries. Cash and silver and bronze trophies of from $150 to $2,000 in value, amounting in the aggregate to about $50,000, make a prize list four times greater than at any shooting tourney ever held in North America. The cash prizes alone in the international matches foot up more than $14,000. In addition to these general prizes there are many special prizes and trophies to be competed for. What promises to be the most interesting contest will be the international rifle shooting championship of the world, on a decimal ring target at 300 metres, using what is designated abroad as the "free rifle." This method of free-hand shooting with the hair-trigger, is comparatively new to American sharpshooters, but is generally practiced by experts in European countries.

PETS' LAST CHANCE FOR THE BUNTING

Locals Will Have to Beat Somerville Tomorrow and Then a Tie Will Exist.

The Plainfield Pets will meet the Somerville ball slingers here tomorrow afternoon with but one change in the lineup. Harter taking his old position in center field, and Washburn playing short.

George Ortlieb will probably sling them over for the Pets with Nelson behind the bat to receive them. Dorflinger says he is going to give Somerville the worst beating it ever received.

The Pets are just one half a game behind the Somerville team, so it is up to the locals to tie them this Saturday, which if they do, will make it necessary for the tie to be played off at some future date.

This will be the last game of the league and the last chance for the Pets to get back at Somerville for the awful beating they received at their hands several weeks ago.

Jack Torpey, who is manager of the Somerville team, but plays with Plainfield on Sundays, is also confident that his outfit will go home with another victory to his credit.

The local manager says he expects a record-breaking crowd and there will be extra cars run for this game so everyone will find accommodation.

CHICAGO'S PERRY CARNIVAL.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Chicago's lake front today took on a gala appearance in preparation for a week's celebration of the centennial of Perry's victory on Lake Erie. The festivities are scheduled to begin tomorrow with a review of the State troops by Governor Dunne and Mayor Harrison. The military review will be succeeded by the naval review of the Great Lakes Squadron, and then the signal will be given for the approach of Perry's flagship, Niagara, from the yacht harbor. The famous old craft will be greeted with a cannonade salute of 21 guns. For an entire week the lake front will be alive with the events of the centennial celebration and the mammoth water carnival, including world's championship hydroplane races and naval sham battles.

MEMORIAL TO PILGRIMS.

London, Aug. 15.—Ambassador Page, together with many prominent members of the American colony in London, journeyed to Southampton today to attend the dedication of an imposing memorial erected there to the Pilgrim Fathers. The memorial stands on the quay where the Pilgrims gathered in prayer on that memorable day in 1620 before embarking on the Mayflower to begin their journey to the great unknown land across the sea. A feature of the memorial is a tablet inscribed in memory of John Alden, the youngest of the Pilgrims and who was given immortal fame by the poet Longfellow. The cost of the tablet was contributed by the Alden Kindred of America, composed of descendants of John and Priscilla Alden.

STATE CLOSES NEWARK BANK

Examiners Find Big Shortage In Roseville Trust Co.

IT MAY EXCEED $200,000.

Officers of Trust Company Were Trying to Get In Touch With Treasurer of Institution, but He Could Not Be Found—Depositors' Loss Not Known.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 15.—The doors of the Roseville Trust company at Roseville avenue and Orange street, this city, were closed by Commissioner of Banking and Insurance Charles H. La Monte following an examination made by Bank Examiners Ferguson and Harden. It is reported that the examiners found a shortage of from $200,000 to $250,000, but no official statement has as yet been made.

The officers of the bank are: President, William P. O'Dell; first vice president, William Fairlee; second vice president, H. W. Foster; secretary and treasurer, Raymond E. Smith.

The officers of the trust company were trying to get in touch with Raymond E. Smith of Orange, secretary and treasurer of the institution, but he could not be found either at his office or at his home.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 15.—The New Jersey department of banking and insurance closed the doors of the Roseville Trust company at Newark upon the discovery of a shortage in the institution's funds said to amount to about $200,000.

Thomas K. Johnson asserted that the doors of the institution were ordered closed because an investigation showed a discrepancy sufficient, he believed, to wipe out the total capital stock and surplus. He said he could not tell what the loss to the depositors would be until the inspection was finished.

The inspectors discovered the discrepancy while going over the bank's accounts. The last inspection was made on Oct. 12, 1912.

The Roseville Trust company was incorporated in July, 1908, and commenced business on Dec. 1, 1908. The company's last report, on June 4 last, was as follows: Assets, $1,000,094.00; surplus fund, $50,000; undivided profits, $43,019.40; deposits, $702,975.94, and paid up capital stock, $100,000.

Carelessly Dropped a Lighted Match In Camden Dwelling.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—The carelessness of a burglar in dropping a lighted match in the home of Mrs. Lillian Rhodes, 320 North Sixth street, came near resulting in the destruction of the house by fire. Mrs. Rhodes was awakened before daylight by smoke. She hastened to the kitchen and saw a pile of paper burning. She threw water on the fire and extinguished it.

She summoned the police, who said that a burglar had been in the house. Investigation showed that he had forced the back door open. Only a few trinkets were stolen.

Arthur Genther of Camden Lodges Charges and Will Sue For Divorce.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—On charges brought by Arthur Genther, 33 Mountain avenue here, Mrs. Lulu Genther, his wife, and Albert Evans of this city, were held under $500 bail each by Justice of the Peace Wright. Genther says he will institute proceedings for a divorce.

Genther has suspected his wife and Evans for some time and, it is said, employed private detectives to follow her. It was on evidence said to have been secured by them that the couple were arrested.

Moorestown, N. J., Aug. 15.—William Taylor, thirty years old, employed on the Robinson farm here, while driving at Mariton pike and Browning road, Camden, fell from his seat and was killed. His neck was broken by the fall. He was asleep at the time.

His body was found by Chris Powell, a farmer. The farm hand was taking a load of produce to market at the time of the accident.

Sylvia Pankhurst Again Out of Jail.

London, Aug. 15.—Sylvia Pankhurst, youngest daughter of Mrs Emmeline Pankhurst, was again released from Holloway jail under the "cat and mouse act." OPEN-AIR SCHOOL A GREAT SUCCESS

Exercises Held Yesterday Mark the Closing of a Five Months' Term.

PRIZES FOR GARDENERS

Work Among Exceptional Children Under the Auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis League—Winners of Awards.

After a successful term of five months, the open-air school conducted under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis League in Muhlenberg place, held its closing exercises yesterday afternoon when a large number of visitors were present.

Among the interesting features of the occasion, was the awarding of prizes offered by Mrs. David Rowland to those pupils who had the best gardens. While Harry Green, Russell Tyler and Walter Cassett carried off the honors for faithful care of their plots, all of the gardens showed they had received considerable attention from the pupils. A silk flag was presented to the school by Masters Jonathan and Lawrence Ball, which had been purchased with the proceeds of a lemonade sale. After the exercises, baskets and aprons as well as the regular school work was exhibited.

Of the thirty-two children admitted to the school as being pre-disposed to tuberculosis, ten have been permitted to resume their regular classes in the public schools because of their improved health while several others will be able to take the same course in the fall. The majority, however, will continue in the open-air school for some time. The school has been fortunate in having as a teacher, Miss Sarah Coyle who studied at Vineland and is making a specialty of work with exceptional children. The committee which has had charge of the management of the school consists of Dr. Clara DeHart, Krans, Dr. F. G. Hughes, Miss Mabelle C. Phillips, Mrs. David Rowland, Miss Katherine Ball and Mrs. Frank N. Lawrence. Other volunteer workers who have rendered helpful services were the Misses Merrill and Burke, Mrs. Henry Hawes, Mrs. William C. Kinney, Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent; William S. Tyler, president of the Board of Education, and Dr. B. V. Hedges.

ELECTION SUPPLIES SENT OUT TO COUNTY CLERKS

Trenton, Aug. 16.—The work of sending out the forms and blanks for the primary and general election has just been completed by the Election Department of the office of the Secretary of State, and it required more than nine tons of printed matter for the 1880 election districts of the State. To supply all the election districts required 23,000 precinct return blanks; 6,000 registry lists; more than 8,000 poll books; 11,000 copies of the pamphlet on the election laws and instructions to voters, besides scores of other forms.

The forms are compiled and printed by the Secretary of State, the supply for each county being sent to the County Clerk and by him distributed to all the municipal clerks in the county.

ASSERTS NEW FENCE WILL BE UNSANITARY

Structure, If Over Five Feet in Heighth, Will Shut Out Light In House.

The contractors that are constructing the new theatre in West Front street, running through to West Second street, are erecting a "spite fence," according to an assertion made by Mrs. Frank Linke this morning to a Daily Press reporter. She called this morning on Health Officer Randolph Chandled in an effort to have the building of a fence near the west side of her home in West Second street adjoining the new structure, prohibited. If the fence, which is being constructed of wood, is erected over five feet in height, it will shut out the light and a considerable amount of air from the rooms in the west side of her home. This, Mrs. Linke said, is unsanitary.

The contractors said they are going to build the fence but four feet, six inches high, although they have driven heavy uprights in the ground that protrude about 16 feet skyward. A fence that was situated on the line between the Linke property and the theatre tract was damaged by the mechanics constructing the playhouse, and the contractors are putting up a new one.

MEAT PRICES WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS

Western Drought Will Cause Retail Marks to Soar This Winter, Says Expert.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—A vital result of the record-breaking drought in Kansas, Oklahoma and the Southwest became apparent yesterday when a representative of the largest packing houses in the country predicted that the retail price of beef will go to un-heard-of prices this winter.

"Forty cents a pound for the choice cuts seems a certainty, forty-five cents is a probability, and even fifty cents a possibility before spring," declared a packer's representative.

The corn-killing drought in Kansas and the Southwest has deprived the great cattle-raising sections of feed for their stock. Fodder remains, but the corn itself, necessary to fatten the steers for market, will have to be shipped into whole sections of the country that are naturally grain exporters at an expense that precludes the idea of any great profit-making by the cattle raisers at anything near present prices.

For ten days a steady rush of cattle to the big live stock markets of the Middle West has been in progress. A great cattle shortage is a certainty within a few months, stock men declare, and with it a startling jump in beef prices.

Cattle receipts in the Western markets first became above normal when the hot, dry weather killed off the pasturage. Western farmers saw a light crop of hay and began shipping carload after carload of steers to Chicago, Kansas City and all the other great markets. Then the certainty that the corn crop would be a failure in many sections sent more trainloads of steers into the market. The first three days of this week 129,000 cattle have been received at the Western markets, nearly as many as were received in the entire six days one year ago. The same condition to a certain extent holds good in the hog market.

Receipts have nearly doubled since the drought.

Live stock prices naturally are slumping just now while the markets are loaded with stock. But in spite of the fact that steers and hogs are costing the packers less than at any time for several months, they have anounced no reduction in the wholesale prices of meats. The sharp increase in meat prices for several weeks remains in effect and the housewife has obtained no benefits of the present abnormal conditions in the market.

The drought, according to stockmen, will put hundreds of thousands of dollars in the hands of the packers this winter because of their ability to buy now when the cattle raisers are at a disadvantage and to set new prices this winter when there is a scarcity in the cattle receipts.

PLAINFIELD GUESTS IN BURNED HOSTELRY

Maine Summer House Destroyed By Fire and Occupants Driven Into the Open.

Guests from many parts of the country, including four from this city, were driven into the open by a fire which destroyed the Samoset Hotel, a large summer house on Mouse Island in Booth Bay Harbor, Maine, yesterday. The hotel was crowded, but most of the visitors saved their belongings, which included wearing apparel and jewelry aggregating many thousands of dollars in value, although some of the personal property was damaged considerably by being thrown out of the windows.

The hotel servants lost nearly all of their belongings, as the blaze started around the chimney over the kitchen near their rooms. The loss to the hotel is estimated at $20,000. The Plainfielders registered at the hotel when the fire occurred were Miss Elizabeth Flanders, Miss Elizabeth McGee, Herbert Rogers and Roland Horn. Word was received this morning confirming the report that had previously been circulated that none had been injured at the blaze and the Plainfielders will suffer little, if any, loss as a result of the fire.

GLYNN NOT RECOGNIZED BY GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY

Trenton, Aug. 16.—Published reports that Governor Fielder has recognized Lieut. Governor Glynn as the present head of the government in New York state by issuing a requisition for the return to Hudson county of Charles Mason, who is under indictment for larceny alleged to have been committed in Bayonne, are misleading.

The New Jersey governor took no sides in the gubernatorial crisis now existing in the Empire state. Requisitions are never issued on a governor by name owing to the fact that it is not always known that the governor is in the state and qualified to act thereon. In the present case the requisition followed the usual language. The petition of Prosecutor Hudspeth of Hudson county, to Governor Fielder was that he issue a requisition "upon the governor of the state of New York" for the return of Mason. The papers signed by Governor Fielder and sent to Albany were in the same language, this being the usual course pursued.

The young ladies of several of the churches in the city have been giving a few hours each week in entertaining the children at the Home, and this has been greatly appreciated by Miss Curry and the children have not only been entertained but helped in many ways. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services of the Home.

YOUTH SHOT BY DETECTIVE DISCHARGED FROM HOSPITAL

James Caflick, the West Orange boy who was shot by Jacob Mattis, a Lehigh Valley detective at South Plainfield about three weeks ago, was discharged from Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday. The hospital authorities called Prosecutor Silzer's office on the phone and asked if Middlesex wanted to detain the boy as a witness and was told to let him go home.

Mattis is now under $2,000 bail on a charge of atrocious assault and battery and the charge will be heard by the Middlesex grand jury in September. It is claimed that the shooting of Mattis occurred after the boy had thrown up his hands at the command of the detective and had surrendered.

GUESTS SURPRISE MR. AND MRS. GEORGE BEISER

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Beiser, of Prospect avenue, this city, who are spending the summer at their home, the Everett House, Sparta, celebrated their thirty-seventh wedding anniversary on Saturday, August 9. The New Jersey Herald, of Newton, refers to the event as follows:

"The guests of the above hostelry held a secret conclave to surprise the proprietor and his wife, successfully sprung upon them last Saturday evening, by celebrating their thirty-seventh wedding anniversary, and presented an elaborate silver service as a token of esteem and good will. The presentation speech was made by an old time guest, David Wescoat, of Brooklyn, who interlopated his remarks in a humorous vein, occasionally breaking out in oratorical powers, also referring to Mr. and Mrs. Beiser as their father and mother of the Everett House, having had a watchful care over the guests' comforts, etc., these many years. Over 120 guests stood in line offering their congratulations, after which an evening of dancing was enjoyed.

Another event of moment was the visitation of Governor Fielder and Staff, Wednesday night, who received an ovation fitting the occasion. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with "Old Glory" and flowers. The Governor's mother is a permanent guest at the Everett House, an estimable lady of good old stock which has decended down the line. "Good mothers make good Governors." We bespeak a glorious re-election for the present Governor James F. Fielder."

DAVIS TENNIS CUP SEIZED IN CUSTOMS

Returning Stars Are Astonished at Inspectors' Action.

When the Davis Cup, the international tennis trophy, probably the most famous of amateur prizes, for which the picked men of every continent have had a try, came back yesterday on the steamship Mauretania customs men promptly seized it and carried it away to the appraisers' stores.

Members of the American tennis team, who reached New York on another liner, grasped with astonishment at first, then choked with indignation. Their protests went for nothing and they received only an explanation the trophy must be held pending a consultation among the heads of the Custom House.

John Purroy Mitchel, collector of the port, was called on the telephone last night and informed of the action of the officers. He said he had not been kept in touch with developments, and asserted he knew of no reason why the trophy should have been taken.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Seward, Alaska, Aug. 16.—Forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Kenai Lake, twenty-five miles from Seward. A high wind is blowing and the fire is beyond control. Three miles of the Alaska Northerns track was damaged by the fire, which is said to have started from a swamp fire.

PYROTECHNIC SHOW AT PARKER FIELD

Will Be Held Under the Auspices of Italian Organization Tonight.

Under the auspices of the Italian Sick and Benefit Society of Plainfield, in observance of the feast of Our Lady of Mt Carmel, a fireworks display and a band concert will be given tonight at Parker Field, to which the public is invited. A small admission fee will be charged and one-half of the proceeds will be given to the Playground Commission, which will utilize the money realized toward giving free Sunday afternoon concerts at the local recreation centre.

A large crowd that turned out last night at Parker Field to witness a concert and fireworks exhibition was disappointed when the band of Antonio Attantasio, of Brooklyn, that was scheduled to render a program of music, failed to put in an appearance. The committee from the society, however, secured a number of local musicians after a long delay, and an abbreviated concert was given. Fireworks were also shown and heard, but tonight's affair will eclipse by far, last night's performances.

The Roma Band, of Hoboken, will give a concert and $150 will be spend in noise producing and artistic fireworks. Special arrangements have been made by the society and the Playground Commission to handle the large crowd that will attend and the "grove" near the large field will be used to care for automobiles.

The Roma musicians marched through the city streets this morning playing popular airs and gave several "street corner concerts."

The officers of the Italian Sick and Benefit Society who have tonight's affair in charge, are: President, F. S. Trivigo; vice-president, Salvatore Venezia; secretary, R. D. Matthews, and treasurer, Dominick Paretti.

Y. M. H. A. BIBLE CLASS WILL HOLD AN OUTING

Members of the Y. M. H. A. Bible Class will journey to Chimney Rock tomorrow by special trolley cars and auto-bus, where they will enjoy their annual picnic. At the resort, Naylor's Orchestra will render music throughout the day and David Dreier will render selections on the violin.

The arrangement committee is composed of Hyman Adelberg, Jacob Fass, Harry Drier, Morris Abrams, Samuel Rothberg, Kalman Rothberg, William Galison, Kasper Sachar and Louis Schiff.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS PLAN FOR MEETING AT 'PLAINS

The Plainfield Branch of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage has arranged to hold an anti-suffrage meeting in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, Wednesday night, August 20, at 8:15 o'clock. Mrs. Grace Duffield Goodwin, of Westfield, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Elizabeth Sykes, who is an officer of the local branch, will probably address the meeting, and it is expected that a large delegation of anti-suffragists from this city will be present.

SWEENEY AFTER AUTOISTS.

Albert King, of 180 Watchung avenue, was arrested last night at Belvidere and Park avenues by Patrolman Sweeney, charged with violating the motor vehicle laws by not having a light on the rear of an automobile he was driving. He will be arraigned Monday afternoon before Mayor Percy H. Stewart in the City Court. Sweeney has made two arrests on this charge within the last forty-eight hours.

EVIDENCE WANTED.

A party of local business men who went on a fishing trip to Barnegat, on Tuesday, returned home this morning. Tales, it seems, put it over on tails, and friends are still looking for more substantial evidence of the trip. The party was composed of Alfred Zimmerman, Dr. Elmer Giddes, Jack Horner, Edward A. Laing and Fred H. Firstbrook.

FUNERAL OF C. R. SPRINGS.

The funeral of Charles Raymond Springs, son of Mrs. Simon Springs, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the late home, 508 West Third street, at 1:30 o'clock and at the Mt. Olive Baptist church at 2 o'clock. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

LAWN FETE.

The Young People's Society of St. Peters' Lutheran church will hold a lawn fete at the home of the Misses Ruschke, 431 West Sixth street Wednesday afternoon and night, August 20. In case of stormy weather, the affair will be postponed until the following day.

ROUTINE OF WORK IN PUBLIC CLINIC

Final Arrangements Made for the Establishment of New Feature About Sept.

A public clinic will be opened about September 1, under the management of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, and with the concurrence of the local Board of Health, permission for its establishment having been obtained from the State Board of Health.

This clinic for advice, treatment and examination of people suffering from incipient tuberculosis, or its more advanced stages, will be located at 109 Madison avenue, and the building is now being altered and put in order for this splendid work. It is another step in the eradication of the white plague.

Dr. Hughes is the physician in charge, associated with Dr. Krans Dr. Curry and Dr. Titsworth. Four other physicians will assist—Drs. Levenson, Cornwell, Dundon and Ellis.

The days and hours for consultation with these men will be Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, 4 to 5 o'clock, and 8 to 9 o'clock respectively, and will be free for men, women and children.

The Friday afternoon class for women and children, under the care of Mrs. Allen, will be continued as usual.

TITANIA CROWNED IN DAZZLING SPLENDOR

Throng of 10,000 Applaud New Queen As She Ascends Throne.

Asbury Park, August 16.—Amid scenes of dazzling splendor, Queen Titania XIII. of the Asbury Park Carnival was crowned at the Ocean Grove Auditorium last night. The vast building, with its 9,000 seats, was packed with people from every part of the coast, and many from distant points. Every street leading to the Auditorium was crowded with automobiles, and on the outside of the building thousands of persons stood around listening to all they could of the concert. A massive platform, extending clear across the Auditorium from the north to the south, represented a wooded scene. Through the painted rocks and in glittering caverns the various familiar stories were represented in beautifully created pictures. In the centre stood the throne, ten feet above the platform, and on the lower steps on each side were arranged the chairs of the court attendants. Above the glittering throne was erected a massive frame twenty-four feet wide by sixteen feet high, in which were shown in the finale a most beautiful tableaux, arranged by Mary Lawson Leach. On the north side of the platform, extending under the gallery, was a very realistic Indian camp, with over 100 persons in gorgeous Indian costume, with John L. Hesse as Indian chief and Mrs. Hesse as the Indian queen. The south side of the platform was occupied by a company of nearly 200 girls in bright colored Spanish costume, under the leadership of Mae Sutton. Back of the throne of the great choir gallery, which represented a rocky mountainside, was the Japanese chorus of 150 young women.

To the right of the queen, in the north wing of the platform, were seated a beautifully costumed company of young women, representing Egyptians, with their queen, Alice Louise Mertens. In the opposite wing was a chorus of ten men, each a well known soloist from New York churches. Over 1,000 large Japanese lanterns were arranged in festoons from the roof, with a massive centre piece, all equipped with electric lights on the inside. At one time in the program all the lights in the house were turned off and the Japanese lanterns turned on, making one of the most beautiful and enchanting scenes ever witnessed in the Auditorium.

The electric work was more elaborate than ever before attempted. Massive white pillars were arranged most artistically against the rear walls of the platform and added much to the beauty and dignity of the scene of splendor.

PRIZES ON EXHIBITION.

ROBERT J. MURRAY LOSES HIS LIFE

Word Received That He Was Drowned at Watertown, Wis., Last Night.

DETAILS ARE NOT GIVEN

Young Man Went West Last May to Take a Position With Electrical Concern—Remains to Be Brought to This City.

The news of the drowning of Robert J. Murray, only son of Robert Murray, the widely-known auctioneer of this city, was received by the latter, last night in a telegram from a man who signed himself Bert Hall. The telegram said: "Your son, R. J. Murray, was drowned at Watertown, Wis. Communicate with the coroner of that place." No further particulars have been received. Mr. Murray followed the instructions of the telegram and at the same time communicated with his uncle, James R. Murray, who lives near Bloomington, Ill., asking him to make preparations for the removal of the body to Plainfield. He left for Watertown today.

Mr. Murray went to Milwaukee last May to take a position which awaited him with a large electrical concern at that place. Watertown, where he was drowned, is but a short distance from Milwaukee. Mr. Murray took a mathematical course in the Plainfield Business College last winter and while stopping in Plainfield was employed at the Rushmore Dynamo Works. He was a member of Clan Mackenzie, No. 204, Order Scottish Clans, and Mack Council Jr. O. U. A. M., of Elizabeth.

Mr. Murray was a resident of Elizabeth for three years prior to coming to this city. While at the former place he was employed as shipping clerk in a leather factory and made his home with his sister, Mrs. Herman Ditzel. In July of last year he took a position with the United States Express Company in Philadelphia as shipping clerk. He removed to Plainfield last November taking a position which would permit him to continue his studies at night. He was very studious and had a promising future. He was born in Roselle twenty-one years ago and when a boy attended the public schools there until he was ten years of age, after which the family removed to Harlingen, near Belle Mead, where he continued his studies for four years in the public schools.

After disposing of his farm at Harlingen, Robert Murray and his family removed to Plainfield seven years ago, where the father has been engaged in the auction and storage business ever since. Mr. Murray leaves his father, four sisters, Mrs. Herman Ditzel, of Elizabeth; Miss Jennie Murray, of this city; Miss Christina Murray, of Flemington and Miss Elsie Murray, of Mercer Hospital, Trenton. As soon as the remains reach Plainfield announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made.

J. W. HARRISON'S FIRST VACATION IN SEVEN YEARS.

J. W. Harrison, of Madison avenue, left today on the "City of Atlanta," of the Savannah Line, for Fitzgerald, Georgia, where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. A. N. Davis, for the next two months. This will be Mr. Harrison's first vacation in seven years, or since he gave up traveling about the country in his gospel wagon and settled in Plainfield with his family. Although seventy-six years of age, Mr. Harrison still enjoys excellent health.

After spending a time with his daughter at Fitzgerald, Mr. Harrison proposes to visit various parts of the south preaching at different points. He was a preacher for many years, when he and his wife traveled over 6,000 miles in the famous gospel wagon. After her death he made his permanent home in this city.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

"A play of thrills, throbs and punches" is the distinctly vivid description of "The Family Cupboard," a new play to be presented at the Plainfield theatre, Tuesday evening, August 19, by William A. Brady, Ltd. A cast of exceptional strength is announced. "The Family Cupboard" promises to provide a few genuine thrills. It is declared to be a most startling play of New York life, with many sidelights heretofore not touched upon by any contemporary dramatist. The theme of the play is built upon the passage from St. Marks: "A house divided against itself shall not stand." The particular house in "The Family Cupboard" is that of Charles Nelson, a wealthy New York business man, whose wife has been poisoned by the "society bee" to such an extent that her home becomes merely the meeting place for various and sundry social functions, and the husband and wife drift farther apart with each succeeding event. In search of comradeship, the husband and father looks elsewhere with the result that the inevitable "family skeleton" is eventually presented. In this case of particular repulsion for the reason that the younger son of the household is also caught in the meshes. Throughout four acts there are revealed many startling secrets. Husband and wife are made to see the folly of their ways—for each has been to blame—and the final curtain witnesses the reconstruction of the family circle upon a more firm and substantial basis.

GLYNN SAYS HE'LL ACT AS GOVERNOR

Holds Courts Are Powerless In Test Case.

MAKES DEMAND ON SULZER

Situation at Albany More Exciting When Glynn Refuses to Let Courts Decide as to Who Is Entitled to the Office.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Acting Governor Martin H. Glynn sent a letter to William Sulzer flatly turning down a suggestion made by Mr. Sulzer that the question of who was to be governor be left to the courts to answer. Mr Glynn's decision was announced after a conference with ex-Judge Edwin Countryman and Patrick C. Dugan, his attorneys.

Prior to this conference Mr. Glynn's lawyers had met ex-Judge C. Cady Herrick of counsel for Mr. Sulzer at the latter's request. At this meeting an attempt was made to frame a set of facts to be submitted to the courts. According to the accounts coming from Mr. Glynn's lawyer, this conference ended in a collision. As a result of these developments the prospect of an early settlement of the weighty question has vanished.

The situation at the capitol was more critical than at any time since Mr. Sulzer and Mr. Glynn began their contention for the place at the head of the government.

Clash Seems Imminent.

To add to the tangled situation there were reports at the capitol that Mr. Sulzer and his supporters were preparing to start backfires against Mr Glynn and the legislative leaders who were active in bringing about Mr Sulzer's political downfall. Under the circumstances it is certain that the controversy, far from nearing a settlement, is destined to become more bitter before many more hours have passed.

The stand taken by Mr. Glynn has upset the plans of Mr. Sulzer. He contemplated leaving his seat of trouble and turmoil to seek the more restful surroundings of the country for himself and Mrs. Sulzer over the week end. There was a report that Mrs Sulzer's illness had taken a turn for the worse and that Dr. Robert Abrahams was speeding to the capitol in response to a hurried summons from Mr Sulzer.

Here is Mr. Glynn's letter to Mr. Sulzer, delivered at the executive mansion by Frank A. Tierney, Mr. Glynn's private secretary:

State of New York,
Lieutenant Governor's Room.
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15, 1913.

Hon. William Sulzer, Albany, N. Y.:

Dear Sir: I have your letter of this date refusing to comply with my demand this day served upon you, that you surrender to me, your successor in exercising the functions of the office of governor, the governor's privy seal, the executive chamber and the books and papers appertaining to such office of governor.

At the end of your letter thus refusing you suggest that steps be taken to secure a decision by some court as to which of us is entitled to exercise the duties of the office. I know of no way by which I could make, and no condition that would justify me in making, any such stipulation. The constitution was designed to, and I am advised and believe does, specifically and completely cover the juncture now existing and is supplemented by statutes passed by the legislature and now in force.

Will Not Barter.

It is beyond my power to barter away any of the functions attaching to the office in which I am placed by your impeachment. Any attempt on my part to do so, or to stipulate a method by which it might be done, would properly place me in the position you now occupy, that of being impeached for malfeasance in office. I cannot and will not attempt to do it.

The entire matter is now in the highest court of the state—the court of impeachment, the most august body known to our system. No order that any lower court could make, no judgment that it could render, would have the slightest binding force upon this high court. No member of the court of appeals, certainly no member of the lower body, the supreme court, can in any degree nor under any circumstances interfere with the jurisdiction or the decision of such court of impeachment, save and save only as the [illegible] of the court of impeachment [illegible] their individual votes as such members of the court.

Impeachment Binding.

The decision of the court of impeachment, once made, is binding on every court and every person in the state and must be so respected and treated. Any attempt to interfere with the jurisdiction or the proceedings of such court of impeachment, because any member of any lower court and every other court in the state is a lower one, would be as futile as would an attempt of a justice of the peace to enjoin the chief judge of the court of appeals from exercising his functions as such chief judge.

The constitution has fixed this as the only way for the settlement of matters now pending. I know of no other, and I must, therefore, decline to enter into any stipulation whatever with you on the subject. I hold myself in readiness to perform and shall perform every function of the office of governor, except in so far as I am restrained by your illegal action or by physical force. I have the honor to be, respectfully,

MARTIN H. GLYNN,
Acting Governor.

Governor Sulzer accepted the letter and said he might reply to it today.

J., Aug. 16.—One man was killed and two seriously injured when their automobile skidded and crashed against a telegraph pole in the Hudson boulevard, opposite Schutzen park, in West Hoboken. The accident occurred when an attempt was made to dodge a farm wagon coming from the opposite direction.

Paul Carriet of 114 Summit avenue, Jersey City, was killed instantly. Alexander P. McGill of 143 Belmont avenue, who was driving the motorcar, and David Montagnon, who is said to come from St. Louis, were pinned beneath the machine and badly hurt.

Mr. McGill is the son of Dr. John P. McGill, once head physician of the Pennsylvania railroad and widely known through the country, who died recently. Mr. McGill lately has been acting as a demonstrator for an automobile concern. It is thought he was showing one of his two companions how to handle a fast automobile.

The Hudson boulevard was flooded with bright moonlight at the time, and it is thought this tempted Mr. McGill to send the automobile along the road at high speed. When the motorcar skidded it crashed with such force against the telegraph post as to splinter it and to demolish the car.

Mr. Carriet was shot over the wind shield and his skull was crushed when he landed in the road. Mr. McGill was caught behind the steering wheel and buried under the overturned wreck of the automobile, while Mr. Montagnon was hurled some distance ahead of the car.

Where the accident occurred is a lonely place, but an employee of the park summoned an ambulance from the North Hudson hospital at Union Hill and the two injured men taken there, where it was said their condition was critical.

NAMES CAMPAIGN MANAGERS.

Governor Announces Names of Men Who Will Act as Committee.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 16.—Governor Fielder announced the names of the men who will act as his campaign committee. No little surprise greeted the announcement of that of Lawrence T. Fell, a strong organization Democrat of Essex county.

"Mr. Fell," said one of the newspaper men, "is a strong organization man."

"Yes, and a good Democrat," added the executive.

In Hudson, as was expected, he named Robert S. Hudspeth. Judge John H. Westcott of Camden, at one time talked of as a candidate, is named to manage the Camden county campaign. Governor Fielder, in courtesy to Frank S. Katzenbach, has not named any manager in Mercer county.

MOTORMAN FAINTS ON TRAIN.

Gum Chewing Causes Shore Electric to Run Wild For Three Miles.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 16.—Glenn Grice, motorman on a short fast line train, was sending his train along at a rapid clip just outside of Pleasantville when he fainted in full view of the passengers, some of whom had noticed him coughing.

Women on the car became alarmed as the train sped along with no hand at the controller. The conductor, John Harrison, hurried forward, and after the train had gone nearly three miles brought it to a standstill. They thumped Grice on the back and revived him after a piece of chewing gum had been dislodged from his windpipe.

PROBING WOMAN'S DEATH.

Mrs. Guthrie Was Found Dead With Towel Around Her Neck.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 16.—Coroner A. M. Bennett is investigating the death of Mrs. Catherine Guthrie, sixty-five years old, a wealthy widow of Washington, who was found dead on the floor in her apartments here.

Mrs. Guthrie's body was found with a towel tied loosely around her neck.

POLICE COURT ROUTINE.

Not long since, the able vice president and general manager of the Jersey Central Railroad, William G. Besler, as one of the many splendid editorial contributors of the Plainfield Daily Press, said in the course of an article in this column that there are three things everybody knows how to do, viz.: Run a newspaper, run a railroad, and run a hotel. A fourth equally easy task, in the minds of some, is to run a police court. One only has to bear the responsibilities and discharge the duties of that most important office for a brief space of time to learn from others how much better they could mete our justice. But to be serious, I do not wish to be understood as decrying public criticism and especially newspaper comment, for I believe at all times it has a very good effect for it tends to keep the occupant of the bench ever mindful of the trust reposed in him and spurs him on to give the full measure of his ability and his conscientious effort in passing judgment.

To pass sentence hastily, without a full investigation and mature consideration of all the circumstances of the case might work a grave wrong which might even blast a life. Oft times, leniency shown a prisoner will serve the ends of society far better than to send the wayward, unfortunate one to jail or even to fine him. A good sound heart-to-heart talk, on the other hand, would arouse the good that is in him and with the result that he finally becomes a good member of the community and as it were in his sphere, more or less humble though it may be, an asset to the community. It is in such cases, where the public getting its reports necessarily third-handed and necessarily without the detailed explanations, is apt sometimes to adversely criticize. However, do not suppose that I am a believer in dispensing mercy wholesale. As a matter of fact, unless a police court judge has "mingled" among men, or in other words has been close to the masses and in touch with human nature, it is not improbable that he will show mercy when none is deserved. He will be deceived by the tricks of the hardened offender who resorts to all sorts of methods to obtain sympathy.

There are many cases where leniency has to be shown. A married man having a large family dependent upon his daily wage for their support is brought into court on a charge of intoxication. In such a case to send him to jail or to even fine him, would be a greater punishment to innocent parties for either sentence would be the means of depriving his wife and children of the necessities of life. Is it not better to work with him, to try to get him to realize how wrong it is to squandor his small earnings on liquor not only for his own sake but for that of those who are or should be dear to him and who depend upon him solely for their living and happiness?

Another class where leniency must of course be exercised is among the child offenders. "Boys will be boys" and where the offense is a petty one, I consider it my duty to be as easy as possible. A youth's whole future life would be wrecked were he to be given a police court sentence. Give him a kindly, fatherly talk with a word of encouragement and advice and it will be found in the great majority of cases that he will mend his ways. But as I have said, too much leniency is bad. When a court becomes known for being easy with offenders, I, for one, believe that such a condition has the tendency to increase offenses. The wayward ones are not so quick to violate the laws and ordinances when they know they must answer in a court of justice and not in a court of "mercy."

The police court is a very important department of government. More depends upon its proper conduct than many at first appreciate. A visit to headquarters any morning will be very instructive and I often wonder why more citizens do not "drop in" and see for themselves what is really going on and how that branch of the municipality's business is being conducted.

BUMPS ON THE SHOES.

That's Because Our Footwear Is Not Polished Properly.

"Do you know why it is that American men's feet always look ugly?" said a bootmaker. "No? Well, then, I'll tell you.

"American men's feet look ugly because they have their shoes polished while wearing them, an iniquitous practice that is followed nowhere else in the world.

"Everywhere else men on retiring slip trees into their shoes and set the shoes outside their bedroom doors. A servant takes them and polishes them, and after the dampness of their polishing they rest for some hours in the trees, and this does to them what a hot iron does to a suit of clothes—it presses them, so to speak, taking out all the ugly bumps and wrinkles, making them like new.

"But we Americans drop into an armchair on a high brass stand. Our shoes are polished on our feet. The ugly lines of wear, instead of being removed or brushed out by the process, are confirmed, rubbed in. And that is why our feet always look ugly—as ugly as our clothes would look if we never sent them to the tailor to be pressed."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue, left this morning to visit relatives at Cataumet on Buzzards Bay, and at Marblehead, Mass.

MAGIC IN A BATON.

The Music Was Different When Wagner Conducted the Performance.

How Wagner astonished an audience in Berlin is related by Otto Lessmann in a German magazine. It was in 1871. He had lectured at the Royal academy on the opera, and in his honor the Verein der Berliner Musiker arranged a performance of his "Faust Overture" under the direction of Professor Julius Sturm.

When it was over Wagner seemed to hesitate for a moment as to what he should do. Then he got up, thanked the musicians and remarked that as he had not been connected with an orchestra for twenty years he felt impelled to further show his gratitude by an artistic deed. "You will understand my request," he added, "that you repeat 'Faust Overture' under my personal direction."

What then happened made an indelible impression on all who were so fortunate as to be present. The spiritual revelation he made of the various moods of that tone poem stirred the hearers as they had never before been stirred. The difference between a genius and a mere professional conductor was made manifest. The musicians themselves were stunned by what they had done. "We looked at him, and we knew and did what he wanted," they remarked.

FAMOUS PHRASES

Origin of Some of World's Most Popular Quotations.

WORDS THAT WILL ENDURE.

"While There's Life There's Hope" Was Written by Cicero, and Cynical Old Diogenes It Was Who Told the World "Habit Is Second Nature."

It is recorded that an ignorant person, explaining her distaste for Shakespearean performances, said that his plays were too full of quotations. Yet we, too, though we may pride ourselves upon our learning, probably do not know the origin of half the common phrases we use as carelessly as verbs in our daily conversation.

No less a person than Cicero first made use of the expression, "While there's life there's hope," in a letter he wrote to Atticus. "We are in the same boat" is not modern slang, but occurs in a letter written by Clement I., bishop of Rome, to the Church of Corinth in the first century. This letter is extant and is one of the prized documents of the early church.

"I never put off till tomorrow what I can do today," was Lord Chesterfield's explanation of how he managed to do so much work. "Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well" he wrote later in the famous letters to his son.

In some of the expressions we use habitually may be crystallized an epoch of history. Such is the motto of the Order of the Garter, "Honi soit qui mal y pense" ("Shamed be he who thinks evil of it"), which was given by Edward III. of England. Wishing to draw the best soldiers in the world to him, he proposed a revival of the round table of King Arthur, holding a tournament at Windsor castle on New Year's day, 1344. After the contest of arms the guests were entertained at his expense at a round table. Philip, king of France, was jealous over the interest this aroused and forbade his subjects to attend, at the same time misrepresenting Edward's motives. Several years later, when Edward founded the Order of the Garter, he chose a motto that seemed to challenge his rival monarch to think wrong of it if he dared.

Later English history has not been laggard in increasing the supply of apt remarks that have grown into everyday sayings. Lord Eldon, lord chancellor of England during the first twenty-six years of the nineteenth century, continually mispronounced the name of Henry Brougham, afterward to be a successor in the chancellor's office. Brougham objected to be called Broffam, and in this regard Eldon was the chief offender. Once, after Brougham had made an excellent speech, Eldon by way of apology pronounced his name correctly and made a proverb, "New brooms sweep clean."

The same expression occurs frequently to different people who could have no knowledge that their thought had been given utterance before. "No man is a hero to his valet" has been paraphrased by scores, from Mme. du Cornuel, a witty Frenchwoman of the seventeenth century, to Dr. Johnson and Napoleon. The first record of it, however, is found in Plutarch, who states that when Hermodotus addressed a poem to Antigonous I., king of Sparta, hailing him as son of the sun and a god, the monarch replied, "My body servant sings me no such song."

It was Diogenes, the cynic, who declared that "habit is second nature." The phrase "circumstances over which he has no control" was used by the Duke of Wellington in a letter concerning some affairs in which his son was mixed up and with which he declined to interfere. Dickens also used the expression a few years later when he had Micawber write to David Copperfield, "Circumstances beyond my individual control," etc.

"Conspicuous by their absence" has been used on many occasions in modern oratory. It was first used by Tacitus in relating that in the funeral procession of Julia, niece of Cato, sister of Brutus, wife of Cassius, many of the images of the most famous families in Rome were seen, but "Cassius and Brutus shone pre-eminent because their images were not displayed."

"Nothing is certain but death and taxes," wrote Benjamin Franklin, stating that the constitution of the United States was in operation and to all appearances would last.

"Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones" was said by James I. of England when his favorite, the Duke of Buckingham, complained that a mob had broken his glass windows, which were at that time a luxury.

"Mind your p's and q's" is said to have been taken from an old French phrase at the time of Louis XIV. A very low bow was in fashion, and the dancing master in instructing his pupils would warn them to look out for the position of the feet and the movement of the head lest their cue wigs be disarranged. The French word for foot is pied. "Mind your pieds and queues" soon came to be transplanted into English and abbreviated.

Wallace Irwin once complained that when he had been invited to be funny at a banquet his real gems of wit were addressed to the back of his chauffeur on the way home. But what's the difference? According to the Latin poet, upheld by modern investigation, everything you could possibly say has been said before.—Anna Bird Stewart in Minneapolis Journal.

Working the Mines of the Rand.

That Africa, with its millions of idle negroes, should suffer from scarcity of labor seems to the outsider incredible, but it is a fact that the securing and distribution of labor is the most vital factor in the economic life of the continent south of the equator. It has been estimated that the Rand pays $300,000 a year to recruit the contingent from Portuguese East Africa alone, this sum covering only the expense of getting the "boys" from their homes and back again. A nonsalaried recruiter gets $5 for every boy he persuades to go to the mines. It is by supplying the Rand with 50,000 to 60,000 boys annually that the province of Mozambique draws directly and indirectly by far the larger part of its revenue.

Not In the Song.

All over the house went little Kathleen singing lustily, "There's a Friend For Little Children." Her benevolent old aunt, seeing at last, as she hoped, some signs of grace in one whom she had almost given up at the early age of six as hopeless, called Kathleen to her with great satisfaction.

"And who is the friend for little children, dear?" she asked.

"I don't know," replied Kathleen gayly. "It doesn't come out in the song."—Manchester Guardian.

A CHARLES FROHMAN STAR COMBINATION

Charles Frohman presented Miss Hattie Williams and Richard Carle as co-stars last season in "The Girl From Montmartre," and the result was so satisfactory that he has decided to continue the combination in a new play the coming season. Meantime Miss Williams is spending the summer in Europe and Mr. Carle is recreating at his country place near Long Branch, N. J., where he has Donald Brian, another Frohman star, for a near neighbor.

Proved Himself Competent.

An English nobleman engaged a tall and powerful highlander to act as gamekeeper on his estate. Having been a considerable time at his post and not having caught any poachers, the nobleman suspected his gamekeeper of carelessness. So one dark night he disguised himself and went out with a gun to poach on his own grounds. He had fired only one or two shots when he was suddenly pounced upon from behind and his gun wrenched away. Then kicks and blows were showered upon him until he fell down half insensible. The highlander then walked away quietly, and when the nobleman recovered sufficiently he crawled home and took to his bed for two weeks. He has now no doubts whether the man can perform his duty or not.

Even Lambs May Turn.

It appears that the lamb can turn as well as the proverbial worm. At Lampeter a flock of sheep was being driven along, and the accompanying dog threw a little extra ardor into the job of hurrying the animals. In doing so he paid special attention to a lamb, whereupon, to the delight of the onlookers, the lamb turned on his assailant. The dog took to his heels, and the lamb rushed after him into a shop, and no one knows what would not have occurred to the collie had not the farmer arrived and interfered.—Cardiff Western Mail.

KILLED MAN FOR AUTO.

Youth Admits Overwhelming Desire to Possess Racing Machine.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 16.—Gustave Penman, twenty-one years old, was arrested in a box car on his way back from Cincinnati to Urbana, Ill., to confess to the slaying of Harold Shaw, whose body was found buried on the farm of Penman's father. Penman admitted that he shot Shaw while intoxicated and possessed of an overwhelming desire to obtain a racing automobile owned by Shaw.

Penman said that when arrested he had beaten his way on freight trains from Danville, where he left the stolen automobile when arrested for driving without a light, to Hamilton, O. He intended to go to Argentina, but had become conscience stricken and decided to return to his parents and tell of his deed.

ANTIS SEE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Mrs. Scott Leads Forces In Protest Against Equal Suffrage.

Washington, Aug. 16.—As an offset to the suffragettes' demonstration at the capitol, a handful of "Conservationists" had their innings before the house rules committee. Numerically the opposition didn't make much of a showing, but in emphatic arguments against equal suffrage they rivaled the efforts of the prosuffrage leaders.

Mrs. F. W. Scott of New York, vice president of the antisuffrage national organization, headed the delegation before the committee. Representative J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, who was hissed in the suffrage demonstration, accompanied the "antis" before the committee. Miss Anna Bock of California, formerly an ardent suffragette, but now an "anti," also appeared.

ABOUT A DOLLAR A BITE.

Prices Used to Soar Sky High in the Cafe Anglais in Paris.

In the palmy days of its existence the Cafe Anglais in Paris was greatly affected by wealthy Americans. In this resort the charges soared sky high, and it was considered bad form to ask the price of anything on the menu. You simply ordered what struck your fancy and were expected to pay smilingly when the bill was presented.

Julius Chambers was invited by a friend to dine there once, and in the Brooklyn Eagle he tells of his experience:

"Being asked to order the dinner for my friend, I made it as simple as possible. A bisque soup, salmon with young potatoes, one small capon with fine herbs, asparagus, tarts, Camembert cheese and coffee. My friend did not drink wine, and I ordered for myself a bottle of 'the red wine of the house.'

"Everything was excellent, and I fully expected the bill to be 80 to 100 francs ($20). Imagine my horror, therefore, when the bill was 300 francs. Sixty dollars! I was indignant, although my host merely laughed. I sent for the maitre d'hotel and demanded an itemized bill. He was very indignant; said such a request was unheard of. After much delay the 'addition' appeared. I only remember that it added up all right and that the charge for the chicken was $20 and $1 for the wine (worth about 60 cents). My host only smiled and gave the waiter a napoleon tip.

"A Chicago acquaintance came to me one afternoon not long after the above experience, his eyes bulging and his temper high. He said he had gone to the Cafe Anglais, ordered luncheon, beginning with cold salmon. A whole fish was brought, and after a small first helping he liked it so well that he took a second spoonful. He noticed that the fish was not taken from the table when the rest of his meal was brought. When he got his bill he was charged for the whole salmon—60 francs ($12). He was assured it was a rule of the house that a second helping indicated he wanted the entire fish, and a charge of that kind was made.

"I laughed at him, and the more I laughed the angrier he got. His luncheon cost him $23, and he could have had the same at the best restaurant in New York for about $4."

Very Unusual.

"You newspaper fellows are ordinarily hard pressed for funds, are you not?" asked the genial stranger.

Our natural pride forbade us to agree with this outsider's conclusion. So we said:

"Why—er—not necessarily. What makes you think so?"

"I'll tell you. I am acquainted with a member of your profession, and a fine chap he is too. The other day I wanted to talk to him, so I called him up on the phone and asked him if he would lunch with me. He accepted, and at the appointed hour we sat at the table. I opened the conversation thus:

"'Well, what's the news? Anything unusual in your line?'

"'Yes,' answered the reporter—'this!'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Lost Leader Writer.

The story is told that when the new proprietor of the London Times first went over the building in Printing House square he saw a door covered with cobwebs which wouldn't open. After they had waited a long time an aged caretaker was found burdened with enormous keys, one of which fitted the rusty lock, and after great straining turned it. Inside were dust and ashes and cobwebs and—a skeleton! It was leaning over a table with a pen in its bone fingers. "What on earth is this?" they asked. "Oh, I remember hearing that in my great-great-grandfather's days they lost one of their leader writers," said the old key bearer. "He must have got locked in!"—London Sketch.

Moving a Billiard Table.

Probably the most remarkable journey ever made from Cattaro to Cetinje, in Montenegro, was that of an English billiard table. Fifty sturdy porters were required to carry the table over the mountain, and a pilot stood astride it to shout directions as to how best to get round awkward corners. The building in which it was housed retained the name of "Bigliardo" when converted into government offices and parliament house many years later.

Maddened the Cabbies.

There lived one time in England a woman who was known as the "cabmen's terror." She was a Mrs. Cuyler, who knew the distance between any two given points in London and always tendered the exact fare without a farthing over. Irate cabbies sometimes disputed the distance or even carried the affair into court, but the "cabmen's terror" always won.—London Tatler.

More Scientific.

"I can't get that woman to take any fresh air," complained the young physician.

"You don't word your advice properly," said the old doctor. "Tell her to perambulate daily in the park, taking copious inhalations of ozone."—Washington Herald.

In the Near Future.

"You take great care not to be run over."

"Got to. I'm afraid I'll forfeit my pedestrian's license."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

LUXURY OF A TROPIC SEA.

Bathing in January With the Water at 90 Degrees.

Those who live in temperate and cold climates do not realize the effect of the sun's direct heat on the sea. The luxury of bathing in an ocean that has a temperature of 108 degrees, writes Mr. E. J. Banfield in "My Tropic Isle," is not for the multitude who crowd the cities that the sun touches tremulously and aslant.

On Nov. 21, 1909, we bathed at Moo Jee, north Queensland, in shallow water, on the edge of an area of denuded coral reef fully two miles long by a mile broad. For three hours a considerable portion of the reef had been exposed to the glare of the sun, and the incoming tide filched the stored up heat from coral and stones and sand.

The first plunge provoked an exclamation of amazement, for the water was several degrees hotter than the air, and it was the hottest hour—3 o'clock in the afternoon—of a very hot day. No thermometer was at hand to register the actual temperature of the water, but subsequent tests at the same spot under similar conditions proved that the surface stratum of about one foot was at 108 degrees F., from four to six degrees hotter than the air. Below that the temperature of the water seemed ordinary and corresponded with that of the water a hundred yards from the shore.

On another day, Jan. 10, 1910, between noon and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the sea, scientifically tested, was found heated to 90 degrees. With the bulb buried in the sand six feet from the water's edge, the mercury rose to 112 degrees very quickly and remained stationary.

PLUCK THE FOREIGNER.

That Appears to Be the Patriotic Motto in Switzerland.

A foreign resident in Switzerland was fined 10 francs because his little girl had plucked three buttercups growing on a piece of land on which she and some half dozen children had for years been accustomed to play. The land had recently changed hands, and its new owner had put up a notice forbidding the plucking of flowers. A passing gendarme had found the children fragante delicto and had forthwith instituted proceedings against the little foreigner while letting the natives go scot free.

The child's father appealed against the sentence and by dint of hard fighting, which entailed, of course, expense, forced the higher court to reduce the fine from 10 francs to 3—i. e., one franc for each buttercup.

When I tried to learn the ways and wherefores of this case I was told by a Swiss that one-half of every fine levied goes to the gendarme who reports the offense for which it is levied, and also the Swiss gendarmes cannot fairly be expected to be quite as alert in taking proceedings against natives as against foreigners.

Further, I was told by an American that in Switzerland all foreigners rank as Egyptians and that the one Scriptural injunction that is faithfully obeyed there is that which ordains that Egyptians shall be spoiled.—From "The Latter Day Swiss" in Cornhill Magazine.

Of Interest to Women and the Home.

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

A Famous Woman's Economy.

Maria Mitchell was the most famous woman astronomer that ever lived in America, and she was a valued instructor in one of the women's colleges of the East. These are not reasons why she should understand how to economize; but, since she did understand this art, the reasons given should make her experiences interesting.

Maria Mitchell was in the habit of saying that all the clothes she wore at any given time cost no more than seventeen dollars. Yet she was always dressed well. To be sure, she did not care much for the prevailing mode. But her position made it necessary that she mingle with men and women of high intellect and this necessity made it essential that she dress with care and some attempt at style.

What 17 Dollars Will Do.

Perhaps Miss Mitchell's method of wearing only seventeen dollars' worth of clothes is not the best method of effecting economy. It is often true economy, for instance, to buy expensive shoes, and to spend as much as you can afford to spend for a street suit. A well made, well chosen street suit that costs thirty dollars will wear more than twice as long as a poorly made fifteen dollar suit.

But today inexpensive clothes can be easily chosen to do duty for most of the day. Silks and satins, laces and velvets are not essential to any woman's happiness. There doubtless was a day when every woman longed to possess a silk dress. Today voiles, crepes and other wash fabrics are quite as fashionable as silk.

Three dollars will pay for really dainty underwear. If it is made at home it can be made for less than that sum. Two dollars will buy a corset and the same amount will buy a thin silk petticoat. To be sure, cheap silk petticoats do not wear long. A lingerie petticoat can be made at home, of good materials, for two dollars. Four dollars could be allowed for shoes, and, just to show that you can be extravagant on seventeen dollars, a dollar could be spent for silk stockings. Twelve dollars spent, and five left for a frock. For this sum a coat suit of linen could be made at home, with a simple mull shirtwaist to go with it; or a figured voile frock, trimmed with net frilling and a satin girdle, could be made An evening frock of mull and net and a little lace could also be daintily and durably made at an expenditure of five dollars.

It would be interesting to work out the different seventeen-dollar combination that a clever woman could devise. Of course, when a coat is necessary, the task is harder, although if she can sew and can persuade herself to wear cotton stockings and cheaper underwear, she can make a presentable coat suit from six or seven dollars' worth of carefully chosen material.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

In last Sunday's Tribune Colonel Roosevelt gives his views on equal suffrage, in which he says some things that support the anti side of the argument. We do not consider the vote is a "right," but we do think it an obligation binding on all who are called upon to use it. Col. Roosevelt says:

"Suffrage for women should be looked on from this standpoint. Personally, I feel that it is exactly as much a 'right' of women as of men to vote. But the important point with both men and women is to treat the exercise of the suffrage as a duty which, in the long run, must be well performed to be of the slightest value."

And a little earlier he says:

"A vote is like a rifle: its usefulness depends upon the character of the user. The mere possession of the vote will no more benefit men and women not sufficiently developed to use it than the possession of rifles will turned untrained Egyptian fellaheen into soldiers. This is as true of woman as of man—and no more true. Universal suffrage in Hayti has not made the Haytians able to govern themselves in any true sense; and woman suffrage in Utah in no shape or way affected the problem of polygamy."

Now in all this we "conservationists," or members of the "Home Rule" party as it has been happily termed, fully concur. We see every day the proofs that when women have awakened to any really needed reform they are quite as able to bring it about without as with the vote.

The Woman's Journal, in an account of Miss Lillian Wald, the well-known social worker of New York, says:

"From the very start its poor became 'her people.' She took them to her heart, and they gave her quickly their unstinted confidence and trust. No woman, since Josephine Shaw Lowell, has been able to do what she has done. They trust her absolutely, trust her head, her judgment and her friendship. She arbitrates in a strike, and the men listen; she sits as one of the Board of Sanitary Control in the cloak and suit trade that has wrought such wondrous great good for the workers, and her judgement stands. When she pleads for housing reform, for playgrounds, for a united stand against child labor, her words carry authority. When politics make for better government, the Nurses' Settlement is a recruiting station; when push-cart peddlers are blackmailed by the police, she will tell the mayor the truth, for she knows. In the plotting and planning and winding ways of life on the East Side there is one pilot whose chart can be trusted—Miss Wald knows.

"In the strife that rages forever around our public schools, her feet are planted on solid ground. She pleaded for cooking and housekeeping schools, and got them; she believes in vocational guidance. She labored for medical school inspection, and when it did only half of what was expected of it, it was Miss Wald who put life into it by giving the doctors backing. Perhaps nothing she ever did gives one a better grip on the woman and her work.

"Coming out of a tenement from a visit to a patient, she met on the stoop a boy who at that hour should have been in school. When she asked him why he was not, he ducked his head and showed her a running sore. 'Teacher sent me home,' he said. She took him in charge at once, and while she sat on the step with his head between her knees, cleaning and bandaging the sore, she heard the every-day story of his being on the street. He was not wanted in school as he was; at home nothing was done to cure him. So he ran wild, and was growing up a hoodlum, to his own and the community's hurt. While she labored and listened, the whole scheme of school-nursing took shape in her mind. She laid it before the Board of Health, and the Board of Education. They smiled at her earnestness; were not the visiting doctors enough

"No, said Miss Wald, they could not follow the children into their homes, and did not. In fact, they were specifically forbidden to do so, lest it interfere with 'private practice.' She offered to prove her case by letting one of her nurses do volunteer duty in the schools for a month. Before it had come to an end the city authorities employed twelve to do the work of the one. There are today nearly, if not quite, two hundred nurses in the public schools.

"It is Miss Wald's extraordinary combination of mind and heart of the executive talent that looks to results and gets them because it always looks along safe and sane lines, with the woman's sympathy, that accounts for her power."

Miss Wald believed in equal suffrage, but what need had she for the vote? To my mind, it would have hindered rather than helped.

Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

The finest pattern articles in the world printed exclusively in Plainfield in The Plainfield Daily Press. Ladies' Home Journal Patterns are on sale at A. E. Force & Co., "The White Store."

The Restless Lover of Variety in Clothes Will Find Full Satisfaction In the Illustrated Models—They Combine All That Is New and Beautiful in Style or Fabric.

Fashion in America is universal. There seems to be no way of dividing it so the woman should not wear a certain style would see the foolishness of attempting it, just because it happens to be something new and her neighbor has it. But the true artist knows her own qualifications and chooses her clothes accordingly. The American women are everywhere known for their smartness in dress, although often quoted as extravagant. The fashions offered today are responsible for this to a great extent. They are the most graceful, the most natural and the most artistic that have ever been produced, so there is little wonder that people spend so much money on their clothes.

Women are fast learning that in order to be well dressed they must be appropriately dressed that is, they must wear what is becoming to their style of figure and beauty. Therefore there is created a greater demand for a wider variety of things than in former years. The materials, too, are of infinite assortment and they are far more beautiful this season than has ever been the case before. The brocaded effects are brought out in lovely colorings and patterns which in themselves are so gorgeous, little trimming is required.

On the other hand, for every day wear there is nothing more practical than a simple little suit, something on the style shown in figure No. 7856-57. This is a Norfolk model, developed in serge or linen The jacket closes slightly to the side front, with shawl collar and two-piece full-length sleeves. The pattern is out in five sizes, 34 to 42. Size 36 required 3½ yards, 36-inch material, and ¼ yard 27-inch contrasting material will make the belt.

The skirt to the Norfolk coat is a four-gored affair with slighly raised waist-line, and with inverted plait at each seam that may be stitched to any desired depth. The pattern is cut in 22 to 30-inch waist measure. Size 24 requires 5¼ yards 36-inch material. 15 cents.

It is always a good plan to have plenty of simple little frocks on hand as they are usful for all occasions. The one suggested in figure No. 7677, is very attractive to be made up in figured crepe or silk, or it may be entirely fashioned of all-over embroidery and flouncing. The bodice closes in surplice effect at the side-front. The Medici collar is of net or lace. The tucked chemisette may be of net or lace. The short sleeve is lengthened by a little embroidery cuff or band. The skirt has the flouncing at the bottom. The use of the sash may be emphasized by ribbon or velvet, with bow at the side-back. The pattern of this gown is cut in 5 sizes, 34 to 42. Size 36, requires 4 3-4 yards 36-inch material, and 3-4 yards of 22-inch silk or three yards of velvet ribbon will be required for the girdle and sash ends. Each pattern is 15 cents.

A Dainty and Simple Design for Embroidering a Combination Gown.

In these days the combination garment has practically taken the place of the separate corset-cover and drawers. The combination may be a petticoat and corset-cover or drawers and corset-cover in one, and this transfer pattern is practical for embroidering either style. If the corset-cover section is front-closing, the center wreath may be omitted, while on a slip-over gown no change is necessary.

The transfers for the drawers ruffles are 37 inches long and these may be used for scalloping the bottom of the petticoat. The flowers may be worked in solid or eyelet embroidery, the bow-knots in outline and seed stitch. If you like, this pattern may also be used on a night-gown by omitting the arm hold sections and using the ruffles for the sleeves.

Transfer patterns for stamping this combination garment can be supplied at 15 cents each.

For Those Who Entertain.

What has been served at company luncheons and dinners is so soon forgotten by the hostess that she may unconsciously repeat her bill of fare for some of the same guests. To avoid doing this a young matron in a fast growing suburb, where the young married folk entertain one another a good deal, keeps a book which is proving of great value to her.

In it she records the names of the guests invited to a luncheon, tea or dinner, and on the same page the bill of fare for the meal, with a memorandum about the decorations for the table. Her book not only prevents her from repeating the same bill of fare for the same persons, but also offers her many suggestions of seasonable dishes.

Some Cookery Suggestions

FRUIT PUNCHES.

TEMPERANCE punches made with fresh fruits are appreciated on a sultry day. They are just the beverages to serve at the lawn or porch party and look tempting served in the punch bowl with a block of ice and garnished with sprigs of mint.

Acid Punches.

Orange Punch.—Make lemonade with four lemons. A small cupful of granulated sugar and a pint of water may be added to the juice with pulp of six oranges and a heaping tablespoonful of minced pineapple. Pour this on a block of ice and just before serving turn in a quart of apollinaris water.

Lemon Punch.—An excellent punch with lemons as a foundation is made by mixing the juice of six lemons with a cupful of granulated sugar and letting it stand in the cold an hour. About two cupfuls of crushed ice may then be put in the punch bowl and the lemon and sugar poured on it. Take long stemmed sprigs of mint and crush the stems to bring out the flavor. Stick these into the fruit, ice and sugar and empty upon them two bottles of chilled ginger ale.

A Fruit Compound.

Mixed Fruit Punch.—With cold tea and lemonade a number of delicious hot weather drinks may be compounded. One of the best is a fruit punch, which is a strong lemonade, to which are added sliced pineapple, orange, banana or almost any sort of fruit. The compound is poured over a big lump of ice in a punch bowl.

Fruit Tea Punch.—Mix eight ounces of Oolong, six of Ceylon and two of English tea. Of this take six tablespoonfuls, place in a quart of boiling water, steep for five minutes; strain. When cold pour in a pitcher containing one-half cupful granulated sugar, six tablespoonfuls lemon juice, one lemon and one orange sliced thin and one quart fresh raspberries and two cupfuls pounded ice. Fill the mouth of the pitcher with a bunch of fresh mint, dusted with powdered sugar. When ready to serve add one pint carbonated water.

A Frozen Punch.

Iced Fruit Punch.—Dissolve a pound and a quarter of sugar in a quart of boiling water, add the grated rind of one lemon and one orange, being careful that only the yellow rind is used, as the least bit of the white will give it a bitter taste. Stir in two tablespoonfuls of gelatin that has been soaked for an hour in half a cupful of water. Simmer the whole for five minutes till the gelatin has thoroughly dissolved. Take from the fire and when cool add extract of orange or lemon to suit the taste. Allow to get cold and put in a freezer and stir slowly and evenly till frozen.

Anna Thompson.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Joke Was on Prince.

"Come home, silly dog," she cried.

THEY had been talking about dogs, when daddy said he would tell Jack and Evelyn a funny story about a dog.

"One of the smartest dogs in a certain little town on the New Jersey palisades is Prince.

"Prince is a big shaggy black dog about the same size as a collie. Prince is clever and friendly, and so he has a welcome wherever he may chance to go.

"I said that Prince is friendly with every one. However, it can hardly be said that he is friendly with cats. He chases them.

"Just what Prince would do if he caught a pussy I can't say, for he has never yet been able to get one. When the cats hear Prince bark they dart over a fence or down a cellar window or up a tree. You see, the pussy cats are clever too.

"The other morning Prince went out for a stroll. His way of getting out is to jump right over the fence. Being a big dog, he can do this easily. Outside on the road Prince stopped to look up and down. If a friend was in sight when Prince reached the street Prince always joined him or her.

"Nobody was coming, and so Prince trotted along the road.

"He had not gone far when he stopped to listen. From the bushes on one side of the road Prince heard a sound that he thought he knew well.

"'Bow-wow!' barked the dog as he pushed his way among the bushes. 'Bow-wow-wow-wow!' he repeated in excited tones. If you understood dog talk you would have known Prince was saying 'Cats, cats!'

"The bushes happened to be blackberries. They were covered with thorns, and Prince was scratched and torn quite as badly as an angry pussy could have hurt him.

"Just then Prince's mistress came outdoors. She saw Prince struggling among the bushes on the road below the house. She heard also the gentle 'Miaow, miaow!' that was tantalizing her dog.

"'Come home,' she called, but Prince only dived deeper into the bushes. He meant to get that cat if he scratched his eyes out.

"His mistress went into the house and got a cane with a curved handle. Reaching into the bushes, she hooked the cane into Prince's collar. Then she dragged him out.

"'Come home, you silly dog!' she cried. 'That isn't a pussy cat; it's only a little catbird trying to fool you.'

"Maybe Prince understood. At any rate, he walked home with her, looking very much ashamed of himself, while the catbird, with a rollicking hoot, flew away."

SEVEN INNINGS ENOUGH TO BEAT THE ARROW A. C.

Scoring nine runs in the first two innings and sprinkling in more counters on several occasions thereafter, the Laurel A. C. ballists had little trouble in disposing of the Arrow A. C. contingent on Parker Field yesterday, the final score being 16 to 7.

Heavy hitting and ragged fielding on the part of the losers gave the Laurels an opportunity to score runs almost at will. Davidson, the losing twirler, was erratic all the way, walking eleven men and hitting one.

Knabe Shows How to Hold the Bat In Executing Successful Stick Work

KNABE, the heavy hitting second baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, says that the secret of a ball player's success with the willow lies in swinging at the ball with the bat held in a straight line. The handle and the heavy end of the bat should be carried forward to meet the ball on as near a level with each other as possible.

When the heavy end of the bat is dropped lower than the handle the chances of missing the ball or fowling are multiplied.

In the accompanying illustration Knabe is shown holding a bat in the effective style used by many of the leading batters, Ty Cobb, Hans Wagner and Napoleon Lajoie always swing at the ball with the bat on approximately a straight line. Experience has taught them the wisdom of so doing.

CURTAILING GRAND CIRCUIT.

Talk of Dropping New York and Three Other Cities From Racing.

There is talk of sweeping changes in the makeup of the grand circuit The dropping of four cities from the circuit is likely to be considered at the annual meeting of the board of stewards.

Grand Rapids, New York, Pittsburg and the Fort Erie meet across from Buffalo on the Canadian side are the meets that hang in the balance. The dropping of these meets would result in the circuit starting later in the season, and this would be welcomed by the horsemen.

BIG EASTERN FOOTBALL GAMES

Dates Announced For Notable Events of Season.

Dartmouth to Play the Carlisle Indians In New York City—West Point Especially Anxious to Defeat Navy Team—Season Opens Sept. 24.

For the first time in several seasons two of the best college elevens will clash at the Polo grounds, New York, when Dartmouth and the Carlisle Indians play on Saturday, Nov. 15, the same date that Yale and Princeton meet in their annual gridiron battle at New Haven. Dartmouth has risen steadily in the football world until the Green Mountain boys are just as formidable as the elevens of the Big Four.

Harvard has dropped Dartmouth this season principally because the New Hampshire team gave the Crimson too tough a battle on the eve of the Yale-Harvard game. Instead, Harvard has taken on Cornell, a team which will not give the Cambridge eleven so much trouble.

The season has many attractive features, and the games at Princeton, New Haven, and Cambridge are sure to attract large crowds. The first big game of the season will be played on Nov. 1, when Cornell meets Harvard at Soldiers field, in Cambridge.

On Nov. 8 Harvard will play Princeton in Jungletown, and on the following Saturday, Nov. 15, Yale and Princeton will play at New Haven. The Yale-Harvard game will be played at the Stadium, in Cambridge, on Nov. 22. On Thanksgiving day, the annual Cornell-Penn game will be played at Philadelphia. On the Saturday following this the Army and Navy classic will be played at Franklin field, and this game will mark the close of the football season.

Yale is the first of the big college teams to open the season, the Blue clashing with Wesleyan at New Haven on Wednesday, Sept. 24. The season will be in full blast on Saturday, Sept. 27, when all the big elevens will get under way, Yale playing Holy Cross, Harvard paying Maine, and Princeton clashing with Rutgers.

The West Point Team.

The Army team will also open the season on this date, playing Norwich at West Point. The Navy opens the season on the following Saturday, with the University of Pittsburgh. The Army, after several years of defeat by the Navy, is going to follow a new policy next season, and there are few hard games on the soldiers' schedule. A new feature of the Army's schedule will be a game on Nov. 1 with Notre Dame.

The Yale schedule this year is not especially hard, although the Eli's will get a hard preliminary tryout with such teams as Lafayette, Lehigh, Washington and Jefferson, and Brown. Harvard will have Cornell, Brown and Princeton as important opponents before the final game with Yale.

The Carlisle Indians, as usual, will have the toughest schedule of any of the college teams, and Glen Warner's eleven this season will be without the services of the great Jim Thorpe. The Indians play Cornell at Ithaca on Oct. 11, Pennsylvania on Oct. 25, Dartmouth at the Polo grounds on Nov. 15, and Brown at Providence on Thanksgiving day.

Pennsylvania has tried to schedule games with some of the large teams, but has not been able to interest Yale, Harvard or Princeton. Pennsylvania will play Dartmouth at Franklin field on Nov. 8, the same day that Harvard plays Princeton.

Each Saturday during the fall season will see all the teams in action, and with the rules in their present satisfactory shape, gridiron sages look for a very successful season. Last season's revision made the game as safe and sane as it is possible to make such a vigorous sport, and very few serious injuries or fatalities resulted.

PENROSE STARTS ANEW WAR TALK

Lively Senate Debate on Mexico Situation.

QUESTIONS HALE'S MISSION

Pennsylvania Senator Wants to Know if He Is Employed as Agent of the Government—Says He Will Address Senate Later.

Washington, Aug. 16.—It was made clearer than ever that there is a hair trigger situation in the senate with reference to Mexico. Talk of the dangers of war and the failure of the government to protect American lives and property south of the border was again heard in the senate chamber.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania stirred up the Mexican debate. Before it was over, however, Senators Bacon, Lodge, Poindexter and others had got into it.

Senator Penrose laid before the senate the facts in the case of Shirley C. Hulse, son-in-law of Lieutenant Governor Reynolds of Pennsylvania. Mr. Hulse, his wife and little daughter are menaced by a Mexican bandit force under General Mercado at the mining camp of Oquilla, 100 miles south of Chihuahua. Lieutenant Governor Reynolds has asked for their protection. The matter was called to the attention of Secretary Bryan, who is seeking to aid them.

Will Address the Senate.

Senator Penrose declared "things were getting pretty close to home" and added that in a few days he would address the senate on the Mexican situation and seek to find out why American citizens were not better protected. He added that he was perfectly willing to wait a few days and see whether "the mysterious mission" of Mr. Lind accomplished anything.

The Pennsylvania senator offered two resolutions. The first requested the president to inform the senate whether William Bayard Hale was employed as an agent of the government in Mexico and by whose instructions.

Senator Bacon demanded reference of this to the foreign relations committee. He declined to answer a question as to what Hale was doing.

Senator Penrose criticized Hale as strangely active" and declared he left Ardmore, a suburb of Philadelphia, about thirteen years ago under circumstances not necessary to describe.

Considers Hale "Dangerous."

"I consider him a most dangerous adviser," said Senator Penrose, "and if the administration is being guided by him the sooner his connection with the government is severed the better it will be for the unfortunate Americans residing in Mexico."

The senator had a newspaper article read consisting of a letter from a Mexican to Felix Diaz sharply criticising Hale's activities.

Senator Lodge charged that the Democrats were trying to treat the Mexican question as a party affair. His statement, made in bitter terms, followed a declaration by Senator Bacon that "force meant war."

Objections carried all the resolutions over for another day without reference to committee.

LIGHTNING'S HEAVY TOLL.

Thirty-seven Houses Hit by Electrical Storm In Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 16.—Ten buildings were struck by lightning in less than two hours, when the severest electrical storm of the year swept over the eastern portion of Wisconsin. No loss of life has been reported, but the property loss will reach thousands of dollars. Telephone and telegraph communication with cities in the interior of the state is cut off.

Oshkosh reported twenty-seven houses struck by lightning. One of the fire engines was struck by lightning while responding to an alarm.

Resolutions Start War Talk With Mexico In the Senate.

The Mexican situation flamed up in the senate again. Senator Penrose fanned the spark when he submitted two resolutions, one calling on the president and the state department for information as to the official status of William Bayard Hale, who is now in Mexico as the president's special representative, the other directing the secretary of state to send to the senate the reports of the consul at Durango, Mexico.

SOUTHWEST IN THROES OF GREAT HEAT WAVE

Three States Suffering From Water Famine.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 16.—How to get water from man and beast and how to save a little out of wrecked crops of corn and other late summer products presented Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma with an increasingly serious problem. It was the twelfth day of intense heat. Scattered showers during the night were ineffectual, and while half an inch of water fell at Topeka it was in restricted limits.

Cisterns are dry all over the country. Springs that never before were known to fail have ceased to flow. In many sections a good deep well is a gold mine. Long trains of tank cars supply several Oklahoma and western Kansas towns with all the water they get.

In a section of Seward county, Kansas, where no rain has fallen in two months, the few wells that still give water are surrounded by campers, families that have closed house and gone to tent near a water source.

Strange stories of heat pranks come from all parts of the country. From Alma, Kan., came a report, vouched for by one of the city fathers, that a woman in a moment of desperation, wishing to verify the old story, fried an egg in the sun on a flagstone before her door.

Fire which did nearly a thousand dollars' damage in the home of Dr. Theodore Kroesch at Enterprise, Kan., was attributed to the sun's rays shining through a lamp chimney in his study window upon papers on a desk.

By noon in most sections of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma the mercury was well on the way to the hundred mark.

St. Joseph, Mo., reports that farmers in that vicinity have given up hope of saving their corn and have found themselves confronted with dried up streams and wells and the necessity of driving their stock miles to water.

KILLS SELF WITH BABIES.

Beautiful Woman Takes Poison While Officer Waits With Warrant.

Crosby, Minn., Aug. 16.—With her two babies in her arms and a towel over her face to protect them from acid which she had taken, Mrs. Lola Blair, twenty-eight years old, an exceptionally beautiful woman, died here just after she had been served with a warrant for her arrest. The warrant, sworn out by Mrs. William Guith, wife of a local contractor, accused her of a statutory offense. Guith was arrested.

When a deputy sheriff went to the Blair home with the warrant Mrs. Blair asked time to pack a suit case. Permission being given, she went to her bedroom, took her babies in her arms and killed herself. She drank four ounces of poison. Before her marriage Mrs. Blair was known as one of Duluth's handsomest high school girls. She was married in 1904.

ALBANY BANK ROBBED.

Thief Thrusts Arm Through One of Paying Teller's Window.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—A stranger walked into the New York State National bank about noon, thrust his arm through one of the paying tellers' windows, grabbed bills aggregating $879 and rushed out into the crowded State street, where he was lost to view before the astonished teller could give an alarm.

A young woman who was transacting business at another window witnessed the robbery.

The Order of Railroad Telegraphers gained 872 new members in June.

San Francisco will have no Labor Day parade this year.

DO YOU READ ADVERTISEMENTS?

Do you?

The question is one of exceptional importance.

It has so many intensely interesting angles.

Advertisements themselves constitute a class of literature that daily commands world-wide attention.

Think of the number of daily newspapers there are in North America.

Think of the dollars spent daily in advertising.

Think of the enterprises that are behind the advertising in the daily papers; the millions of dollars invested; the countless number of employes; the enormous number of shoppers—more than 10,000,000 each day!

Would all this exist if advertising were not an element of colossal power?

Take THE PRESS for instance.

Look at the advertisements.

Note the daily message to an appreciative public.

Observe how the advertisers aim to obtain your patronage.

Reflect what must stand behind good advertising.

Integrity of character; good store service; stocks of merit; stocks comprehensive enough to meet a varied daily public demand. Proper and effective stock displays.

These are the spokes in a gigantic commercial wheel.

So when you read the advertisements in THE PRESS give this subject some thought, and you will have a better appreciation of the power and purpose of advertising.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

Over 300,000 women are engaged in the profession of teaching in the United States.

The annual convention of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor will meet in Frederick, Md., August 25.

Petitions are being circulated in Arizona to initiate a law excluding all but English-speaking workmen from the mines of Arizona.

In New Zealand every man out of work has the right to demand employment upon works of public improvement at the prevailing rate of wages.

In the past thirty-three years the Cigarmakers' International Union has paid out a total of over $10,000,000 in sick, death and out-of-work benefits.

The workmen's compensation act, of the State of Washington, has been declared constitutional by the United States district court for the Western district of Washington.

During the last fiscal year the various unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor paid out in benefits all told, exclusive of strike benefits, $2,757,162.

The annual reports submitted by the officers of the International Typographical Union to the recent convention in Nashville show that the organization now has a larger membership than ever before.

An ordinance has been introduced in the City Council of La Crosse, Wis., which provides that any motorman going to work on the street railway shall have 24 days' experience under a competent motorman.

As a result of negotiations between the employers in union shops and officials of the Bradford, England, branch of the Amalgamated Society of Tailors, the wages of workmen have been advanced 5 per cent, and a further increase of 5 per cent is to be made at the beginning of October.

Returns on the strike vote being taken by telegraph operators of the Northern Pacific railway indicate that between 90 and 95 per cent favor striking, according to the statement of union officials. The men are asking increased wages and improved working conditions. No action will be taken by the operators until final results are received.

Indianapolis lays claim to the distinction of being the greatest centre of organized labor in America. At the present time it has the national or international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, International Union of Journeymen Barbers, Masons' International Union, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Journeymen Stonecutters' Association of North America International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, International Typographical Union, National Union of Sawsmiths, and the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

TRINITY HAD NO NIGHT PREACHER

Auto Accident Kept Dr. Gowan From Reaching Plainfield In Time For Service.

CARS BADLY DAMAGED

Had Preached In Morning and Returned to Weehawken For Wedding—Coming Back Auto Was Side-Swiped In Linden.

A large congregation gathered for the union service held at Trinity Reformed church, last night, and were greatly disappointed at the failure of Rev. Dr. I. W. Gowen, of Weehawken, to appear. Rev. E. G. Reade, of this city, conducted the devotional exercises in the absence of the scheduled preacher.

After preaching at Trinity church, yesterday morning, Dr. Gowen returned to Weehawken to officiate at a wedding. The return trip to this city was being made by automobile, by way of Elizabeth and Rahway. While passing along St. George avenue, Linden, about 6:30 o'clock, at a high rate of speed in order to make this city in sufficient time for Dr. Gowen to preach at the union service, the chauffeur was signalled by a Linden officer. The signal, however, was not heeded, and in making a quick turn into Roselle Park road the car was sideswiped by an automobile traveling from Perth Amboy in the opposite direction, knocking wheels from both vehicles and rendering other damages, making it impossible for further use in coming to this city. The driver of the Perth Amboy car held up Dr. Gowen further by threatening to compel him to stand for the damages sustained by his machine. From reports received in this city this morning, no one was hurt. Dr. Gowen was unable to get into communication with the officials of Trinity church until after 8:30 last night, when it was too late to secure another preacher for the service.

CANDIDATE TO SPEAK AT OPEN-AIR MEETING

Edmund B. Osborne Will Tell "How to Reduce the High Cost of Living."

Edward B. Osborne, candidate for the Progressive nomination for governor at the primaries next month, will speak at a meeting which will be held at Front street and Madison avenue tomorrow evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Osborne, who comes from Montclair, will tell "How to Reduce the High Cost of Living," and will be accompanied by State Assessor George L. Record and James G. Blauvelt.

Mr Osborne favors the abolition of taxes from everything but real estate, the government of railroads, abolition of patent monotony and a reform of the currency and banking laws, which he will outline at tomorrow night's meeting. Mr. Osborne early became interested in the New Idea movement in the Republican party and was elected president of the Progressive Republican League of New Jersey in 1910. He was nominated for the assembly last fall after declining to run for Congress, and polled the highest vote of any Progressive running in Essex county, except Colonel Roosevelt.

FUNERAL OF JAMES A. HARNED IS HELD

Miss Margaret Vail Speaks Impressively of Life of the Departed.

The funeral service of James A. Harned, aged 53 years, a former well-known resident of this city, who died at Baltimore on Wednesday last, was held Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at the Friends meeting house, on Watchung avenue. There was a large attendance of Friends, who knew Mr. Harned when he lived here. Miss Margaret Vail was one of the speakers at the services, referring to the life of the departed and the importance of being ready for the last summons. The burial was in the cemetery back of the meeting house.

The deceased, who was the grandson of the late Ephraim Harned, of Green Brook, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Harned, is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Helen Rogers, and two sons, Irving and Edward, all of whom reside at the family home in Southbury, Conn. He is also survived by a brother, Edgar Harned, of Nebraska, and three cousins in this vicinity, who are the Misses Margaret and Sarah Vail, of East Front street, and Edgar Vail, of New Market. He was a brother of Edward Harned, who kept the Harned Academy, on Park avenue, now the Cedarcroft. The latter met his death in being struck by falling timber during a heavy storm, August 20, 1893, at Atlantic Highlands.

Mr. Harned for years kept the boarding house at 19 Craig place, removing from this city ten years ago.

F. E. QUIPP TO GET A CARNEGIE MEDAL

Heroic Effort In Saving Woman From Drowning to Be Recognized.

Fred E. Quipp, of Clinton avenue, who is a foreman at the Aeolian Works, Garwood, received word today, that for heroic services in rescuing two women from drowning at Asbury Park, he would receive a Carnegie medal. The incident occurred while Mr. Quipp was spending his vacation at the seashore about a week ago. He was in bathing, when his attention was directed to two women who had gotten beyond the danger point while there was a strong undertow.

Mr. Quipp lost no time in going after the women, and the fact that he is a good swimmer proved a valuable aid to him in his successful efforts to save the two lives. When the women were brought to shore they were exhausted and it was sometime before they were revived. Mr. Quipp in speaking of the affair, displayed marked modesty, explaining that he did no more than anyone else would under the circumstances. The incident had almost passed from his mind when today he reiceived the letter informing him that he soon would get a Carnegie medal.

REV. A. E. FINN GREETED BY LARGE CONGREGATION

Rev. A. E. Finn, of Rochester, Pa., formerly pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, of this city, preached yesterday morning at that church before a large congregation, taking as his text, John 12:32, "And I, if I be lifted up will draw all men unto me."

Mr. Finn referred throughout his discourse to the development of men, the social and religious progress that has been made through the agency of Christianity. He referred especially to the improvement of the social and industrial conditions in China and Japan because of the entry of the religion of Jesus Christ into those countries. "Nature and history," said Mr. Finn, "proves conclusively that without the 'lifting up' of men and substance, their usefulness diminishes."

FIRE DID LITTLE DAMAGE.

SENATOR MARTINE FAVORS FIELDER

Says He Is Logical Candidate For Governorship In Democratic Party.

WAS 1ST FOR WITTPENN

In Characteristic Statement Plainfielder Swears Allegiance to Governor for Party Nomination Next Month and Praises His Record.

Washington, Aug. 18—United States Senator James E. Martine, who was one of the first to champion the Wittpenn cause, now declares that Governor Fielder is the logical candidate for the Democrats to nominate for governor. At his Washington offices today he authorized the following statement to the people of New Jersey:

"The political situation in New Jersey has developed to a point where every Democrat may clearly and easily see and do his duty. Acting Governor Fielder is, in my judgment, the man whose nomination will bring certain victory in November, and the man whose election will mean an administration satisfactory alike to the Democratic party and the people of the splendid old State of New Jersey.

"I have known Governor Fielder all through his public career. I knew him as a young man before he entered public life. I knew his splendid father before him. While I love and honor many men, there is none in whom I have greater confidence or for whom I feel a warmer affection. I know he will do honor to the party I love. I know he will do justice to the people of the State I love.

"Governor Fielder's long record in both houses of the legislature is not only one unimpeachable in purpose, but is filled with acts in the interest of mankind. The Democratic party of New Jersey is familiar with his record and will triumphantly nominate him in September, and I believe that he will be overwhelmingly elected in November. I trust every loyal friend I have in grand old New Jersey will not only vote but will work for the nomination of that lovable character, Jim Fielder."

"SPEED POCKET" NETS OVER $300

Rahway Police Arrest Many Autoists, Including a Pennsylvania Congressman.

The establishment of a "speed pocket" on St. Georges avenue, Rahway, yesterday, bore fruitful results, more than $300 in fines being collected from between thirty and thirty-five speeding automobilists going to and from the seashore. The pocket was located at an advantageous point on the one-eighth of a mile stretch of Amiesite, which has been a favorite place for speeding.

The police was accompanied by an automobile inspector, who saw that the law was being violated and then followed it up with an arrest. Among those caught in the net was a Congressman from Pennsylvania, who, despite a vigorous kick was obliged to part with $13.50, including a $10 fine and the costs of the court.

The police officials timed the autoists and one party was found to be traveling at a speed of over sixty miles an hour, while the majority were charged with running between forty and fifty miles an hour. The activity of the police was the result of numerous complaints made to them by the residents of St. Georges avenue.

CRAP PLAYER AND DRUNKS UP IN BOROUGH COURT

Another crap game held on Myrtle avenue was raided on Saturday by the borough police, but only one of the culprits, James Kelley, was apprehended. He was given a hearing this morning before Mayor Clark, who reprimanded him and suspended sentence.

Julius Barick, Edward Bremmer and Charles Bremble, were arrested early yesterday and were arraigned on the charge of being drunk. Barick and Bremble, who were also charged with being disorderly, were fined $5 and $3 respectively, while Bremmer was released under a suspended sentence.

ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING.

Edward Waring, of 900 Park avenue, was arrested yesterday on West Seventh street by Patrolman Welch, charged with driving his automobile along that thoroughfare at a rate of speed in excess of that allowed by law. He will be arraigned late this afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the City Court.

MOSQUITO FIGHT IN UNION COUNTY

Artistic Effects Do Not Figure In War Being Waged to Exterminate the Pest.

ROUTINE OF CAMPAIGN

Inspectors' Duties and Some Notable Examples of Their Efforts to Wipe Out the Insect—Breeding Spots in Union County.

Artistic effects are not factors in the work of mosquito extermination being done by the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission. Instead, the endeavor is an efficiency test in destroying some of nature's most time-honored feature which a study of extermination has taught are the natural haunts and breeding places of the summer pest. This does not mean that nature's charms are despoiled. On the contrary, they are improved, just as medical science assists in the correction of a disordered physical system.

To successfully cope with the breeding places requires special training which combines the skill of a civil engineer, a knowledge of geology, entomology and botany, the hardihood of a woodsman, the tact and diplomacy of a politician resourcefulness of a detective, activity of a fire man and tenacity of a policeman. These observations were made by a reporter and photographer while on a tour of the county with Chief Inspector Gies. Every kind of service being performed by the commission's employes was inspected.

The work now well advanced through the activities of the present season includes driving deep ditches under most difficult conditions to drain woodland pools and carry the tide water off the acres of salt marsh meadows, the filling in of evil-smelling swamps fouled by cattle, forcing builders and contractors to prevent accumulation of rain water in excavations around new buildings and compelling property owners to abate all possible breeding places caused by cesspools, sewer drains, rain barrels, cisterns and other receptacles, such as pails, tin cans and broken bottles.

There is nothing very picturesque in any of this work, but Mr. Gies said that theoretically the system now in force in the county is perfect. The county is divided into six districts, and in each there are inspectors who are held to strict account for their territory. In this way every residence in the county is visited once every twelve days. Each day 2,500 house-to-house inspections are made in the county. Up to August 1 more than 175,000 had been made.

In the same length of time all undrained swamps and pools are inspected and well oiled. Breeding is being found constantly, but the inspectors usually get around and destroy the larvae before it matures and eliminate the pest spot either by oiling it, or, if it happens to be a rain barrel, upsetting it. The scarcity of mosquitoes this year as compared to a few years ago is proof of the efficiency of this continued surveillance, Mr. Gies claims.

A gang of men cleaning the brook crossing North avenue, near former Senator Kean's home, Ursino, in Elizabeth, was visited and the first active operations were inspected. With his little machine Mr. Gies said he frequently transports a gang of from four to seven laborers from place to place with their implements when he finds a condition that requires immediate attention.

In Summit it was shown that an unusually large number of breeding places have been put out of commission, including a barnyard pool on the estate of F. Humphreys, the famous homeopathic medicine man, nine woodland pools and numerous rain barrels.

Returning through Springfield and Union Township and passing through El Mora and Roselle Park, a great number of small jobs were found to be either just completed or under way. In fact, the inspection trip showed on every hand the evidences of the efficient work of the inspectors in making permanent the destruction of breeding places.

In Cranford the first actual loss of money through the activities of the commission was encountered. A druggist made the assertion that prior to the existence of the mosquito extermination commission, he sold on an average of twenty-five gallons of oil of citronella in a season. His sales to date this season have been less than a gallon of citronella, which has the faculty of warding off the winged tormentors.

On the journey it was noted that very few porches were screened as compared with the number enclosed in former years, and in many instances where the verandas were screened it was learned that the residents sit there evenings with a light. The screens therefore are mostly to prevent annoyance from insects other

WROTE HIS SISTER BEFORE FATALITY

Miss Jennie Murray Received Letter From Her Brother Mailed Day He Drowned.

WAS COMING EAST

Young Man Had Been Working at Watertown, Wis., Two Weeks—Remains Expected to Arrive Here Within a Few Days.

Robert Murray, of this city, whose son, Robert J. Murray, was drowned at Watertown, Wis., last Friday night, has thus far received no details of the accident, but is anxiously awaiting to receive some word from his uncle, James R. Murray, of Bloomington, Ill., who left on Saturday for Watertown to take charge of the remains and have them sent to Plainfield.

Mr. Murray's daughter, Miss Jennie Murray, of this city, received a letter this morning from her brother, which was written Thursday night and mailed at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning. It was written at the Washington Hotel, Watertown, where Mr. Murray had been stopping for the past two weeks, having gone to that place from Milwaukee for the electrical concern by whom he was employed. The letter read as follows:

"Dear Sister—I received your letter some days ago. Yes, I do expect to come back east as far as Pittsburgh about October 1, after I see uncle James. May stay there for a week. I'm working in this town for the same company in one of their sub-stations. This will keep me in this town until I leave for Bloomington, Ill., about September 20. Watertown is about fifty miles west of Milwaukee and the population is about six thousand or more, a great farming district all around. Trusting you are all well and to hear from you soon, I send best wishes. Robert."

Mr. Murray is of the opinion that his son had gone out to take a swim last Friday night after finishing his day's work and may have been taken with cramps and thus lost his life. Whether he was a good swimmer is not known. It is presumed he was accompanied by some companions, but they may not have even had an opportunity to rescue him. Mr. Murray is looking for a letter from his uncle giving full particulars about the sad affair, and also explaining about arrangements for sending the remains here. It is possible that the uncle may come to Plainfield.

FRANCIS J. BLATZ NOT A CANDIDATE

Surprised When Acquainted With a Rumor Published While He Was Away.

A rumor published in another paper to the effect that Francis J. Blatz, of the law firm of Codington & Blatz, would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the city judgeship this fall, is entirely without foundation, according to a statement Mr. Blatz made to a Daily Press reporter this morning. Mr. Blatz spent the week-end with his family at Asbury Park and the first he heard of the campaign that had been partially launched in his behalf and without his endorsement, was when a friend approached him on the subject at the beach yesterday.

Mr. Blatz said that he thought that William N. Runyon had been induced to run for the Republican nomination and that he had been considering the matter. Mr. Blatz has been a member of the local Common Council since last fall and represents the Fourth Ward. Two years ago Mr. Blatz ran for the judgeship nomination on the Republican ticket but was defeated by William G. DeMeza who afterwards was elected to the bench.

JOHN P. OWENS WOULD LIKE TO BE CITY JUDGE

Petitions endorsing John P. Owens for the Democratic nomination for city judge have been circulated throughout the West End for the past two or three days. A number of signatures have already been secured. Mr. Owens was appointed by the small Board of Freeholders earlier in the year as County Attorney, but never took the office owing to the large board being retained under a decision of the courts.

CHIMNEY FIRE IN BOROUGH.

The borough fire department was called out yesterday afternoon by a still alarm to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of William D. Larabee, of Willow avenue. Chemicals were used to put out the blaze.

THOUSANDS ATTEND FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Playground Commission to Get Half of Saturday Night's Receipts for Band Concerts.

Thousands of local people weent to Parker Field Saturday night to enjoy the band concert and witness the pyrotechnic display held under the auspices of the Italian Sick and Benefit Society of Plainfield in celebration of the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel. Many made the trip to the local recreation centre by automobile and machines were "lined up" three deep along Randolph road from Park avenue, eastward over 300 yards. The grandstand in the field was crowded and many stood or sat about the field.

The concert was given by the Roma band of Hoboken, led by Prof. Anthony Lambaise. The program follows "Here Comes My Daddy Now"; overture, "Festa," by Phillips; "Potpourri," "Traviata," by G. Verdi, "Fantasia," Faust, by Gounod; "Italian Tug-of-War," Tripoli, by Lambaise; "Grand Concert," Rigoletto, by F. S. Fiocco; "In My Harem," by Irving Berlin; "Italian and American Popular Songs," by Lambiase.

One half of the proceeds of the event will be donated to the Playground Commission, which will devote the money toward giving free public concerts on Sunday afternoons.

The committee who arranged the affair comprises the officers of the society, who are: President, F. S. Trivigno; vice-president, Salvator Venezia; secretary, R. D. Matthews, and treasurer, Dominick Peretti.

BUT J. BART MURPHY FAILED TO APPEAR

Girl Came All the Way From Bridgeton Expecting Him to Meet Her.

With dreams of meeting the man of her choice—probably of marital happiness—a young woman said to be Miss Grace Woltote of Bridgeton, N. J., came to Plainfield Saturday night. At the North avenue station she expected to meet J. Bart Murphy, of Dunellen. J. Bart was to wear a blue serge suit, a red tie and said in a love letter to the girl that he would have a white handkerchief peeking from the upper pocket of his coat. In the same missive to the Bridgeton girl, J. Bart said he was of medium height, was a brunette, athletically built and was looking for a wife.

It may here be explained that the adventurous Grace had never met Mr. Murphy, although she had been carrying on a "flirtation-by-mail" with him for several months and is said to have loved him, because of his adaptness at writing the kind of letters girls like to read and because Miss Woltote thought that fate had willed that she meet young Murphy.

Fate did play a part in the acquaintanceship of the couple. Grace went to Bellewood Park one time and following an old practice, wrote her name and address on a table which was situated in the wooded part of the resort. Not long after, J. Bart Murphy—he is no relation to the Murphy of Tammany fame—also went to Bellewood Park. He noticed the girl's name and address, wrote it down in his note book and soon after sent a letter to her. He told Miss Woltote that he would like to see her some day. Other letters followed and Grace and J. Bart wrote frequently to each other.

The last communication that Grace received informed her that Murphy could not stand to be kept from her any longer. That he wanted to conquer the barrier that lay between them. He wrote for Grace to come to Plainfield.

Saturday night Miss Woltote journeyed by train to this city. The railroad fare consumed every cent she had with her, but she boarded the train, confident that J. Bart would take good care of her. Grace landed here shortly after 9 o'clock. She looked all over for the man she had carried on a "mail flirtation" with. She asked several of the handsomest fellows that were waiting for trains, if their names were J. Bart Murphy, but all smiled and said they were not. Miss Woltote looked in vain for a glaring red tie, a handsome youth with a blue suit and a handkerchief protruding from the upper side pocket of the coat.

Scared, and realizing that she had been fooled, the Bridgeton girl found herself in a very embarrassing predicament. She began to cry, but brushing the tears away she applied to a policeman for aid. The latter took the girl to headquarters. Police Chief Kiely, after hearing the girl's story, notified the local Y. W. C. A., who housed the girl for the night and gave her money yesterday morning for which to buy a railroad ticket back to Bridgeton.

SHOT GUN FOR BILL COLLECTOR

Piscataway Township Resident Gave Local Grocery Man Hot Reception.

DENCKLAU VS. CASHIN

According to Story Told By Cashin, Assailant Assaulted Him With Fists and Then Fired Shot Gun at His Fleeing Form.

When Frank C. Cashin, of East Sixth street, collector for Daley Brothers, grocers, attempted to collect an account Saturday afternoon, at the home of Harry Dencklau, of Foster avenue, Piscataway Township, he received a warm reception, in the form of upper-cuts to the jaw and swings to the solar plexus. And as a grand finale to the assault, Dencklau is said to have grabbed a shot-gun and fired several times at Cashin, who fled across fields and highways to safety.

It is probable that Cashin will lodge a complaint against his assailant.

Cashin drives a horse and wagon for his employes and besides delivering groceries, makes collections as well. According to Daley Brothers, he requested Dencklau to pay the amount of an invoice that had been unpaid for several weeks. Cashin says Dencklau started to call him names and then assaulted him with his fists. A fistic argument was culminated when, it is said, Dencklau cried out, "I'll blow your brains out unless you get out of here."

With this threat, Dencklau is said to have grabbed a loaded gun and fired several shots at Cashin's fleeing form. The collector had left the horse and wagon standing in the street as he ran in an opposite direction to escape the bullets which he said whizzed past his head. Later he returned with stealthy steps to the place he had left the horse. It was not there. He found the equine several blocks away, however, after searching the neighborhood.

AUTOMOBILE SKIDS, CRASHES INTO POLE

P. A. Paroubek and Party Have Narrow Escape from Serious Injury.

An automobile owned and driven by B. A. Paroubek, of Watchung avenue, the borough, skidded on the slippery pavement at Somerset street and Greenbrook road, late yesterday afternoon and crashed into a telephone pole nearby. The front of the car was wrecked, and the crank put out of commission. The car collided with the pole with such force that the latter was thrown several inches out of plumb.

In the car beside Mr. Paroubek was his wife and her sister and Ida Randolph Smalley, of this city, and E. C. Cleveland, of Newark. All were severely shaken up and Mr. Cleveland sustained an injury to his knee, requiring medical attention. Another conveyance was secured and the party taken home and the disabled automobile was taken to a garage for repairs.

THIEVES TRIED TO STARVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD JUSTICE

A pair of hungry thieves, presumably a pair because there was more loot than one could ever think of eating at one time, obtained entrance to Justice Patrick F. Kaine's provision cellar Saturday night and got away with the South Plainfield executive's supply of eatables for Sunday. Good things of every description were taken by the miscreants and they left no trace by which their identity could be fixed.

Mr. Kaine was placed in an embarrassing position as the result of the incident as the South Plainfield storekeepers adhere strictly to the Blue Laws and entertain the weekly day of rest with strict observance. Rather than see the justice go hungry for a period of twenty-four hours, however, his obliging neighbors supplied Mr. Kaine with enough food to keep himself and family over the week-end.

WARRANT OUT FOR MISSING BANKER

Smith Charged With Looting Roseville Trust Company.

DETECTIVES ARE ON TRAIL

It Was Reported That He Intended to Go to Boston, Where He Hoped to Embark For Foreign Port—Depositor Blames Officers and Directors.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 18.—William Odell, president of the Roseville Trust company, the doors of which were closed Thursday when state bank examiners discovered a shortage of about $200,000 in the bank's funds, went to the First criminal court and swore out a warrant charging Raymond E. Smith, the missing treasurer, with having embezzled $50,000 on Oct. 22, 1912, and subsequent dates.

Mr. Odell told the court clerk, Richard Rooney, who took the complaint, that the amount of the bank's funds with which Smith had made away was much greater than the figures set forth in the complaint. The $50,000, he said, was sufficient for the purposes of arrest, however, and the main concern of the bank's officials at this time was to get Smith under lock and key.

At headquarters it was reported that the detectives who discovered Smith's whereabouts learned that he intended to go to Boston, where he hoped to be able to board a ship bound for some foreign port.

Clifford F. MacEvoy, who had about $18,000 on deposit in the bank and as the largest depositor was made chairman of the depositors' committee, spent several hours looking over the bank's paper with the state examiners. What he learned of the bank's affairs and the methods of business employed by the officers led him to make this remark:

"The officers and directors have grossly mismanaged the funds and neglected their duties and, as far as I have been able to learn, they are quite as responsible for the shortage of funds as Smith himself. And I have every anticipation that we shall be able to hold them responsible."

HURT AS MOTORBOAT BURNS

Youth Fears to Jump Into Water When Gasoline Is Ignited.

Lake Hopatcong, N. J., Aug. 18.—Afraid to jump, fearing he could not swim in the choppy waves, Edward Stockwell, the eighteen-year-old son of William Stockwell of East Orange, narrowly missed being burned to death when his high powered motorboat took fire in the middle of the lake.

Stockwell, when off Great Cove, started to fill the gasoline tank, which had been leaking. He held a lamp in his hand, and the vapor of the gasoline ignited, the blaze spreading along the bottom of the boat. The woodwork soon caught fire, and Stockwell was hemmed in by the blaze. He tried to put out the fire with a hand extinguisher, but without success. The blaze attracted other craft, and Stockwell, already badly burned, jumped and was picked up by a rowboat.

FREE MOVIES IN JERSEY CITY.

Show Takes Place of Park Concerts and Delights Public.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 18.—Free moving pictures are being exhibited weekly in the public parks of this city, the innovation being the idea of City Commissioner Harry A. Moore, director of the public parks.

Six thousand people watched the movies in Paulus Hook park on Friday night. The cost of the exhibition is met by the city. It is planned to give similar exhibitions in the other parks. The moving pictures take the place of concerts for which the city makes an annual appropriation.

CHEWS CHIN OF PEACEMAKER.

Policeman Also Bitten Severely Before They Subdue Man.

Metuchen, N. J., Aug. 18.—Aaron Carda of New Brunswick is locked in the Middlesex county jail in default of $200 bail on charges of mayhem. Carda got into a fight and Staats Jeffries attempted to act as peacemaker, when Carda turned on him and almost bit his chin off.

He had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. Policemen were also bitten severely before they subdued Carda.

Farmer Dragged by His Team.

Gloucester, N. J., Aug. 18.—Harry Firth, a farmer living near Blackwood, was painfully injured about the face and scalp when he was dragged by his team. His team was standing at the corner of Mercer street and Broadway, and the horses becoming frightened started off, and when he attempted stop them he was dragged a considerable distance. He was taken to Cooper hospital.

Philadelphia Girl Bride of Chinaman.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 18.—Moy Wood, the Chinese who obtained a license here to marry a white woman, Frances Cooper of Philadelphia, did not use the paper. Instead the pair went to Elkton, Md., where the marriage was performed.

Energetic Frenchwomen.

Essentially a home maker and home keeper, a mother and a devoted wife, the Frenchwoman has nevertheless always enjoyed a certain economic independence which her Anglo-Saxon sisters have not known. A large proportion of French girls are self supporting and remain so after marriage. When they do not earn a living they have their dot and pay their personal expenses from it. This has made them peculiarly self reliant, says "France From Within."

It is rarely indeed that one sees in France the helpless, incompetent woman who can turn her hand to nothing, having never learned to do one single thing well. Adaptable and energetic, the Frenchwoman can do most things in the most efficient manner possible. Her knowledge is never scrappy, and what she knows she knows consummately.

One Way to Make a Living.

In the vicinity of the London docks there is a man who makes money whenever he wants it by a crafty ruse. He fills an old port wine bottle nearly up to the neck with water, then he pushes an old cork down the neck until it meets the water. The small space above is filled with good port wine at a cost of about sixpence, and a cork is gently placed in the top. He soon finds a flat on the streets who after sampling the wine is willing to forfeit a few shillings for the bottle, whereupon the sharper speedily vanishes before the deception is discovered.—Sheffield Telegraph.

A Weird Race.

A theatrical man happened to strike a small town in the northern part of the state of New York lately.

"So you're in the theater business?" said the proprietor of the little hotel where Kingsley stopped. "Well, all I've got to say is that you troupers certainly are a funny lot. Thirty-two of them minstrel fellows stopped over with me last week, and all of them was named Cull but one, and his name was Props."—Saturday Evening Post.

RICH MAN'S DEATH BURIED IN MYSTERY

John McAlpine's Body Found With Bullet Wound In Head.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 18.—Every effort is being made by the police to unravel the mystery of the death of John McAlpine, a wealthy lumberman, who was found shot to death in the basement of his home in the fashionable east end district.

The police are trying to determine whether murder was committed. The wound in Mr. McAlpine's head is about an inch above the ear. It is not such a wound as would ordinarily be caused in suicide, and the lack of powder marks indicates that the shot was not fired from a point close to the head.

The authorities declare they are at sea because they did not learn that a shooting had occurred until the body had been removed from the basement. A revolver was found under the basement steps.

On the determination of the question of suicide will rest the payment of $140,000 in accident policies held by Mr. McAlpine. Policies amounting to $65,000 are straight life and are not contestable.

Mr. McAlpine arrived home about midnight. Others in the house at the time were Mrs. McAlpine, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McAlpine and a maid. John McAlpine was seated at a table about 1 o'clock when Mrs. McAlpine asked him why he did not retire.

"I am waiting for the 'kids' to come in," he replied, referring to Dale McAlpine and his wife.

Mrs. McAlpine missed her husband nearly two hours later and called Dale, who went to the basement and found John McAlpine dead on the floor.

CROWD WOULD LYNCH NEGRO

Angered by Alleged Assault on White Man In New Rochelle.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Edward Frick, twenty-one years old, is in the hospital with fourteen stab wounds in the body received in a fight with Edward Ford, a negro. Ford came near being lynched before he was landed in a cell. Frick's condition is serious. According to the story told by Frick, he and two friends were standing at a corner when two negro women came along. A short distance from them stood Ford. Ford says that Frick made an insulting remark to the women and he took Frick to account for it. Suddenly Frick fell to the sidewalk. Ford ran, but a policeman caught him.

A crowd gathered and tried to take the prisoner from the policeman, threatening lynching. The policeman fought the crowd off. Frick says Ford attacked him with a pocket knife. Ford said Frick received his injuries in the scuffle for the possession of the knife.

SULZER CONFERS ON LAWSON BID

Offers to Finance Fight on Tammany, With Others.

THREATS SENT BY WIRE.

Friends of Impeached Executive Get Warning by Telephone of Dire Things That May Come to Them—Question of Who Is Governor Remains as Deep a Puzzle as Ever.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18.—One of the most important conferences since Governor Sulzer was impeached was held last night between the governor, Judge D-Cady Herrick and Judge Lynn J. Arnold. The meeting was in the executive mansion.

It was understood that the matter of discussion was the question of how best to arrange the Sulzer defense forces in view of the offer of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston to finance the fight against Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader.

The Sulzer forces were also greatly perturbed by threats against prominent members of their camp, which it was learned had been resorted to. Details on those threats were withheld, but it is known that anonymous threats were made over the telephone to the more prominent Sulzer men.

Lining Up For Fight.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The conflict of authority between "Governor" Sulzer and "Governor" Glynn remains in statu quo, while each has begun to line up his forces for the real fight.

On the Glynn side of the fence it developed that Attorney General Carmody was prepared to give his official opinion Glynn was acting governor.

On the Sulzer side financial interest, represented by such men as Thomas W. Lawson, Lynn J. Arnold, Stephen C. Clark and Edward Clark, came to the impeached executive's support with a plan for forming a national committee of defense for the governor.

Glynn Seems to Gain.

Glynn seems to have gained weight with his letter whereby he put upon Sulzer the burden of proof. Glynn has been gaining steadily, though slowly, by every little development in the official business of the state.

D-Cady Herrick, Sulzer's personal counsel, conferred with the governor for a long time, after which a Sulzer answer to the Glynn letter was issued from the executive chamber explaining that the Sulzer proposition of going to court was advanced for the sole purpose of avoiding future litigation over what Sulzer called "your acts and mine" pending the sitting of the impeachment court.

The trustees of public buildings, an organization which consists of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the assembly, is scheduled to hold a meeting to open bids for the $300,000 marble work to repair the burned part of the capitol. In the plans for this meeting Glynn gained headway.

According to law the trustees of public buildings must meet in the executive chamber, but they have the power and duty of designating the rooms in the capitol and other state buildings which are to be occupied by the different officials of the state.

New Executive Chamber.

Glynn will not sit in the capacity of lieutenant governor with Sulzer as governor at this meeting, and Speaker Smith will stand with Glynn. As Senator Robert F. Wagner, president pro tem. of the senate, has according to the Tammany point of view, become acting lieutenant governor since Glynn became acting governor, the meeting of the trustees of public buildings will be a meeting at which Glynn, Smith and Wagner will sit.

The first business they will attend to will be to designate the large room now occupied by John H. Delaney, head of the department of efficiency and economy, as the executive chamber. They will then proceed to call their meeting to order in that chamber to open bids on the marble work.

BANDIT ROBS PULLMAN.

Holds Up Four Passengers at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 18.—A bandit who boarded a St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train known as the Meteor at the Union station here held up four passengers on a Pullman car and escaped by jumping after the train left the station.

The bandit had purchased tickets and entered the train as a regular passenger. The train was scarcely beyond the city limits when the man at pistol point took $100 from the other Pullman passengers. He probably had planned to enter other coaches, but on discovering that one of the passengers at the end of the car had disappeared he backed out of the coach fired a shot in the air and jumped to the ground.

$27,000,000 Dam to Be Opened.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 18.—The $27,000,000 water power development dam new government lock and dry dock in the Mississippi river at this point will be opened on Aug. 28. The previous day will be devoted to the reception of governors from many states, and on the three following days there will be power boat races.

WHAT DOES THE PUBLIC WANT?

With the opening of a number of the New York playhouses tonight, and others soon to follow, the theatrical season of 1913-14 has begun in earnest. The thespians who have "signed up" are happy that an end has come to "our summer of discontent." But many of the prominent players and virtually all of the managers are viewing the prospect with feelings of doubt. Last season was a poor one from a financial viewpoint and it is feared that the season about to begin may be worse. Evidence of the general feeling that prevails in the "profession" is afforded by the fact that numerous acts and actresses whose names never appear except in the largest type have spent nearly all of this summer touring the Pacific coast and western Canada or appearing in stock companies in various cities and resorts. They have passed up their customary vacations in order to recoup their losses of last year or to fatten their pocketbooks in anticipation of a lean year to come.

The "movies" are blamed in large part for the hard times that have come to the actors. Many of the critics, however, attribute the situation to the changing taste of the public and the failure of the producers to rightly interpret the public pulse. To use a popular phrase, the managers are "up in the air" as to just what the public desires in the way of theatrical entertainment. The old-time melodrama is dead, the plays of the higher order fail to draw as in days of old, and even the musical shows appear to be on the wane. Some of the big managers are pinning their faith to elaborate musical reviews and spectacular productions, but these will not be put on until late in the season. Many of the leading players are playing safe by beginning the season with their successes of last year.

TEACH MORALITY IN SCHOOL.

Japan has appointed an Imperial Education Commission to study the educational policy of that country. The Japan Times of July 12, in discussing the work of the Commission, says: "It has until recently, been a tacit national understanding that the main aim of education is to inculcate knowledge and to develop educational powers. For many years back this notion of education has been supplemented by that of physical culture. But now there is a cry for a further addition, namely, to devote a larger share of attention to the moral side of education." This statement is a remarkable one. Japan, in this, is teaching us a lesson. This is true of New Jersey in particular.

Morality is religion, and we have eliminated religious teaching from our public schools. The Catholic Church alone teaches it in its parochial schools and in this it stands as an example of high ideals and right citizenship. Godless schools are not helpful to the nation. Japan is finding it so and proposes to change it. Japan, since Perry opened it to commerce and civilization, has taken this country as its ideal. But what shall we say when the pupil advances beyond its teacher? Is it not food for thought for men of our nation? Are we not forgetting the ideals of the fathers, which Japan has studied and is now about to emulate?

When New Jersey ceased the study, even the reading, of the Scriptures in her public schools, she made a mistake. She should return to the custom again. The basis of this government is upon the Bible. Our civilization has been builded upon it and will decay unless its precepts and teachings are adhered to. Japan is right and must command the respect of civilized nations in her determination to teach morality in her schools. When Walter Scott came to die he asked that he be handed the Book. They asked him what book. He replied, "there is only one book—The Bible." Are the young of America being taught in the schools to appreciate this fact? They should be. No education is complete that lacks a knowledge of the Bible.

RIGHT KIND OF OFFICIALS.

City officials in Bayonne, where there is a campaign on for the purchase by the city of the water plant now supplying that place and owned by a private corporation, have done an unusual, but very sensible thing to explain to the people just why it will be advantageous to own the water plant. In an eight-page supplement to the Evening Review, a local paper, printed at the expense of the city, every move in the fight to secure the water plant is thoroughly explained. Reports of the experts and engineers engaged to investigate the advisability of burying the plant, the opinion of former Supreme Court Justice Gilbert Collins as to the legal conditions and the report of the appraiser who fixed the price for the works are printed in full.

Never before has it been brought to our attention that any municipality has taken such an advanced step to acquaint the taxpayers with what the officials were doing, and to thoroughly prepare them to intelligently vote on a public question. Time and again the newspapers in similar campaigns have, without any remuneration, printed columns pro and con on subjects of general interest, but never has any paper felt that such a subject warranted the expense of giving the whole story at one time. If the taxpayers of Bayonne are not thoroughly posted when the time comes for the election on September 2, it will be because they have not cared to examine the comprehensive and illuminating statement furnished to them by their Mayor and Council. Bayonne is to be congratulated upon having such conscientious and painstaking officials. While they all favor the purchase of the water supply, they are going to give the people all the facts before asking them to vote on the question, so that no reflections can be cast upon them later, and they cannot be charged with having concealed anything in connection with the purchase, if it is made.

The Bayonne example is one which is worthy of being followed by many other communities, and if it was there would not be so much unrest and dissatisfaction with the officials, as is now the case in some parts of the State.

AWAITING A DECISION IN "POISON PEN" CASE

Elizabeth, Aug. 18—Interest in the "poison pen" case is now centered in the decision which Judge Owen P. Mahon will render as a result of the hearing held in the local police court last week. Judge Mahon, after hearing the story of Mrs. Charles F. Jones, the complainant, and her witnesses, declared he would reserve decision. Whether or not he will hold Mrs. Nelson L. Pollard, the accused, for the action of the Grand Jury, is what those who are interested in the proceedings are anxious to learn.

Judge Mahon attended the hearing held in Newark Wednesday before United States Commissioner Stockton; Mrs. Pollard was held to await the action of the Federal Grand Jury. Her bail was continued in the sum of $1,000. While the Federal case and the police court action are entirely separate and based upon separate letters written to different persons, it is believed that Judge Mahon will be guided to a certain extent by the action of the Federal authorities.

The Federal action is based upon a letter sent to Dr. Charles H. Schlichter in October, 1912, in which the character of his 10-year-old daughter is alleged to have been assailed. The police court action is based upon a letter sent to Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Pollard's next door neighbor, last November. The typewriter figures in both proceedings, however. Whether or not the letter sent to Dr. Schlichter was written on the same machine as the letter sent to Mrs. Jones is a question yet to be determined.

SPICER OUTING SUCCESSFUL FROM EVERY POINT OF VIEW

The annual outing of the Spicer Mutual Aid Society to Highland Beach, Saturday, was attended by a large number of the employes of the firm's two shops, the excursion train leaving here at 7:30. Fair weather favored the excursionists throughout the day.

At mid-day the Plainfielders were privileged to a unique shore dinner served under the direction of George Sanders, at the Surf House. While no athletics were scheduled, fishing, boating and swimming apparently served as fitting substitutes.

HOLD-UP MEN PERHAPS, THEN AGAIN, MAYBE PLAIN DRUNKS

Walter Monahan, of Dunellen, told the police of that borough today, of an attempt to hold him up shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday morning, near the intersection of Park avenue and Arlington place, this city. Monahan said he was proceeding south along Park avenue in an automobile at a fair rate of speed, when about 150 yards down the road he saw two men standing in the middle of the highway. Monahan said he blew his horn but the men did not move. Abruptly stopping his machine, Monahan faced about and putting on full speed retraced his course. He did not notice whether the men held revolvers in their hands or not. "I did not wait to see," he said when speaking of the occurrence.

People in the vicinity of the "hold-up" say two men who were intoxicated were seen walking along Park avenue at about the same time as Monahan states that an attempt was made to hold him up.

HALL EMPLOYES HAD BALL GAME ON ANNUAL OUTING

Seventy-five employes of the Hall Printing Press Works, of Dunellen, went by boat and train to Krietscherville, S. I., Saturday, on their annual outing. The weather was ideal for the event which proved a success beyond the fondest hopes of the arrangement committee, which was composed of Michael Burke, John Robinson and John Kriney.

When the grove was reached the "Foundry" and "Machine Shop" baseball aggregations started hostilities. The huskies from the former nine vanquished their rivals after an uphill battle, the score reading 9 to 8 when the third man was called out in the ninth session.

Charles Murphy proved to be the star of the athletic meet. He won four first prizes in the six events in which he started. John Kriney won two firsts. The awards consisted of silver cups, gold medals and articles of clothing.

TWELVE TIMES NOW.

For the twelfth time in a period of less than a year, George B. Disborough, of 119 Crescent avenue, reported yesterday that an attempt had been made to loot his home. He said his son, while preparing to retire at 11 o'clock Saturday night, heard a noise. Further investigation yesterday morning, Mr. Disborough said, revealed the fact that a cellar screen had been torn loose from its fastenings. Nothing was taken, as usual, and Mr. Disborough says he thinks the "burglars" were frightened away before they could accomplish their purpose.

TRUNK MISSING.

George Saunders, of 411 West Fifth street, reported that a trunk of his which he had taken to the North Avenue station by George Webster, a local expressman, is missing. Saunders says he placed the trunk in Webster's charge, but that when he inquired for it at the railroad station, no trace could be found of it, nor was any record of its receipt on file at the U. S. Express Company's office. Webster asserts he delivered the trunk as directed to the depot.

Mr. Hall suffered an attack of acute indigestion on board his steam yacht, the Latona, in Booth Bay Harbor, Maine, on Saturday, and was brought to Portland, from which city he was taken in a special car to his home.

HARRY THAW MAKES BOLD DASH FROM MATTEAWAN

White's Slayer Fells Guard and Flees.

DARING ESCAPE BY AUTO

Conspiracy Involving Six Men Is Charged.

ONE GUARD UNDER ARREST

Officials Make Wild Chase In Motorcars, but Fugitive Is Not Overtaken. Thaw Said to Be Immune From Arrest if He Is Outside of New York State.

Matteawan, N. Y., Aug. 18.—By a daring stroke yesterday Harry K. Thaw escaped from the State Hospital For Criminal Insane here and in a wild flight in a high powered automobile reached Connecticut, where he is immune from arrest, at least for the present.

Hurling Howard Barnum, an asylum guard, aside when Barnum opened a gate to admit a milkman, Thaw ran to a waiting automobile, leaped in and was driven alongside a six cylinder Packard machine a quarter of a mile down the road, where he leaped into the speedier car and got away.

Pressing into service the fastest automobiles procurable in the town, armed guards and attendants gave chase, but the best speed they could make was sixty miles an hour.

They followed, hoping that a blowout or a wreck might halt Thaw. The big Packard was last seen at Stormville, N. Y., fourteen miles from the asylum, where a constable reported it went through the village like a projectile from a gun.

Say Escape Was Result of Plot.

Asserting that the escape was the development of a well laid plot in which relatives of Thaw were the chief conspirators and that several of the guards and attendants of the institution were accessories, Dr. Raymond Francis Charles Kleb, the new asylum superintendent, ordered the arrest of Barnum and an investigation.

Dr. Kleb received information a few hours after the escape which induced him to believe, he said, that the machine was carrying Thaw to a seaport town in Connecticut and that a yacht is waiting off shore there to take him away.

Once over the state line and into Connecticut Thaw is immune from arrest so far as the Stanford White murder is concerned. Should the authorities arrest him there on some pretext he could not be extradited. Legal experts assert that there is no clause in the extradition law which is applicable to the Thaw case.

Six Men Involved.

Evidence that six men were involved in the plot to liberate Thaw was made by the discovery that four of them have been stopping at the Holland hotel here since Friday night, and that a fifth, said to be the chauffeur of the fast Packard automobile, stayed over Saturday night. The sixth was the operator of the landaulet, the smaller car.

After Thaw abandoned the landaulet for the big and speedy Packard, the former followed, evidently for the purpose of blocking any machine that might follow and to pick up Thaw and his party in the event of a wreck.

Car Waited Long For Thaw.

Thirty minutes before Thaw hurled Barnum aside the landaulet drew up outside of the gate and awaited the coming of the prisoner. The engine was kept running all the while. The machine contained two men beside the chauffeur. Thaw had but to run fifteen feet to get into it once he was through the gate.

"There is no doubt in my mind that employees of this institution are involved in this plot," said Dr. Kleb. "It was executed with amazing rapidity and smoothness. There are many circumstances involved which make me certain beyond even the shadow of a doubt that Thaw received assistance from the inside as well as the outside. The guilt, I am certain, will be fastened on a few men. I do not know who the outsiders are, but I must assume they are relatives of Thaw. The state will take steps to expose and prosecute them."

A bell and time punch in the office of the asylum shows that Thaw made his escape at 7:45 o'clock. Every time the gate through which he ran to the machine is opened a bell in the office rings and the hour and minute is punched on a card.

On Way to Chapel Exercises.

Thaw, who was known in the prison as No. 3011, arose yesterday at the minute of 6 o'clock. He had breakfast thirty minutes later. Then, with sixteen other patients, he went into what is known as the north court. Thaw and the others exercise there Sundays before going to the chapel service.

Barnum was on duty at the gates. There are three of these. All are fitted by the one key, which was in the possession of Barnum. George Mulhall was on duty in the yard with Barnum. He was some distance away from the gate when Barnum opened it.

From the moment he entered the courtyard Thaw spent most of his time near the gate through which he escaped, but, according to all accounts, he was not at any time in communication with the men who were waiting with the automobile outside.

Every morning shortly before 8 o'clock men who supply the institution with milk drive through the gate through which Thaw escaped. At 7:45 yesterday one signaled that he wished to get in. Thaw at that time was close to Barnum. Barnum, after inserting the key, swung the big door open

Thaw acted quickly. Seizing the keeper, he hurled him to one side and rushed to the waiting automobile.

Cannot Be Extradited.

Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss said yesterday that Thaw had been acquitted of the crime of murder on the ground of insanity and that therefore there was no charge remaining against him

"He cannot be extradited as far as I can see," said Mr. Moss. "He was placed in Matteawan because his mental condition made him a public danger. And you cannot extradite because of a disease a man has. This case was an acquittal, and I know of no example of extradition in such a case where no new crime has been committed. I have never heard, either, of the extradition of a criminally insane person."

Assistant District Attorney Embree gave it as his own belief that Thaw had been committed to Matteawan pending his sanity and that if he recovered from insanity he would be brought back to the court in which he was tried for the final disposition of his case. He said he had been acquitted of the charge of murder, but that he had not been dismissed, and for that reason was not so sure but that Thaw might be extraditable.

MOTHER'S JOY KILLS HER.

Meeting With Daughter Fatal to Brooklyn Woman.

Nyack, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Overjoyed at meeting her daughter, Mrs. Loring Vanhoff, whom she had not seen for a long time, Mrs. Rose Ebury, a widow, sixty-three years old, of Brooklyn, dropped dead as she walked from a carriage toward her daughter's home.

She had come for a visit, and after greeting the family was stricken with heart trouble.

Kills His Wife, Then Himself.

Metuchen, N. J., Aug. 18.—John Molzar of Drury Hill, sixty-five years old, in a jealous rage with his wife grabbed a gun and shot her through the heart. She fell dead at his feet. He then turned the gun on himself and blew his brains out.

Weather Forecast.

Fair and somewhat cooler today; tomorrow probably fair; moderate southwest to west winds.

MRS. DIGGS WILL TRY TO SAVE HUSBAND

Wife of One of Alleged White Slavers to Be a Witness.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—In an attempt to save their husbands from prison Mrs. Maury Diggs and Mrs. Drew Caminetti will take the witness stand Tuesday when the Diggs trial is resumed.

Mrs. Diggs' testimony will be that she wrote to Diggs' father asking him to go to Sacramento and do something to break up the intimacy between her husband and Marsha Warrington. She will testify along the line of the defense to account for the flight of her husband that he was badly frightened and excited over the threat of prosecution she had made against him.

Mrs. Caminetti will give evidence that she applied to Juvenile Court Judge Hughes for a warrant for Lola Norris, which if issued would have caused her husband and Diggs to be arrested.

The Diggs case, it is expected, will be concluded on Wednesday, and counsel expect a verdict soon after the case is given to the jury. The trial of Caminetti will begin the next day.

FEROCIOUS DOLPHINS.

Marine Monsters That Are Known as Whale Killers.

There really is such a sea monster as the whale killer. It is one of the largest and most ferocious of all the dolphin family. It also is known as the grampus. It is characterized as a genus by its large size and the conical and depressed head, devoid of a beak. The back fin is of great length, especially in the males, and the flippers are large and broadly ovate.

The teeth are comparatively few in number, varying from ten to thirteen on each side of the jaw, and are much larger than in any dolphins yet noticed, being often an inch or more in diameter and having an oval section. The coloration is striking, the upper parts and fins being black, while the lower jaw, chest and under parts are whitish.

The white area of the under parts does not, however, extend to the flukes, but ends posteriorly in a trident, of which the lateral and shorter prongs extend obliquely upward on the flanks. There is a large white streak above and behind the eye, and frequently at least a purple crescentic area extends across the back behind the fin. The killer attains a length of at least twenty feet.—St. Louis Times.

LOBSTER AND BUTTERFLY.

Widely Apart In Appearance, They Are Close Relatives.

You would hardly think it to look at them, yet the lobster is a relative of the butterfly. The kinship is not merely that of two members of the animal kingdom. The lobster and the butterfly are actually in one and the same great group of the kingdom, like the clam and the snail or the whale and the giraffe, whose spheres of activity are so widely separated.

It is simply, as Darwin pointed out in the case of all other creatures a great many years ago, that the lobster and its friends, the crab, the prawn and the shrimp, chose one method of life, while the butterfly and its set chose another.

So the first group developed characteristics suited to the conditions in which it lived, including as one of the most important, as its members do not move rapidly, a coat of armor to protect them from their innumerable enemies, while the butterflies and the great host of other winged insects shed every bit of superfluous weight, trusting to swiftness to carry them out of danger and to protective coloring to conceal them when flight is unavailing.—London Family Herald.

MOSQUITO FIGHT IN UNION CO.

than mosquitoes which fly by night and are especially prevalent around lights.

On the outskirts of Cranford the Springfield avenue dumps, known as a breeding spot, are being treated through the draining of a swamp. A trench is being dug. In the bottom of this terra cotta pipes about nine inches in diameter will be laid and the trench filled in again. These pipes will form a passage way for the water from the swamp to the Cranford River.

In explaining the formation of this swamp, and an adjacent dump, Mr. Gies said that the temporary pools formed by excessive rains about such places are the worst form of breeding places as the water soon becomes stagnant and is free from lower forms of animal and vegetable life which have a tendency to destroy the eggs of the mosquito and retard their hatching. "Certain kinds of water beetles and plants are natural enemies of the mosquito larvae and do much toward rendering large bodies of water harmless as mosquito hatcheries," Mr. Gies said, "but where the pool is newly formed, none of these elements are present and the conditions are the most favorable possible for breeding the malarial-carrying mosquitoes."

At Westfield the town lake property was visited, and the work of clearing the lake of all the vegetation that clogged the banks and filled the water was inspected. A striking contrast was afforded in the before and after appearance.

This is one of the places where the beauty of the surroundings was improved by the work of the commission. The town of Westfield appropriated $200 toward the work, and the results of the expenditure are so satisfactory that it promises to be an annual item for consideration in the town budget.

A number of smaller pest spots were looked over in Fanwood borough and township and in Plainfield. All of these places are particularly free of mosquitoes, it is asserted, on account of the strict supervision maintained on all places which afford a foothold for the mosquitoes. One job just completed in Plainfield was the cleaning of Cedar brook, which previously rambled through Senator Martine's property. Since the obstructions were removed the water now has a free flowing motion.

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

The Laundry Windows.

The laundry windows in every women's home are of more importance than she usually realizes. How should they be curtained? How opened? How screened? There are all questions to which she must find a satisfactory answer.

The laundry that is on the ground floor instead of in the basement or cellar is no problem. It can be treated in the same way that the kitchen is treated. But the basement that is below the ground is a problem.

The ideal basement is high—that is to say, the basement that is ideal from the point of view of the person in it. From the point of view of the artist the basement should be low. That sort of basement is more artistic. And that sort of basement prevails in the majority of houses.

It is the laundry that is almost all underground, with its sunken windows, that is difficult to care for and it is these sunken windows that need a good deal of thinking about.

To begin with, before you open the windows, see to it that the dug-out space in front of them is clean and dry. If it is dirty, it will attract flies. If it is damp, it will breed mosquitoes. Have it cleaned. Ideally it should be lined with cement or bricks. But if it is unlined, remove all weeds and grass and put a small basin containing chloride of lime in it.

So much for the dangers that lurk in it in the summer. In the winter it harbors melting snows and accumulates dampness. The snow should always be dug out of this hole as soon as it falls.

Screens and Curtains.

There should be screens in all laundry windows and one or two of them should be kept open all the time. If possible, have two windows in opposite or meeting walls open, so that a cross circulation can be effected. These windows can be barred for safety.

Laundry curtains should be uniform—not made of odd bits of lace discarded from the drawing-room windows. That is as bad as making maids' aprons out of worn-out lingerie dresses. Neat figured Swiss is the daintiest and most economical material for lanndry curtains. It washes well and wears long. Heavy net can also be used, but the Swiss is more suitable in a small house or a country house or a cottage.

Points for Mothers

Child's Knowledge of Art.

A teacher was surprised one morning to see a pupil who had come to school for the first time showing a remarkable interest in the reprints of great paintings which she had arranged along the blackboard. Unobserved, she drew near the child and was further astonished to hear her exclaim delightedly, "There's 'Baby Stuart,' the 'Sistine Madonna' and 'The Horse Fair.'"

This teacher mentioned the occurrence to another teacher, who told her that the child's brother and sister had likewise surprised her by the knowledge they had not only of masterpieces in painting, but of sculpture and architecture as well. Later the teachers met the children's mother and were shown the playroom.

Instead of the highly colored pictures that one so often sees in play rooms, there were several good paintings illustrative of the time honored childlore and the ever new fairy tale. One could readily see that considerable time and money must have been spent on these pictures. The visitors particularly admired the imaginative suggestion and harmonious coloring of a painting of Cinderella. "That picture," said the mother, "is the best we have in the house. My little daughters and I sacrificed our new spring bonnets at Cinderella's shrine the first time we caught a glimpse of her."

Numerous prints of great paintings were arranged in groups according to subjects around the room. These pictures were mounted on mats of uniform size and color, and each one was plainly labeled with the name of its author and its subject.

"The pictures in the various groups are constantly changing," the mother explained. "If any one finds a picture which appeals to him it is brought in for consideration. No picture, however, gets the coveted place in the group if any of the children raise a valid objection to it. This censorship not only develops the children's observation and judgment, but keeps the groups of pictures from becoming too large and usually insures survival of the fittest.

"At different seasons the interest is transferred from one group to another. At Christmas the Madonnas claim most of our interest; later, when the children are enthusiastically building snow houses and fashioning snow men, we naturally turn to the groups headed by the Coliseum and Michelangelo's David. In the spring we are all enthusiastic about the flowers, birds and trees.

"We are always careful to encourage even the youngest member of the family to contribute to the changing collection. Occasionally we allow our judgment of a picture to be influenced by our hearts rather than our heads. This was the case when little Ned brought in a highly colored picture of Santa Claus which he evidently admired and astonished all by requesting us to hang it beside the 'Sistine Madonna.'"

The "No Toy" Theory.

There was a woman, rather prominent socially, who had a pet theory on which she always fell back. Her slogan was "Sticks and stones for children." She believed, in effect, that children could get along quite well without any toys save sticks and stones, that the fewer playthings they had the better off they were. She argued very convincingly. Of course when you found out that she had no chick or child of her own, but was, moreover, a spinster, your faith in her theory perhaps was somewhat shocked. The theory was right nevertheless, as you doubtless are forced to admit when you ponder on the happiness of the children you know. Without a question toys do not mean happiness.

If you are a believer in the no toy theory the summer is the best time to put it into practice, for in summer there are many things which an out of door loving child can find to take the place of toys. Doubtless the child who has only a limited number of toys and is therefore forced to amuse itself without them most of the time has a better chance to develop its resourcefulness and imagination and its power of getting happiness and amusement wherever it may be than the child who is surfeited with toys.

Summer Clothing For Baby.

In summer the baby's clothing needs especially to be light in weight and loose fitting, says Good Health. It goes without saying that it should be clean and sweet. The young child is exceedingly sensitive to change of temperature, and his clothing should be subject to the surrounding atmosphere. In the chill of the morning he needs warm garments, but swathed in flannel in the heat of the day he becomes overheated and perspires to excess. It takes time and thought to watch his comfort in this matter, but it does much toward insuring freedom from disease.

A Useful Box.

A box for children's toys can be made much more useful if two strips of wood an inch and a half wide are nailed across the bottom of the box, one at each end, and a small castor is put in each of the four corners. When picking up the toys the box can be moved across the room, besides serving as a little wagon for the children.

Some Cookery Suggestions

WAYS WITH FLANK STEAK.

DINNER MENU.
Lettuce Soup.
Smothered Flank Steak.
Parisian Potatoes.
String Beans.
Fruit Surprise.
Coffee.

FLANK steak is comparatively cheap, and, if it were substituted now and then for choicer cuts of beef, would help to bring down the cost of living.

A great deal depends on the way it is prepared. In the hands of the capable cook it is not only tender and nutritious, but also palatable.

Smothered In Onions.

Smothered Flank Steak.—Chop one onion with a tablespoonful of parsley. Mix together a tablespoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper. Sprinkle the bottom of a baking pan with a little onion, place the steak in the pan. Brush it with an egg beaten with a tablespoonful of warm water and then spread with the rest of the onion and parsley. Add a half cupful of stock to which has been added the salt and pepper. Place in a hot oven and cook for thirty minutes. Then lift the steak, and thicken the stock. Season and pour over the steak. Garnish with cooked vegetables.

Steak En Casserole.

Flank Steak En Casserole.—Run enough flank steak through the meat chopper to make two cupfuls and then put into the center of a well buttered casserole dish. Flavor with celery, salt, pepper, mace and a little mushroom catsup or Worcestershire sauce. Surround the steak with one cupful of pearl barley; pour two cupfuls of boiling water over it, and bake in a moderate oven. Keep closely covered while cooking. Just before serving cover with a brown gravy or tomato sauce. Serve hot in the dish in which it has been cooked.

Stuffed Flank.

Flank Steak With Bread Stuffing.—To make the stuffing take two cupfuls of soft bread crumbs, one-half cupful butter melted in one-third cupful hot water or milk, one-fourth teaspoonful powdered sweet herbs, a beaten egg. Mix the ingredients together thoroughly. The bread should be twenty-four hours old and taken from the center of the loaf.

The seasoning is a matter of individual taste. The egg may be omitted if the beef is to be eaten hot, but it will slice better when cold if egg is used.

Now take the steak and spread it with the above dressing and roll tightly. Fry out some suet and then brown the flank to hold the juices. Put in a casserole dish, add a little water and when half done season with salt and pepper, chopped onions and plenty of fine minced vegetables or rice. The flank is quite juicy, so you will need but little water. It lacks flavor, so the spices and vegetables impart what the flank lacks.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Watch Goes Visiting on Wash Day.

Aunt Mary Feeds Watch.

WHILE, of course, every one likes to be neat and clean, or, at least, they ought to, wash day is seldom popular.

Even Jack and Evelyn wished it did not have to come around so often. On wash days Dinah was generally cross. She never allowed them to come into the kitchen or play in the back yard where the washing was hung out or spread on the grass to bleach. Meals, too, were made up of scraps of the day before's feast, many of them served cold.

"So," began daddy as he gathered the children in his arms, "you can't blame Watch for not liking wash day.

"Watch is a big black dog, a great favorite with all who know him. Watch's folks live in a nice town where every one knows him and he knows every one.

"Just down the street a short walk from where he lives is the house of Aunt Mary. She isn't Watch's Aunt Mary, of course, but the Aunt Mary of his folks.

"Aunt Mary is very fond of the dog, and he likes her much. When she comes to visit at his house Watch hangs around until she is ready to go home. Then he goes with her as far as her gate. Sometimes he will go in and stay for a little while.

"There are certain visitors whom Watch does not like, and when they come to his house Watch is apt to leave until his unpopular guest or guests go home.

"On Monday as soon as Mrs. Flynn, who washes the family clothes, comes in at the gate Watch gets up off the kitchen porch, which is his favorite lounging place, and strolls down the walk to the back gate. Being a pretty big dog, he is able to push this gate open. Then he trots slowly down the street to Aunt Mary's house, jumps over the low hedge around her garden and walks to the front door. The hall door is kept open, but because of the screen Watch cannot get in, so he barks until that is opened for him.

"Aunt Mary knows now to expect him on Monday mornings, and he never has long to wait. After petting him she takes him out to the kitchen porch and gives him something good to eat.

"Watch knows that at home he will not be allowed to sleep on the back porch or walk over the lawn where the white clothes are spread for bleaching. Every one seems to think him in the way, and no wonder Watch, being a sensible dog, thinks it wise to visit at Aunt Mary's, where wash days are not known. She gives her soiled clothes to the laundryman, who takes them away early in the morning in his wagon and returns them next week fresh and clean."

Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

On Her Evening Gown, the Smart Parisienne Wears a Very Deep Folded Girdle of Some Georgeous Brocade, or a Sash of Soft Satin With An Immense Butterfly Bow at the Back.

Such a wide-spread vogue has the fancy girdle, the inspiration of which is purely Oriental, attained, that it was feared it would die of its own popularity. For there is nothing more fatal to a fashion, than to have it gain universal popularity. But perhaps, women are growing fond of these picturesque effects and are loathe to give them up, many of the advance fall models show some form of the decorative girdle. Even the simplest afternoon frock has its contrasting sash, and with tailored frocks, the widest of soft suede belts are worn, and in the most violent shades. Two very chic girdles are illustrated, the one 7860 giving a sort of bib effect to the blouse, that is most effective in contrasting material. The original model which was sent out by one of the cleverest French designers, was of oyster white crepe de chine, with kimono guimpe of filmy shadow lace, and the softly gathered blouse of white chiffon. On this the draped girdle of watermelon pink charmeuse dotted with dull gold was simply stunning. The new turned-under drapery is very cleverly worked out, and the design is one that could be adapted very nicely to inexpensive fabrics such as voile or crepe. There are five sizes, 34 to 42, and for size 36, 3 yards 36-inch material, with 1¼ yard lace for guimpe 1 yard charmeuse for girdle will be required. 15 cents.

To the draped back of the other gown 7863, the huge "mousmee" bow with sash and forming the new turned-under panel, gives a distinct charm. As this panel is simply a straight length to be carried down just as far as personal fancy dictates no allowance is made for it in the pattern. Any soft fabric, charmeuse chiffon voile, crepe de chine, or chiffon over a satin foundation may be used in making this pretty dress. There is a kimono guimpe, that could be of shadow lace, or fine net, finished with frills of plaited lace. For this there are six sizes, 34 to 44, and for size 36, you will need of 36-inch material 6¾ yards with 1¼ yards 40-inch net for guimpe 15 cents.

A Monogramed Table-Cloth and Napkins.

The embroidered cover for the round dining-room table may be of plain, snow-drop, or any small figured damask, and should be marked with an initial or a monogram placed so that it will fall just over the edge of the table when the cloth is in use. The scalloping may be done with pattern 14387 by first marking the circle on your damask, clipping the transfer pattern a little on each side of the design and basting it in place before transferring it with a hot iron. It is quite easy to adapt the scalloped borders to circles in this way. The napkins should match the table cloth and the dinner size should be 36 inches square or the luncheon size 24 inches square. These should be scalloped to match the table-cloth. The monogram is formed from two sizes of the letters from pattern 14266, which includes any one initial in 6 sizes. For the napkins, use the 2 and 3-inch letters and for the table-cloth, the 3 and 4-inch letters.

Transfer patterns 14266 and 14387 can be supplied to readers at 10 cents each.

The Larder and the Cookery.

Butter is best kept in stone jars with stone lids.

Bread will keep better in a wooden box than in tin.

Some people think the flavor of pumpkin pie much improved by a little quince preserve.

Boiled rice covered with grated cheese and baked brown in the oven makes a good luncheon dish.

To pop corn successfully first put it in a sieve and dash cold water over it. The kernels will be large and flaky.

Collar and Cuff Sets.

Adjustable collar and cuffs, printed in colors on crepon and heavy linen, are smart accessories to dresses of plain color. Carrying an air of chic is a set of coarse gray linen, bordered with gay little flower bouquets.

Hangnails.

If the cuticle about your nails seems tough and there is a tendency to hangnails rub in a little vaseline or cold cream every night before retiring. Soon you will see a marked improvement in the condition of the nails.

R. C. BLANCHE, JR., WINS GOLF SWEEPSTAKES

R. C. Blancke, Jr., won the golf sweepstakes at the Plainfield Country Club, Saturday afternoon with a score of 91, 27-64. D. H. Rowland finished second with a net score of 70, closely followed by W. G. Cook with a score of 72. There was a large field out, but only a few cards were returned as follows:

R. C. Blancke, Jr., 91, 27-64; D. H. Rowland, 87, 17-70; W. G. Cook, 94, 22-72; D. O. Rogers, 84, 10-74; Dr. F. E. DuBois, 98, 17-79; W. A. Engeman, 89, 9-80.

C. J. HAND AND W. P. TAYLOR WIN GOLF EVENT

Clarence J. Hand and William P. Naylor, challengers, defeated William H. Nischwitz and Marshall H Ward, holders, 5 and 3, in the "goats" competition at the Park Golf Club, Saturday. These scores were returned for the President's cup:

William H. Nischwitz, 98, 18-80; Clarence J. Hand, 107, 25-82; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 92; 4-88; Charles B. Morse, 95, 8-89; U. G. Tingley, 103, 13-90; William P. Taylor, 85, plus 7-92; H. H. Woodland, 100, 5-95.

THERE WAS NO EXCURSION, BUT GAME WAS CALLED OFF

Although an outing did not drain the High Bridge baseball public Saturday afternoon as on the previous week the management of the Central New Jersey Baseball League team of that place decided it best not to risk a depletion in the treasury by poor attendance and called the scheduled encounter with Dunellen off, at the last minute, both teams being idle Saturday.

Most of the Dunellen players and not a few from High Bridge, together with a representative delegation of fans, attended the game at Parker Field between Plainfield and Somerville.

PLAINFIELD NOW LEADS THE CENTRAL LEAGUE CONTENDERS

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY LEAGUE.

Saturday's Results

Standing of the Clubs.

Plainfield	10	4	.714
Somerville	9	4	.692
High Bridge	1	7	.125

By virtue of its win over the Somervillians Saturday afternoon the Plainfield baseball team of the Central New Jersey League displaced the Somerset county leaders in first place but the Somerville crew will undoubtedly have another chance to win the pennant as the Plainfielders are but one-half a game in front and a full game is necessary to win the pennant.

Somerville has a postponed game to play off with High Bridge, the latter aggregation having cancelled its engagement of last Saturday and when High Bridge forfeits to Somerville, which is the conceded issue, the Plainfield team will be tied for first place. The deciding contest will be played on a diamond to be selected later and both teams will probably be padded considerably for the occasion.

High Bridge and Dunellen were idle Saturday afternoon, the former combination having cancelled its game almost at the last moment.

Park Avenue	0	9	.000

Although it took the Hope Chapel baseball team ten innings to solve the mysteries of Franklin Newell's delivery the Chapelites saved themselves from disgrace Saturday afternoon by doing some timely bingling against the First Presbyterian outfit in the tenth inning and hung close to the heels of the First Baptists who are still perched on the top rung, one full game to the good. Hope still has a chance of winning out in the league race for the trophy and may be the champions for the second consecutive time although it will have to defeat the Baptists at their next meeting in order to turn the trick.

Park Avenue maintained its unblemished win column Saturday afternoon by yielding a rather easy victory to the First Baptist top notchers. Monroe was idle and the other teams are now getting an opportunity of hanging up points at this aggregation's expense.

In the only game played in the City League Saturday afternoon, the Dixie Giants retrieved the beating they received at the hands of the West End A. C. on the previous meeting and came out ahead in a hard fought contest.

Because of the Spicer outing the Spicer and Saurer contest was postponed and will probably be played off at some future date, although it will not be necessary to play this contest in order to decide the league championship.

The Saurer factory has an outing on the card for next Saturday and this will make another postponement necessary. Saurers have now practically cinched the league title and all future games will be mere formalities.

PLAINFIELD TRIMS SOMERVILLE IN A TERRIFIC HITTING BATTLE

Manager Dorflinger and his crew of Plainfield baseball artists failed to break precedent Saturday afternoon by allowing Somerville to beat it and thus ending hostilities in the Central New Jersey Baseball League for the season of 1913, but like any other wiley baseball manager conspired to hand the Somerville county delegation a trouncing and in so doing complicated the first place situation to such an extent that a playoff will be necessary and incidentally a few hundred easy dollars will roll into the treasury of the interested clubs. After two days' meditation we fail to recollect a single instance where a team has obliged the innocent public by ending festivities abruptly when there was any chance of producing a deadlock on the top rung and had the Plainfield outfit taken a beating it would have done something quite out of the ordinary. However, the score stood at the end of the game and still stands 13 to 3, the result meaning a playoff with Somerville and as we said before a little increase in the financial status of the organizations in this city and Somerville.

Further cause to condole himself, even though beaten, was given Manager Jack Torpey when "Red" Grimes found it easy enough to shatter "Germany" Ortlieb's delivery to the extent of a trio of lusty clouts and Hickey contributed a pair of pretty safeties. Luck smiled on the Pets throughout and despite the fact that they hit the ball like demons throughout the first three innings, every man having some lucky breaks with Eddie Kraft so that the slim hurler had to serve over a fast straight one with the count two and three against him and the batters promptly landed on the speedy shoots for extra baggers. Joe Harter took particularly kindly to the Somervillian's slants and led the Plainfield plan of warfare with five hits out of five sojourns on the gutta percha to his credit. The clever little leader-off tried his hardest to get a four-base clout but the best he could do was to reach third base three times on long clouts and once was halted on second and stayed at first on one of the bingles. His hitting was easily the feature of the contest, however, and the fans endured the listless rounds always awaiting his return to the rubber to face Kraft and bang out another lofty extra base smash.

Not far behind Harter with the willow for Plainfield were Bill Garretson, Walt Nelson and George Ortlieb, each of this trio getting three swats apiece. Nelson got the longest hit of the contest, a home run over the left field fence and Ortlieb registered a three-bagger. Both of Hickey's wallops were two cushion licks and one of Grimes' went for the same distance.

Not much choice existed or was apparent between the hurling of the rival hillock men, each being hit [illegible] hard and frequently. Kraft maintained his strikeout record by whiffing eight of the Queen City's heavy artillery.

BETWEEN THE ACTS.

Five hits, three triples, a double and a single, increased Joe Harter's lead at the top of the Pets' batting ladder Saturday afternoon. His mark for the day was an even 1,000.

A woeful exhibition of coaching exhibited itself prominently in the first stanza, when Rus Stewart, the local team's reserve pitcher, sent Joe Harter home after the centre-fielder had clouted the first ball of the game to the eastern grove for a three bagger. Joe was easily put out at home plate.

For Somerville, "Red" Grimes was the whole show. The brick-topped sort-stop pulled off the cleverest fielding stunts of the game and his work at the bat was also of high order.

When "Germany" Ortlieb strode to the plate to bat in the third inning he shortened the contest about [illegible] minutes by [illegible] it taking three healthy swings and when he walked back to the bench he was heard to remark: "That's the first time in seventeen yetars." We don't know what he was referring to but when he drove out a three-bagger in his next attempt it looked as though he might have meant the strike-out.

Jack Garretson, Plainfield's recruit on the first sack, got a big share of the hit harvest Saturday afternoon, having three safeties tucked under his belt when the team left the field. One of the bingles was a trip for four cushions and was the feature hit of the contest. Dorflinger is still looking for the pellet.

Captain Howard Craig pulled off his usual "bonehead" stunts in the first two frames and was directly responsible for a pair of the visitors' counters, but after the local guardian of the difficult corner settled down he fully made up for his miscues

Jack Torpey's only comment on the conest: "I am a peach of a winner, but my friends are better off at a safe distance when I come out on the smaller end of the deal."

Query—Why shouldn't Plainfield win when a playoff will mean a couple of hundred hard bones in the clubs' treasuries?

It is rumored that Dorflinger is angling for "Long Jim" McConnell for the deciding contest. Something else for Jack Torpey to worry about.

Fay Washburn, appearing in a Queen City uniform as he occasionally does when something big is at stake, put up a sterling game in the outfield and was not so "worse" at the gutta percha.

Fans who yearn for heavy hitting and spicy playing were treated to a double dose Saturday afternoon.

What's the matter with Eddie Stallings' batting record?

HOPE CHAPEL LUCKY TO WIN THIS GAME

It took Ten Innings for the Chapelites to Vanquish the First Presbyterians.

Erratic work in the field and Franklin Newell's effective twirling exploded a scare bomb in the Hope Chapel team's camp Saturday afternoon which came unpleasantly near squelching all of the Chapelites' pennant hopes, for had the Presbyterians been allowed to get away with the contest it would have meant the championship for First Baptist, the aggregation that is now leading Hope in the flag race. As it was, the contest went for ten long innings and a spurt of sensationalism in the overtime round was the only thing that allowed the Fourth street church boys to get away with the contest by a score of 9 to 8.

Things traveled along serenely six long rounds and the crowd was one of the hot weather variety affected by the slightest movement savoring of energy, when the First Presbyterians suddenly exhibited a new lease on life and pulled over two counters in the stretch stanza putting them one run to the good over the Chapelites. Four more runs in the eighth made the Presbyterian cohorts think of the pennant and for a time it looked as though the Hope boys had fought their last fight. Much to the surprise of their rivals and awakening the lifeless crowd as if by magic, the Chapelites did the inevitable in the eighth round by pounding out enough bingles to net them an even five markers or just enough to place them on even terms with their opponents.

The Presbyterian team put up its best fielding game of the season behind Newell, and Lounsbury's lone misplay was the only thing that marred their record in that column. The Hope Chapel outfit, on the other hand, was playing one of its poorest exhibitions and was lucky to get away with the victory. Hub Terry and [illegible] Luthman led with the willow for Hope Chapel, and between them got more than half of their team's hits, while Frank Dunning and his brother Sidney shared the Presbyterian team's hitting laurels.

BASEBALL NOTES

To all appearances the Battle Creek team has the Southern Michigan League pennant sewed up.

Since his return to the Detroit Tigers, Pady Bauman has performed like a genuine big leaguer.

After all, it may be the only Walter Johnson who will establish the consecutive win record for the season.

It looks as though the Highlanders have landed two real ball players in Cook and Williams, the Texas League rookies.

Danny Shay, the former big leaguer, has been released as manager of the Helena team of the Union Association.

Pitcher "Hy" Jasper, the Three-I League star recently sold to the White Sox by Dubuque, refuses to report to the Sox.

"Stoney" McGlynn, the old St. Louis heaver, is pitching for the leading Salt Lake City team of the Union Association.

The way Jake Daubert is hitting it would not surprise Brooklyn fans if the Superbas' first baseman led the National League in batting this season.

It took those fast traveling Pirates just two days to put a stop to the continuous victories of Christy Mathewson and Rube Marquard.

Clyde Engle, of the Red Sox, stole three bases in one game recently. No doubt the Carnegie Institute, of Pittsburgh, will want those three bags to place on exhibition.

Tommy Leach is assistant manager of the Cubs. When his umps gives Manager John Evers the gate "Old Tom" grabs the reins and pilots Mr.

Murphy's selling plater.

Slugger Joe Jackson, of the Nape, can hit in any ball yard in the country, except Philadelphia. Strange as it may seem Joe has hit for only .083 on the Athletics' lot this season.

The American Association pennant race has the two major league struggles looking like a pair of flat tires. Milwaukee, Louisville, Minneapolis and Columbus are in the A. A. fight to a finish.

Earl Mack, who is a baseball manager like his famous father, Connie Mack, is likely to be selected as baseball coach at the University of North Carolina. Earl is managing the Raleigh team this season.

Marsans, of the Cincinnati Reds, is leading the National League in base stealing, and likewise leading his team-mate, Bob Bescher, who has been the leading base stealer in the league for several years.

The $100,000 infield is undoubtedly the most potent factor in keeping the Athletics out in front in the American League pennant race. Manager Mack very wisely has kept his infield intact from the beginning of the season.

DIXIE GIANTS GET BACK AT WEST ENDS

Reverse Decision In a City League Contest Played Saturday Afternoon.

Smarting under the remembrances of the previous defeat handed to it by the West End A. C. ball tossers, the Dixie Giants' combination, reversed matters Saturday afternoon and by some timely hitting in the early stages of the contest managed to sew up a 9 to 7 victory. Their early advantage being never really in danger until the last stanza the colored ball artists appeared on the defensive most of the nine innings but the West End A. C. combination sprang its famous spurt in the final time at the plate and with the score standing 9 to 3 in favor of the opposition, brought the count up to within two points of the Dixie's tally card after pulling four markers across the pan in the last session.

Although the West Ends threw quite a scare into the ebony players' camp they were still shy two runs of winning and that was enough to make the Dixie crew gloat with joy as it does after every victory. Hard hitting, in which nearly every man on the winning side took a prominent part, was directly responsible for the early lead rung up by the colored heavers and the three errors thrown in by the athletics helped materially in the cause. While the Dixie Giants made five misplays most of these were bunched in the final session when most of the scoring was done and the miscueing was curtailed before it proved really disastrous.

As on the previous occasion, Hall opposed Conshay on the mound, and the colored pitcher had by far the better of the argument this time, and received the kind of support he deserved on the first trip, but which was not forthcoming at that time and which caused his defeat.

C. L. HYDE SPONSORS MOTOR BOAT RACES AT BAY HEAD

Through the activities of Charles Livingston Hyde, of Truell Hall, this city, summer residents and visitors at Bayhead and Barnegat Bay, will soon witness motor boat races, which will furnish an innovation for this resort. Heretofore, sail boat contests, mainly for the one-design class, have been the main water sport. But due to the forcible agitation of Mr. Hyde, Saturday afternoon, August 23, has been selected for a water carnival which will be devoted entirely to races between open and speed power boats and cabin cruisers. Entries are coming in from many prominent owners of hydroplanes and speeders.

Mr. Hyde owns the fast "Fugit," which reminds one of the famous Dixit boats. He will race this craft and has a good chance of capturing one of the prizes.

Stirring finishes featured the yacht races held at Bayhead, Saturday. In the men's sneakbox for the Thomson cup, Orton G. Dale, of Franklin place, this city, finished a good third. After a stiff fight he was nosed out by Henry S. Clark, of New York, the winner, and Captain Firm O. Bailey, of Manasquan, who finished second.

SOME HITS MISSING, BUT WHY WORRY SO?

Runs Are What Win a Ball Game and the First Baptist Nine Had the Markers.

According to the box score submitted by the First Baptist manager following the game with the Park avenue Baptist ball tossers, played in the Sunday-school League race Saturday afternoon, the Park team was held to three bingles and defeated by a score of 6 to 1, but there seems to be a different opinion concerning the population of the hit column among the defeated players, and many say they pounded out bingles for which they received no creddit from the winning scorer. However, the First Baptist score was the only one turned into this office and we owe it to the official of that team to publish his account which we will have to accept as authenic until it is proved otherwise.

No matter how many hits were made the beating was decisive enough to abolish any dispute as to the final outcome and the First Baptist had an easy time in disposing of their cellar rivals. Park has still to annex its initial victory of the season and it looks as though the cellar champions would break a record in the organization by going winless the entire season, as the schedule is about completed.

TIMELY SPORT WORLD TOPICS.

Demaree's Able Pitching. The Federal League Active.

ATHLETIC EXPERTS TO VISIT

At Indianapolis Meeting Backers of New Major League Plan For Eight Clubs—Germans to Use Our Methods In Olympic Games In 1916.

Experts are praising the work of Al Demaree, the lean, lank twirler of the New York Nationals, who has been forging ahead with an impressive number of victories. If McGraw's team wins the National league pennant Demaree will surely be given a chance to work in the world's series.

Demaree recently tallied his ninth straight win. That's "going some."

He is muscular, though not of heavy build, and should last through the remainder of the season without weakening.

Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington team, has been doing a lot of talking recently. He claims that his club will start to win now and will pass the Athletics, because the Mack pitchers do not have the class, and Bender and Plank are due to "blow."

CLARK GRIFFITH.

At that, the Senators look more formidable than Cleveland, and Chicago is more likely to cause trouble for the Athletics than either the Senators or Naps.

Just as long, though, as Connie Mack has his team intact, especially his infield, and the pitchers can hold the opponents as they have been doing, it seems foolish for him to worry.

In the Central association the Kewanee (Ill.) club has purchased Pitcher Tom Drohan from the Cleveland club, has signed Catcher Hally and released Outfielder Ryan.

Early in the season Manager McGraw of the New York Giants made several unsuccessful bids for Pitchers Tyler and Perdue of the Boston Braves, offering Manager Stallings twirlers and infielders in exchange. McGraw certainly knew what he was doing, all right, for Tyler and Perdue have been winning consistently for Boston. But conversely Stallings also knew his little book when he turned a deaf ear to all of McGraw's blandishments.

Horace Fogel, former National league club owner, recently submitted a proposition to the directors of the Federal League of Baseball Clubs in Indianapolis to place a club in New York city. Philadelphia and Baltimore also made bids for clubs, and the directors began considering the advisability of making the Federal an eight club league next year.

No action other than the appointing of committees to consider the claims of each city and look over the ground that could be obtained for the ball parks was taken, and the directors adjourned to meet later.

Among the magnates attending the meeting were John T. Powers, Chicago, president of the league; Lloyd Rickert, St. Louis, secretary; Colonel X. Zimmerman and M. F. Bramley, Cleveland; Ed Steinlinger, St. Louis; W. T. McCullough, Pittsburgh; J. A. Gilmore, Chicago, and J. Edward Krause, Indianapolis.

A German commission to study the athletic training methods in the United States with a view to helping Germany to win in the Olympic games in Berlin in 1916 will sail from Berlin early this month.

The commission will remain for some time in New York and then tour the western states. All the leading universities of the United States will be visited, and a special investigation will be made of all the methods in vogue at the army and navy schools.

The commission intends to engage one of the best American trainers, who will become general adviser of the Olympic trainers at work in all the leading German communities.

DO YOU READ ADVERTISEMENTS?

Do you?

The question is one of exceptional importance.

It has so many intensely interesting angles.

Advertisements themselves constitute a class of literature that daily commands world-wide attention.

Think of the number of daily newspapers there are in North America.

Think of the dollars spent daily in advertising.

Think of the enterprises that are behind the advertising in the daily papers; the millions of dollars invested; the countless number of employes; the enormous number of shoppers—more than 10,000,000 each day!

Would all this exist if advertising were not an element of colossal power?

Take THE PRESS for instance.

Look at the advertisements.

Note the daily message to an appreciative public.

Observe how the advertisers aim to obtain your patronage.

Reflect what must stand behind good advertising.

Integrity of character; good store service; stocks of merit; stocks comprehensive enough to meet a varied daily public demand. Proper and effective stock displays.

These are the spokes in a gigantic commercial wheel.

So when you read the advertisements in THE PRESS give this subject some thought, and you will have a better appreciation of the power and purpose of advertising.

Saturday Half Holiday

During June, July, August and until September 20, the Plainfield Daily Press will go to press promptly at 1 p. m. on Saturdays. Our readers and advertisers by getting copy in the office early on that day will greatly assist the management. Classified advertisements will be received until noon on Saturdays.

HUERTA REFUSED WILSON PLANS

But Mr. Lind Was Cordially Received at Audience Today.

HOPE FOR AGREEMENT

Story That O'Shaughnessy Had Been Given Passports Denied By Him—Administration Surprised at Action of Mexican Executive.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Aug. 19.—From an absolutely reliable source this morning it is learned that President Wilson's peace proposals submitted to President Huerta through Mr. Lind were flatly rejected, but after the refusal of the Mexican President to consider the proposition, Mr. Lind was granted another audience and was received most cordially. The administration is inclined to the hope that something may yet be done to establish an understanding between the two Governments that may eventually result in peace in Mexico.

As early as 4 o'clock this morning Charge D Affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City wired to the State department that the report that he had been given his passports from Mexico were unfounded. Nevertheless many members of the foreign relations committee of the Senate were early callers at the White House to ascertain if possible the true state of affairs in Mexico. The State department is in communication with representatives of the United States in Mexico in an endeavor to get the facts on the situation there.

Secretary of the Legation O'Shaugsnessy sent the following telegram to Secretary of State Bryan today:

The correspondents have cabled that the Mexican government has stated that its note to Lind demands that the United States recognize the Huerta government before 12 o'clock midnight today or a statement practically to that effect. I brought the matter to the urgent attention of the minister of foreign affairs at 10 p. m. He immediately saw the President and he authorized immediate denial of the statement to my government as having no foundation in fact.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy in his telegram to the State department today reported that President Huerta and Mr. Lind were in conference. While he did not comment on the situation beyond giving the bare report of the facts, Mr. O'Shaughnessy indicated that he hopes for a peaceful adjustment. A cablegram from Mr. Lind reached the State department at 2:10 o'clock this morning. Mr. Lind at the time his message was dispatched had just held a conference with President Huerta and said that he was received very cordially.

PLAINFIELDERS ATTEND LABOR CONVENTION

W. H. Harding, J. J. Neylon and H. S. Dorflinger Represent Local Trades Council.

William H. Harding, John J. Neylon and H. S. Dorflinger were among the 310 delegates from all parts of the State, who attended the thirty-fifth annual convention of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor, at Trenton, yesterday. They represented the Building Trades Council, of this city. Included among the delegates were 104 carpenters.

After the session opened, Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, gave the delegates an address of welcome, during which he outlined the single tax plan which he favors, advocated a ship canal through the State and his desire that New Jersey should become one of the manufacturing centres of the world.

Assemblyman Cornelius Ford, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor, who was recently appointed Government printer, made his farewell address, and concluding the first session, several conferences were held to determine who shall succeed Mr. Ford as head of the organization.

BOROUGH COURT CASES.

Clinton Hoften, of Muhlenberg place, was arraigned in the borough court this morning before Mayor Clark on the charge of being helplessly drunk. A fine of $2 was imposed. Edward Connett, of 531 West Third street, who was apprehended yesterday morning by the city police as being one of the parties in the "crap" game on Myrtle avenue on Saturday, was arraigned and fined $5 and committed to the lock-up until the fine was paid.

WILL ATTEMPT TO REGULATE BLASTING

North Plainfield Township Committee to Confer With Quarry Owners.

For the purpose of trying to regulate the hours of blasting at the stone quarries of John Y. Wilson and Newton B. Smalley, at Watchung, the North Plainfield Township Committee has arranged for a meeting on Thursday, to which both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Smalley have been invited. The committee hopes that both of these men will be willing to co-operate in a plan that will work out satisfactorily.

Mr. Wilson in speaking of the matter said that he has always made it a rule to do his blasting at the time of day when it is the least objectionable and attended with the least possible risk. He said that during the twenty-seven years that he has been engaged in the stone business at the "Notch," he has never caused a penny's worth of damage to anyone's property.

Mr. Wilson explained that in his blasting he has always used electricity, instead of the fuse, and it has given better results and the detonation is not as loud. He says he feels sure that the blasting at his quarry has never caused any annoyance. When there is to be a blast, guards are sent up and down the road to warn people, and it has always been arranged to do this work at a time of the day when the travel is the lightest.

Mr. Smalley's quarry is situated some distance from the main road and it is said that the greatest care is always exercised during blasting and while it is said that it has always been customary to use the fuse instead of electricity, this, it is claimed, has never increased the danger of the work. It is expected that both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Smalley will attend the township meeting and do all that is possible to adjust their work in a way that will be most satisfactory to the township people.

APPEAL BRINGS QUICK RESPONSE

Frank L. Holt Sends $25 to Aid Work of King's Daughters.

Impressed with the appeal made by the Daily Press in behalf of the City Union of the King's Daughters in behalf of its summer work at the Day Nursery, where so many sick babies are being cared for, former Councilman Frank L. Holt, today, forwarded a check for $25 to this office in support of the work. The money will be turned over to the King's Daughters.

There is an urgent need at present for funds with which to carry on this work. Since the establishment of the milk station at the Day Nursery there has been an average of fifteen babies received daily, being supplied with specially prepared food, while there are seven regular boarders, day and night, the babies requiring constant attention.

Several local physicians have kindly consented to give their services free during the summer for this work and they are to be found at the Day Nursery at certain hours when mothers can consult with them about the treatment of their babies. This service has proved of incalcuable value to mothers and in many cases has been a direct benefit to their babies. While therefore, the King's Daughters conducted a summer camp on the mountains, it was found that by transferring the work to the Day Nursery the result would be more satisfactory, the institution being thoroughly equipped for the purpose.

Another contribution of $1 from a "Friend" was received today for the work.

WILLS AUTO CASE POSTPONED, IMPORTANT WITNESS ABSENT

Due to the absence of Dr. Charles B. Lufburrow, an important witness Arthur Wills, of 316 East Seventh street, was not tried yesterday afternoon in the City Court on a charge of reckless driving of his automobile while under the influence of liquor. The case was postponed until Wednesday, September 3, and the prisoner was released in $500 bail for his appearance on that date. He was represented by former City Judge William N. Runyon.

According to the police Wills was driving his car on East Seventh street Wednesday night, August 13, when he ran into the rear of a carriage driven by George F. Murphy, of 284 East Front street, causing injuries to the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and their child, and C. S. Sminck. The latter is secretary to former Senator Ackerman.

STOKES DECIDES THAT HE WILL RUN

Former Governor Will Seek Republican Nomination For Office Again.

NO PRINCIPLES GIVEN

Carlton B. Pierce and Charles N. Fowler, of Union County, Only Other Candidates For Place—Sees Civic Duty.

Trenton, Aug. 19—Yielding to the urgent requests that he enter the field for the Republican nomination for governor, former Governor Edward Casper Stokes today issued a formal statement announcing himself a candidate. Mr. Stokes did not make any declaration of principles.

The announcement follows closely the withdrawal from the race of former Senator John D. Prince, of Passaic, who left the field in favor of the former governor. The remaining Republican candidates are Senator Carlton B. Pierce, of Union, and former Congressman Charles N. Fowler, of the same county.

Mr. Stokes says:

"I have had a large number of requests in person, by letter, by petition and by resolution to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. I have decided to ascertain how far these requests represent real substantial public sentiment on this question and to that end I shall submit my name as a candidate for the nomination for governor to the Republican primaries in accordance with the laws of the State.

"My attitude toward this honor must by this time be well understood. I have not sought it. I have been governor of this State and for me a second term awakens no personal ambitions. The only incentive I could have would be one of civic duty. If the people think I can be of service in this emergency I am bound to consider their wishes. Those wishes must first be expressed at the primary. If the voters think some one else can serve them better or as well, I shall be entirely content. If they feel that I should be their candidate, and so express themselves at the primary I shall make the best fight I can for the principles and policies of the party from the day of nomination to the day of election. I am subject to the party call, if the call is made by the rank and file.

"As I am, therefore, a receptive and not a self-seeking candidate, I shall enter into no dispute or discussion with anyone as to the merits of my candidacy. That question I leave entirely to the people to decide. Politics is not a game, but a serious duty involving responsibiility and trust.

"I am not an enthusiast over the modern custom that prevails 'of proclaiming my platform to the world.' The people should make the platform themselves. The Geran law provides the time and place when they shall do it through their accredited representatives. I shall, however, in the near future issue a statement outlining the work of the party on progressive measures and declaring in general what I think the attitude of the party would be on progressive policies and party organization. The voters have a right to know what I think the Republican party stands for and what it ought to stand for and what I shall insist it must stand for if I should be chosen to lead its fortunes.

"This statement is meant in no wise to interfere with the ambitions of any other candidate or candidates, nor is it to be regarded as a criticism of them if they prefer to take active means to press their claims and if any one of them should win he will find in me a loyal supporter."

MISS MARY ENRIGHT AN AUGUST BRIDE

Weds Oscar Andreasen at the Church of the Transfiguration In New York.

Miss Mary Enright and Oscar Andreason, both of Plainfield, were quietly married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York city, Rev. Dr. Dubois officiating. The bride wore a white suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Anna Sorensen, of this city, as bridesmaid, who wore a pink gown and carried pink roses. The best man was Franklin King, of New York. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Fred Nielsen, of this city.

After the ceremony the party returned to Plainfield and at 8 o'clock a reception was given for the couple at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Nielsen, 1426 East Second street. There were about eighty guests, including relatives and friends from this city and out-of-town. Music was a feature of the reception, and after congratulations supper was served. The bride received a large number of useful gifts. The bride has been making her home recently with Mrs. Nielsen. Mr. Andreasen is a carpenter by trade and has lived here for a number of years. The couple will continue to reside in Plainfield.

VILLAGE RESIDENTS STILL QUARRELING

Counter Charges Filed by South Plainfield Men Charging Assault and Battery.

During the last three weeks the usual quiet and peace in the little hamlet of South Plainfield has been treated to several breaks through squabbles that have been existing between residents of that place and the trouble has resulted in counter charges being sworn out by the parties involved. It appears that on July 29 George Becker, of Maple avenue, went to a New York Employment Agency to hire a farm hand and deposited two dollars with the firm before bringing his new employe to his farm at South Plainfield. After arriving in the suburb the new man, Frank Kowalski, became dissatisfied with the work given him to do and quit after being in Mr. Becker's employ for one day. In going to New York Mr. Becker had entailed considerable expense besides the two dollars he had forfeited as an evidence of good faith and he told Kowalski that he could not have his clothes until he worked long enough on the farm to reimburse his employer.

Kowalski became angry at this condition and went to the home of Justice Patrick F. Kaine who returned to Mr. Becker's home with the farm hand and demanded that Becker give up the man's clothes. When he refused to do this the former employer was threatened with imprisonment and says that Kaine told him he would handcuff him and throw him into jail if he did not give up the clothes. Becker further states that Kowalski hit him on the chest with a brick and after he was down kicked him.

Becker went to New Brunswick yesterday afternoon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of both Kaine and Kowalski and Constable James Mullen was authorized to carry out the law. Later in the day Frank Kowalski, the former employe, swore out a similar warrant for the arrest of Becker charging him with assault and battery and Becker has been held in $100 to appear before the Grand Jury to answer to the charge.

Kowalski claims that while walking on the sidewalk in front of Becker's house, the latter struck him with a club and hurled a brick at him. He also stated that he was beaten about the face and body and that Mrs. Becker assisted her husband in the assault by pulling the victim's hair.

The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

BUILDING CODE BEING VIOLATED?

Trades Council Members Protest to Fire and Building Committee About Theatre.

OFFICIALS INVESTIGATE

After Hearing Master Builders and Workmen Councilmen Endress and Reville Inspect Building—Alleged Violations Pointed Out.

William H. Harding L. S. Martenis, Frank Farnham and William H. Lunger, representing the Building Trades Council, and C. W. Krausse and Philip Jahn, representing the Master Builders' Association, held a conference with the Councilmanic fire and building committee, last night, for the purpose of bringing to the attention of the committee alleged violations of the building code, especially in respect to the building of a moving picture theatre on West Second street. Those present representing the Council were Fred Endress, chairman of the committee P. J. Reville, C. C. Randolph, W. W. Wilson and W. L Gloak.

The main contention of the representatives of the building trades was that local contractors are expected to live up to the building code, and they insist that outside contractors do the same. After the alleged violations had been pointed out to the Councilmen, it was decided that Councilmen Endress and Reville, together with Fire Chief T. O. Doane, should investigate the matter.

Accordingly, the two Councilmen with Chief Doane and William H. Unger, business agent for the Building Trades' Council, visited the moving picture theatre this morning and it is claimed that gross violation of the code were found. It was pointed out that there is a violation in the main entrance on West Second street, while twenty-five feet wide, has two doors six feet wide inside the lobby, and the construction of the cornice on West Front street was pointed out to be a violation. It was said that two roofs which were ordered taken down a week ago are still in position. It was also declared that the doors in the building are not fireproof, and that a window beneath a fire-escape which was ordered removed was still there.

While the building trades claim that the store on West Front street is a new building, the builder considers it to be "under repairs." It is further pointed out that the walls between the stores are not solid, as required, and that the entrance to the store front consists of old beams, which are not safe.

The Councilmanic Committee and the representatives of the building trades will hold another conference on Thursday night to consider the above matter further. In the meantime it is possible that Fire Chief Doane, as building inspector, may take some action.

NEW CANDIDATE IN UNION COUNTY RACE

Elias F. Applegate May Seek Freeholder Nomination.

Announcement is expected to be made soon of the candidacy of Elias F. Applegate, of Rahway, for a freeholder nomination on the Republican ticket. Mr. Applegate has received a large number of requests that he toss his hat into the ring, and he declared yesterday, when questioned, that he had not finally decided the matter.

Mr. Applegate made a fine run last year for the excise board, and only for the presence of a Bull Moose ticket in the field would probably have been elected. He is well known throughout the city. He resides at 18 DeHart place, and is a contractor. Owing to the failure of the mandatory small Board of Freeholders' bill to pass, freeholders will be chosen by municipalities. Four will be chosen from Elizabeth.

ACCUSED AND COMPLAINANT MARRIED IN COUNTY JAIL

Pleading guilty to a serious charge brought by Mary L. Arrindell, colored, of this city, James Crowell, formerly of Plainfield but more recently of New Rochelle, N. Y., was fined $50 by Judge Connolly in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, with the understanding that he would marry the complainant.

The marriage took place in the probation office, and was performed by Rev. William B. Hamilton, assistant probation officer. The groom was then committed to the county jail to await the payment of the fine.

HETFIELD PLAYS PART OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

Held Collins In His Office While Police Were On the Way.

Richard Collins, who was arrested several weeks ago on the complaint of his wife who lives in Rahway road, this city, was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the City Court, on a charge of non-support, after he had been arrested in the office of Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Hetfield, Jr. After testimony relating to the couples' married life had been heard, the mayor held the defendant in $300 bonds, to furnish $3 each week to his wife toward the support of herself and child. Collins is still detained at headquarters in default of the bond.

Collins went to Mr. Hetfield's office shortly after noon yesterday and told him that he was not going to appear at the City Court, as he was ordered when arraigned on August 4, because he claimed he had been tried in Paterson on the same charge. After arguing with the assistant corporation counsel for several minutes Collins, it is said, attempted to leave the office after using indecent language in his explanations. But Hetfield was too quick for him. Barring the door, the counselor held Collins prisoner until he summoned Sergeant Higgins by telephone. Collins was then placed in a cell until arraigned.

On the witness stand Collins repeated his story told on Monday, August 3, when he appeared before City Judge DeMeza and was subsequently released for further hearing. He said his wife got intoxicated and went out with other men, which she staunchly denied. On the other hand, Mrs. Collins told of ill treatment she had suffered at the hands of her spouse. The couple at one time lived in Paterson. The police are investigating his assertion that he was tried in the Silk City for non-support.

GALBRAITH ANXIOUS TO SETTLE ACCOUNT

Borough Board of Education Wants to Know If He Is Entitled to Last Payment.

Members of the North Plainfield Board of Education and Den. J. Galbraith, the plumbing contractor who installed the $18,000 heating and ventilating plant in the Somerset street school building, argued for several hours, last night, at a meeting held to determine whether the contractor is entitled as yet, to the last payment which he claims is due. E. S. Boyer, speaking for the board, said he did not believe that Mr. Galbraith had fulfilled his contract and in some cases asserted that Mr. Galbraith did not correctly interpret the specifications. It was finally decided to hold a meeting Saturday morning at which time several members of the educational board will survey the system with the contractor.

Andrew Frost, of Lebanon, Pa., who has signed an application as Latin teacher in the Borough High school, was present last night and was introduced to the board. He has had several years experience as teacher of Latin and English in Lebanon institutions. Members of the board who were present last night, were: Dr. J. H. Cooley, E. S. Boyer, Newton B. Smalley, J. C. VanMater and H. A. Woodruff.

SAY THEY WERE BADLY TREATED

Three Boys In Hands of Local Police Escaped From New Centre Farm.

ALLEGE MANY BEATINGS

Told Mayor Stewart and Chief Kiely That Farm Owner Worked Them 15 or 16 Hours, Seven Days In the Week.

Stories of alleged cruel and brutal treatment at the hands of Wilbur R. Everett, proprietor of a farm at New Centre, near Somerville, were told by three small boys at police headquarters this morning, where they had been brought after being found near Scotch Plains by Walter Burgess, a Main Line trolley conductor. The youngsters had been wandering aimlessly about since Sunday afternoon, when they escaped from the farm where they had been placed by charitable institutions, because their parents were either dead or unable to care for them. They had been walking from town to town, with little to eat and said they had been sleeping in sheds and under trees.

Mayor Percy H. Stewart, who listened with interest to the stories of hard life the boys said they were forced to follow, will take steps to have an investigation started immediately.

The names of the boys and the places they came from are: Michael Sheridan, 11 years old, of Montclair, Lester Mullener 11 years old, of Somerville, and Donald Nicholson, 12 years old, of Hoboken. The institutions in these cities from which the boys were originally sent after becoming public charges have been communicated with, and are to send representatives to Plainfield to look after the boys' futures.

Mr. Burgess, who found the boys walking along Westfield avenue at 1.30 o'clock this morning, lives at 718 West Front street. Standing on the rear platform of the car, he watched them proceeding slowly toward Westfield. Attracted by their size and appearance on the street at such an unseemly hour, the conductor signalled for the car to stop and called the youngsters to him. He told them to take a ride. When this city was reached, he purchased the runaways some food and brought them to police headquarters. Placed in a witness room, they soon fell asleep. The Sheridan boy almost collapsed from weakness caused by the lack of nourishment and the hardships he had experienced.

This morning, in the presence of Mayor Stewart and Chief Kiely, the boys told of their life on the farm. They utterly detested Everett, whom they said beat them several times every day for apparently no reason. They said they had to get up in the morning at 4.30 o'clock, and after eating a sparing meal were forced to work almost continually until 8 o'clock at night. Their duties consisted of work usually required of a mature farm-hand, such as loading hay, picking and husking corn, digging potatoes, milking cows and weeding gardens. They were allowed no time for play they said, were refused permission to attend a nearby Sunday-school although they often made such a request and were made to work on the Sabbath as well as on other days.

The boys said Everett cursed and swore at them almost continually and beat them with clubs, straps and occasionally with horsewhips. Sheridan wore an improvised bandage about his left wrist which he said was sprained when Everett grabbed hold of him one day and twisted his arm. Almost all of his front teeth were missing and on his face was a long scar, both of which were caused he said, by having been kicked by a fiery horse while he was driving the animal from pasture. He said the horse kicked him several times in the chest and face. He was given medical treatment, he said, but was forced to work regardless of his injuries.

The youngsters cried piteously while relating their past experiences and their sobs choked their words when they asked about their parents. Sheridan's mother is living in Montclair and has a hard time supporting herself, according to her son. She was forced to turn her boy over to a home in Montclair after making a vain fight against poverty. His father is dead. Mullener's parents are both living, but he said they quarreled and eventually separated, abandoning him. He was sent to the farm three years ago from an institution in Somerville. Nicholson is without father or mother and says he does not remember them. The other two boys have not seen their mother since they were placed under Everett's care, they said.

At first angered because Burgess brought them to the police, the three boys are today glad that they have found friends and say they hope Everett will be sent to jail.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

William A. Brady Ltd. will present another new play at the Plainfield Theatre, tonight. It is called "The Family Cupboard," and the author's name is Owen Davis. With his usual fine discretion, Mr. Brady has selected a representative company of well-known New York players. "The Family Cupboard" promises to provide a few genuine thrills. It is declared to be a most startling play of New York life, with many side-lights heretofore not touched upon by any contemporary dramatist. The theme of the play is built upon the passage from St. Marks: "A house divided against itself shall not stand." The particular house in "The Family Cupboard" is that of Charles Nelson, a wealthy New York business man, whose wife has been poisoned by the "society bee" to such an extent that her home becomes merely the meeting place for various and sundry social functions, and the husband and wife drift farther apart with each succeeding event. In search of comradeship, the husband and father looks elsewhere, with the result that the inevitable "family skeleton" is eventually presented, in this case of particular repulsion for the reason that the younger son of the household is also caught in the meshes.

NEW JERSEY IN THE LEAD IN MAKING OF EXPLOSIVES

Washington, Aug. 19.—In 1909 there were reported in the United States eighty-six establishments engaged in the manufacture of explosives. Number of persons in the industry was 7,058, including 6,273 wage earners. Capital invested was $50,167,976, and the value of products was $40,139,661. New Jersey was the leading State.

Including the product of the establishments operated by the Federal Government and the explosives made as secondary product by establishments not engaged primarily in the manufacture of explosives, production in 1909 was 498,171,650 pounds, and in 1904 362,085,816 pounds.

Production of smokeless powder by all classes of establishments in 1909 was 6,315,167 pounds, valued at $4,292,981, as compared with 7,009,720 pounds, valued at $4,406,477 in 1904 and 3,053,126 pounds valued at $1,716,101 in 1899. During the decade 1899-1909 the production of explosives by establishments engaged chiefly in their manufacture increased 271,500,533 pounds, or 125.7 per cent. in quantity, and $21,032,892, or 124.1 per cent., in value. Of the total increase in output, blasting powder and gunpowder contributed 123,025,772 pounds, and dynamite, including "permissible explosives," 118,916,843 pounds.

In 1909, of the total number of establishments, 89.5 per cent. were under corporate ownership, as compared with 87.9 per cent. in 1904. The proportions for 1909 are affected by the inclusion of a number of reports in that year which covered more than one plant, whereas in 1904 separate reports were received for each plant. The corporations reported 99.2 per cent. of the value of the products in 1909 and 98.6 per cent. in 1904.

KENTUCKY ELKS HOLD REUNION.

Covington, Ky., Aug. 19.—This city is gaily decorated in honor of the thousands of Kentucky Elks and their ladies who are gathered here for their annual State reunion. An interesting program has been arranged for the three days of the reunion and there will be something going on every minute. This morning was devoted to the registration of the visiting Elks and their ladies at the Elks' Home on West Fifth street. In the afternoon the reunion was formally opened and the keys to the city were presented to the visitors by Brother George E. Phillips, Mayor of Covington. For the evening a ritualistic contest for the prize degree banner is on the program, together with a concert on the grounds of the Elks' Home. Business meetings will be held tomorrow and Thursday morning, while the afternoons and evenings will be devoted to pleasure.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC CENTRE.

Rome, Aug. 19.—Driven from England, France and other countries of Europe by rigorous police administration, white slave dealers have found their way to the new Italian colony of Tripoli, where the infamous traffic is attaining hideous proportions. A man known to the police as one of the most notorious white slave traffickers in Turin, where a number of houses have flourished under his management, set up a big branch establishment in Tripoli. His victims were procured in all parts of Europe, Algiers and Egypt. The authorities got on the track of the organization through a young French woman who escaped from his clutches. As a result of her revelations six of the principals of this white slave trust have been arrested in Tripoli, and two others in Turin.

WILL FIGHT BOOTLEGGERS.

Columbus, O., Aug. 19.—One of the most important matters to be discussed and voted on by the annual meeting of the Ohio Liquor League which opened a two days' session here today, will be the resolution proposed by State President William Seckel, of Cleveland, to levy a monthly per capita tax of 25 cents from all retailers for the purpose of maintaining a bureau to ferret out illegal traffickers in liquor. It is believed that the strict enforcement of the new State liquor license law will force a number of retailers out of business and incidentally prove an incentive for some to engage in bootlegging or the maintenance of speakeasies. The resolution referred to was suggested with a view of suppressing this illegal traffick.

HOST TO TWENTY THOUSAND.

Versailles, Ky., Aug. 19. Every man, woman and child on Johnson N. Camden's four-thousand-acre estate in Woodford county, not far from here, is busy today with the preparations for tomorrow, when the millionaire owner of the estate expects to be host to an army of probably twenty thousand Kentucky farmers and their wives. The invitation was extended to all farmers and farmers wives of Kentucky, but it is believed that not more than twenty thousand will accept Mr. Camden's hospitality. To feed the visitors there will be plenty of burgoo and barbecued beef mutton and chickens, together with the trimmings as customary among Southern farmers. The gathering will also have a practical object. Agricultural conditions and suggestions for the betterment of the farms will be discussed by several noted authorities on farming who have consented to deliver informal addresses.

"AUTO BANDIT" AT PROCTOR'S.

Edward Clark presents his melodrama in three scenes entitled "The Auto Bandit," as one of the head-line attractions at Proctor's theatre, this week. The act includes a thrilling fight, a race for life and the capture of the bandit by a bicycle cop. There are eight in the cast. Charles and Ada Latham in "Nobody's Kid," is a dandy comedy episode in the life of a street waif who finally finds her long lost father in a peculiar manner. The California Trio offer a fresh, breezy act of dancing and singing. Stevenson and Nugent, comedians, present a sketch entitled "In Wrong," it being a rehearsal at the opera house which is very amusing. Alfred Farrell, the artist, who throws his drawings on a sheet, is exceptionally good. The drawings are well worth seeing.

POSTPONED NON-SUPPORT CASE.

The trial of James Lyons, 41 years old, of 541 West Fifth street, who was arrested by Patrolman Welch on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife through the office of the overseer-of-the-poor, was postponed until Tuesday, September 2, when the defendant was arraigned yesterday before Mayor Stewart in the City Court. This course was necessary because of the illness of Mrs. Lyons, who is in a serious condition at her home.

PLAINFIELD IN HISTORY.

Plainfield is a live, active, progressive business city. Our industries and business houses are as varied as any to be found in any community of the same size in the United States. The stock of goods on the merchants' counters compare favorably, both in quality and price, with those to be found anywhere. But how few of us are in a position to tell of the opportunities which this town offers in an industrial and business way. How many are thoroughly familiar with the history of the city, prior to their advent here? It is safe to say that there are very few.

Some time ago, Howard Lapsley prepared, and there was printed in the Daily Press, a brief history of Plainfield, from its inception to the present day. That history emphasized to the publishers of the Press the need of some comprehensive record about Plainfield, its public buildings, institutions, schools, industries, business places and people. It was firmly determined then that when the proper person could be secured to do the work, the Daily Press would publish an industrial and historical edition such as has never been printed before in this section of New Jersey, and the like of which has never before been attempted in Plainfield.

After several months of investigation as to the possibilities of such an edition, the Daily Press has concluded to make the attempt. The exact date of the special edition has not been determined upon, but it will be some time in October, probably on a Saturday. As all undertakings of the kind require an unusual amount of labor, we have, after a thorough investigation of his merits, engaged Albert E. Walker, a specialist in this kind of work, who has compiled some of the finest special editions ever published. Mr. Walker begins work on the edition today, and we bespeak for him every consideration from those with whom he comes in contact. He and his assistants will explain thoroughly what it is proposed to do; they will seek information, which we hope will be cheerfully given to them, so that no one will say that the special edition is not accurate. That such aid will be given we feel quite sure, and we expect to furnish to the people of Plainfield the finest historical and industrial edition ever published in New Jersey.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, is attacking President Wilson on his Mexican policy. He accuses him of sacrificing the interests of Americans in Mexico. If the President had chosen his enemy he could not have been more fortunate. Penrose! What do the people of the United States care what he says about anything. For him to express concern about any particular citizen or public matter is, in itself, sufficient reason for the American people to take the opposite view. It is most astonishing what great interest Penrose and his like seem to have in certain mine owners and the like.

It is said our Government should not concern itself about the morals of the ruler of a government seeking recognition. Why not? Should this government recognize as president of Mexico a man known to have secured his place by the assassination of his predecessor? The American people say no. A Republic that is supposed to be founded on the principles of Holy Writ should not recognize a murderer as president.

The truth of the whole matter is that certain adventurous Americans and others are trying to secure rights that are of great value through diplomatic means, and by war if necessary. There should be no war with Mexico. No one wishes to see it except these speculators. President Wilson is right in trying by mediation to settle the whole matter by peaceable means. If it were not for these extraneous matters his task would be easy. But it is the exploitation of Mexico's great mineral wealth that is making all the trouble. Even to the extent of forcing this country into war these exploiters are willing to go. In fact, some of them are hoping for war because they think it would be to their advantage.

No one of serious mind and thoughtful disposition wants war. We do not want to annex that country nor have soveignty over it. It would be a plague to us in either contingency. We should protect our citizens there in the enjoyment of their lawfully acquired rights, of course, but war is not necessary to do this. We could compel indemnity for loss or wrong.

Those who have gone to Mexico knew the conditions and character of the country and people. To force war for wrongs they must have anticipated, is not right to the millions of citizens of the Republic who had no part in their going. The death of one citizen soldier of the Republic would not be justified in such a situation. If this Republic were to go to war with Mexico not five of our people in any one thousand would understand the reason why. Outside of a few financially interested persons, and a senator or two in Washington who evidently do not understand public sentiment, no one of sane mind would wish to see a war declared. The Cuban war was forced upon McKinley by Congress. That was absolutely unnecessary and could have been settled by diplomacy if Congress had not been in session—and that too without tacking to us the Philippines, which are a curse and a burden.

For a Mexican war there is no excuse and absolutely no justification or advantage. The people will stand by President Wilson in his endeavor to prevent so deplorable an event as war with Mexico.

The work being done by the City Union of King's Daughters, in conducting a Day Nursery for the babies, is being hampered considerably by lack of funds. Attention was called to the matter in the Press last Friday, and we regret that the request for funds has not been more liberally responded to. The Day Nursery is doing a double work this year, and needs money badly. The camp which was formerly conducted on the mountains, to which sick babies were taken during the summer, has been abandoned this year, and its work is now being done at the Day Nursery on West Front street. During the summer never less than fifteen babies have been taken care of each day, and seven babies are being kept at the home day and night. Money is used for the purchase of milk and other necessities. The building is owned by the City Union, so that practically all receipts go toward actually making things easier for the little ones. Send along your checks for this worthy cause. All subscriptions will be acknowledged, and large or small they will be welcome.

County Chairman Pfeiffer stated that Republican conditions appeared to be so favorable that he felt certain that Middlesex county would be carried by Stokes, and that the entire county ticket would be elected.

No, gentle reader, the former is not part of the dream of the rarebit fiend. It's part of the slush sent out by the Stokes press bureau at Trenton.

The Newark Star suggests that Charles N. Fowler and Senator Carlton B. Pierce retire as candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor, as John D. Prince has done, and leave a clear field for Stokes. If they do who are the Progressives in the Republican party going to vote for?

AUTOMOBILISTS PAY FINES FOR VIOLATIONS

Speeders and Those Without Lights Before Mayor Stewart This Morning.

In the City Court late yesterday afternoon, Mayor Percy H. Stewart fined two automobile speeders $25 each, and four other motorists $5 each for driving their cars through the city's streets at night without the lamp on the rear of their machines lighted. Four other motorists were arrested last night on the latter charge and two of them were fined $5 each when arraigned this morning and the other two may receive a similar sentence when brought before the mayor late this afternoon.

Every violator of the motor vehicle laws that was brought before the city executive yesterday received a fine, the monies totaling $70. This morning $10 was added to the amount collected from the autoists.

John Lawrence, of Hoboken, made the court spectators' eyes bulge when he drew from his pocket a roll of bills when he was ordered to pay a fine of $25 for speeding on August 3 along West Seventh street at the rate of 25 miles an hour. He was arrested by Patrolman Welch. Councilman Endress and William Harding, of John street, eye witnesses, and George W. Thompson, an auto expert from the office of the State Motor Vehicle Commission, testified against the Hobokenite.

Edward Waring, of 900 Park avenue, who fell a victim of Patrolman Welch's watchfulness yesterday morning, was also fined $25. He was arrested on West Seventh street near Central avenue. Welch said he was driving his car at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The defendant confessed that he drove his machine at half that speed.

Augustus Romond, of 220 Somerset street; Harry Darby, of Westfield, and Albert King, of 180 Watchung avenue, were fined $5 each for failing to have a lighted lamp on the rear of their machines. All were arrested by Patrolman Sweeney. Edward Cooper, of 675 West Third street, who was arrested by Patrolman McIntyre for a similar offense, was also made to pay $5 for his negligence. All claimed they lighted their lamp when they left a garage, but asserted that it had gone out later.

Patrolman Brower apprehended last night, W. H. Dennick, of 1333 Myrtle avenue, and W. W. Mooner, of Westfield, for not having a rear light and these men were fined $5 each when arraigned this morning. Edward TenEyck, of Metuchen, and John Darling, of 943 Prospect avenue, were arrested for identical offenses last night by Patrolman McGinley and will be arraigned before the Mayor late this afternoon.

PATROLMAN WELCH ADDS TWO MORE TO HIS LIST

Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., and Chief Marshal George Weiss, of North Plainfield, requested the police of this city to arrest Edward Condit, colored, of 308 Arlington avenue, and William Brown, colored, of South Second street, who have kept in hiding since warrants have been sworn out for their arrest on charges of gambling in Myrtle avenue. Yesterday afternoon Patrolman Welch arrested Condit in Madison avenue and this morning the alert Welch saw Brown on a Main Line trolley car and placed him under arrest. Both were turned over to the borough authorities.

Chiefs Kiely and Weiss complimented Welch on his prompt apprehension of the alleged crap shooters. It is Welch who has made many of the recent arrests of violators of the motor vehicle laws in this city.

INCORRIGABLE LECTURED.

Jacob Bloom, 13 years old, of 329 Liberty street, was arraigned before Mayor Stewart in the City Court yesterday on the complaint of his mother who claimed he was incorrigable. COMFORT IN IRONING

USE ASBESTOS SAD IRONS

THE HOOD—When the hood is placed on the iron, the heat is bottled up. A dead-air space, in addition to the asbestos lining, prevents radiation of heat from the iron and keeps the temperature of the wood handle below blood heat. No holder is needed.

THE CORE—The core or base is a solid chunk of iron. Iron takes up and retains heat in proportion to its weight. The core acts as a heat reservoir and regulator by retaining the heat and letting it pass to the bottom as the surface cools. The stored heat is confined by the asbestos-lined hood instead of radiating into space. The ironing face has a mirror-like polish and is slightly convex. The edges are rounded to prevent drawing and wrinkling.

THE LOCK—The lock is secure, preventing rattle and insuring against accidently unfastening. The lock will catch automatically.

RUNYON NOT TO RUN FOR CITY JUDGESHIP

Says Positively That He Will Not Be Candidate For Nomination.

William N. Runyon, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for city judge on the Republican ticket, announced today that he would not enter the contest at the fall primaries. He declared that he did not seek the office from the first and the circulation of petitions was without his personal knowledge.

At the time Mr. Runyon's name was mentioned for the nomination, it was stated that friends of the former city judge were anxious that he enter the race. It was not until today, however, that Mr. Runyon gave his final decision.

WARRANT OUT FOR ARREST OF DENCKLAU IN CASHIN CASE

According to Dunellen Borough Counsel Rene F. von Minden, a warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Harry Dencklau, of Foster avenue, Piscataway Township, and the police of Dunellen are expecting to place him under arrest tonight, for an alleged assault on Frank C. Cashin, of East Sixth street, an employe of Daley Brothers, the local grocers. The complaint charges Dencklau with disorderly conduct and fighting, but at the hearing, it is likely that the charge may be made a more serious one, according to von Minden.

Dencklau is said to have attacked Cashin Saturday afternoon when the latter attempted to collect a personal account. After inflicting several stiff punches to Cashin's jaw, Dencklau is said to have seized a loaded rifle and fired several shots at the fleeing Cashin, who ran from his assailant.

According to the testimoney given by several witnesses and the principals in the case, Costantino became involved in a quarrel with Abato, a mason contractor, because the latter discharged him from his employ.

Abato exhibited scratches about the neck and a bad bite on the thumb of his lef hand, which he claimed were inflicted by Costantino's teeth. The defendant was represented by John P. Owens, and Councilman Francis J. Blatz, of the law firm of Codington & Blatz, was counsel fo the complainant.

FIND THAW IN TWO PLACES

Colebrook, N. H., Aug. 19.—A despatch from Coaticook, Quebec says that Harry K. Thaw has been arrested there. The message says that Thaw was taken from a train. It is said that Thaw was recognized by a deputy sheriff who was also a passenger on the train.

Montreal, Aug. 19—A message over the long distance telephone received here says that Harry K. Thaw was arrested at Coaticock, Quebec, today.

New York, Aug. 19.—The most sensational development that followed Harry K. Thaw's escape from Matteawan asylum in a fast auto was the swearing out of a warrant charging the fugitive with conspiracy.

This is an extraditable charge, declares District Attornew Conger of Dutchess county, who got the warrant from Supreme Court Justice Morschauser at Poughkeepsie. It will permit Thaw's arrest and return to this state, wherever he may be found. Extradition as a mere fugitive from the lunatic asylum had been pronounced impossible by the best legal authorities.

Calls For Arrest on Sight.

A new charge of conspiracy was made against Howard Barnum, attendant who opened the gate through which Thaw fled to the waiting auto. Barnum, already accused of bribery, was held without bail.

Duplicate warrants have been rushed here and a dozen other cities from Poughkeepsie. They call for Thaw's arrest on sight.

They are issued under subdivisions 1 and 6 of section 580, penal code, which say:

If two or more persons conspire to commit a crime or to commit any act injurious to public morals, or for the perversion or obstruction of justice, or of the due administration of the law, he shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

The section is the same under which District Attorney Whitman convicted four inspectors of attempting to keep Sipp beyond the jurisdiction of the New York courts.

Sends Letter to Mother.

Following his daring escape, it is believed, Thaw spent part of Sunday night here.

Yesterday noon his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, got a letter from Harry at the Hotel Gotham. It had been mailed at midnight at Station O, Harlem.

In the letter Harry wrote he'd "take a rest before coming to Elmhurst," the Thaw summer home. The fugitive's mother and the rest of the family will leave today for Elmhurst.

The police think Thaw may plan to join his family in Pennsylvania, believing he will be safe from extradition.

Color was lent this theory by the fact that Dr. Britton D. Evans, alienist, who swore Harry suffered from "brainstorm" when she shot White, is expected to accompany the fugitive's mother to Elmhurst.

"Neat Job," Says Mother.

"It was a neat job," Mrs. Thaw said, in commenting on her son's escape.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's comment was in a different strain.

"Harry'll make trouble everywhere he goes," she declared.

Although no one knows where Thaw is now, it is believed he may be hiding somewhere in New England. The theory that he sailed from New England coast in a yacht is pretty well exploded.

Strength was lent to the belief that Thaw was yesterday in New England by the story of a man living near New Canaan. He said that three automobiles stopped at his house and asked about roads. The occupants seemed to want to avoid observation. He said he thought one man was Thaw and a woman, his sister, the former Countess of Yarmouth.

Warrants against the five men who aided in the Thaw escape were issued by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser at Poughkeepsie yesterday.

The five men who are alleged to have aided Thaw in his daring dash in a high powered auto from the Matteawan asylum, unlike Thaw, can be brought back to this state wherever they may be found. Their names, as they appear on the register of the Holland hotel at Beacon, are Richard J. Butler, Roger Thompson, Michael O'Keefe, Eugene Duffy and Thomas Flood.

It had been declared that Thaw had boarded a "mystery yacht" at Roton Point, near South Norwalk, Conn., and headed for South America. Yesterday it was learned that this vessel was the Kathmar II., owned by Robert T. Fowler of Alexander Smith & Sons, 105 Fifth avenue.

$500 Reward Offered.

At this office yesterday Mr. Fowler was amazed and amused to hear that the name of his yacht had been connected with the Thaw escape.

Burns detectives have been summoned to Matteawan by Superintendent Raymond F. C. Kleb, who says the men aiding Thaw's escape can be prosecuted for a felony.

Prisons Superintendent Riley has offered a reward of $500 for Thaw's return to the institution.

PROMISED TO KEEP PLEDGE.

John Renfies, of 768 Webster place and Luke McGauley, of 709 East Sixth street, took the pledge and were released on suspended sentences whn arraigned yesterday afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the City Court. Charles Williams, of West Fourth street, was also released on a similar charge.

REFUSED WILSON PLANS

Santa Fe, five miles to the northwest of the capital.

Huerta Firm as Ever.

Mexico City, Aug. 19.—In giving the United States government until midnight to recognize him President Huerta is not specific in the public announcement as to what course will then be pursued, but it is understood that this notice means the severing of all relations between the two countries.

It was reported earlier in the day that President Huerta, replying to President Wilson's note, which was recently delivered to the Mexican government through former Governor John Lind, had refused mediation or any similar suggestion made by a foreign government and that Mr. Lind had forwarded General Huerta's answer to Washington and was awaiting a reply.

President Huerta in his reply told the United States that he would tolerate no interference, even though that interference might be characterized as friendly mediation.

Lind Still Hopeful.

The character of the reply of Washington to President Huerta's note will determine the next action in the international drama.

All those connected with the American embassy refused to admit the receipt of the note, and its sending was not admitted officially by the Mexican government.

At the embassy there was an evident desire to appear optimistic, and one was led to believe that Mr. Lind still hoped for a continuation of the negotiations.

Those familiar with the workings of the Mexican administration expressed doubt as to the government again opening the subject for discussion. President Huerta's failure to live up to what was regarded as the spirit of his recent note in which he said Mr. Lind would be regarded as persona non grata if he did not bring to Mexico proper credentials, together with recognition of the republic by the United States, has caused the public to believe there was a possibility that he intended to receive with favor, in part at least, the suggestions of the Washington administration.

The Embargo on Arms.

It appears, however, that the Mexican government's unofficial reception of Mr. Lind by the foreign minister, Senor Gamboa, and the acceptance by him of Mr. Lind's preliminary note was merely an example of international courtesy, due, perhaps, to a desire of President Huerta to make clear his record in developing events.

Those most intimate with Huerta expressed no surprise in stating that in their opinion Huerta had voiced his sentiments fully and unalterably when he stated publicly more than a week ago that he would brook no interference in the work of pacifying Mexico.

It is believed here that President Huerta's attitude is likely to result in the early adoption of a policy of absolute noninterference on the part of the United States government, which probably will involve the lifting of the embargo against the importation of arms and ammunition by the rebels.

Co-operative Housekeeping.

A good many experiments have been made in co-operative housekeeping of various kinds at various times. A recent plan may be of interest, because it is practical and has proved its worth.

In a small town where the servant problem was difficult—both because good servants were scarce and because they were expensive—half a dozen families, some of them related and some of them only friendly, joined together in a co-operative dining room. It was the cooking problem which discouraged the housewives. They could manage to get their houses cleaned and in order, to get the beds made and the rooms dusted and the porches swept. These duties seemed nothing compared with the cooking that must be done to satisfy their large families.

So they decided to serve meals in the house of one of their number, who had a large dining room connected with a large living room. They experimented several weeks before they had the plan working smoothly, but they finally settled down into a routine.

How They Managed.

Two unmarried women take charge of the meals. One plans them one week, the other the next, and the one who is not planning them supervises the dining room. They hire a good cook and two young girls to help prepare vegetables, wash dishes and wait on table. They pay the cook six dollars a week and the young girls, who live at home and are only on duty part of the day, they pay two dollars each. Two dollars a week pays for the rest of the service—a laundress for the table linen. The total outlay for service is twelve dollars. As there are twenty-four members of the party, each is assessed fifty cents a week for service. The food costs about three dollars for each person, on the average. This is good and varied food, such as the various families had been used to. Much cheaper food could, of course, be provided. The two women who run the dining room get the advantage of buying in wholesale quantities and buy all groceries and other supplies at wholesale prices.

In any organization of this kind it is wise to put the running of the meals in the hands of one person. It might be expedient to pay the manager of the dining room for her trouble. This could be a stated sum each week, or she could receive a specified amount of board money and could take her stipend from that, making it depend on the amount she was able to save.

Some Cookery Suggestions

SIMPLE FRUIT SANDWICHES.

WITH the return of schooldays the conscientious mother whose children live too far from home to return for the midday meal has again to face the hard problem of providing them with attractive yet nutritious lunches.

In these sandwiches play an important part, and to be able to supply a variety of these that will appeal to the childish palate and yet are good for small stomachs is to achieve a culinary triumph.

Sweet Sandwiches.

Date Sandwiches.—Cut entire wheat bread in rounds, cover each with half cupful dates and half cupful English walnut meats chopped fine and mixed with half cupful cream. Butter the bread before filling.

Banana Sandwiches.—Take two bananas sliced and marinated in lemon juice. Spread white bread with thick cream sweetened with honey and then lay on slices of bananas and cover with another thin slice of bread.

Dainty Fruit Combination.

Fig Sandwiches.—Chop the figs very fine, add water to make a thin, smooth paste and cook gently until they spread. Add nut meat chopped fine, with orange juice or extract to flavor, or, if preferred, use grated candied lemon or orange peel, with fresh fruit juice to taste. Spread between thin slices of buttered brown bread cut in fanciful shapes or between thin slices of angel food or sponge cake.

Orange Sandwiches.—Put one cupful sugar in a granite saucepan, add one-fourth cup each water and orange juice. Bring to the boiling point and let boil until sirup will spin a thread when dropped from the tip of a spoon. Add one-half cupful of very finely chopped candied orange peel and one-half teaspoonful vanilla. Spread between two kinds of bread (brown and white), cut in rounds, the upper one cut doughnut shape to show the fillings.

The Sun Came Climbing Up.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Firefly Was Beaten By the Sun.

THERE was a nice breeze blowing through the window.

"I'm glad we live in such a nice cool place," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn. "Even if it has been hot all day, it is generally comfortable here by bedtime."

Jack and Evelyn looked out of the window. They could see the leaves of the trees nodding in the breeze. The crickets were chirping to one another, and here and there darted great white fireflies.

"I should think they would be warm," Jack remarked.

"That kind of fire doesn't burn," daddy said. "Nobody knows exactly how the firefly makes his light, either. It is a very wonderful light.

"Even when it is raining the light may be still seen as the little creatures dart about close to the ground.

"If you caught one of the fireflies you would see that he is a very common looking brown bug. He is handsome only when his light shines out.

"Once on a time there was a big handsome firefly that was very vain. He thought his light was the greatest and brightest light in the whole world.

"'Ho, ho!' cried this firefly one night as a little boy went along the road with a lantern. 'I can make a better light than you do.' And he darted away through the bushes looking like a floating star.

"By and by it began to rain, and the thunder rolled and the lightning flashed.

"'Ho, ho,' laughed the firefly as the lightning flashed about him; 'I shine on just the same, while you go out in a second!'

"One night the moon came out. At first it was just the little crescent moon, but each night it grew larger until the full moon shone in the sky.

"The firefly flitted about among the shadowy trees and through the bushes.

"'Ho, ho,' he laughed; 'I'm just as bright as you are! You can't put me out with your shining.'

"He was so pleased with having outshone the moon and the northern lights that he danced all night.

"'Ho, ho,' he cried; 'I can shine more brightly than any one in the world!'

"Just then the round old sun came climbing up from behind an eastern hill, and the firefly's light grew fainter and fainter. When the sun reached the top of the hill you wouldn't know that the firefly had a light. His light was drowned out by the good broad light of day.

"And the firefly was so mortified that he crawled away under a leaf deep in some bushes, and now he sleeps all day because he knows he cannot beat the light of the sun, no matter how he may shine."

A good fire may be hot stuff--but are you prepared for it ?

You are if you hold one of our policies.

SALUTE FOR KAISER WILHELM

Many Things of Interest to Boys and Girls—A Mystifying Trick With Figures—Bits of Useful Information. Riddles to Puzzle and Amuse.

In Germany, as in most European nations, militarism is very much more in evidence than in our own land of the free. In all the larger cities there are constantly to be seen soldiers in the uniforms of their respective arms of the service. Parades are a matter of

© by American Press Association.

BOY SALUTING THE KAISER.

everyday occurrence, and it is therefore not surprising that the German little folks, especially the boys, should become inbued with the military spirit. When the kaiser turns out at a review of troops there is always a large crowd to cheer him and his gaudily attired soldiers. At the recent Potsdam review the camera man snapped a couple of boys perched on a window ledge just as they were saluting the kaiser in true military fashion. One is in the uniform of a naval officer and the other in the gorgeous uniform of the royal hussars.

A Trick With Figures.

Desire a person to think of a number. Tell him to triple it and take the exact half of that.

Triple that half if the number is even, if odd multiply the larger half by three. Then ask him how many times that answer contains nine, for the answer will contain the double of that number of nines and one more if it be odd.

Thus, if the number thought of is five its triple will be fifteen, which cannot be devided by two without a remainder. The greater half of fifteen is eight. If we multiply this by three we have twenty-four, which contains nine twice. So we shall have 2 plus 2 plus 1 equals 5, the number first thought of.

Game of Mosaic.

A writing game for any number. Each writes a word on a slip of paper, and after the slips are mixed one of the players draws and reads them aloud in the order in which he draws them, and each player must write them down in the same order. Then each one must write a little story or paragraph, using the words in the same order. The game may be made more difficult by requiring the story to be of a specified length or written within a certain time, or it may be made easier by allowing the players to use the words in any order they please.

A Water Experiment.

Procure two pieces of glass about six inches square, join any two of their sides and separate the opposite sides with a piece of wax so that their surfaces may be at a slight angle. Immerse this apparatus about an inch in a basin of water, and the water will rise between the plates and form a beautiful geometrical figure called a hyperbola.

A Proverb.

"Haste makes waste," the sages say.
It's a proverb old, yet true each day.
If our work is done with haste
Something will surely go to waste.
Careful movements are what tell.
A hurried task is ne'er done well.

Let's read the proverb another way:
"Make haste! Don't waste!" it seems to say.
Make haste to do whate'er is right.
Don't waste the precious moments bright.
Read either way, the words are true.
They're worth a trial, I think. Don't you?

A Pretty Cover for Baby's Carriage.

If you are wondering what useful present you can make for the autumn baby, you cannot choose anything prettier than a carriage cover of white broadcloth, corded silk or cashmere, lined with China silk and embroidered in dainty flower sprays.

The lilly-of-the-valley design, 14307, should be embroidered entirely in white with twisted silk. Cut your material 21 inches wide by 49 inches long and a flap 21 inches wide by 6 inches deep. Stamp the sprays on the material and embroider them in unpadded solid work, then the cover can be lined with China silk, eiderdown cloth or silk quilting to make it warm and the edge may either be bound with satin ribbon in pink, blue or white; or it may be finished, as shown in the illustration, with plain scalloping, using border 14301. This scallop should be well padded and should be worked with heavy rope silk.

Transfer pattern 14307 for stamping the lilly-of-the-valley sprays can be supplied at 15 cents and the scalloped border, 14301 at 10 cents.

DAINTY SUMMER COZY CORNER FOR THE LAWN OR VERANDA

SUMMER FURNITURE.

A COZY corner on the lawn or open veranda is illustrated here. The large umbrella, with its gay border, takes the place of an awning. The picture shows a novelty in which the umbrella and little tea table are all in one, but a socket might be put into an ordinary table for the accommodation of a separate umbrella. Settees of wicker are protected by substantial screens, with stamped linen hangings, and at each end are wicker flower cabinets. An arrangement of this sort makes a charming setting for a dainty garden tea, to which one's intimates may be asked informally.

"MAC" SAYS

The rumor that Pet owner Ernest Dorflinger is still Jack Torpey's friend reminds us that one J. Ceasar had a friend named Brutus.

Maybe they are looking forward to that playoff contest when the coin is bound to roll into their jeans by the shovelful.

If it can be proven that Jack Torpey said "I should worry after that clash Saturday afternoon," we move that he be forever barred from organized baseball.

Erni Dorflinger is growing whiskers which he says he won't take off until he wins the pennant. If George Voehl or Mayor W. M. Williams of the Dunellen and High Bridge outfits, respectively, made a similar pledge they would have the longest set of home plate dusters in captivity by the time the season ends.

Much has been printed about the "tempermental star." Judging from the reports coming from the little hamlet of High Bridge many of the fans are considering becoming "tempermental."

Lest we forget the Sunday-School and City Leaguers are still battling over the week ends. They have probably forgotten that the Fourth of July has went from our midst.

Still, they may have fallen for the sane Fourth idea and refuse to be blown up.

Up to date Manager George Voehl, of the Dunellen contingent, has not been able to trade his team. This is due to the fact that he has not found the necessary blind man.

A dark horse is due to appear on Parker Field next Saturday afternoon when the Royal Colored Giants and the Plainfield Pets start out on their three-game series. This is a feature that the fans have been looking forward to for some time past and some good contests ought to be the result.

It will be advertised as a minstrel show and some good vaudeville is always forthcoming where the ebony cohorts gather for an afternoon's indulgence in the national pastime.

In ancient days baseball was our national pastime but that was before we took up the pastime of firing managers.

Once upon a time Fable there was a tennis champion who did not hail from California. Nor from Plainfield, either.

Joe Harter, Eddie Stallings, Jack Garretson and a few other members of the Central New Jersey League's heavy artillery are waiting for the bugles to send them to Mexico.

President Huerta, of Mexico, is mentioned as a possibility to succeed Mayor W. M. Williams, if the latter steps out of the High Bridge club. Some further eruptions are on the way.

Mexican situation is becoming really serious. Even the baseball artists are tuning up their weapons for the fight for which baseball is a preparation.

Governor Sulzer must feel like the baseball pitcher who hears the fans shout "Take him out!"

August 12, 1938—According to cable dispatches from abroad, work has been begun on the Shamrock XXVIII which will try for America's cup next spring.

ARCHERY CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 19.—During the remainder of this week there will be much drawing of the long bow at Soldiers Field, the athletic grounds of Harvard University. The occasion will be the National Archery Association's thirty-fifth annual championship tournament, which was opened this morning with the first Columbia round for women and the first American round for men. The tournament promises to be the most successful that the association has held in some years. The participants include men and women experts with the bow and arrow from many cities throughout the country.

WILL TRY FOR LONG DISTANCE RECORD

Henry Elionsky, of New London, Hopes to Win World's Championship.

In an effort to win the title of champion long distance swimmer of America, which, he already asserts belongs to him, Henry Elionsky, known as "Buster," of New London, Conn., will try to swim from the Battery to Sandy Hook and back to Swinburn Island, a distance of fifty and one-fourth miles, this afternoon. Elionsky hopes to cover the distance in twenty hours and in that period he will neither drink, eat, nor "oil up" while in the water.

Elionsky attempted to swim to the Hook on July 21, but was forced to give up the task when within a quarter of a mile from his goal. The sea was extremely rough and in the latter stages of his swim he was fairly blinded and could only swim about in circles. Today, however, he will take advantage of both the incoming and outgoing tides so that he is confident he will accomplish his feat.

Although Elionsky is only nineteen years old he weighs 260 pounds and has enormous muscular development. He has performed many swimming stunts since he took to the water as a swimmer, three years ago. Extreme cold has little effect upon him, as was shown last winter, when he swam for half an hour at Ocean Beach in a temperature of 5 degrees above zero. To reach the water he was forced to wade knee deep through snow, and when he entered his dressing room he was bathed in perspiration, while those who watched him were shivering beneath heavy fur overcoats.

On August 13, 1912, Elionsky says he swam fifteen miles in nine hours and thirty minutes in the Thames River, and five hours were spent by him in battling with the tide. His most notable feat, however, was swimming four miles and three-quarters, from Gale's Ferry to the Public Landing, in New London, with his hands and feet tied. He is captain of the life-saving crew in New London and has several rescues to his credit.

Interest attaches to Elionsky's proposed swim to Sandy Hook, for the reason that it probably will establish a new long distance swimming record. The late Captain Webb tried to swim from the Battery to Sandy Hook several years ago, but he was forced to give up when he was a few miles from his goal. Other swimmers have tried and failed. Elionsky says he will do the trick this time as he proposes to go out with the tide as far as Swinburn Island, where he will remain for five hours until the tide comes out the second time, when he will finish the swim to the Hook.

WALSH TO SEE BONESETTER.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Pitcher Ed. Walsh, of the Chicago White Sox Club, left last night for Youngstown to see if his pitching days are over or if he is to become an outfielder. Walsh has been unable to pitch with the effectiveness of former years, and is under the impression that he is suffering from a strained ligament in his throwing arm. It is his intention to see "Bonesetter" Reese, who has promised to assist the big pitcher. Walsh has always been a hard hitter, and it is his intention to take to the outfield if he cannot continue to pitch.

COLLEGE PLAYERS FOR JAPAN.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 19—One week from today has been fixed as the date for the departure of the University of Washington baseball team on its trip to Japan. Final arrangements for the long journey are now being perfected. Ten players, with a manager, coach and interpreter, will make up the party. While in the Orient the team will engage in contests with the leading Japanese college nines.

ROYALS WILL PLAY SERIES WITH PETS

Arrangements Have Been Perfected and the Games Will Open Next Saturday.

A series between the Plainfield Pets and Manager Pete Simmons Royal Colored Giants will be opened at Parker Field next Saturday afternoon, both teams being on the edge for what the respective managers term a series for the championship of the city. Plainfield now stands a fair chance of annexing the Central League bunting and the Royals were, until recently, aspirants for the City League title. The financial regulations in that organization, however kept Simmons from putting his best lineup on the field and when the colored ball artists take the field against Plainfield they will be padded considerably.

Dorflinger will probably have his same lineup on the field as he thinks the usual array of material sufficient to wrest a game from any contingent. As has been the case on previous occasions when the Royals have met Plainfield, enthusiasm always reigns supreme and the colored ballists have a loyal band of cohorts who are out to see the colored team win and nothing else.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON IN THE CITY LEAGUE

Saurers Won the Pennant Through Consistent Fighting Against Worthy Rivals.

Enjoying a lead of two full games and 217 points, the Saurer team has practically cinched the City League championship and the race in that organization is all over but the shouting. Saurers have been playing consistent ball all season and have asserted their superiority over all of the other contenders for the title in the junior organization. With a record of eight victories and but two defeats, both of which came in the early part of the season, the motor truck makers are firmly launched in pennantville and their first season in "organized" baseball has earned for them the title of champions.

Further hostilities will probably be advocated among the various athletic organizations in the league and there is some talk of placing a basketball league in the field. The baseball organization has been tried and proven highly successful and without a doubt, a basketball league with the same teams would prove just as successful, if not more so, than the one promoting the national pastime. There are basketball performers galore in the local factories and several time a scheme of this kind has been mentioned but there was none behind the movement to push it and make it a reality. Plainfield has numerous independent basketball fives but an organization harboring the greatest of indoor games has not been entertained here for some years past.

At the close of the City Baseball League season it is probable that a post-season series between the winner of the Sunday-School pennant and the City League champion will be arranged to decide the local junior championship.

BRAVES RELEASE TWO PLAYERS

Boston, Aug. 19—The purchase of Outfielder Zinn from the Rochester team of the International League, the sale of Catcher Drummond Brown to the Toronto team of the same league, and the unconditional release as a player of Fred Mitchell were announced by President Gaffney, of the Boston Nationals, yesterday. Mitchell will be retained to act as scout. Zinn formerly played with the New York Yankees.

FISHING NOTES

A few of our fishermen should watch others fish and take an odd point or two from them and then, perhaps they would catch a mess of weakfish. When the boats from the cities began to arrive on the fishing grounds in Raritan Bay, Sunday, they brought a crowd of men that used sinkers large enough to anchor their boats. Some of them used pyramids weighing six ounces, while others had the regular banks sinkers. If they had paid attention they would have seen that the people who were catching the fish were using only a swivel to weight the bait down. The fish are not in the mud, but, on the contrary, are feeding four feet, if not more, from the bottom. A study of the conditions must be made in order to be successful at fishing, as at anything else.

It is an interesting sight to watch a speedboat skimming along the water, throwing the spray to both sides of the bow, while the exhaust is exploding with the rapidity of a gatling gun. But when the owners decide to show off by running close to a number of anchored fishing boats it ceases to be amusing. These chaps pick out a group of anchored boats whose occupants have gathered a school of fish about them by chumming, and dash in among them, which causes the fish to scatter in all directions. If some of these chaps could hear the remarks addressed to them by the fishermen they would probably cut out the dashing in.

Visitors at Atlantic City are catching hundreds of small sea bass from the pier at the Inlet. The restaurant people rent them the long twelve-foot bamboo poles and a float, and with clams for bait they have a lot of fun. Another good spot down there is the boardwalk at Ventnor. During the high tide weakfish and kingfish can be caught by casting into a sort of cove or half inlet.

Brigantine Inlet is a good place for surf fishing. Five and six-pound bluefish and big weakfish are there now, and there is any quantity of kingfish and weakfish a little further up the channel. This is a hard place to reach excepting from Atlantic City. At the Atlantic City Inlet boat owners will be found that will make the trip, a distance of fifteen miles, for a few dollars.

Lake Hopatcong fishing is getting a little better than it has been for some time. The guides up that way got desparate because of the lack of patronage and started out to locate some new feeding grounds. Just as soon as they did they found the anglers ready to get busy, and the result is some good reports from there. Quite a few black bass and some large pickerel have been taken since last Wednesday.

NEWARK STAR FOR BROOKLYN.

The Brooklyn National League Club yesterday released Cliff Curtis pitcher to Newark, of the International League. It was announced that Pitcher Pfeffer, purchased from Grand Rapids, joined the club yesterday. Pitcher Elmer Brown, bought from Montgomery, will report September 7, and Shortstop Mowe, from Troy, will arrive September 1. Pitcher Atchison, the Newark southpaw, is due here on August 21, and Shortstop Taylor, Oshkosh, early next month. Outfield Collins, from Newark, reported to Manager Dahlen yesterday.

NEW OUTLAW LEAGUE.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 19. Articles of incorporation for the clubs in the new Dixie Baseball League were filed yesterday in six Southern cities Memphis, Nashville, New Orleans, Shreveport, Birmingham, and Little Rock. Other cities to be included are Atlanta and Chattanooga. President Kavanaugh of the Southern Association characterized the proposed new league as an "outlaw" and said he could not see where it would be supported sufficiently to last a season.

NO HIT, NO RUN GAME.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 19—In Sunday's Northern League game at Superior, Cy Dahlgren, of Superior, blanked Grand Forks without a hit or a run. Dahlgren was with the Cincinnati Reds this spring, and was given an unconditional release after the training trip, in which he was wild. In Dahlgren's performance there was not a semblance of a hit, and he walked but three men. Four Grand Forks players reached first, one on a muff of an infield pop-up.

INTER'L FISHERY CONGRESS.

Brussels, Aug. 19—Under the patronage of his majesty the King of the Belgians, the sixth International Fishery Congress was formally opened at Ostend yesterday and will continue until Thursday. Delegates from many countries, including the United States and Canada, are in attendance.

FIRE DESTROYS COSTLY HOME

Servants Carry Half Unconscious Girl to Safety.

3 HAVE NARROW ESCAPES

Summer Home of Mrs. M. S. Hartje, Who Was Central Figure in Divorce Litigation That Stirred Pittsburgh Society, Swept by Flames—Servants Save Daughter From Bedroom.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 19.—The magnificent summer home of Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, divorced wife of Augustus Hartje, wealthy paper manufacturer of Pittsburgh, at Allenhurst, was destroyed by fire together with all its contents. Mrs. Hartje, her daughter, Miss Mary Louis, and Mrs. Ensign, sister-in-law of Mrs. Hartje, had narrow escapes from death in the flames.

When the alarm was sounded the members of the family sought in vain to save valuable personal property. They were forced to vacate the building when it was enveloped in flames and as Mrs. Hartje reached the grounds she discovered that her daughter was in her bedroom on the first floor.

Several servants about the place smashed a window and carried the half unconscious girl to a place of safety.

Mrs. Hartje was the central figure in a divorce litigation that stirred Pittsburgh society to its depths three years ago. She separated from her husband in 1905, and in November, 1907, he filed an action for divorce in which he named several men, among them a negro chauffeur, as corespondents.

The action failed, and Mrs. Hartje then applied for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty, drunkenness and desertion. A decree was granted to Mrs. Hartje by Judge Robert Fraser on July 16, 1910, and the custody of the daughter of the couple was awarded to the mother while that of a minor son was awarded to the father.

BEATEN FOR SNORING.

Wife's Face Proof of What Prisoner Tells Recorder.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 19.—James Ruddy of 326 Grand street, this city, was a prisoner before Acting Recorder St. Lawrence.

Ruddy was released Sunday night from the Isolation hospital, and he entered his home in anticipation of a warm reception. He found Mrs. Ruddy asleep.

"How are you, dear?" he asked.

"Z-z-z-z," from Mrs. Ruddy.

"Then I couldn't keep in," said Ruddy to the recorder. The appearance of his wife's face was proof of what he said.

The court paroled Ruddy in the custody of his wife. He promised to be good.

President Wilson Thinks Initiative Should Come From Japan.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The United States will facilitate a court test of the California anti-alien land law, but the initiative must come from some aggrieved Japanese resident.

President Wilson let it be known that such was the status of the situation.

Judge Accuses Postmaster.

OSBORNE TOLD HIS REMEDY

Candidate for Progressive Nomination for Gov. Spoke Here Last Night.

BELIEVES IN SINGLE TAX

First Candidate for Governorship to Make Speech In Plainfield, Talked To 200 People Last Night, With "Cost of Living" as Plank.

Attacking the present tax system in this State and stating that he was a radical and opposed monopoly and stood for the government ownership of railroads, telephone and telegraph service and municipal ownership of gas, electric light, trolley and water service, Edmund B. Osborne, of Montclair, candidate for the Progressive gubernatorial nomination for Governor, delivered a unique political address last night from his automobile, at West Front street and Madison avenue. He was the first candidate for the Governorship to visit Plainfield. A crowd of about two hundred people applauded his utterances.

In the course of his speech Mr. Osborne referred to the Progressive party as a serum, which would gradually abolish the "disease" in politics.

"Our medical scientists," he said, "are working daily on a serum to conquer tuberculosis and cancer. Several days ago we learned that a serum had been discovered to cure leprosy and cures have been found for other dreaded diseases. The bad in politics will be abolished and the freeing of the 'public slaves' from the leash of the Trusts and private interests will be accomplished," he said, "When Progressive principles are enforced."

"How to reduce the cost of living," will be the supporting plank in Mr. Osborne's platform for the governorship if he is successful at the primaries. In his plan to reduce the cost of living he stands for the abolishment of all taxes on buildings, household furniture, merchandise, machinery, tools, personal and indirect taxes; the abolishment of patent monopoly, by making all patents open to public use on payment of a moderate royalty to be fixed by the government and paid to the patentee, and reformation of the currency and banking laws. The power to hold land and not use it is the greatest single evil in our industrial system, said the speaker, who asserted that one third of the land in America is unused but is held for speculation. As soon as a man builds a house on a lot or a concern erects a factory on a tract, they are "punished" by having a high tax levied on the improvement, which in reality is a benefit to the community at large, he said.

Continuing Mr. Osborne said the power of the trusts depended upon their ability to control vast tracts of land which they do not use. "The Coal Trust," he asserted, "depends upon its transportation monopoly and its ownership of great tracts of coal lands, which it does not use. If it were compelled to sell the coal lands it does not need and its transportation monopoly broken by the public ownership of railroads, the price of coal would be one-third less that at the present time. The Steel Trust depends partly upon favors from railroads and mainly upon its ownership of nearly all the available iron ore beds in this country. The greater part of thes vast ore depisits are unused but no one else can have access to them. If these deposits were open to use by the Steel Trust's competitors upon equal terms and the government owned and operated the railroads, the monopoly of the steel trust would be destroyed and the price of its products materially reduced. And every time you reduce the price of a product you increase the demand for it and that increases the demand for labor and naturally tends to increase wages.

"If land held at present for the interests of monopoly and for speculation were thrown open for usuage foreigners that are invading this country every day would 'take to the soil' instead of competing against American workmen for mere subsistence in the shops and factories."

After classing his rival for the Progressive nomination, former Senator Everett Colby, of East Orange, as a conservative who was more Republican than Progressive, Mr. Osborne spoke at length on the chances of the Progressive party in the coming campaign. "It will be no 'cinch' for the Progressives to overcome its handicap and win this year," he said, "and it won't take a miracle, either, as we can do it if we pull 16,000 Democratic votes out of the Democratic party, a much smaller 'landslide' for Governor than occurred in 1910, when 28,000 Republicans voted for Wilson. But the only hope for the Progressive party to win is with a genuinely radical candidate and a genuinely radical platform." He then went to Elizabeth to speak.

BOYS' CHARGES ARE BEING PROBED

State Authorities Take Hand In Cases of Alleged Cruelty.

Acting Overseer-of-the-Poor Garret T. Dunram, has communicated with the State Board of Children's Guardians at Trenton, to decide what will be done with the three small boys brought to police headquarters early yesterday morning after they had escaped from a farm at New Centre, near Somerville, where they had been placed by charitable institutions. An agent of the State board came to Plainfield this afternoon about the case.

The boys, who gave their names as Michael Sheridan, of Montclair; Lester Mullener, of Somerville, and Donald Nicholson, of Hoboken, said they were badly treated by Wilbur R. Everett, the farmer at New Centre, whom they claim made them work almost fifteen hours each day for their board, and Mr. Dunham and the agent from Trenton will form a plan to conduct a rigid investigation, as was suggested by Mayor Percy H. Stewart. One of the youngsters, while detained at headquarters, showed a reporter black-and-blue marks on his legs and body, which he said were the result of beatings he had received recently from farmer Everett.

Mayor Stewart said yesterday: "I shall see to it that an investigation is begun immediately. If the stories told by these poor boys are true, Mr. Everett, or those responsible for their alleged ill-treatment should be punished. On the other hand if these youngsters are circulating untrue reports of their life on that farm, they should be punished."

Mrs. Deidamia Thomas, matron of the Children's Home Association's institution at Montclair, where Sheridan was confined previous to being sent to the New Centre farm two years ago, came to the local police headquarters yesterday and identified the little fellow. She was surprised upon being informed that the boys said they were cruelly and brutally treated. She did not know that the youngsters were to be called upon to do manual labor on the farm, when they were sent there.

ENGAGEMENT OF JOHN B. DUMONT, JR., ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Porter, of Sewickley, Pa., have announced the engagement of their cousin, Miss Louisa A. L. Seiler, to John B. Dumont, Jr., formerly of this city, but now of Sewickley. Miss Seiler is a member of a prominent Pennsylvania family.

Mr. Dumont is a son of former Councilman John B. Dumont, and he spent his early life in this city. Later he engaged in the study of forestry spending three years at Baltimore, and also going abroad. For a time he was connected with the National Railway in Mexico, and for the past three years has held a responsible position with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Allegheny, Pa., making his home at Sewickley.

CRAP SHOOTER FINED $5; BAKER'S CASE POSTPONED

William Brown, of this city, was arraigned in the borough court yesterday afternoon before Mayor Clark on the charge of having taken part in a "crap" game on Myrtle avenue last Saturday afternoon. A fine of $5 was imposed. Brown was taken into custody yesterday morning by Patrolman Welch, of this city.

The case of Afio Caponetti, the Terrill road baker, who is charged with selling bread in the borough without the necessary wrapping paper about it, has been postponed until next Wednesday morning.

ANTI-SUFRAGISTS TO INVADE SCOTCH PLAINS

Under the auspices of the Plainfield Branch of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, a public meeting will be held tonight in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains. It is expected that a large delegation of members from this city will attend. Mrs. Grace Duffield Goodwin, of Westfield, who was recently heard in this city, will be the chief speaker. Mrs. Elizabeth Sykes is also expected to address the meeting. Excelsior Hall is easily accessible by the Main Line trolley from this city, it being but a short distance from Park avenue, Scotch Plains, the main stop at that place.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade 150 baskets of fancy Jersey peaches for table and canning, white and yellow fruit, at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.35.—Adv. ***

SPITE FENCE MAN PAINTS UGLY SIGN

William Winges, of Dunellen, Again Arouses Ire of Residents of That Place.

After legal advice has been secured many citizens of Dunellen will band themselves together in an effort to compel William J. Winges, of North avenue, that place, to remove an objectionable sign from a high "spite fence," which he has erected along the northern side of the small estate on which his home is erected. The matter will probably come up for discussion at the next meeting of the Borough Council.

The origin of the "spite fence," as it is called, dates back to last spring, when, after claiming that he saw objectionable scenes in a house across the street, the crude looking structure was erected to shield Mr. Winges' vision in that direction. The fence painted a dull black attracted wide attention. Soon after, the Dunellenite attempted to stop some men from propelling a wheelbarrow back and forth on his sidewalk and walked up and down in front of his home shouldering a loaded shot gun.

The final action of Mr. Winges which has aroused the ire of his neighbors and other citizens as well is an addition to the fence. He has continued the structure to the end of his lot and painted it the same dull black. On the addition, he has painted in large white letters, a sign objectionable to Hebrew citizens. Last night several youths from town stood across the street and bombarded the fence with stones until Winges chased them away. It is said that he was hit with several of the missles.

WILL OPEN WITH AN ELABORATE BANQUET

Special Arrangements for Board of Trade's First Meeting In the Fall.

Although the first Tuesday in each month is the regular day set for the Board of Trade meetings, the September meeting which will be held to reconvene the board after a suspension of formal gatherings during the summer months, will not be called until the fourth Tuesday or September 23, because of the fact that Labor Day falls on the day prior to the usual meeting night. The holiday will undoubtedly attract a number of the members to out-of-town places and it would probably inconvenience some in getting back to the city for the Tuesday night session.

A dollar dinner will formally open the winter season of activities in the Board of Trade and the committee to take charge of this affair will be announced by President William Jeffery in the near future. At this meeting the board of trustees, the committees and officers will make their reports and a prominent out-of-town speaker will be on hand to deliver an address on a subject of interest to those affiliated with civic matters.

ANOTHER ALLEGED DRUNKEN AUTO DRIVER ARRESTED

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, an offense which is punishable by not less than 30 days or more than six months in jail, without the usual option of imposing a fine, Frederick Wohlfert, of Westfield, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Flatley on East Second street. After being held at headquarters for the night, the alleged offender gave a bond of $500 for his appearance in the City Court Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

According to Flatley, he saw Wohlfert come out of a saloon and eventually fall to the ground as he was cranking his machine. The patrolman followed Wohlfert on his bicycle and on East Seventh street, near Park avenue, placed him under arrest. The prisoner denied he was intoxicated and ascribed his apprehension as an outrage.

DR. LOWE TO SPEAK.

The North Star Family, an auxiliary of Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, will be addressed on Sunday by Rev. Dr. J. I. Lowe, business manager for the A. M. E. book concern, of Philadelphia. Dr. Lowe is said to be a speaker of ability and is regarded as a leader of the negro race. He will speak at 11 o'clock in the morning and 7:45 o'clock in the evening. The public is invited.

ATTACHMENT SUIT SETTLED.

The writ of attachment suit of H. C. Vogel against Paul Raubin, of Dunellen, was settled before Justice Rene F. von Minden at the later place, this morning.

HOSPITAL NAMES "HONOR ROLL"

List of Contributors to Muhlenberg Campaign of Last Year Published By Com.

MANY THOUSAND GAVE

Hardly a Family In Plainfield Not Represented On List of Those Who Gave—Made Possible a "Greater Muhlenberg."

No "honor roll" ever published in Plainfield before contains the names of as many citizens from such widely diversified walks in life as the list of those who contributed to the Muhlenberg Hospital campaign fund in the early part of 1912, which is printed elsewhere in today's paper. The widow's mite, the hoarded pennies from the children's bank, the dollars of the wage-earner and the check of the wealthy, came in together, and all with equal pleasure to the giver.

Truly it was a wonderful campaign, and the results which it made possible are already taking definite form in the Greater Muhlenberg now rapidly nearing completion on the hospital grounds. After vexatious delays the work on the new Administration Building containing the private ward pavilion and on the Edgerton Memorial Building is progressing satisfactorily. It is expected that both these buildings will be ready for dedication to the public of Plainfield and vicinity early in the fall.

When present plans are completed the city will have a hospital second to none in the eastern States in convenience or equipment, with the exception of some of the hospitals of the metropolis. Its opportunities for good will be increased manifold, and everyone who has contributed toward the hospital can very properly take a personal pride in the fact.

Of the total amount subscribed during the campaign of 1912 many contributions were in cash. Some of the pledges were taken up in full before maturity, but there still remains unpaid several thousand dollars which the treasurer hopes to have in hand before the new buildings are ready for occupancy. On a few of the pledges no payment whatever has been made, and it is hoped that this reminder will meet the eye of any who through oversight or neglect have failed to forward their checks.

It is, of course, gratifying to know that of the thousands of contributions large and small, so few remain unpaid, but all the money pledged should be forthcoming in order that the treasurer may balance his books and that prompt payment may be made when the new buildings are finished.

The dedication of the Greater Muhlenberg this fall should be an event which will still further spread the fame of Plainfield as one of the most progressive cities of her size in the East. Plans are already underway to make this dedication of interest to every citizen.

FIRST WARD REPUBLICANS NAME CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

The First Ward Republican Club held its first meeting of the year in the Frost building last night, when Charles Sminck, Harry Hicks, Councilman William L. Gloak and Alfred A. Prudhon were named as a campaign committee. The election of officers was postponed for one week.

The evening was spent in a general discussion of plans for the fall campaign. The club did not consider anyone's candidacy. As for the ward councilmanic candidate, it seemed to be understood that William L. Gloak will not seek a renomination, but as yet no one has declared themselves to be anxious to succeed the present incumbent.

FIRE DOOR APPARATUS TEST TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Ernest Love, of North Plainfield, has invented a new fire door apparatus, which will be exhibited for the first time publicly tomorrow afternoon at his workshop, 694 South Second street. The apparatus is said to be an unusually efficient one, and such an impression have the advance descriptions made that it is expected that former Chief Croker, of the New York fire department, an expert on such things, is expected to be present at the demonstration. Fire Chiefs Doane, of Plainfield, and Decker, of Westfield, will also be present, and many others who are interested in the test will be welcomed. The test will be made at 2 o'clock.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 71 degrees; 11 a. m., 79 degrees; 1 p. m., 82 degrees.

R. J. MURRAY'S BODY REACHES THIS CITY

Accompanied By Information As to How Young Man Was Drowned.

With the arrival here yesterday afternoon of the remains of Robert J. Murray, who was drowned at Watertown, Wis., last Friday, in charge of his uncle, James R. Murray, of Gillian, Ill., came the information as to how the young man lost his life. The remains and Mr. Murray were met at Elizabeth by the dead man's father, who accompanied them to this city.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Robert Murray, 2 Grove street. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Clan Mackenzie Order Scottish Clans, will attend and take part in the service. The burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Newark, beside the young man's mother, who died sixteen years ago, when Mr. Murray was five years of age.

James R. Murray, who went from his home to Watertown to take charge of the remains, learned that on Friday, the day of the fatality, it was extremely warm and Mr. Murray went swimming in what is known as Rock river, in company with several friends. Shortly after entering the water, Mr. Murray disappeared and went to the bottom for no apparent reason.

The young man's companions made a fruitless search for the body at the time. Later they secured a boat and dragged the river, and then located the body about 150 yards from where the drowning occurred. The telegram received by Mr. Murray here was sent by a personal friend of the dead man, who is a member of the Y. M. C. A. at Watertown. It was also learned that Mr. Murray was well thought of by his employers, an electrical firm, and that he made many friends while at Watertown.

DID NOT SUPPORT WIFE, SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

Richard Collins, formerly of this city, Paterson and Dover, who was found guilty in the City Court yesterday on a charge of non-support and ordered by Mayor Stewart to furnish bonds in amount $300 to pay $3 each week toward the support of his wife and child who live in Rahway road, was committed to the County Jail yesterday afternoon in default of the bond.

Wearing a velvet band on his straw hat, with a big flowing bow on the side, he was taken to Elizabeth by Sergeant Higgins, protesting that he was a persecuted man and that he had been tried in Paterson for the same offense and also placed under bonds to pay his spouse a stipulated sum each week. Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., said the Paterson case would be "thrown out" because the law distinctly states that a husband charged with non-support shall be tried in a court in the municipality where his wife resides.

TESTIMONY SHOWED THAT ACCIDENT WAS UNAVOIDABLE

Max Tiesh, an automobile expert for the Saurer Motor Co., was acquitted yesterday in the City Court by Mayor Stewart, on a charge of reckless driving of his automobile on Sunday, August 3, when he struck Harry Hardosh, of Liberty street who was riding a bicycle. The accident occurred at the intersection of West Fourth and Liberty street. The testimony showed that the accident was unavoidable and that Hardosh was riding his bike on the wrong side of the street, when hit.

James Casey and Morris Albach were witnesses for the defense. Winfield S. Angleman, who prosecuted the case for the city, in the absence of Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., furnished a surprise when he accused Albach of making an offer to testify, if he received remuneration. Councilman Francis J. Blatz, of the law firm of Codington & Blatz, was counsel for the defense.

EARLY MORNING FIRE DOES $1,500 DAMAGE

Wm. Hamilton's Blacksmith Shop at South Plainfield a Total Wreck.

Fire, the origin of which is still a mystery destroyed the frame blacksmith shop of William Hamilton in South Plainfield at an early hour this morning, entailing a loss of $1,500. The Hamilton family had returned beteween 11 and 11.30 o'clock last night and were awakened about 2 o'clock this morning by Robert Adams, a fireman in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, who had noticed the blaze while waiting for his engine to appear.

An alarm of fire was sent out through the village but despite valiant efforts on the part of the Volunter Fire Company and numerous neighbors, the building was burned to the ground. One part of the structure was filled with paints and varnishes used by Mr. Hamilton as a wagon painting shop, and the materials were of a nature that burned readily and furiously. The flames spread rapidly and before water could be turned on the building it was completely enveloped in flames which illuminated the sky for miles around.

So intense was the heat that the work of the volunteers was done under difficulties and a number of the residents who lent their services in fighting the fire had narrow escapes from serious if not fatal injuries. The building is a one story affair and was erected fifteen years ago by Mr. Hamilton to use as a blacksmith and repair shop.

Following their usual custom Mr. Hamilton, his employes and a number of village friends, gathered in the forge shop after the fire had been put out for the night and when they left there was not a spark of fire in the place. The building is situated within a stone's throw of the railroad, but the proprietor said this morning that he was firmly convinced that the blaze was not started as the result of a spark from a passing locomotive landing on the dried embers, because few trains pass that spot during the night and there was practically no wind stirring last night. The building was insured for $650.

Temporary arrangements are being made today to carry on the blacksmith business while a new building is being erected and Mr. Hamilton will conduct his shop in new quarters until he perfects definite plans for the future.

ULYSSES G. TINGLEY TO BE BOROUGH COUNCIL CANDIDATE

A number of Republican voters of the borough met last night to look over the prospective candidates for the Common Councilmanic nomination to succeed Lemuel B. Woolston, who has stated that he would not be a candidate for renomination. No candidates, however, were present, although several had been urged to become such. After a lengthy discussion of the situation, Ulysses G. Tingley, of Grove street, consented to permit his name to go before the primaries next month as a candidate for the nomination.

Mr. Tingley is an able business man, having been the manager of the New York offices of the Roebling Wire Company, of Trenton. It is very probable that Mr. Tingley will be unopposed at the primary.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS TALK AND EAT CLAMS TODAY

The Union county Democrats are today holding their annual outing at Witzel's Point View Grove, L. I. While very few of the followers of Jefferson from this city were present, large numbers from the other end of the county responded to the call of pleasure, and made the trip. A shore dinner of stupendous character served at the grove shortly after the arrival of the steamer from Elizabethport, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. An extra supply of paper and fountain pens had been provided by the committee of arrangements for the use of the many candidates who desire to circulate their petitions for signatures.

Among those attending the outing from this city were: Fred J. Endress, Patrick J. Reville, Jeremiah V. F. Dilts, Judge Walter L. Hetfield, J. J. Kenney, George York, David Carney, John P. Owens, Ellsworth C. Westcott and Peter Floersch.

Novel methods of entertainment were introduced on the trip to and from the recreation centre and the trolley ride was one of the features of the outing.

BLATZ TO SEEK CITY JUDGESHIP

Fourth Ward Councilman a Candidate For the Republican Nomination.

ISSUES A STATEMENT

Announces Platform Upon Which He Will Run—Will Not Resign From Common Council—Sketch of Candidate's Life.

Councilman Francis J. Blatz announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for city judge, in opposition to the candidacy of Judge William G. DeMeza, who seeks a renomination for that office. While it was hinted yesterday that Mr. Blatz would enter the contest, it was learned later that he would not declare himself until William N. Runyon, who was a prospective candidate, made a statement. This Mr. Runyon did yesterday, when he announced that he would not enter the race, thus setting at rest various rumors.

Mr. Blatz issued the following statement today:

"At the solicitation of a large number of citizens, I announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for city judge.

"I believe that the people want the City Court conducted with justice and equity, and unfortunate men and women should not be penalized for the purpose of producing a revenue commensurate to the salary of the judge, or that unjust penalties should be imposed upon those whose financial circumstances prevent them from taking an appeal.

"No citizen knows when he may have business in the City Court, and, consequently, the manner in which this court is conducted is of vital importance to everyone. The courts exist for the purpose of establishing justice, and, unless the judge presiding over a court exercises due care in seeing that the scales of justice are always will poised, the object of the court fails.

"I do not believe that the police court should be made a court of revenue. It should be of reformation and help to the unfortunate.

"I propose to make an honorable fight for the judgeship nomination, and, if elected, will administer justice without fear or favor."

Mr. Blatz was elected to the Common Council from the Fourth Ward, last year, for a two year term, and he does not propose to resign from that body, claiming that this is not compulsory as the election is held in November. Mr. Blatz was born here and with the exception of a few years spent in North Plainfield, during which time he was graduated from the Borough High School, class '93, has lived in Plainfield, where for sixteen years he has practiced law.

Mr. Blatz studied law in the offices of Judge John Ulrich and John H. VanWinkle. He was graduated from the New York University Law School in 1897, was admitted to the New Jersey bar the same year and was admitted as counselor in 1900. In March of the present year he formed a law partnership with former City Judge William R. Codington, under the firm name of Codington & Blatz. For seven years he has ben counsel for the borough Board of Health. He is a member of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus.

KILLED BY FALL FROM WINDOW

Rich Man Plunges Four Stories at Atlantic City.

PANIC STRIKES WITNESSES

Victim Either Fell or Jumped to His Death, Causing Murder Rumor—Women Faint as They See Broken Body on Sidewalk—On Visit From Kentucky.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 20.—The police are investigating the sensational yet mysterious death of Clarence M. Bateman, a wealthy visitor from Lexington, Ky., who plunged, either by accident or design, from a fourth story window of the Hotel Grand Atlantic, Virginia avenue, near the beach.

Practically every bone in the man's body was broken and he died within a few minutes after he struck the sidewalk in the central court of the hotel.

The first intimation of the tragedy, which caused wild excitement in the neighborhood, came with a piercing scream which echoed through the court, which forms a "U" between two wings of the hotel. Those who looked up saw a man's body hurtling through the air and turned their heads as it struck with a thud on the cement pavement of the courtyard.

A policeman, Hoffman, who happened to be passing the hotel, ran to the body, but saw there was no chance of saving the injured man. He was crumpled up, crushed and bleeding. The officer summoned the ambulance, and the physician looked at the man and pronounced him dead.

Women who had looked out of the windows of the hotel when they heard the death scream of Bateman fainted as they saw his broken body on the sidewalk. The hotel soon was in a turmoil, and physicians were in great demand for a few minutes to take care of hysterical women.

Detective Apple said it looked like a suicide or accident, but scouted a murder theory. He questioned G. F. Bateman, a brother, who registered at the hotel with the unfortunate man.

GOVERNOR FIELDER IMPARTIAL

Honors One Sulzer Requisition, and Holds Up Others.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 20. Governor Fielder honored a requisition signed by Governor Sulzer on last Friday for the extradition of William Thomas, indicted for murder in the first degree. The warrant of removal directs that Thomas, who is now under arrest in Jersey City, shall be delivered to a New York city detective.

In issuing a requisition last Thursday for the extradition of Charles Mason, charged with larceny in New Jersey, Governor Fielder notified Prosecutor Hudspeth that the requisition was issued upon Lieutenant Governor Glynn. The next day, however, it was decided to keep New Jersey out of the controversy if possible and Prosecutor Hudspeth assured the governor that he would not present the requisition until it was determined in New York state whether it should go to Governor Sulzer or Lieutenant Governor Glynn.

MAN MANGLED BY TRAIN.

Unidentified Victim Killed Trying to Board Freight In Burlington.

Burlington, N. J., Aug. 20. His body cut to pieces under the wheels of a freight train on which he is supposed to have attempted to steal a ride an unidentified stranger met a horrible death at Broad and Wood streets. So badly mangled was the body that ultimate identification probably will be impossible.

A fairly well dressed stranger engaged Police Captain Shumard in conversation, asking about freight schedules and saying he was endeavoring to beat his way back to Atlantic City. The man told the captain that he formerly operated a hotel at Atlantic City, but had been swindled by his partner and lost all his money. He [illegible] was "down and out" and trying to get back to friends who would help him.

LAUGHS HARD; JAWS LOCK.

Two Hundred Factory Workers Near Panic When Girl Screams.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 20.—Jennie Ochinpa, twenty years old, laughed so hard at some of the jokes that the other girls in the cigar factory where she was employed were telling that her jaws became locked, and the 200 employees were near panic when the girl began to scream with her mouth wide open.

A call was sent to the Cooper hospital and brought an ambulance, and that again served to unnerve some of the girls, who were with difficulty restrained from jumping out of the windows. At the hospital they etherized the girl and reset the dislocated jaw, and she was then taken to her home. Some of the girls were so upset by the experience that they had to stop work for the remainder of the day.

Eat, Drink and Be Merry For Tomorrow We Die!

Somewhere in my reading I ran across the above heading. It's a toast given by a Roman statesman during a banquet celebrating a great victory.

The disposition of the Roman regarding life is very much like that of some people of this country—no thought for tomorrow.

They are very much disappointed to find themselves alive, and the cupboard bare.

One of the strongest traits of the American is Ambition. They want to succeed, they want to go ahead.

Yet some fail to realize that in order to succeed they must think of the morrow. A good way to take care of tomorrow is to do today's work well and to save a few pennies

MEXICAN CRISIS STIRS CONGRESS

Point Reached Where Neither Side Can Retreat.

SITUATION GROWS ACUTE

Story of Huerta's Ultimatum Is Emphatically Denied In Mexico City. Reception of Special Envoy Lind Believed to Have Followed Advice From Foreign Governments.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Congress is stirred by the realization that the Mexican situation has reached a crisis that hourly becomes more acute. It is plain that neither the American nor Mexican government is in a position to retreat from its declared policy without humiliating itself, a thing which is out of the question.

The statement is unqualifiedly made that at some period of the interview between President Huerta and John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, which was held in Mexico City, the offer of mediation in Mexico was courteously but firmly refused.

Owing to delays in the transmission of official news from Mexico, the authorities are not clear at this time whether or not President Huerta at a later interview indicated to Mr. Lind a more cordial feeling. It was stated here on excellent authority that this government will await complete advices from Mexico before taking any further steps and that the question of making public the original instructions given to Mr. Lind will be determined at that time also.

Members of congress of wide experience in such matters as the Mexican situation privately asserted that, in their opinion, President Huerta had destroyed the value of the Lind mission in his original ultimatum as to the undesirability of Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico.

Foreign Advice to Huerta.

It is stated on the same authority that foreign powers undoubtedly persuaded President Huerta to receive Mr. Lind and President Wilson's message, but that they did not attempt to swerve the original judgment of the Mexican president announced before Mr. Lind's arrival.

The mistake in the policy of the administration, as they see it, lay in the fact that at the time the original crisis arrived this government had no definite policy, and was therefore unable to take the initiative before other governments actually recognized the Huerta government. In this situation, it is now said, has placed the administration at a disadvantage in future negotiations, if there are to be any.

It is stated that the reception accorded Mr. Lind by President Huerta was the acme of courtesy itself. President Huerta is declared to have expressed his entire confidence in the good faith of the American government and in Mr. Lind personally, but there exists excellent reasons for stating that President Huerta was none the less explicit in the refusal of all offers of mediation.

In fact, it is declared here in some quarters that his attitude was known in administration circles and that he acceded to the request to receive Mr. Lind personally only as an act of entire courtesy to the government.

Ultimatum Story Denied.

An absolute denial, authorized by Provisional President Huerta of Mexico, of the report that Mexico has delivered an ultimatum to the United States, or anything approaching it, was issued at the White House yesterday. The denial was immediately telegraphed to Secretary Bryan at his home, in order that the tension under which the members of the administration were laboring as a result of earlier advices which apparently made it plain that the policy of the administration with respect to Mexico had been defeated and that serious consequences were in sight.

BURGLARS GET LARGE HAUL.

Store Windows Jimmied—No Clew to Identity of Thieves.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Two sensational robberies were committed in Main street east within a block of each other yesterday. The places victimized were the Housewife Cooperative Market and Grocery company and the United County Creamery company.

In both cases the burglars secured a large cash haul and left no clew as to their identity. Windows were opened with the aid of jimmies. The value of the property taken is not yet known.

And Old Landmark Gone.

Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—The cupola of the old seminary, from which General Robert E. Lee directed the movements of the Confederate forces during the battle of Gettysburg, was struck by lightning in a terrific storm and was burned, destroying one of the principal landmarks of the historic field.

Girls Drown Saving Father.

Stockdale, Tex., Aug. 20.—Allie Burris, seventeen years old, and her sister Annie, fifteen years, leaped into the river near here to save their father, who was endeavoring to rescue Arthur Jackson, aged sixteen, from drowning. The girls and Jackson lost their lives. Burris was rescued by a passerby.

NO COLUMBUS DAY IN NEW JERSEY THIS YEAR

Trenton, Aug. 20.—That Columbus Day, October 12, which falls on Sunday this year, cannot be celebrated as a legal holiday on Monday was the opinion rendered to Governor Fielder yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Gaskill. The Governor sought the opinion because of many requests that he issue such a proclamation.

Mr. Gaskill, in looking up the law, discovered that while October 12 is named specifically in the section of the law designating legal holidays, there is no mention of that day in the paragraph which provides that when other legal holidays fall upon a Sunday the following Monday shall be celebrated as a holiday.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

William Collier let the members of the company that he is rehearsing in Richard Harding Davis' farce, "Who's Who?" at the Criterion theatre, New York, off one day last week while he himself went up to a place back of Fort Lee on the Jersey side of the river and took part in an open air performance before a kinemacolor machine. No, Mr. Collier is not going into the "movies." The film of the play in which he appeared is to be used in the production of "Who's Who?" and its presentation plays a most important part in the development of the plot of the piece. It is a brand new use for kinemacolor pictures and Mr. Collier will be the first actor to employ it. "Who's Who?" will be presented by Charles Frohman with Mr. Collier in the leading role at the Plainfield theatre, Friday night, August 29.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Reformed church will hold its monthly meeting at the church tomorrow afternoon. All members are urged to attend.

AN UNFORTUNATE SPECTACLE.

Chiefly to be regretted about the Sulzer incident in New York State is the way it is viewed abroad. On the other side of both the Atlantic and Pacific we are misunderstood. Many of the people who travel do not represent the real stability and character of American citizenship, and incidents like the impeachment of the Governor of New York give our political system its hardest knocks in the estimation of foreign Governments. They little realize and understand the motives and conditions which are behind these impeachment proceedings. We, at home, make allowance for these things, because we know Murphy and Tammany Hall, and all the corrupt influences which they mean. Here all right thinking people would probably prefer to side with Governor Sulzer in jail than to follow Murphy out of jail. Just how much of the attack on Governor Sulzer has been manufactured by Tammany influences, no one can tell, but it is evident to the most casual observer that ninety per cent. of the men who voted to impeach the Governor at Albany had never read the evidence upon which the proceedings were based. This is a spectacle which makes one wonder how long a Republican form of government can last. It is humiliating to our sense of orderly decorum and judicial procedure.

Then, again, the spectacle of the lieutenant governor, who is a Tammany man, trying to get control of the government of the State, to use it for Tammany purposes, while the Governor still remains unconvicted, is another exhibition injurious to our country. If it is possible that the mere passing of a resolution by the House of Assembly to impeach a governor removes him from the performance of the duties of his office and casts them upon someone else, it would be possible for the Legislature, by simply filing articles of impeachment with the Senate, to keep a governor hung up out of office until practically the expiration of his term; then, at the end, or near the end of his term, find the governor not guilty. But under the Tammany system they would have control of the offices and the State, pending all the controversy, and leave a governor without power, except for a few months of his term. Surely such a condition cannot be legally possible under any constitution. It is not so under the Constitution of the United States, because, President Johnson, while impeachment proceedings and his trial before the Senate were pending, exercised all of the functions of the Presidency.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Although the possibility of a war between Mexico and the United States is looming large, and the Turks are still stirring up trouble with some of the Balkan States, the movement for universal peace continues unabated. The Hague, capital of the Netherlands, has put on holiday attire in honor of the great gathering of peace advocates that is to hold forth there during the next two weeks. The flags of all civilized nations are flying over the hotels and legations clustered about the two principal squares, while the hotels facing the sea, at Scheveningen, with their multi-colored banners snapping in the breeze, form a stirring picture. The delegates of the various countries are arriving and the city is beginning to buzz with animation.

After two days of preliminary work the twentieth meeting of the International Peace Congress was formally opened today. The American Peace Society is represented at the meeting by a distinguished delegation headed by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University. At the conclusion of the sessions the latter part of next week the delegates will participate in the elaborate ceremonies attending the dedication of the Palace of Peace, which is to be the permanent home of the international artibration tribunal. Andrew Carnegie, who donated the money for the erection of the building, will be present at the dedication.

The week following the dedication of the Palace of Peace will be given over to the seventeenth conference of the Interparliamentary Union. This organization, which was founded in 2887, aims to perform the same functions in the way of international parliamentary action as The Hague tribunal is now performing for the executive branches of the governments of the world. Its membership is confined to actual members of the legislative bodies of the various nations.

This great conference no doubt does much good toward cementing friendships, and averting war between the great nations of the earth, but since it was first started there have been just as many international difficulties between the smaller countries as was the case before. Whether or not universal peace will ever be established is problematical, but the conferences can do no harm.

Harry Thaw may have been sharp in escaping from Matawan through a gate, but the man who scaled an eight-foot wall and escaped from a hospital three days after having his appendix cut out certainly has something on the "brain storm" hefo.

About the only places where Harry Thaw was not "seen" before being captured, as near as we can judge, are Piscataway township and Scotch Plains.

CHIEF DAVENPORT, DUNELLEN, ALSO AFTER AUTOMOBILISTS

Trenton, August 20.—Upon complaint of Chief of Police Davenport, of Dunellen, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Lippincott has revoked the automobile driver's license of Rocco Stahle, of Raritan. It was charged that on August 5, Stahle drove his car through Dunellen at a speed of forty miles an hour. He was on the wrong side of the road and paid no attention to the warning of an officer and his command to stop.

Commissioner Lippincott has imposed a fine of $10.65 upon J. W. Dickinson and has suspended his driver's license for two months on a charge of speeding on August 4 on Third avenue, Roselle, Union county.

Marshal McCauley, of Dunellen, several weeks ago attempted to stop an autoist who was speeding his car through the borough at a rate of speed far in excess of that allowed by law. But the driver of the machine put on more speed after being signalled, and would have run into the officer, had McCauley not stepped to one side of the road as the auto whizzed past him. Chief Marshal Davenport also signalled the same autoist who again refused to stop. The car bore a license number 39149 N. J., which was assigned to Rocco Lavago, of Raritan. The borough police filed a complaint with State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Lippincott, at Trenton, and yesterday, Lavago had his license revoked. McCauley and Davenport went to Trenton to testify against the speeder, but he did not put in an appearance, as ordered.

JERSEY SHOOTERS FAIL TO QUALIFY

Hessian Wins Rifle Shoot at Camp Perry—Other Scores.

Camp Perry, Ohio, August 20.—Shooting against 600 competitors John W. Hessian, of Bridgeport, Conn., won the American corps cup presented to the National Rifle Association by the United States Marine Corps when he scored 195 out of a possible 200 here yesterday. With the wind blowing a gale, Hessian hit the bull's-eye 39 out of the first 40 times. Experts said that without his wind gauge he would have had to aim twenty-three feet to the side of the target to hit it.

Sergeant Charles Loring, of the Marine Corps, also got 39 out of the first 40, but Hessian got 95 at 1,000 yards, while the marine stopped at 93.

Hessian was a member of the 1908 Olympic team of riflemen, and he held the world's 800-yard record—57 bull's-eyes—until Captain Stewart Wise of Massachusetts, made his score of 103 last July. Hessian holds the world's record at 1,200 yards—49 out of 50.

Company A, First West Virginia, won the company team championship of the United States by scoring 380, defeating by 14 points Company G, First Corps cadets of Massachusetts.

Company K, First District of Columbia, last year's winner, won third place with a score of 365; after which came fourth company coast artillery, or Oregon with 383; Company H Hawaii, 365; Second Washington 360; First Colorado, 360. Twenty teams competed.

The National Rifle Association's match was won by Captain Dabney Ward, U. S. Infantry with Captain T. Spratt, of Georgia, second. Ward won on the shoot off.

N. PLAINFIELD TO BE SCENE OPEN AIR SUFFRAGE MEETING

Mrs. George M. LaMonte, county suffrage chairman of Somerset county and president of the Bound Brook Equal Suffrage League, is planning to hold street meetings in Somerville and North Plainfield on Saturday night. Mrs. LaMonte, Miss Eleanor Garrison, the new legislative secretary for New Jersey, a granddaughter of William Lloyd Garrison, and Mrs. E. F. Feickert, the State president, will speak.

Cape May county is a hotbed of suffrage sentiment just now. Mass meetings are to be held in Wildwood and Cape May Court House on Thursday, at which Mrs. George M. LaMonte and Mrs. E. F. Feickert will be the speakers. Last week there was a large and enthusiastic meeting at Stone Harbor Inn, at which Mrs. Mary K. Colvin, of East Orange, spoke. While Mrs. Feickert is in the county she is also to speak at Cape May City and possibly at May's Landing, and is to organize a Suffrage League in Ocean City. This will be the eighth Suffrage League organized in the shore counties within the last two months, the others being at Asbury Park, Manasquan, Point Pleasant, Tom's River, Wildwood, Cape May Court House and Stone Harbor.

A PRACTICAL way to clip the ever-climbing cost of living is to stop heat waste in the house furnace. And—the way to save furnace heat is to install a furnace that delivers heat to the house instead of to the chimney.

Square Pot Furnaces develop 100 per cent. efficiency from fuel consumed and keep the chimney cool.

They embody a great improvement over other furnaces—a square firepot which, because it has more surface, radiates more heat. This means an actual increase of efficiency at no increase of fuel cost. This firepot is non-clogging, and maintains a live fire because it clears easily.

If you would like value received for dollars spent for coal, install a Square Pot Furnace.

TUTTLE TALKS ON FIELDER CANDIDACY

Congressman Thinks He Will Receive Unanimous Support In Union County.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., who has all along been an enthusiastic supporter of Governor Fielder, gave out today the following statement in defense of his making a pre-primary choice between the candidates for Governor.

"I regard James F. Fielder as the logical and inevitable candidate of the Democratic party in New Jersey this fall. His long experience in the two houses of the Legislature, his familiarity with the details of the State's business, his conceded ability, courage and independence, his freedom from factional quarrels, his temperament and character, his progressive but rational tendencies, his identity with the new movement within our party and his possession of the confidence of the people—all make him an ideal leader at this juncture.

"After many years in the opposition the Democrats have assumed the responsibility of administering the government in the nation and in the State. We need safe, sane and steady leaders to carry out the great Democratic policies for which we have so long contended. The work has been well begun in New Jersey and it is of the highest importance that there should be no turning back; it is of the highest importance that the successor of Woodrow Wilson should be a man strong in mind and purpose, equipped and qualified for a great work, prepared to make effective, in the face of any obstacles, the progressive legislation enacted under the last administration.

"Governor Fielder has already demonstrated his capacity for the work. I can see no reason for the Democratic party to turn to an untried man and I believe that the independent voters of the State, by an overwhelming majority, will approve his selection at the polls in November. The Democrats of Union county will be practically unanimous in his support and I confidently look forward to a great and successful administration under his leadership."

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT ON MAIN LINE CAR CONDUCTOR

Arthur Jackson, of West Fourth street, was arrested in this city yesterday for the Dunellen police, who have held a warrant for him since last June, for an alleged assault on a Main Line trolley conductor at the Dunellen car barns. Given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Mayor Stewart in the city court, he was released in the custody of his lawyer, John P. Owens, to appear in the Dunellen court when wanted.

As Jackson was leaving the local police station, Marshal McCauley, of the Dunellen force, who had come here to take the prison to the borough, arrived, but his trip to this city was fruitless.

SEBRING SEEKS SUPPORT OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Asserting that he is favored by hundreds of Progressives throughout Somerset county, Charles P. Sebring, candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, said today, that if he was successful at the primaries he will ask for the endorsement and the support of the Progressive organization.

"I am a progressive Republican in my beliefs and will be the same in my actions if placed in office by the voters," the candidate added.

THAW NOT BROUGHT INTO COURT TODAY

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Delayed By His Lawyers—Deportation Held Up.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Sherbrooke, Quebec, Aug. 20—It is unlikely that Harry K. Thaw will appear in court today. Application for a writ of habeaus corpus will be delayed by advice of his lawyers. Thaw was calm and was confident of being freed. The Canadian immigration officials declare that even though Thaw has a through ticket to Detroit he will be deported as he is a lunatic. This point, however, is not settled, as the highest possible judicial authority at Ottawa says that if Thaw has a through ticket he will be allowed to go free so long as he quits Canada.

New York State Legal Representative H. C. Verrett, who is here, says he will have Thaw rearrested on a new charge if he is set free. Nothing further has developed up to the present.

LOCAL ENTRIES IN BETTER BABY SHOW

Novel Competition Opened In Asbury Park Yesterday With Many Infants.

Asbury Park, Aug. 20—Local physicians, headed by Mayor Reginald S. Bennett, have begun the examination of the 30 babies entered in the "better babies" contest which opened here yesterday. The children are from six months to thre years old and are undergoing mental and physical tests, the latter covering 100 conditions. The scoring is according to a schedule prepared by Dr. Roger H. Bennett, of New York, an expert on babies.

The highest possible score a child can make is 1,000. In the mental and development test and in movements 100 points each may be secured, while in the physical condition examination 800 points may be registered. Among the things considered in the first named test is baby's ability to sit alone or walk, play with toys, look in the direction of noise and talk.

If a child is considered too bright for its age it is given a low mark, as it is held that mental development above the normal is a drawback to health. In the measurement test if a child weighs above the normal for its age it is given a low mark.

In the physical condition examination points are taken off for such defects as irregular features, abnormally large or small head, bald spots, scanty hair, big ears, depressed nose bridge, crooked nose, bow legs, knock knees, waddling and stiff gaits and lack of teeth. It is the contention of physicians that all these things indicate more than a lack of beauty.

Among the infants who will take the tests are Rosaline Elizabeth Newell and Ferris Esther Newell, each thirty months old, children of Mrs. F. J. Newell, of 1017 West Seventh street, Plainfield.

The Asbury Park Gun Club has arranged for two days' shooting at its boardwalk traps on August 25 and 26. There will be ten 15-bird handicaps and a merchandise shoot each day.

Hotel Loch Arbour and the Franklin are among the latest hotels to announce that they will entertain guests until October.

New York people have paid $35,000 to M. E. Sexton for one-sixth of a block of land at Third and Ocean avenues it is reported, where an open air moving picture show will be operated next summer.

Moonlight sails upon the ocean are all the rage just now. Two hours at sea on the Carib seems to be a diversion just suited to the likes of the summer girl.

Arrangements have been made whereby free orchestra concerts will be given at the Casino on week days during September following the termination of Pryor's band contract on September 7. On Sundays the orchestra will be enlarged, vocal soloists added and a small admission charged.

The plan of keeping the Natatorium open all day Sunday for those who desire to patronize the hot and cold sea water baths has proven so popular that the new schedule has been made permanent. The Loch Arbour bathing beach at the foot of Deal lake is the only place in this section where Sunday afternoon surf bathing may be enjoyed.

Rush, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small gathering of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN ENDORSED.

IN PLAINFIELD.

The Evidence Is Supplied by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Plainfield, what can it be

Mrs. S. Driscoll, 1909 South Second Street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "There was a dull pain across the small of my back and in my sides that clung to me constantly and any hard work made me worse. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells, especially when stooping or lifting and I felt weak and run down. I tried plasters and various other remedies but nothing helped me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's Drug Store. They made a lasting cure. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I have been for the past five years."

THAW NOW A PRISONER IN CANADA

Arrested While on Way to Europe.

HELD AS A FUGITIVE.

Two Companions Also Are Apprehended.

RECOGNIZED BY SHERIFF.

Can Be Extradited on Warrant Charging Conspiracy.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Acting under the Dominion immigration laws, Harry K. Thaw, who was caught yesterday near Coaticook, will be deported. Just where the escaped lunatic will be put over the United States border has not been decided.

The rule under which this action will be taken provides that any person who within five years of his incarceration in a penitentiary or insane asylum enters Canada may be sent back as an undesirable.

There would appear to be some reason for the belief, expressed here, that the Canadian authorities will surrender Thaw to the American authorities at some point on the New York state border.

W. D. Scott, superintendent of immigration, has wired the chief of police at Sherbrooke to hold Thaw under the immigration act. Two special officers of the department have gone to Sherbrooke.

Thaw Held In Sherbrooke.

Coaticook, Quebec, Aug. 20.—Harry K. Thaw, with two men companions, was arrested in the little town of Heremenegilde-Garford, a few miles southeast of here yesterday. He was making for Montreal to get a ship for Europe.

The formal charge against Thaw is that he is a fugitive from justice.

Thaw was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Dupey and remanded to Sherbrooke jail. He soon left for that place in custody of officers. He will appear before Judge Mulvena, extradition commissioner, probably today.

He has hired a lawyer and prepared to fight all proceedings. "I can't be extradited," he calmly insists, and declares he'll fight any attempt to take him to the New York state boundary line.

Wants Large Sum of Money.

Immediately after his arrest Thaw wired to Pittsburgh asking that a large sum of money be sent to him here.

During the day he sent several telegrams to relatives and friends apprising them of his whereabouts and of his going to Sherbrooke.

The two men with him are charged with being under suspicion of having committed an offense in another and friendly nation.

One of the men accompanying Thaw is five feet ten inches in height and weighs 185 pounds. He is wearing a blue suit and a peaked cap. His eyes are blue and his face is heavy, resembling a German. He does not appear to be at all acquainted with the country.

The other man is of lighter build, weighing only 145 pounds. His height also is five feet ten inches. He wears a gray suit and a coarse straw hat and looks to be of Irish extraction. He says he has friends in Toronto.

Thumb Print Refused.

Thaw was examined by Dr. Tremholme, who found that he was suffering from excitement. The examination was made because Thaw looked flushed and feverish. The doctor asked Thaw to give him a thumb print impression, but this the prisoner declined to do.

The reward for Thaw's arrest belongs to Sheriff B. H. Kelsea of Colebrook, N. H., who recognized Thaw on a Maine Central railroad train and after the fugitive had left the train at Herford pursued him to Heremenegilde-Garford, where, at the request of the sheriff, a Canadian constable placed the fugitive under arrest.

Fight to Be Made In New Hampshire.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—It has transpired that as Thaw entered Canada from New Hampshire he will have to be sent back to that state from Canada, according to the Canadian immigration laws, so that any fight Thaw puts up against being taken back to New York state will be made not in Canada, but in the New Hampshire courts. This has been confirmed by the minister of justice.

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

Go Without Gloves For Fashion.

For the woman who must economize there is comfort in the recent fashion decree flashed over the wires from Paris and already adopted by American women of fashion that we are to go gloveless.

Gloves are still to be worn for warmth and comfort. Even fashion could not be heartless enough to decree that we go gloveless when the snow is on the ground. And gloves must still be worn in the city streets. But in the country and at the seashore, unless the weather demands that the hands be covered, at the theatre and opera, at dinner and at balls and dances, the hands and arms are to be left uncovered, if you would be fashionable.

There is reason in this edict. The long transparent sleeve makes a glove look out of place, and so does the frill over the hand, which will probably be worn all winter. Nothing is uglier than the sharp line of a short glove seen through a transparent sleeve or frill. And a long glove is of course impossible either under or over a long tulle sleeve. Hence the gloveless fashion is quite acceptable. There are many women who have always secretly thought the wrist-length white glove impossible, from an artistic point of view. It breaks the line of the wrist and arm and increases the apparent size of the hands. And a bare arm is always attractive. What young girl is there who doesn't make some excuse to pull off long gloves at a dance to give her arms a chance to breathe?"

Glove Economy.

From the point of view of economy the gloveless fashion is a boon. If you want to do so you can get through the fall and winter on half as many gloves as you needed last winter. For the street doeskin or washable gloves, a pair of kid gloves for church and some formal day occasions, and your glove box is as full as it need be, if you wish to follow this new style

You can effect an economy that is worth while if you choose washable gloves for street wear. Chamois and doeskin gloves are so well made now that they serve every purpose of kid gloves. The near-chamois gloves, too, whatever their trade names may be, are satisfactory. They are much cheaper than chamois or doeskin and wear longer and wash better. If you buy a good quality they look quite as well as chamois. Even the twenty-five cent wrist-length quality is durable and good looking. These cheap gloves are thinner than the more expensive ones. You can get a really good quality in elbow length for a dolar.

Some Cookery Suggestions

DELICIOUS LEMONADES.

NO beverage is more effective in quenching the thirst than a good lemonade.

In making lemonade it is convenient to keep a good sirup on hand. One of these may be made as follows: Boil together for ten minutes five pounds of granulated sugar and three quarts of water. This should be skimmed and strained and kept in the refrigerator. Two tablespoonfuls of it will be enough to sweeten a glass of lemonade.

Wholesome New Beverage.

Maple Lemonade.—For a refreshing drink, make ordinary lemonade and sweeten with maple sirup instead of sugar.

Milk Lemonade. — Dissolve four ounces of loaf sugar in one-half gill of boiling water, then add a gill of sherry and juice of two lemons. Stir well together, then add three-quarters of a pint of new milk. Stir all well; strain through a jelly bag until clear.

Daintily Flavored.

Pineapple Lemonade.—Pare and grate a ripe pineapple and pour over this the strained juice of five lemons. Make a sirup with one pound of sugar and one pint of water boiled together for ten minutes. Mix all the ingredients and add one quart of water. Strain through muslin, put into well corked bottles and keep in a cool place. When serving pour it over broken ice and put a candied cherry in each glass.

Shake Well Before Serving.

Egg Lemonade.—Allow one fresh egg to each glass. Beat until nearly light and then whip into a plain lemonade and serve cold. To make this drink richer than usual allow four lemons to the quart and squeeze in the juice first. This same beverage may be made like the usual lemonade and sweetened with light brown sugar and lemon peel cut in very fine slices and served with each glass, but should be shaken in a glass jar before serving.

There Were Good Things to Eat.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Wood Folks Didn't Like This Picnic.

JACK and Evelyn had been to a picnic, and, of course, that evening they told daddy all about it.

"I'm glad you had such a good time," he said. "I hope the wood folks had no reason to complain of the picnic. Once upon a time some little boys and girls went to the woods to have a picnic. There were Johnny and Jimmy and Willie and Katie and Nellie and Margie.

"The boys carried the basket that held the picnic lunch. It was quite a large basket, too, for their mothers knew that boys and girls get hungry playing in the open air.

"Johnny put up a swing over a big tree, and it was then that Mrs. Squirrel noticed them.

"'Dear, dear,' she said to Mr. Squirrel; 'just look at those children swinging that rope over our tree! What are they going to do—build a nest here?'

"'No, no, my dear!' he answered. 'They call that a swing. One of the children will get in it, and the rest will push him as high as they can.'

"'How odd!' Mrs. Squirrel answered. 'I shouldn't think it would be at all safe. Don't the children fall off?'

"'Oh, not very often! The little human children have hands something like Mr. Possum and Mr. Coon, and they can hold on to the rope.'

"The swing shook the tree so that Mrs. Woodpecker came to her door. Mr. Owl poked up his head to see who was making all the noise and spoiling his nap. The robins and the jay birds and the wrens hopped about, peering down at the picnickers.

"Presently Mr. Crow came flopping along through the air. He circled round the tree, and then he perched on the top branch.

"'A picnic,' cawed he, 'always means something good to eat!'

"By and by the children opened their basket. My, but there were good things in it! There were sandwiches and cake and pie and fruit and nuts and candies. Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel and their children chirped with delight, the little birds twittered, and Mr. Crow cawed. But the children were so busy eating that they never noticed.

"And what do you think? Those children ate every bite of the good things in the basket. When they went home there were only a few crumbs on the ground, and these the birds gobbled down in an instant.

"'Funny kind of picnic that,' Mr. Crow cawed. 'They came in here and used our woods without asking leave, and then they go home without giving us a bite of their good things.' And off he flew to rob a cornfield, while the little squirrels went to bed much disappointed."

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The Anti-Suffragists are doing splendid work (for Suffrage) in Trenton, and in Plainfield, too, for that matter. No one acknowledges it more thankfully than I do. The Trenton papers which used to be quite indifferent to the subject of woman suffrage, now eagerly print everything which is sent him on either side of the argument. The Plainfield papers have always been our very good friends, so I cannot chronicle any improvement in their attitude, but the Plainfield Public Library, where formerly you had to go and get out any books you wanted on the woman question from the stacks, now has its whole collection conveniently arranged on a shelf in the reading-room, mute testimony to the frequency with which they are called for. The Antis are providing just what the Suffragists want—an interested hearing. Jesse Lynch Williams, of Princeton, says, "I was converted into the arguments against it, the more I believed in the arguments for it."

Of course we never expect to convert the dyed-in-the-wool Antis, those who are so from prejudice, and whose constant cry is, "Don't say anything to me about suffrage!" Some people are naturally anti everthing which makes for change—the same type of mind believes, for instance, that much education for the poor is a bad thing. "It only makes them dissatisfied with their condition" was said to me by one of the leading Plainfield Antis, and the same lady said, anent suffrage, "I admit that you and I are competent to vote, and I should not object to voting myself, if the girls in the kitchen were not also going to have the same right." When Ida Tarbell questions the ability of women to vote, she is not questioning her own ability to use the ballot wisely and well, you may be very sure of that; but she is doubtful if other women have brains enough to comprehend our voting system or the principles at stake in an election. Conscious superiority, either mental or social, is the attitude of a large proportion of the Antis.

The most used of the Anti arguments, which are devoted to proving women's mental and moral deficiencies, are not always very logical. Some of them sound like those of the lady who sought to prove to Mr. Williams that women could not argue by arguing most powerfully herself. She was both emphatic and eloquent in declaring that it was woman's place to be sweet and silent. Poor Mr. Williams, what could he say? He must admit that the lady herself did not argue well and insult her contention against suffrage, or if he held ungallantly that women could argue, it was a tribute to their qualifications for political recognition.

The fact of the matter is that many of the Antis are like the lady in Marie Jeney Howe's Anti Suffrage Monologue, they "don't want facts but proofs!" And they resolutely decline to accept facts as proofs! The facts are that ten per cent, of all the women in this country are voters today, and at least another twenty per cent. are declared believers in suffrage, but the Antis go right on saying that only eight per cent. of the women want to vote and that they are trying to cram their beliefs down the throats of the helpless remaining ninety-two per cent. Pathetic picture! Mrs. Goodwin made the usual eight per cent. statement at a recent meeting in Colonia, giving the secretary of the National Suffrage Association as her authority. Asked when these figures were given her, she could not remember the exact date. I told her the national secretary said it was two years ago, and gave her the revised figures furnished by Mrs. Dennett (the national secretary). A few days later Mrs. Dennett sent a letter to the Press, which it published, confirming my statements. But the Antis go right along on quoting Mrs. Dennett as saying that only eight per cent. of the women of the country want to vote, when what she said in the first place was that eight per cent. of the women of the country were enrolled believers in suffrage, and that was two years ago this month. The association which I represent has ten times as many members today as it had two years ago. I do not know if the increase has been equally great in all the other States, of course, but it has been much greater in some States.

The Anti-Suffrage Association in Trenton has a placard in one of the windows of its headquarters reading "Why is juvenile crime increasing in Denver." When Senator Helen Ring Robinson, of Colorado (who might be supposed to know what she is talking about) was in Trenton, she called at the Anti headquarters and showed them by government reports that instead of increasing, juvenile crime has decreased two hundred per cent. in Denver since the establishment of Judge Lindsay's Juvenile Court there. The placard is still in the window, however. It is undeniable that the worst conditions under which the children of the poor live exist in the Southern States, none of which has woman suffrage. In Georgia and the Carolinas and Alabama thousands of children nine and ten years old work sixteen hours a day, and Colorado where women have voted for many years, leads the country in its laws for the protection of working women and children.

The finest pattern articles in the world printed exclusively in Plainfield in The Plainfield Daily Press. Ladies' Home Journal Patterns are on sale at A. E. Force & Co., "The White Store."

The Clever Woman Gives Distinction to Her Own and Her Children's Clothes By a Carefully Chosen, and Cleverly Disposed Note of Contrast.

Are you one of the women who think it impossible to get any individuality into the plain every-day frock? Then you must change that attitude of thought right away. There are women, lots of them, upon whose very limited purse there are so many demands that they cannot afford for themselves any but the plainest of clothes. Yet no one would think of describing their things as commonplace or ordinary. Sometimes it is just a bit of hand work, a little cross-stitch embroidery in black silk on a plain white linen dress. Or again as in 7866, a well-chosen trimming band of contrasting material, with an attractive girdle. It is a good idea to plan out your dress before buying the material, and take a sample of the material with you to match up in buying the trimming. But it is in the girdles that the woman who wants to achieve individuality sees her greatest opportunity and she haunts the mark-down sales of silks waiting to pick up just the right thing at the right price, and with a yard cut on the bias she can work wonders, twisting it around till she gets it adapted to her fingers. A bow like the one shown is pretty. The dress closes at the side-front, with an extension tab on waist and skirt under which is slipped the trimming band. The four-gored skirt fits smoothly and is narrow enough for present fashions, yet not too narrow for walking. Six sizes, 34 to 44, and for size 36, 4½ yards 36-inch material will be needed. 15 cents.

Isn't the note of contrast worked out cleverly in the little man's suit. It is a practical Russian blouse model with side-front closing in true Russian style, and is made of white linen, with an oddly-shaped trimming section of dark blue linen, and deep patent leather belt. Three sizes, 2, 4 and 6, and for the boy of 6, 2 3-4 yards 36-inch material, with ¼-yard for trimming. 15 cents.

A Complete Old English Alphabet in Three Sizes.

Very often you wish to embroider one initial or a three-letter monogram on some personal article or to give a personal touch to the gift you are making for a friend. In that case this pattern, which includes a complete alphabet in any one of the sizes will just meet your needs. The one-inch letters are appropriate for marking shirt-sleeves, cases for toilet articles, handkerchief bags, traveling cases, stockings, bags and other small novelties. They may also be used on guest towels, pin-cushions, bureau-scarfs and other small bedroom linens. The two-inch letters are appropriate for larger towels, bureau-scarfs, table-covers, lingerie pillows, carving cloths, centerpieces and side board covers. The three-inch letters may be used on a tea cloth, luncheon cloth, or pillow, table-cover, baby carriage robe, traveling case, laundry bag or automobile blanket.

These old English letters should be worked very firmly over a foundation of padding. This padding may be done with the silk or cotton used for covering or with a special padding cotton which is very soft and works very closely. Be careful not to make the padding clumsy at the narrow portions of the letters and keep it well inside the stamped lines. Old English initials are always correct for embroidering plain hemstitched household linens that have no other embroiedry and they may also be used on linens finished with plain scalloping. They are practical for marking novelties such as traveling cases and cases for accessories.

Pattern 14140, which includes a complete old English alphabet in either the one, two or three-inch size can be supplied to readers for ten cents.

CLUCKS BY CHICKS

RULES FOR EGG-GATHERING.

Mr. Timkins, of East Orange, had bought six new hens from a poultry dealer in Plainfield.

"Didn't you tell me you got as many as ten and twelve eggs a day from them?" asked Mr. Timkins a few weeks later.

"That's what I told you," said the Plainfield man.

"I've had those chickens several weeks now and I never got more than four eggs any one day. How do you account for that?"

"Well, I don't know," said the guileful dealer, "unless it's because you look too often. If you would look only once every three days, you would probably get as many as ten or twelve eggs in a single day, just as I did."—New York Post.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—A has a farm with a right of way through B's farm. A rents his farm to C and the latter does not use the outlet through B's land, but goes through his own farm. He does this for about four years. Can the purchaser of A's farm still claim an outlet through B's? B. H.

Answer—Yes.

Sporting Editor:

Query—How can I obtain the information regarding the ship I came over in from Russia, about twenty years ago?

Answer—One way would be to fix the date on which the ship arrived, then go to a public library and see a New York paper of the following morning (you landed in New York city) and read the shipping news.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Are there men in college over thirty years of age? T. R.

Answer—Yes, a few.

Sporting Editor:

Query—What is the earning capacity of a chemist? C. C.

Answer—It widely varies.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Which is the more formal, "Dear Sir," or "My Dear Sir?" F. D.

Answer—There is no general agreement as to which is the more formal.

Sporting Editor:

Query—In case a journeyman mechanic working on a building meets with an accident, due to the negligence of the contractor, can the owner of the building be held responsible for the damages? X. Y. Z.

Answer—The owner is not liable, but if he still owes money to the contractor you can reach that by getting a judgment against the contractor.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Will you kindly tell me the difference between a katy-did and a cricket? Do they belong to the game family? V. B. N.

Answer—Both the katy-did and the cricket belong to the group of orthopterus insects, that is, winged insects that do not undergo metamorphosis. The cricket belongs to the family gryllidae and there are several varieties in this country: the common black cricket, gryllus abbreviatus; and the house cricket, gryllusdomesticus, being the most common. The scientific name of the katy-did is the cyrtophyllus concavus. It is a large green insect, while the cricket is black. The katy-did is entirely arboreal in its habitat, the cricket is found both in the wood and in houses. The stridulous noise they both produce is made by the friction of the wings against the thighs.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Sometime ago I received a tax bill taxing me for $100 worth of personal tax, which I do not have. Is it necessary for me to go to the proper authorities and explain matters? To do so I must lose one half a day's pay. W. M. N.

Answer—The bill is for 1912 and it is too late for you to protest. Moreover a protest would not be successful. Every person is supposed to make a statement of his personal property to the proper authorities and when this is not done the tax commissioners use their own judgment in such cases. They guessed that you had $100 worth of personal.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Are building loan shares and savings bank accounts taxed? X. Y. Z.

Answer—Holders of building and loan shares are not required to pay tax on them, nor do persons pay on their deposit in savings banks.

Predicts Cosmopolitan Future For Our National Pastime

President Ban Johnson, of the American League, said recently in discussing the future of baseball that he firmly believed that the game would in the course of coming years become one of the few real international sports in which teams of countries in all parts of the world could meet and compete.

As a matter of fact, baseball is already an international game, although the calibre of play abroad does not, of course, equal that displayed by teams in the United States.

Wherever Americans migrate and settle there baseball is played, just as Englishmen carry cricket with them to all parts of the world. There is a difference, however, in that baseball has proved more popular than cricket among the natives of such lands.

The game has won favor and is played in Cuba, Japan, China, Mexico, South America, Porto Rico, Philippines, France, Australia, Sweden, Germany and even in England to a slight extent. The tours of Cuban, Chinese and Philippine teams no longer excite comment in this country, and college nines find worthy opponents in the Orient. The tour of the world by the combined Giants-White Sox forces during the coming winter should add impetus to the sport abroad.

The game is played in the most unusual and out of the way places, and former fans are found in the far corners of the earth. For instance, baseball is the one great game of the short Alaska summer. The rivalry between the various mining camps is extremely keen and large sums of money frequently change hands on the outcome of the game, since the Alaska miner and colonist is ever ready to back his opinions and favorites with either gold dust or regular currency.

WITH THE BOXERS

Jim Jeffries has offered to train Ad Wolgast and put the former champion lightweight back in the running.

Jimmy Dime, the Pittsburgh promoter, is manager of more boxers than any other man in the country.

Manager Tommy Burns is anxious to match Arthur Pelky against Jack Johnson, the bout to take place in Paris.

Harry Foley, the former San Francisco boxer, will train Champion Ritchie for his coming bout with Freddie Welsh.

Gunboat Smith says he is willing to meet Sam Langford if he is given the big end of the purse. Sam declares he is not in the fighting business for love of the game.

LAVAN FOR ATHLETICS.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—John Lavan, who has played at short stop for the local American League club, was sold to the Philadelphia Americans yesterday for the waiver price, $500. Lavan joined the local team in July and came from the University of Michigan. Lavan's fielding average in forty-five games was .997 and his batting .145.

GETTING WALSH'S ARM IN SHAPE

Chicago, Aug. 20.—"Bonesetter" Reese at Youngstown, Ohio, yesterday adjusted two misplaced tendons in the arm and shoulder of Ed Walsh, the star pitcher of the White Sox, whose slump has been a mystery all season. This news was conveyed in a telegram from Reese to President Comiskey yesterday. It said that the big hurler must rest for a week, after which the old-time potency might be expected of his arm.

CRANDALL RESUMES HIS RESCUE ROLE

Popular New York Pitcher Causes Eruption Among Gotham Players.

Otis Crandall resumed his role of rescue pitcher for the New York Giants yesterday when he relieved Arthur Fromme in the second inning after six runs had been scored in the first two periods. The re-entry of Crandall as a member of the Giants marks the close of a rather funny chapter in 1913 baseball history.

On August 6 last, Manager McGraw was in dire need of a catcher, as Chief Meyers was laid up with a bunged-up hand and Hartley and Wilson did not seem dependable enough to suit McGraw in his dash for the pennant. McGraw hurriedly framed up a deal whereby Crandall went to the St. Louis Cardinals for Catcher Larry McLean.

Crandall was mighty popular with the other members of the Giants and they resented his release so much so that there was a fight in a Cincinnati hotel between Manager McGraw and some of his players following an argument over the release of Crandall. That there was a fight was strenuously denied by the New York newspaper men traveling with the team, but it took place just the same and for the first time in several years McGraw was on the outs with several of his star players, one of whom is said to have been none other than Christy Mathewson.

McGraw is not a man to give in to his players. He rules them with a hand of iron, but it is a fact that just as soon as he got a chance to dicker with Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis team, McGraw planked down a wad of cash and got Crandall back for the Giants. Maybe it was a foxy move on the part of the "Little Napoleon" to strengthen his team behind the bat just when it was needed and that he had to part with Crandall temporarily at least to close the deal, knowing that he would get him back later, or maybe the dissension in the team forced the move.

Anyway Crandall is back and in his old role—rescue pitcher. And it looks as if he was needed. Matty was sent to the woods by the Pirates the other day, as was Fromme yesterday, at with McGraw desiring to give his stars all the rest he can before the world's championship series. "Old Doc" will come in mighty handy.

Crandall came to the Giants in 1908 from the Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Three-I League team and with a single exception has never appeared in the big league in any other than a Giant uniform. That exception was on Monday, when he went to bat for Doak, of the St. Louis Cardinals, making a single appearance.

ELIONSKY FAILS TO WIN AQUATIC TITLE

After Fifteen Hours' Grind Loses Out In Attempt to Reach Sandy Hook.

Henry Elionsky, the 205-pound, 19-year-old swimmer from New London, Conn., yesterday failed in his second attempt to reach Sandy Hook from the Battery, New York. He came within half a mile of the goal, dropping out near the same point he was forced to quit on his first attempt three weeks ago. Instead of swimming on one tide, as did Durborow when he set the record for the trip, by coming within a quarter mile of the Hook, Elionsky, on two tides, only came within the same distance. His latest failure demonstrates the impossibility of reaching the goal on one tide, and further illustrates that a heady performer, such as Durborow, easily should be able to reach the Hook on a double tide.

Elionsky was in the water 15 hours 21 minutes—a new endurance record. He started in water that was as smooth as velvet and stopped in a foamy, mountainous sea that had the attendants in the rowboat and reporters, photographers and spectators on the sloop seasick.

Elionsky leaned to the Battery wall at 1:09 a. m. yesterday. The Statue of Liberty was passed at 1:49, Robbins Reef at 2:27 and Fort Wadsworth at 3:20.

Hard work brought him to Swinburne Island, the first half of his task completed, at 4:30 a. m. He reached there just five minutes before the tide changed.

Sheltered by the Island, Elionsky swam until 9:01 without making headway. Then he struck out again, although the tide was not scheduled to turn until 10:30. The sea became a continuous spray from that time on. Despite the badly behaving elements, he reached West Bank Lighthouse at 12:20, and Roamer Shoals was reached at 2:05½. Captain Seeley thought he could go no further and offered to take him aboard, but he plowed on gamely. He reached within the last red buoy of the Hook at 3:30 and for an hour swam without moving over 200 yards in the right direction. Then he left the water.

BASEBALL NOTES

In Maisel, Cook and Williams, Manager Chance has three rookies who look good enough to hold down regular berths with the Yankees.

Harry Smith's Newark team has increased its lead in the International League and now looks like a sure winner in the Barrow circuit.

Cy Seymour, for years one of the best known big leaguers in the game, received his unconditional release from the Buffalo club recently.

Manager Evers, of the Cubs, is fast getting rid of his veteran players with the idea of building up a team of youngsters for the season of 1914.

Honus Wagner is finding it hard to stay among the classy .300 hitters this year. Of late the famous Pirate star has been batting under the .300 mark.

The transfer of Catcher McLean from Cincinnati to the Giants gives him a fine chance to share in the world's series this fall.

A record of winning 17 out of 22 games places Pitcher Cutting, of the Milwaukee team, at the top of the American Association list of flingers.

"Fence Breaker" Cravath, of the Phillies, pounded in 29 runs during July, or ten more than any other player in the National League was able to drive home.

The Giants are a bunch of very weak hitters as compared with the Phillies. It is not the batting but the great work of McGraw's pitching staff that has kept New York at the top.

Outfielders Wilson and Duncan, who recently were purchased by the Boston Braves from the Dallas club, have been among the heaviest hitters of the season in the Texas League.

Jesse Burkett has his Worcester team going at top speed and expects his boys to be resting at the pinnacle when the curtain falls on the New England League race.

"Big Ed" Walsh, of the Chicago White Sox, is resting up at the Comiskey camp at Mercer, Wis. It is said the great spitball artist is not likely to be able to return to the game this season.

Carl Lundgren, the former University of Illinois player and later a pitcher with the Cubs, has been appointed coach for the University of Michigan baseball nine in succession to Branch Rickey.

We Do Not Make Special Sales

but we sell goods at reduced prices this time of the year. July and August is our house-cleaning time, many dollar articles are reduced to Fifty Cents. What we want to sell may be just what you want, and you can buy it at much less than the regular price.

Do not forget us on your repairs, and special order work. Our shop is running full time and all hands are waiting for your orders. Out Watchmakers, Jewelers, Engravers, Diamond setters, Opticians always at your service.

Our Leader—Regular Dollar Watches at Sixty Cents (60c.) while they last.

MANY BOOMS ON COUNTY OUTING

"Democratic Day" the Most Auspicious One Ever Held by Union Politicians.

FIELDER WAS ABSENT

1,500 Members of the Party and Their Friends Went On Annual Excursion—Boomers Were Prominent.

No "Democratic Day" in Union county ever seemed more auspicious than that of yesterday, when 1,500 members of the party and their guests held their annual excursion. There were a few disappointments, particularly the absence of Acting Governor James F. Fielder and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson. Frank S. Katzenbach, who is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, was present, arriving just as the warning signal was given by the Sirius' whistle. The absence of the governor, however, did not allay the "Fielder" sentiment to any extent, and all day long his boomers were on their jobs, singing his praises.

Every little candidate had a boomlet all his own, and the petitions that were circulated covered practically every elective office in the State and at least one appointive office of the Federal government. One more candidate was developed for the Union county place on the State Central Committee. So far the contest has been between Major-General George Dennis F. Collins, the present incumbent, and William Mayo Atkinson, who hoped to win, not on the strength of his own favor, but on the strength of General Collins' alleged disfavor. Now comes James P. Kelly, who made a strong run for the surrogate's place last election and lost only by a few votes on the recount. Mr. Kelly is a formidable opponent.

Among those who announced their candidacies yesterday were Fred C. Hyer, for assistant United State district attorney; John J. Griffin, for assembly; William A. Leonard, for assembly; James P. Kelly, for State committee.

The steamer sailed toward Long Island, making a circuitous passage and landing its 1,500 passengers shortly after 2 o'clock.

After the dinner at the grove various games and sports were indulged in, between political gossip and petition-passing.

Among those present from this city were: Fred J. Endress, Patrick J. Reville, Judge Walter L. Hetfield, J. J. Kenney, David Carney, John P. Owens, Ellsworth C. Westcott, Peter Floersch, James J. McCann, George O. Stevens, D. J. Galbraith, Thomas Hughes, D. L. Coleman, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, C. E. Brodhead, D. J. Courain, Frank Wagner, Adam Fritts, A. E. Hoagland and Arthur Fritts.

BIG DEMAND USES UP FIRST LOT OF VACUUM WASHERS

An unexpected demand for the Vacuum Washers which the Daily Press is offering in connection with coupons published in the paper has completely exhausted the first consignment received, and others which are on the way from the factory have not come yet. That the people of Plainfield appreciate the offer by the fact that what was thought would be a liberal supply of these household aids was completely taken on the day after the sixth coupon appeared. We hope to be able to supply those who have called today for them within twenty-four hours, and will give notice of the arrival of these washers immediately upon their receipt.

THINKS SUFFRAGE IS DETRIMENTAL

Mrs. Goodwin Talked Against Votes For Women at Scotch Plains, Last Night.

Asserting that no woman with an ambition to perform her life's duties on earth wanted the ballot and that if the efforts of the suffragists to gain the privilege to vote was successful, this country would find itself confronted with a far greater problem than the revision of the tariff—the high cost of living or the Mexican situation, Mrs. George Duffield Goodwin, of Westfield, denounced the cause of "votes for women," last night, in an address delivered in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains. The place was filled to its capacity by about fifty persons to hear the arguments of the speaker, directed against the suffrage movement. She appeared under the auspices of the Plainfield Branch of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Giving statistics of her own as well as those of various investigating committees, etc., Mrs. Goodwin attempted to show that the granting of the ballot to women in California and Colorado has proved a detriment to those States. She asserted that juvenile crime has been on the increase since women voted there, which she attributed to the neglect the children had been forced to suffer because their mothers were "too busy meddling in politics." The speaker strongly attacked the militant suffagists in England and said they should be dealt with more severely.

"The suffragists," said the speaker, "are a noisy nervous minority, who, in many cases, are either seeking notoriety, advancement in society or misinterpret their errand on earth, if they are truly in earnest regarding their wish to use the ballot. But why should the 90 per cent of the women who do not want the ballot and its accompanying hardships, have it thrust upon them? We should not have to bear this extra burden. Women are not cultured to take on any more nerve-tearing tasks. It is a matter for deep thought and in my belief equal suffrage should be bitterly opposed by all women who have the time and opportunity, for our fight is a patriotic one.

"And when you add to the electorate, you add to the ignorant vote," said Mrs. Goodwin. "I know this to be so, because I have worked among the ignorant foreign women of New York and New England States and know their traits, their habits and their weaknesses. I know that they could be easily enticed by corrupt politicians to vote for things they know little about. And thus it can easily be seen that the United States would be facing the tremendous task of educating thousands of ignorants in matters attending the privilege of the ballot, which would be throwing the country into a crisis similar to that which followed after the Civil War, when thousands of ignorant colored men of the South, had the right to vote, but did not know how to use it. If equal franchise was a question of allowing intelligent women to vote I would say, 'let men and women both have the ballot.'"

POOR MOTHERS' OUTING HAD TO BE POSTPONED

Although it had been previously arranged to take about seventy-five poor mothers and their children to Boynton Beach yesterday in automobiles for an afternoon's outing, the affair had to be postponed and the Charity Organization, which has the matter in hand, will conduct the outing tomorrow afternoon instead. Yesterday was "Salt Water Day" at Boynton Beach and the place was thronged with 5,000 colored people coming from all portions of the State.

So great was the crowd that it was deemed best to abandon the local excursion until tomorrow afternoon and the arrangements that had been perfected for yesterday's trip will be carried out at that time.

JERSEY SHOOTERS WINNING PLACES

Captain Martin's Men Active in Tournament Being Held At Camp Perry.

ROUTINE IN THE WEST

Letter From Plainfield Sharpshooters Tells of the Long Trip to Ohio and What the Competitors From This State Have Done On Ranges.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 21—Records were smashed in both matches yesterday at the National Rifle Tournament. All records for seven shots at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards went by the board when George W. Chesley, of New Haven, Conn., captured the Leech cup contest by scoring the twenty-one shots possible and then piling up thirteen more bulls. Until Chesley's performance, the record was 104, made here in 1908 by Captain K. K. V. Casey, of Pennsylvania, formerly of the United States team, and last year by Sergeant Frank Kean, of Massachusetts. Yesterday, there were 104s by Sergeant J. R. Daniels, of Massachusetts; Sergeant Kean, Sergeant J. H Wolford, Oregon; Sergeant H. F. Pierson, Oregon; Chief Miller, Reading, Pa.; Sergeant M. F. Flaherty, West Virginia, and Captain W. F. Spratt, of Georgia. Sergeant Robinson, United States Calvary, and Sergeant C. H. White, Oregon, got 105. In short, seven contestants broke the record and three more matched it.

The record in the contest for the regimenatl championship if the United States was surpassed one point by the Fifth Massachusetts, which scored 832 to 831 by the Sixth Massachusetts three years ago. The Third Iowa went to 829 and got cash, while the Bay Staters got the trophy presented by Brigadier General Frank Raybold, adjustant-general of Missouri. The Sixth Massachusetts landed third place, scoring 809 points. The Third United States Infantry landed fourth with 800, and the First Corps Cadets, Massachusetts, took fifth place with 799 in the field of thirty-eight.

After shooting on the Sea Girt ranges all day in preparation for the international competition the soldiers were pretty well tired out and "turned in" as soon as they got their equipment aboard the special. Wednesday morning all of the team were up by

ANOTHER TEN DOLLARS FOR PLAINFIELD DAY NURSERY

Another contribution of $10 for Day Nusery was received by the Daily Press, this morning, coming from Mrs. William H. Riley. As has been told frequently, the Nursery, which is conducted by the City Union of King's Daughters, is in urgent need of additional funds, and all amounts, large or small, will be welcomed. The money is used to buy milk and other necessities for the babies, as many as thirty-five of whom are at times cared for at the home, and it is needless to say that no more worthy charity is conducted in Plainfield than this. Contributions may be sent to the Daily Press office, and they will be acknowledged and forwarded to the proper authorities.

The fund to date subscribed through the Daily Press amounts to $61. In past years the sum has reached several hundred dollars and it is hoped that contributions will come in to keep up this good record.

CARRIAGE UPSET; WOMAN INJURED

Horse Ran Away and In Turning Corner Upset Wagon, Throwing Out Occupants.

Thrown from a carriage at Woodland and South avenues when a horse she was driving, took fright and ran away, this morning, Miss Sidney Humphries, housekeeper for C. C. Burke, of 5 Ravine road, is in Muhlenberg hospital suffering with bruises about the head and body, and shock. Although it was at first thought that she was fatally injured, the hospital physicians after administering treatment said she would recover.

In the carriage with Miss Humphries were Mr. Burke's two children. Although they were thrown to the ground they were practically uninjured and were escorted to their home by Joseph Harrigan, of 929 South avenue.

Mr. Harrigan and his son, Richard, saw the runaway turn the corner of Woodland and South avenues, going east on the former street. As the panic stricken horse running at a frightful pace was making the turn, the carriage was seen to suddenly swerve and crash against a tree. The Burke children and Miss Humphries with screams, half jumped and were half thrown to the pavement. Richard Harrigan, who had his automobile nearby, put Miss Humphries in his car and drove at full speed to Muhlenberg Hospital. It is not known where the horse first took fright, as the Burke family refuse to discuss the affair.

FIRE CONSUMES A DILAPIDATED BARN

Structure, Which Has Long Been Unoccupied, Destroyed By Mysterious Blaze.

Fire, thought to have been started by tramps who made a practise of spending noon hours in the structure, was discovered in the old barn owned by Wadley & Goodenough, at Central avenue and West Second street, this afternoon, and when the fire department arrived on the scene in response to a call from box No. 42, te building was a mass of flames. Two streams of water were played on the barn but it was rapidly consumed by the flames and nothing remains but a charred mass of embers.

The structure has not been used for some years, and was at one time suggested as a possible location for the erection of a police station, before the present one was built. The building itself, presented a dilapidated appearance and "hoboes" made a practise of lounging about it during the day and night. While thedefinite origin of the blaze is a mystery the cause is assigned either passing locomotive, the railroad tracks being but a short distance from the barn.

The material of which the building was constructed had oecome dried and rotten and the debris which has collected in the interior uring the years it has been unoccupied caused it to become enveloped in flames and burn readily. Large volumes of dense black smoke issued from the fire and this caused a report to be circulated that a disastrous fire was in progress in the Eastern Bottling Works which is located directly across the street and hundreds of people were attracted from all parts of the city. A chicken coop in a yard adjoining the barn which was attached to the doomed building was also burned considerably after the live stock had been removed by a forceful stream of water.

REPAIRS PROGRESSING.

The extensive repairs being made at the First Baptist church are progressing slowly. The decorators are about finishing up their work and hope to complete the same next week. After the net-work of scaffolding is removed from the interior, the work of laying the new flooring will be started. This is to be of cork composition, noiseless and sanitary. The improvements will also include two ventilators, four feet square, to be placed in the roof. Beginning September 1 the congregation will meet at the Seventh-Day Baptist church until the repairs are made.

CAUGHT RUNAWAY.

A runaway horse attached to a delivery wagon of the Keystone Tea Co., was caught this morning at Berckman street and South avenue, by Joseph Harrigan, of 929 South avenue. The animal is said to have taken fright at a passing automobile.

FORMED COUNTY COLBY LEAGUE

Meeting at Elizabeth Last Night Addressed by Former Essex Senator.

REPLIES TO OSBORNE

Plainfield Men As Vice Presidents and On Executive Committee—Colby Regrets Personalities of Osborne and Will Not Reply.

Active steps for the promotion of the candidacy of former Senator Everett Colby as the Progressive candidate for governor were taken, last night, at a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A., at Elizabeth, at which time the Everett Colby League for Union county was formed. Mr. Colby was present at the meeting, and made one of the best speeches that his auditors had ever heard him give, replying to the assertions made aginst him by his opponent, Edmund B. Osborne, and elaborating on various planks in the platform he has made public.

The meeting was called together by Edgar A. Knapp, who was chosen as president of the league. Former Mayor George W. V. Moy, of this city, was the temporary chairman. Phillip Farnsworth, of Summit, was made secretary, Edward A. Leach, of Elizabeth, treasurer, and a number of vice-presidents and members of the executive committee were chosen from all sections of the county, the privilege of adding to the list being given to the executive committee. The vice-presidents from this city, besides former Mayor Moy, who was made first vice-president of the entire league, were R. S. Rogers, Dr. Marc Clawson and I. B. Hill. The members of the executive committee from here are Howard Tracy, Leslie R. Fort, Stanley E. Gunnison and A. B. Jones.

In his remarks Mr. Colby called attention to the fact that everything which he began fighting for ten years or more ago had now been placed on the statute books except a provision for the assessment of franchise values, and then said that after being called a "radical of the radicals" for eight years, he was now accused by his opponent of being a reactionary. He said that he had no desire to see the Progressive party change its policy, as has been suggested, and become the extreme radical party, but believed in the advocacy of things that can be put into effect within a reasonable time.

"The policies involved are entirely too important for those in the Progressive party to quarrel about individuals, and I will not discuss individuals or reply to personal attacks. Mr. Osborne says that I promised him my support. I never did promise my support for the nomination, but in case he wins that I will take off my coat and work for his elec-

W. G. DEBELE ENTERTAINS SOMERSET DOMINO CLUB

A theatre and dinner party was given yesterday in honor of the Somerset Domino Club, of North Plainfield, by William G. Debele, of Somerset street, who is an enthusiastic member of this exclusive club. The party to the number of eight, which include the wives of some of the members, witnessed the prformance of "Within the Law," in New York, in the afternoon, and in the evening had dinner at the Hotel Lion D'Or. Artistic menu cards and programs, the work of Mr. Debele, were a feature.

The affair was the culmination of a series of games of dominoes which have been played nightly at William T. Campbell's stables on Somerset street, in which efforts were made to "skunk" Joe Ryno, the expert player. Mr. Debele promised that if he should turn the trick he would "treat" the crowd, and he was finally successful, and yesterday was fixed upon as the time for the trip to New York. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. William T. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Debele, Augustus Moore, Joseph Ryno, John Smalley and William Schenck.

Robert Love, of Duer street, left yesterday for Portland, Maine, where he will spend his vacation.

MOVING PICTURES AND MUSIC AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Re-establishing the policy begun last spring, the Plainfield Theatre on Saturday will open as a moving picture house, on days other than those when the dramatic attractions are scheduled. Manager Sanderson will run the best films that it is possible to obtain, many of them first releases, and in addition will have a six-piece orchestra with which to entertain patrons. Two shows will be given daily, in the afternoon from one to five in the evening from 7 to 11.

As an opening feature a five reel film has been secured, entitled "The Battle of Gettysburg," which is said to be an accurate reproduction of the greatest battle in the Civil War. The synopsis of the film is as follows:

An absorbing dramatic story leads up to the eve of the conflict. Stonewall Jackson was dead and Grant was besieging Vicksburg. In desperation, Lee marshalled his forces and made a dash to the north with 59,000 men. The Union Army, numbering 77,000, met him at Gettysburg on July 1, 2, 3, 1863, and there followed a bitter struggle, with booming cannon, bursting shells, thrilling cavalry and infantry charges, hand to hand encounters and thrilling deeds of valor.

Facing defeat on the third day, Gen. Lee ordered Gen. Pickett to charge the Union center with 4,000 men, following a fierce cannonading, and the brave soldiers rushed into the valley of death, raked by a deadly fire from the entrenched foe, while their ranks were decimated at every step by murderous artillery shot, but they were not stopped until half their number were stretched on the field

SAYS BOYS WERE WELL TREATED

Overseer of the Poor Thinks They Faked Stories of Cruelty.

TO SEND BACK TO FARM

Youngsters Told Tales Which Sounded Good, But Which Are Now Shown to Be Pure Fabrications.

After conducting an examination as to the truth of the stories of ill-treatment told to Mayor Stewart, Chief Kiely and news reporters by the three boys who ran away from farms at New Centre, near Somerville, Acting Overseer-of-the-Poor Garrett Dunham has decided that the youngsters did not tell the truth regarding their life on the farms and were treated with every consideration by the tillers of the soil who cared for them.

Mrs. Richard Sheridan, mother of Richard Sheridan, came from her home in Montclair yesterday, and refuted the stories she read in the Daily Press of the alleged ill-treatment and cruelay which her son said he had to suffer. She said Wilbur F. Everett, in whose care her son had been placed by a Montclair institution, accorded her son every kindness and privilege that he would his own son. The boy, however, was taken back to the Children's Home Association's institution in Montclair, by Mrs. Deidemia Thomas, the matron, who said she would conduct an investigation of her own and if the younth's assertions were found to be untrue, he would be returned to the Everett Farm.

Donald Nicholson, who lived at a farm owned by Joseph Ten Eyck, will be returned to the home of the State Board of Children's Guardians, at Trenton, pending an investigation by that institution. If it is found that Ten Eyck gave reasonable care to the boy, Nicholson will be returned to New Centre.

Lester Mullener will be returned today to the farm of Garrett Staats, Mr. Dunham having become convinced that he was accorded fair treatment there.

Having read the account of the treatment the boys said they received at the New Centre farms, Staats, Everett and Ten Eyck, accompanied by some friends came here today to contradict their charges' assertions. Each said he treated the boy under his care as he would a member of the family.

Charles S. Hamilton, a farmer school-teacher, superintendent of the New Centre Sunday-school, and neighbor to the farmers whose treatment of the boys is being investigated, brought a signed statement in their support, in which he said:

"I have read with a keen interest the article entitled, "Say They Were Badly Treated," printed in your paper the 19th inst., because I was at one time these boys' teacher and am now the superintendent of the Sunday-school which they attended.

"In defense of my neighbors and all fairness to the boys, I will state that they all had good Christian homes, were well fed, suitably clothed, and received as good care as though they had been the sons of Mr. Everett, Mr. Staats and Mr. Ten Eyck.

"These boys were sent to day school the greater part of the time when school was in session. They were always sent to Sunday-school and often taken to church and attended the usual festivities of the neighborhood

"It is true that Richard Sheridan was kicked by a horse last year as the result of his own carelessness. He received immediate medical attention, Dr Anderson, of Neshanic, arriving within an hour after the accident. He had every care it was possible to bestow.

"When Mr. Everett told me of Richard running away, I remarked that doubtless Lester and Donald had accompanied him, as I missed them from their usual places in the Sunday-school.

"I know these boys were not abused and can submit ample proof to this fact.

"Had there been an investigation beforehand the boys' stories would never have been printed."

CHIMNEY FIRE.

A chimney fire in the house located at 500 Richmond street, was discovered early last evening and the chemical engine was sent out in response to a telephone call received at fire headquarters. The fire was extinguished with little damage resulting.

AUTOIST ARRESTED FOR DRIVING WITHOUT LICENSE

Charles B. Rover, of Watchung, was arrested last night by Detective-Sergeant John J. Flynn, charged with driving an automobile without a license. Rover, according to the police, is deaf, and for that reason has always been refused a license to drive an automobile. Over six weeks ago he received a permit to drive his car for a period of three weeks, provided a licensed chauffeur accompanied him. Rover, the police claim, has been driving his machine since, and unaccompanied by a licensed autoist, as his permit, which had expired, called for. He will be arraigned Tuesday morning in the City Court.

SAYS HE IS ON TRANS-CONTINENTAL HIKE

Stating that he was walking from Labrador to Los Angeles on a $3,500 wager, which he will win if he reaches the Pacific coast by November 17 of this year, Frank Hines, who said he comes from Cleveland, O., reached Plainfield last night, accompanied by his wife. This morning he saw Police Chief Kiely and Mayor Percy H. Stewart, who gave him letters signifying that he passed through this vicinity.

Speaking to reporters, Hines made conflicting statements. He stated that when he reached the Hotel Algin in New York, he had traveled just 12,710 miles. The direct water route from Labrador to New York is less than 1,000 miles. To reach Los Angeles by November 17 he will have to travel at the rate of 35 to 40 miles per day, across the United States, a task the renowned Weston would not undertake.

Hines said he made the wager with the Eastern Boating Club, of Cleveland, O., under the condition that he sell nothing on the way; must follow the railroad tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad as much as possible and must obtain his living only by lecturing. Hines did not explain why he had departed from the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks for the vicinity touched by those of the Jersey Central lines.

WILLING WITNESS MAKES MAYOR AND CHIEF BLUSH

Miss Altrina Buvinska, of South Second street, made Mayor Stewart, Chief Kiely, Councilman Francis J. Blatz, reporters and several court spectators blush this morning, when while testifying on the witness stand in an assault case in the City Court, she attempted to prove that she had been kicked by the complainant. Miss Buvinska is awaiting the consent of her parents in Russia to marry Peter Rosckora, of South Second street, who was arrested charged with assaulting Anthony Romanoski, also of South Second street.

The testimony revealed that Romanoski had attacked the good name of Altrina and also kicked her on her left leg. Councilman Blatz, who represented the defendant, asked her where she had been kicked by Romanski. Altrina pointed to the spot.

"Did it leave a black and blue mark?" queried Mr. Blatz.

Everybody blushed and turned their heads away as Altrina was about to show the court the black and blue spot made by Romanoski's boot. Councilman Blatz alone kept his presence of mind and assured Miss Romanoski that they would take her word for it.

John P. Owens, who prosecuted the case in Romanoski's behalf, asked Mayor Stewart to hold the defendant to await the action of the Grand Jury, but the city executive dismissed the charge after warning all to keep the peace. He also complimented the defendant for protecting the reputation of his fiancee.

"IT BEATS THE DUTCH" MAY BE THE NEXT

Race Signs Decorating Winges Fence at Dunellen Afford Amusement.

Another chapter was added, last night, to the interesting story concerning the "spite fence" which William J. Winges has placed on his property at Dunellen, and citizens of that place are now wondering what will happen next. The fence, conspicuous enough in itself, was made more so a few days ago, when some one painted thereon in large letters, the words, "No Jews Need Apply."

This morning passersby noticed that someone had visited the place during the night, while Mr. Winges was asleep, and had added to the merriment by painting the following directly beneath the first inscription: "Love Your Neighbors," and "God Bless the Irish." It was suggested today that possibly somebody might come along and add the words: "It Beats the Dutch" and thus help to make more attractive a fence which has otherwise been declared a nuisance.

STYLISH—RELIABLE

Eat, Drink and Be Merry For Tomorrow We Die!

Somewhere in my reading I ran across the above heading. It's a toast given by a Roman statesman during a banquet celebrating a great victory.

The disposition of the Roman regarding life is very much like that of some people of this country—no thought for tomorrow.

They are very much disappointed to find themselves alive, and the cupboard bare.

One of the strongest traits of the American is Ambition. They want to succeed, they want to go ahead.

Yet some fail to realize that in order to succeed they must think of the morrow. A good way to take care of tomorrow is to do today's work well and to save a few pennies

DEPORTATION OF THAW IS HALTED

Habeas Corpus Writ Acts as Stay of Proceedings.

BATTLE OF LEGAL WITS.

Disappointed Crowd Throngs Canadian Courtroom While Fugitive's Attorney is Given Private Hearing—Thaw, Still a Prisoner, Refuses to Talk or See Any One but His Lawyers.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 21.—Judge Globensky in the superior court here yesterday granted an application for a writ of habeas corpus for the immediate release of Harry Thaw, the fugitive from the State Asylum For Criminal Insane at Matteawan, N. Y.

The writ was applied for by Charles D. White, a lawyer retained by telegraph by the Thaw family. It was made returnable at 10 o'clock this morning.

There was no procedure in open court. Thaw's lawyers, led by Attorney White, submitted the petition to the court in private, then announced that it had been granted.

Meantime in the courtroom a restless crowd craned necks and perspired, only to depart in chagrin when the news spread that Thaw would not appear and that the legal battle in the open would not begin until today.

A Significant Move.

This move, regarded at first as a mere formality to bring Thaw into court after his arrest, was subsequently explained by his counsel as being more significant.

They contended that he has been detained illegally and that through habeas corpus he should be set free at once.

The court announced that it would take the matter under consideration Should it grant the application, arguments to sustain the writ would be heard later, probably today.

Meanwhile Thaw remained a secluded prisoner in the Sherbrooke jail Cautioned by his family, he refused to discuss his case. Only his lawyers saw him.

Thaw Remains Silent.

From the hospital ward of the prison, with two guards watching him, he sent out for cigars, fresh linen and delicacies, but he refused steadfastly to receive interviewers.

While an impatient courtroom crowd chafed at delay, Thaw remained in the county jail and his lawyers conferred at length.

After seeing the man arrested in court yesterday—one of the two with Thaw when he was taken—District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county said the prisoner was undoubtedly Roger Thompson, one of the five who are said to have engineered Thaw's getaway.

Thompson stayed at a local hotel and appeared in the courtroom, apparently a disinterested spectator. His arrest was effected so quietly few were aware of it.

He was taken to the same jail where Thaw is confined and refused to make any statement. He retained as counsel W. L. Shurtleff, one of the trio of lawyers fighting for Thaw.

Shurtleff said his client could prove that he had "no part in getting Thaw into Canada."

TRAIN WRECK KILLS TWO.

Score Injured When Oriental Limited Leaves the Rails.

Cary, N. D., Aug. 21.—Two unidentified men are known to have been killed, another man was fatally injured and twenty persons were slightly hurt when the Oriental Limited on the Great Northern railroad was wrecked here yesterday.

The engine, mail car, baggage car, smoker and two day coaches left the rails. The smoker rammed its way through a grain elevator.

Wreckage caught fire and several persons are believed to have lost their lives, but only two bodies were found beneath the wreckage.

GUARDING EX-KING MANUEL.

Extensive Police Precautions Taken For Wedding at Sigmaringen.

Sigmaringen, Germany, Aug. 21.—Extensive police precautions have been taken by the Sigmaringen authorities on account of the presence here of ex-King Manuel of Portugal, who is to marry Princess Augusta Victoria, daughter of Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, in September.

All strangers are placed under strict surveillance, possibly on account of the fears held by the police that an attack may be made on the former Portuguese ruler.

COMFORT IN IRONING
USE ASBESTOS SAD IRONS

THE HOOD—When the hood is placed on the iron, the heat is bottled up. A dead-air space, in addition to the asbestos lining, prevents radiation of heat from the iron and keeps the temperature of the wood handle below blood heat. No holder is needed.

THE CORE—The core or base is a solid chunk of iron. Iron takes up and retains heat in proportion to its weight. The core acts as a heat reservoir and regulator by retaining the heat and letting it pass to the bottom as the surface cools. The stored heat is confined by the asbestos-lined hood instead of radiating into space. The ironing face has a mirror-like polish and is slightly convex. The edges are rounded to prevent drawing and wrinkling.

THE LOCK—The lock is secure, preventing rattle and insuring against accidently unfastening. The lock will catch automatically.

SEND A FEW TO JAIL.

On more than one occasion stories have been brought to light in the local papers about the arbitrary and domineering tactics employed by the men who have commissions as railroad police. Many of these fellows are former thugs and confidence men who have served time for their illegal action in times gone by, and should never have been commissioned for any police duty. Unfortunately the law provides that the Governor must commission all whose names are submitted to him by the proper legal authority in the employ of the railroad. Investigation on the part of the executive is impossible, for the simple reason that no funds are provided for the purpose. When President Wilson was first elected Governor, his secretary endeavored to hold up the commission of some of the men whom the railroads asked be appointed because he wanted to try to learn whether they were proper persons or not. Lack of funds made this impossible, however, and the appointments continued to be made in the same old way.

But a short time ago a boy was shot by one of these men at South Plainfield. Commenting on the case the New Brunswick Times says:

A West Orange boy has just been discharged from a Plainfield hospital where he has been in pain and suffering for three weeks. He had been shot down by a big detective in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The boy, who is the son of a wealthy retired leather manufacturer, had been on a "lark" with some other boys and had been stealing a ride on a freight train. He was on railroad property when the detective spied him. Naturally thinking that he was about to be arrested for stealing a ride he took to his heels. The detective shot "in the air to scare him" and he dropped, a bullet wound in his leg. The shooting occurred in Middlesex county. What is the county going to do about it; give the detective a medal?

It was about a year ago that another detective, employed by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, went off of the railroad property at Dunellen and into a private house, where he assaulted a man and arrested him, with no warrant in law for his action. It is time that a curb was put on these men, with their unsavory characters, and the indictment and conviction of a few of them would be a splendid example.

EXIT BUFFALO BILL.

The final curtain, as it were, is being rung down in Denver today on an enterprise which in its time has provided pleasure and excitement for millions of American citizens, for with the sale of the Buffalo Bill Wild West and Pawnee Bill Far East show property there passes into memory a national institution. It was rather an inglorious finish for what the people of the nation, and of foreign nations too, have proclaimed time and time again the greatest and most glorious exposition of what this country used to be in the old days.

While we are told that Buffalo Bill, who in his declining years has not been as skillful with his rifle as he was in the days of the greatest prosperity of the show, will next year be seen with another show, it must be said that the end of his great career as a showman has practically been reached. Colonel William F. Cody, the name by which he is least known, has passed his seventieth mile-stone, and during more than half his life he has been a prominent figure in the public eye. Mule driver, pony express rider, stage driver, scout, soldier, hunter, showman—are a few of the occupations which made his career probably the most picturesque of living men.

From the day that his father was killed in a fight that gave "bloody Kansas" its name, William F. Cody was never idle. At the age of 15, already a man in size and strength, he had been herder, messenger and express driver and had won a name as a dead shot and a horseman with few equals.

Under Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston he saw his first Indian fighting. The civil war found him a private in the 7th Kansas Cavalry, an active "Jayhawker" regiment, and for more than 10 years after the close of the war he saw service, first as scout and later as chief of scouts, in the Indian wars. It was when he was chief of scouts under Gen. Crook that he won fame by killing in single combat the Indian chief, Yellow Hand, knife against tomahawk.

In 1867 he won his title of Buffalo Bill. It was then that a gang of 1,200 men were laying the tracks of the Kansas-Pacific across the plains and were famishing for fresh meat. Cody volunteered to furnish the meat and in 18 months, with his horse, Brigham, and his favorite breech-loader, "Lucretia Borgia," he killed 4,280 bison.

In the '70s Col. Cody tried acting in a melodrama of the West and it was the success of this which led to the formation of the "Wild West" show, with which his name has been linked for thirty years. The big show was launched in earnest in 1883. The first performance was given in Madison Square Garden, New York city, when Henry Ward Beecher introduced the famous plainsman and scout to the public.

When Buffalo Bill first launched his show the experienced men in the business laughed at him and said that it was a wild scheme, but in less than six months he was making more money than Barnum. The show toured Europe several times and was successful there.

It is generally believed that he is well fixed financially and in no danger of coming to want in his old age.

PRINCE'S MISTAKE.

When Senator John D. Prince retired as a candidate for the nomination for the governorship on the Republican ticket, he acted wisely. Not but that he is a good man and would make a good Governor, but because this is not his year. But when he declined in favor of former Governor Stokes, he made a great mistake.

Dr. Prince is a scholar and a man of fine intellectual attainments. He would grace an ambassadorship in almost any country, because there are few languages which he does not speak. It is unfortunate that he should have aligned himself by endorsement with the reactionary element of the Republican party under the leadership of Mr. Stokes, for such a course will not help him in the future. But great men, intellectually, are not always wise.

Former Governor Stokes was the principal speaker at the banquet of the Long Branch Board of Trade, using as his topic "American Character." While in Long Branch he was the guest of C. Asa Francis, former mayor and former sheriff, better known as "Ace." Wonder if he used his host as the example for his topic?

Rosenbaums to Enlarge Their Store.

So successful has the business of Rosenbaums' store enjoyed the past season that they have decided to also occupy the remainder of the building. The hallway will be taken away and the glass front windows extended the entire width of the front, and the second floor will be devoted entirely to the sale of ladies' coats, suits, dresses and furs. This floor will be reached by a new stairway, which will be made very broad and at the same time easily to cover. A big making-room sale is now in progress as not one dollar's worth of the merchandise on hand will find a space in Rosenbaums' new store. 115-117 West Front street.—Adv.

QUINN WILL HEAD LABOR FEDERATION

Newark Selected As the Meeting Place For Next Year.

Trenton, Aug. 21—Assemblyman Arthur A. Quinn, of Perth Amboy, was elected president of the State Federation of Labor late yesterday afternoon just before the annual convention adjourned. Mr. Quinn polled 153 voes, A. J. Cozzolino, of Newark, received 144 votes, and H. J. Gottlob, of Newark, fifteen votes in the election for the office. George W. Marsha, of Williamstown, was elected first vice-president, and Luke B. Travers, of Trenton, second vice-president. Both candidates were unopposed.

Henry F. Hilfers, of Newark, was again elected secretary. He polled 173 votes; William J. Brennan, of Newark, the rival candidate for the secretaryship, received 138 ballots. William H. Shindle, of Hoboken, was chosen treasurer.

The new executive board, elected, consists of Henry Koch, Paterson; Patrick J. Donovan, Elizabeth; John M. Lang, Newark, and Leland L. Driggs, Elizabeth. William Umsteadter, of Newark, was elected as New Jersey's delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in Seattle. Mr. Umsteadter received 165 votes in the contest for the office, defeating Samuel Botterill, of East Orange, who secured 144 votes. Henry J. Vanderveld, of Paterson, withdrew as a candidate for the office.

The next convention of the Federation will be held in Newark beginning the third Monday in August, 1914. The delegates decided upon Newark as the convention city by polling 170 votes to have the convention there; Atlantic City received 86 votes; Trenton, 36; Elizabeth, 15, and Asbury Park, no votes.

The convention was thrown into a turmoil yesterday afternoon folowing the presentation of a resolution by Miss Julia Connell representing the Porcelain Finishers' Union 267, of this city, that future conventions of the Federation should be opened by prayer. Samuel Levine, of Newark, protested vigorously against the adoption of the resolution and deplored that religion was to be brought into the deliberations of the Federation. He was strongly backed in his opposition to the resolution by Bernard Weckstein, of Newark. The resolution, however, was adopted, with Mr. Weckstein voting in the negative.

Willard L. Small, of Newark, introduced and secured the passage of a resolution increasing the compensation paid Secretary Hilfers from $100 to $200.

MRS. RISING RETURNS FROM FOUR MONTHS' TRIP

Many excellent pictures were taken on the trip which will also be shown at some time in the future. Mrs. Rising went to the convention as the representative of the First Baptist Bible School.

PLENTY OF COTTON.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 21—While the range of predictions as to this year's cotton crop is from twelve to sixteen million bales the predominance of figures around the 13,000,000-bale mark is accepted as proof that the crop will be in about that quantity unless decided improvement or deterioration should set in. If a 13,000,000-bale crop is made there will be no complaining in the South. While this will be a million and a half bales under the crop of last year and three million bales under the crop of 1911, still it is regarded as an abundant yield. With the almost unprecedented occurrences of having three big crop years in succession the financial prospects of the South are brighter than ever before. Even the prosperous years just preceding the Civil War are not excepted. The prospects in Louisiana are overshadowed somewhat by the threatened ruin of its sugar industry. Had other crops yielded poorly this year widespread damage would have resulted, but as cotton, rice and corn have done so well the absence of most of the revenue usually coming from the cane crop is not exerting a general influence.

TAXI ORDINANCE UPHELD.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press)

New York, Aug. 21—Justice Seabury, of the Supreme Court, has vacated the temporary injunction obtained by a number of taxicab companies and others restraining the Mayor and the Commissioner of License from putting into effect the new public hack ordinance. Justice Seabury in his opinion said that the ordinance was not hastily adopted and that careful and thorough examination and investigation of the whole matter involved preceded the framing and adoption of the ordinance.

FORMED COLBY COUNTY LEAGUE

tion." This statement was greeted with applause by his hearers.

"Mr. Osborne says I refused to debate with him. No one loves to debate more than I do, but I do not intend to make a tour of the State for the purpose. He says I am catering to the Republican vote. At every meeting of our State committee I have advocated a complete break from the Republican party, as we must carve and mold our own destinies. The proposition has been made to me that I allow my name to be used on the Republican ticket, that I run in the Republican primaries, or even that I run as an independent after the primaries, and the Republicans endorse me. All of this I have refused to agree to. The only way in which I will be a candidate is by nomination by the Progressive party, and if I receive that nomination I will work from primary day to election day for the best interests of the Progressive party."

Mr. Colby then took up a number of questions which Mr. Osborne had asked him regarding taxation and other matters. He said that he believed in the plan which has been adopted in several cities throughout the country, of gradually reducing the tax rate on buildings and increasing on vacant land. By so doing the actual tax on the man who has developed his property by building a home or factory would become less and the increased rate would only hurt those who buy land and hold it for an advance in price. He does not think that an entire tax on land, and on nothing else, would be just. He used several illustrations to demonstrate his statements, and said that the single tax theory had been proven to be unsound through a single story, published in France, and written by Voltaire.

Rather than the immediate municipal ownership in various parts of the State of water, sewer, light and other plants, as advocated by Mr. Osborne, Mr. Colby believes that just as good a result can be accomplished by strict regulation through the public utilities commission. If, after a fair test, this is proven to be inefficient, then it will be time enough to take up the question of municipal ownership.

The dissolution of the Standard Oil Company has proven that it is next to impossible to break up the trusts effectively, so that the cost of necessities will go down, thought the speaker. The proper solution of that problem would be through a government commission to regulate unfair competition, as is the case with railroads. He also believes in the repealing of the present patent law, as decidedly unjust, but these latter are national matters, which the State cannot regulate. He also declared unqualifiedly for woman's suffrage.

"I am deeply interested in all these things," said Mr. Colby in conclusion, "and just so long as I am wanted I will lead the fight. I do not intend to be driven ahead, but will go ahead with the party with a safe and sane program that will benefit all of the people of the State."

SHOOTERS WINNING PLACES

6:30 o'clock as the train drew near Rochester Junction. The time, between awakening and when the train reached Buffalo, about 10 o'clock that morning, was spent in making morning toilets and viewing the scenery along the road.

"Upon arriving at Buffalo the Pullman car was attached to a dining car and the soldiers filed into the eating quarters at 10:30 o'clock. After leaving Buffalo the men lounged about the car or spent their time on the observation platform watching the various towns, farms and vineyards which they passed through.

"Arriving in Cleveland the team dined in the Union News Company's restaurant in the station, after which the members went for a short stroll through the town. Through delays along the line the train did not reach LaCame until after six o'clock Wednesday night, whereas it should have reached there before five o'clock.

"Upon arriving at Camp Perry, Captain Charles A. Peterson, of Co. K, who is adjutant and coach of the Jersey team, as well as quartermaster, arranged for the quarters of the men and saw that all their equipments and baggage was deposited in front of their tents. Immediately after reaching their quarters and leaving their rifles and hand baggage the men marched to the mess hall where supper was served. Following supper the men adjourned to their various tents and arranged their baggage and cots to suit the size of the quarters.

"Thursday morning the team spent practicing on the 200 yard surprise fire and the 1,000 yard slow fire ranges, doing fairly well after being couped up in a car for twenty-four hours. As the ranges were closed Thursday afternoon to allow the targets and other mechanism to be put in shape for the matches, which started Friday morning, the Jerseyites spent the afternoon visiting the nearby small town of Port Clinton.

"Friday morning broke clear and the Jersey team started in their work by entering the Wimbledom cup match, the Hale match and the Catrow cup match. Some member of the team representing Jersey won a place in each match and were awarded a moneyed prize. The Governor's and the Adjutant-General's matches, of Ohio, were participated in Saturday with the same results.

"Sunday was spent in camp and the full meaning of lonesomeness was made known to all the men. To break the monotony of the day, the men started in the morning and washed all their soiled clothing. This took them till noon when dinner was served. The afternoon was spent in writing letters and postcards home to their friends and relatives. In this way they were able to ward off the acute feeling of longing for their home towns until after supper. From 7 o'clock until 9.30 when the men turned in, the hours seemed to drag along.

"Monday morning and afternoon the commissioned officers of the team spent the time on practice skirmish runs and 200 yard surprise fire while all the non-comms., with the exception of one, shot in the enlisted men's match on the 600 and 1,000 yard ranges. The total score of the six-man team at 600 yards was 273 out of a possible 300. At the close of this range the Jersey boys held thirtieth place in the line of high records. In the afternoon when they shot on the 1,000 yard range the metall of the men was shown when they climbed from the thirtieth position up to the fourteenth place in rank, with but 7 points less than the last year's record for this match. The average total for each man on both ranges was 90½ out of the possible 100. The total score on both ranges was 543 out of the possible 600. The score that won first place in the match was 571 and was made by the team representing the United States Cavalry. At the close of this match the men who participated went to the skirmish line and ran a practice match with fairly good results.

Monday night, as it has been every night since we arrived in camp, the men all congregated in front of Major William B. Martin's or the team captain's tent and talked over the days work on the ranges.

"Tuesday morning at 11:45 o'clock the members of the Jersey team got out on the 600 yard range in the Marine Corps cup match and at 4:30 p. m. reported at the 1,000 yard targets for the same match. Between the time of these relays for this match, several of the men who belong to the National Rifle Association will take part in the members' match at the 600 yard range.

"The health of all the members of the New Jersey team is excellent as the result of their work on the ranges will show. The meals served by the regular army detail in charge of feeding the men has never been equalled at the matches held in Sea Girt. The quality of the food which for the most part is plain is excellent and the quantity always so great that no one needs leave the table with the slightest pang of hunger, rather they leave the tables feeling very much stuffed.

"The three members of the team from Co. K, of Plainfild, are giving good accounts of themselves on the different ranges. Lieut. Arthur R. Phillips and Quartermaster Sergeant James A. Thompson are both members of the regular team and are looking forward to shooting in the matches to be held at Sea Girt from September 12 to 20, inclusive. Captain Peterson as coach and adjutant of the team does very little shooting in the matches, but in the practice scores that he makes the standard of the Plainfield militiamen is not lowered."

GRANTED NO CONCESSIONS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, Aug. 21.—A categorical denial was given at Lord Cowdray' London office yesterday to report cabled to this country from the United States to the effect that Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, had granted important railroad concessions to an English group headed by Lord Cowdray.

Frozen Apricots.

Apricots can be made into several delicious frozen deserts. The freezing process brings out all their delicate flavor, and they blend deliciously with cream.

Apricot ice cream is made in this way: Skin and halve apricots enough to fill three cups. Stew them gently with a little water and sugar. When they are tender take two cupfuls of pulp, drained of the juice and rub it through a wire sieve. Add the juice to equal parts of sugar and water enough to make a generous pint, and boil this liquid for five minutes. Add it to the pulp. Then add the beaten yolks of three eggs, stirring all the time. Cook six minutes, always stirring, and then place in a pan of cold water. Beat it for five minutes or ten minutes, until it is cool, and add a quart of thin cream. Freeze and pack.

Water Ice.

Apricot water ice is an inexpensive dessert. Select about two dozen apricots and slice them without taking off the skins. Boil them in a cupful of water until they are soft and then add a pint of syrup, made of equal parts of sugar and water boiled together for five minutes. Add three drops of strong bitter almond extract and freeze hard. Then pack it and let it stand for two hours. Remember that water ice must be frozen hard before it is packed as it melts more easily than ice cream.

Frozen Apricots.

Frozen apricots are made from a quart of ripe fruit, sliced after the skins and stones are removed. Put this in the freezer with a pound of sugar and a quart of water boiled for five minutes. Turn the dasher until the mixture is nearly frozen. Have ready a pint of whipped cream, measured after whipping, and add it when the mixture is nearly frozen. Remove the dasher after mixing in the cream and pack in salt and ice for a couple of hours.

Omit Throughout Childhood.

Pies (pastry), rich cakes, rich nuts, gravies, dressings, heavy foods. Sugar, except in very small quantities, not constantly in evidence and never in abundance. Some sugar is needed, but it tends to ferment in the body and disturb digestion. No candy in early childhood, for children of any age, very little and that homemade. Fat and sugar furnish heat and energy but do not build the body. When sugar is eaten, foods that build the body are neglected.

Omit coffee and tea and all drinks except water, milk, fruit juices (as prescribed in former article) and cocoa light, neither rich nor heavy.

Diet facts. Variety is necessary, but within limits noted. Avoid over restriction as predigested foods.

Service and cooking control palatability.

Selection and mastication determine nutrition.

When Children Should Eat.

Food is needed at intervals, not constantly. It should be seen only when it is to be eaten.

From 1 to 5 years, children need food five times daily (12 hours) about three hours apart. Upon rising, after bath, after morning nap, after afternoon nap and in late afternoon when prepared to retire, but one hour before actually going to bed. Meals one and five should be light, two and four a little heavier. Three should be the substantial meal of the day.

After three years, morning naps are unnecessary for well children. Children should not be bathed or dressed or undressed or excited in any way immediately after eating. They then need their energy for digesting their food.

After five years three regular meals are advised, but a glass of milk or broth and bread shold be freely given midway between meals to delicate children that need more food than they eat at meal time The midday meal should still be the most substantial one

In summer one-fourth to one-third less food is needed In cooler weather, due to increased activity, more food is needed. Delicate children over five years need more frequent food than strong ones, their diet should be not according to age altogether but according to their needs.

The age, size and activity of the child all effect what quantity of food it should have. A child's health, freshness of appearance, its weight and free action show whether it is properly fed

Children at ten need abundant wholesome nourishment at seasonable hours Meat once a day, also eggs or fish during rapid growth. Sugar for those very active need not now be avoided as earlier except in excess

Hot, nutritious luncheons are imperatively needed. Soups, bread in variety, sandwiches, salad, fruits, milk, cocoa, pure ice cream, plain cake, no pie crust

How to Combine Food for Children.

Foods need to be combined for older children—they should taste well together, look appetizing, be attractively arranged and not require the digestive tract to act at one time upon a number of like foods Each meal should contain foods that build tissue and supply energy and heat

Building—Beef, mutton, chicken, oysters.

Building and Energy—Milk and eggs, cereals, breads, crackers, macaroni, cornmeal, peas, beans.

Energy—Potatoes, rice, tapioca, sago, cake, sugar, bananas, dates, cream, olive oil.

Prompt Digestion—Green vegetables, fruits raw and cooked.

The dietary of a day should insure the presence of laxative foods. The need of water should be remembered.

Laxative foods, apples, peaches (ripe), orange and grape juice, prunes, dates, figs (well washed, served raw or stewed), rhubarb, onions, spinach, tomatoes, green vegetables in general, cereals, mush, whole wheat bread, ginger bread, olive oil at night.

In cooking, several types of food are often so united that each adds what the others lack, as gelatin and fruit juice or prune whip or custards of milk and eggs or vegetable soups.

As some foods must be omitted from a child's dietary, so must some combinations of foods, as milk with acids (strawberries or tomatoes). Some foods not digestible for little children maybe for older girls and boys as are nuts and milk cheese.

Article on "What Children Should Eat" concluded in next Thursday's copy of Daily Press.

Some Cookery Suggestions

SOME SUMMER FISH.

BREAKFAST MENU.
Cereal. Cream.
Baked Mackerel.
French Fried Potatoes. Popovers.
Cocoa.

IN summer it is better to eat fish than meat, for it is nutritious and much less heating than the latter. Among the fish now in season the following are popular and inexpensive:

Baked With Cream.

Baked Mackerel.—Split and clean two small mackerel. Place in a buttered dripping pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour over one-half cupful thin cream. Bake in a hot oven.

Broiled Flounder With Sauce.—Clean and skin a flounder, sprinkle both sides with pepper and salt and squeeze over it a little lemon juice. Dip the fish in warmed butter, cover well with finely grated breadcrumbs, place on a gridiron and broil over a clear fire, turning to brown both sides equally. Bone an anchovy, put the flesh into a mortar with a small lump of butter and pound it; then place it in a small saucepan with the strained juice of a lemon and stir over the fire for a few minutes. When cooked place the flounder on a hot dish, pour the anchovy sauce over it and serve.

For Sea or Fresh Trout.

Baked Trout.—Take two pounds of trout, a tablespoonful of butter, a tablespoonful of onion juice, a tablespoonful of flour, a cupful of milk, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of paprika and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Brush pan with drippings, lay on it the fish, which has had scales, head, tail and backbone removed. Cover with cream sauce and bake thirty minutes. Serve on a hot platter sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Fish and Cereal.

Bluefish With Rice.—Five cupfuls water, two cupfuls boiled rice, quarter cupful of olive oil, a pound of bluefish, some salt and pepper. Place olive oil in a deep vessel and bring to the smoking point on a moderate fire. Add the water gradually and when this comes to a boil put in the rice, place the fish over the rice, season to taste, cover and leave slowly boiling till all the water has evaporated. Serve hot.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

A Vain Little Boy and His Sailor Suit.

The Water Had Crept Behind Them.

"VAIN?" daddy laughed when Jack called Evelyn vain. "Vain? Some little boys are as vain as girls."

"I am not vain," Jack answered indignantly.

"Oh, indeed! Well, I'll tell you about little Tommy Tucker. Tommy was vain.

"One year his grandma sent him a handsome white sailor suit. With it was a little cap to match, a cap just like the one Tommy's sailor uncle wore.

"Tommy wanted to put it on at once and go out on the beach for a walk. They were staying for the summer at the seashore, and every afternoon Tommy's mother took him out for a stroll or a drive.

"But that afternoon she had a headache and could not go.

"'I'll put the new suit on you, but you must not go walking alone,' she said. 'Stay around the hotel today.'

"He met a friend outside of the hotel. 'Come for a walk,' said the boy.

"'Mother only said that I was not to go walking alone,' Tommy said.

"They started out along the beach, and Tommy was tickled because all the ladies turned to smile at him.

"Victor—that was the other boy's name—said he knew where there was a pool in which lived a funny old crab. He said if Tommy would come with him they would go and look at the crab.

"They walked out on a lonely part of the beach where Tommmy had never been before. The pool was out among some rocks, and after the boys had looked at the crab they sat down on the rocks.

"They watched the ships and flung pebbles into the water for awhile. Then Victor happened to look behind them.

"'My goodness,' he cried, 'the tide is coming in!'

"Tommy looked too. The water had crept in so that the little strip of beach by which they had crossed to the rocks was covered with water.

"'Come on; we'll have to wade or wait until low tide!' called Victor.

"Waiting for several hours without anything to eat would be no joke.

"Victor ran ahead and soon had dashed through the water, which was almost to his waist. Tommy waited just a minute and followed him. He was drenched by a big wave. He was a dirty, draggled little boy at whom every one along the beach laughed.

"And when his mother saw the new sailor suit and found how Tommy had gone off walking she put the suit away and would not have it washed, so he could not wear it for a long time. And that was a sad punishment for a vain little boy."

The Large Armhole, and Drop-Shoulder Line Seem to be Paving the Way for the Return of the Kimona Sleeve.

Lower and lower drops the shoulder line of the new frocks and blouses perhaps because most women have always cherished a liking for the kimona type of sleeve, and are getting just as close to it as possible. Many elaborate evening gowns of the past season were frankly kimona as to sleeves but the idea was not worked into the practical frocks to any extent. The drop-shoulder as in 7648 was adopted as a sort of compromise. In this dress it gives a pretty shoulder line and the sleeves may be joined with a plain seam or under a tuck as preferred. The closing is at the side-front of the waist, carried over to the side of the skirt. The tiny square collar and revers should be of some contrasting material, and the shops are full of suggestions for this. It has surely been a season of contrasts, the some good, some atrocious but now that we are becoming more accustomed to handling these contrasts, the mistakes are rarer, and not so glaring. The frock we are discussing is a good model for all-day wear, in white, or tomato red linen or ratine, with trimming of the same post-impressionist printed stuff in dull colors. Five sizes, 34 to 42, and the 36-inch size requires 5 yards 36-inch material. 15 cents.

Slowly but surely plaits are coming to the front in the best models. To be sure they are always worked out in the softest of fabrics, so that they give very little extra fullness, as in the original of 7848, which was of sheer voile of chiffony softness.

The frock was in the new overblouse effect that seems to be gaining in favor, and the overblouse is made with quite a large armhole emphasizing the looseness of present day blouses. There is a guimpe in peasant shaping that fastens at the back and for this some of the dainty lace nets or point d'esprit may be used. To the overblouse the tunic with group of plaits front and back may be used, and the pattern provides a foundation skirt, so that if you decide to make overblouse and tunic of some transparent fabric, you have a foundation dress to develop in satin that forms a lining. The girdle is very pretty with its large butterfly bow at the back. No pattern is given for this. Three sizes, for misses of 16, 17 and 18, and 18-year girl will need 4 yards 36-inch material for foundation dress, and 4 yards 42-inch for overblouse and tunic. 15 cents

Between-Meals Runner, to be Worked in Darning and Outline.

The long table-runner has taken the place of the colored centerpiece or large, colored table-cover for many uses. The runner for the hall table may be of linen pongee or velour stenciled or embroidered. The living-room table, instead of being covered with a large square cloth, now shows the polished surface of the wood except when covered with a narrow runner of silk or linen which protects the polished wood from being scratched by the drop-light and vase of flowers. The serving-table in the dining-room is also covered by a runner which should be of heavy white linen embroidered either entirely in white or in the color predominating the decorations of the room. Between meals, the dining room table needs some kind of a cover under the vase of flowers and this may be either a centerpiece embroidered in colors, or a runner of white or natural colored linen long enough to hang about 18 inches over the edge of the table at each end. The ends should be embroidered in some simple attractive design in colors and you could not choose a more appropriate motif than the fruit design, 14381, shown in the illustration. This is very easy to embroider in outline-stitch and darning either, entirely in blue or brown or by working the leaves in two shades of soft greens, the plums in dull purple, blue or red, the pears in yellows and orange, and the peaches in the natural peach shades, with rope silk. This design is 18 by 6½ inches and the pattern includes two transfers for stamping both ends of the runner.

Transfers for stamping this design can be supplied to readers for fifteen cents.

Connie Mack No Longer Claims 1913 American League Flag

Connie Mack is no longer the long, lanky, self-satisfied individual that he was three weeks or a month ago. He's still long and he's still lanky and his team still has a pretty good lead, but his lean face has lengthened still more and two new wrinkles have appeared on his forehead. For the Athletics' slump has lasted now more than a month and Connie has been unable to find any way to break it. With Jack Barry out of the game the Philadelphians do not look a pennant winner and Connie knows it.

A month ago Connie broke his long-observed rule and declared that the Athletics were certain to win. He repeated that observation when the Naps were in Philadelphia last week, but now he's switched his talk. Asked about American League prospects, he was content to answer:

"Who will win I can't tell. Neither can you. Neither can anyone else. Too much chance in baseball. A couple of your stars get hurt and it's goodby. All I know for certain is that the race comes to an end October 5, and that night we'll know who won the pennant."

SLANG GETS BLACK-EYE FROM CHICAGO FANDOM

Chicago, Aug. 21—Slang as a means of the proper description of baseball games in the newspapers came out a little behind straight forward English, according to the verdict of several thousand readers in a test vote taken in a Chicago newspaper.

Of a total of 3,930 ballots recorded yesterday, 2,004 declared for the English described by the dictionaries and 1,926 were in favor of the use of slang.

The figures in favor of pure English were qualified by several thousand voters who expressed themselves in favor of the use of a moderate amount of snappy, descriptive phrases, not limited necessarily to dictionary words, however. Many voted in favor of slang but advocated the elimination of nicknames.

In the course of the balloting numerous college professors and educators declared in favor of slang, while a majority of baseball players, club owners and managers expressed a preference for pure English.

YANKEES BUY NEW OUTFIELDER

The New York American League Club, yesterday, purchased William P. Holden, center fielder of the New London Club, of the Eastern Association. Holden is said to be one of the fastest men in the association, and his batting average for the season is .349. He is a left-handed batter. He will report to Manager Chance at the end of the Eastern Association.

MC GINNITY AS STEADY AS IN THE OLD DAYS

Verily, this is the age of the come back, and the survival of the hasheer in baseball. One of those apparently who will never die is Joe McGinnity, the famous iron Man of the Baltimore team, later of New York's world's champions in 1905, still later a real "iron man" with the Newark club in the then Eastern league, and at present part owner, manager and star pitcher, of the Tacoma (Wash.) team of the Northwestern League.

Joe is not so spry as he used to be but he has lost none of his old cunning and control. The latest statistics show that in the thirty-five games in which he worked from May 17 to July 25, Joe issued 21 passes, hit 4 batters and had 1 wild pitch. His record was 11 won and 10 lost, for a percentage of .583, with a team that up to July 27 had a percentage of .438. Joe helped to make Tacoma's percentage what it was by aiding the Vancouver League leaders on July 23 and again two days later.

RANDOLPH WILL TWIRL.

A good attraction has been arranged for this Sunday on Suburban Oval, Gravesend and Sixteenth avenue, Brooklyn, where Bright's All-Star Trenton nine, which has defeated some of the best semi-professional teams in the Metropolitan district, will tackle the crack Suburbans in the feature of a double bill. A preliminary game between two well balanced teams will take place at 1:30. The home team will present a strong line-up, with Cliff Randolph on the firing line. The Suburbans are playing good ball this season.

PARKERS WERE ONE RUN BEHIND AT THE FINISH

In a game in which both pitchers were hit freely and in which errors were frequent, the Rovers defeated the Parker A. C. team in a league game on Parker Field, yesterday afternoon by a count of 11 to 10. The Parker contingent tried desperately to tie up the score in the final rounds but fell one short.

The score:

WHITE HOPES TO BATTLE.

Los Angeles, Aug. 21—Jess Willard and "Bull" Young today finished training for their twenty dound battle, which is to be pulled off in the Vernon arena tomorrow night. Willard and Young are rated as two of the largest and strongest "white hopes." This will be their third meeting in the ring. Willard was the victor in both of the previous bouts.

HANGS UP NEW MARK.

Five thousand persons saw George Spearl of Brooklyn, break the world's half hour record at the Brighton Beach Motordrome, last night, by winning the half hour race. Spearl covered 38 miles and 2 laps. The old mark was 37 miles and 1 lap, set by Mike Costello last year. Roy Vedder, of Philadelphia, was second, only ten lengths behind.

"BUCK" O'BRIEN IS SOLD.

Chicago, Aug. 21—Pitcher Thomas J. "Buck" O'Brien, of the Chicago Americans, was yesterday sold by President Comiskey to the Oakland Club, of the Pacific Coast League. No amount was announced. O'Brien joined the Chicago club this spring, having been obtained from the Boston club at the waiver price.

RED SOX TEAM BEST RALLIER IN LEAGUE

Boston Players Have Figured In Seven Ninth Inning Victories.

Boston fans probably have a perfect right to complain of the showing of their Red Sox in the pennant race this season, but they have no reason to hint that the world's champions owe their present position in the championship standing to lack of recuperative powers. The Speed Boys have proved to be the best ralliers in the American League this season, having won seven games in the ninth inning and only having let three contests escape from them in the final spasm. The Naps and the Senators have also captured seven battles in the last regularly scheduled round, but the Clevelanders have met with defeat seven times in the final chapter and the Washingtons have been bested five times in the wind-up period. The records of the other American League teams in games decided in the ninth inning is as follows: Detroit, won 5, lost 6; St. Louis, won 5, lost 6; Chicago, won 4, lost 4; New York, won 3, lost 4; Philadelphia, won 2, lost 5.

In the 35 of the 40 American League games decided in the ninth this season, the winning run was put on the records either on a hit or an out; in three contests errors turned the tide; in one a steal of the plate settled things, and in another the pitcher forced the deciding count over by issuing a pass. Only one American Leaguer has succeeded in driving home the winning marker in three contests. He is Tris Speaker, of Boston, who won the Chalmers car, offered to the most valuable player in the younger organization last season. The trophy winner has caused defeats to be marked up against Chief Bender, Willie Mitchell and Earl Hamilton this season by striking telling blows in the ninth chapter when the court was knotted.

Players who have won two games for their teams by producing timely hits in the last inning this year are Duffy Lewis, of Boston; Ivan Olson, of Cleveland; Maurice Rath, of Chicago, and Pete Compton, of St. Louis. The latter was acting in a pinch-hitting capacity on each occasion and he made himself popular with his boss, George Stovall. Other sub swatters who have won games in the ninth this year are Carisch, of Cleveland; Brief, of St. Louis, and Williams, of Washington.

The players responsible for their teams ninth inning successes are enumerated below:

BOSTON—7.

Speaker, 3; Lewis, 2; Carrigan, 1; Gardner, 1.

WASHINGTON—7.

Ainsmith, 1; Moeller, 1; Morgan, 1; Williams, 1; Milan, 1. One of the Senators' ninth inning victories was due to a steal home by Gandil and another to an error by Lapp, of Philadelphia.

CLEVELAND—7.

Olson, 2; Lajoie, 1; Carisch, 1; Graney, 1. The winning runs in Cleveland's other ninth-inning victories were due to errors by Bodie, of Chicago, and Dauss, of Detroit.

ST. LOUIS—5.

Compton, 2; Brief, 1; Agnew, 1; Johnston, 1.

DETROIT—5.

Crawford, 1; Moriarity, 1; Gainer, 1; Cobb, 1. Gregg, of Cleveland, forced in the winning run in one of the games won by the Tigers in the ninth.

CHICAGO—4.

Rath, 2; Collins, 1; Easterly, 1.

NEW YORK—3.

Peckinpaugh, 1; Midkiff, 1; Sweeney, 1.

PHILADELPHIA—2.

McInnis, 1; Lapp, 1.

The pitcher who has figured in the greatest number of ninth inning reverses this season is Tom Hughes, of Washington. He has been the Senators' moundman in three games that the enemy have grabbed at the finish. Walter Johnston has not let any games escape in the ninth. On the contrary, the Senators have rallied four times in the ninth behind the idaho Phenom this year and pulled games out of the fire. The American League pitchers charged with ninth inning defeats this year follow:

CLEVELAND—7.

Steen, 1; Cullop, 1; Gregg, 1; Kahler, 1; Falkenberg, 1; Blanding, 1; Mitchell, 1.

ST. LOUIS—6.

Hamilton, 2; Stone, 1; Baumgardner, 1; Leverenze, 1; Weilman, 1.

DETROIT—6.

Lake, 2; Bush, 1; Dubuc, 1; Willett, 1; Klawitter, 1.

WASHINGTON—5.

Hughes, 3; Groom, 2.

PHILADELPHIA—5.

Bender, 2; Brown, 1; Plank, 1; Bush, 1.

NEW YORK—4.

Keating, 1; Ford, 1; Fisher, 1; Shulz, 1.

CHICAGO—4.

Scott, 2; Russell, 1; Walsh, 1.

BOSTON—3.

O'Brien, 1; Wood, 1; Hall, 1.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Chauncey Olcott's new play is called "Shame'en D'hu."

Nora Bayes intends to continue in vaudeville this season.

It is reported Mrs. Patrick Campbell is to make another American tour.

"The Beauty Shop" is the name of a new musical piece in which Raymond Hitchcock will be seen.

William Hodge is acting this season in a comedy called "The Road to Happiness," by Lawrence Whitman. The show opened in Plainfield last spring.

Early in September Otis Skinner will begin his third season in Knoblauch's Arabian Nights drama "Kismet."

"Where Ignorance Is Bliss" is the title decided for the American version of the new Ferenc Molnar comedy.

Tom Terriss, an English actor and a company of fourteen members are here to present a vaudeville sketch called "David Garrick."

"The Fight," a new play by Bayard Veiller, author of "Within the Law," is to have its premier in New York city on Labor Day.

The Garrick Theatre, New York, will open its season on September 15 with Fannie Ward in "Madam President" as the initial attraction.

Beginning in October, Ellen Beach Yaw, the well-known soprano, will appear in vaudeville over the Keith and Orpheum circuits.

Homer Lind will make his first dramatic appearance this year in "A Man of Yesterday," by Evelyn Blanchard and Adelaide Stedman.

Mizzi Hajos, a Hungarian prima donna, is to be featured in the new musical play, "Her Little Highness," which is to be produced in Boston next month.

One of the musical plays of the season will be "The Dream Maiden," in which Belle Gold, a character comedienne and singer, will have a leading part.

Frederic de Belleville, for many years one of the best known leading men on the American stage, will have a prominent part in the new Ferenc Molnar comedy to be produced by Harrison Grey Fiske.

Oliver Morosco has obtained a musical play called "Rita's Romance," the book of which is by Leo Dietrichstein, the lyrics by Benjamin Hapgood, and the music by Silvio Hein. It is to be produced soon in Los Angeles.

Theodore Roberts is playing the part of the Colorado sheriff in "Believe Me, Xantippe," a comedy produced recently by William A. Brady. The piece was written by Frederick Ballard, a student of Harvard.

George Scarborough, two of whose plays are to be produced by the Shuberts this season, is a New York newspaper man who has learned playwriting from real life rather than from "behind the scenes." He was for some years on a New York newspaper, but left that field of work to enter the Federal secret service as an investigator of bucket-shop and white slave problems.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

In "Who's Who?" the farce by Richard Harding Davis in which Charles Frohman will present William Collier at the Plainfield Theatre, Friday night, August 29, the star will appear in the role of a Yankee cowboy. A certain New England youth has been living in Arizona for seven years under an assumed name. His friends back home think he has been shot while robbing a train. The why and wherefore of his hiding is explained in the first act of the farce and the rest of the play shows how he returns to Massachusetts and claims a fortune left him by his father. It is said to be a genuine William Collier part—one of the best—a real companion to "The Dictator," the character Mr. Davis drew for Mr. Collier several years ago and in which he scored one of his biggest hits.

THE HARMSWORTH CUP.

It is beginning to look as though America will not be represented in the Harmsworth yacht trophy races. The only boat likely to go abroad is Ankle Deep, the speedy racer that belongs to Count Casimir Mankowski. The count states that he sees nothing to be gained by the trip to England, and also that his engagements on this side of the ocean make it impossible for him to go abroad. He is exceedingly anxious to win the Gold Challenge cup on the St. Lawrence this summer—in fact, that is why Ankle Deep was rebuilt.

Many people wonder why the holder of a foreign title should be the representative of the United States in an international contest. Although his title is perfectly sound and good and warranted not to run down at the heel, Count Mankowski was born on this side of the Atlantic, his mother being one of the Bixby girls. The count is a millionaire many times over, and his principal sport is motor boating. He is one of the few people in the high speed motorboat game who is in it only for the love of the sport.

Do It For Plainfield

Plainfield's Future Greatness

THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS asks friends of Plainfield to bring about such a result as the above picture shows by doing their part to boost the Plainfield Daily Press' Greater Plainfield Historical and Boom Edition, which is soon to make its appearance, and is to be sent broadcast over the land to let people outside of this city know what an ideal place this is as a manufacturing center and place of business.

Era of Prosperity Will Be Featured From Every Point of View

To the man who lives in this city and does business here, and whose past, present and future are identified with it, Plainfield is the absorbing and dominant proposition of his life, and it is not easy for him to conceive that "all the world and the rest of mankind" are not as fully informed and as equally impressed with the city's opportunities, resources and achievements as he is. A little investigation would make some astounding and mortifying disclosures to such a man. He would discover, for instance, as we have, that there are business men in the nearest cities who have the most erroneous ideas about Plainfield, who have no true views of the population of this city, the extent of its industrial, commercial and manufacturing interests, or of the means by which the people live and prosper. Of course, this is not true of all the people in our neighboring cities, but it ought not to be true of any of them.

There are just four cures for this condition:

1st. PUBLICITY
2nd. PUBLICITY
3rd. PUBLICITY
4th. PUBLICITY

IT'S TIME TO WAKE AND BRUSH OFF THE COBWEBS

SHOUT FOR GREATER PLAINFIELD

And Let the Outside World Know Where We Are, Who We Are and What We Are Doing

THIS MAGNIFICENT EDITION IS FOR OUTSIDE CIRCULATION

And the interests of Plainfield will be presented in prose and pictures. The finest half-tone cuts and good paper will be used. No business or professional man, or public official who has this locality's welfare at heart can afford to neglect this opportunity to be represented in the Greatest Literary Production ever issued by a newspaper in New Jersey. It will have a mammoth circulation and will be kept for years as a souvenir.

NOTHING LIKE IT EVER PRINTED HERE BEFORE

Those who are public-spirited, who think of Plainfield as their home, and the place where they have cast their fortunes, will endorse our action as a move toward progress and hustle, which is needed everywhere, and especially here. Get ready to come in, for it's NOW OR NEVER.

You have been talking a great deal about "what Plainfield needs, bringing new industries here and booming the town," now practice what you preach by doing something, AND DO IT NOW. Here is a good chance to show your colors.

ROOT FOR YOUR HOME TOWN---PUT HER ON THE MAP---BE PROGRESSIVE

NEVER MIND WHAT OLD MR. MOSS BACK NEXT DOOR THINKS ABOUT IT. He is not running your business nor paying the rent. Be independent, a leader and not a follower. Give this big undertaking your true and honest support.

PENROSE LOOKS FOR TROUBLE IN MEXICO

Wants Government to Send Troops to Protect American Citizens There.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Aug. 21—Senator Penrose, today, introduced a resolution in the Senate declaring it to be the sense of that body that the President of the United States should establish constabularies in Mexico and place in them a sufficient number of troops to protect the lives and property of American citizens.

The resolution also declares it to be the sense of the Senate that it has been the policy of the United States to maintain the Monroe Doctrine; that the United States recognizes its responsibility under this doctrine; that there is internal warfare and lawlessness in Mexico; that the continuation of this condition will add to the complications there; that the first duty of the United States is to protect the lives and property of its citizens at home and abroad; that the extension of such protection will lessen the daner of foreign interference and that it is not the policy of the United States to aid or assist any faction.

It is not regarded here in official circles that the continuing of negotiations betwen Special Representative Lind and the Huerta government is entirely hopeless. In the meantime the administration attitude toward recognition is unchanged and unalterable.

Neither is there at this moment any idea of any other policy than a perfectly friendly one toward Mexico, which does not contemplate intervention. It was suggested at the White House today that some official announcement clarifying the situation might be made in a day or so.

JUSTICES' STORIES ARE CONFLICTING

Justice Kaine Denies He Was Held In Bail For Hearing By Justice Sedam.

Following a report that has been circulated to the effect that he had been apprehended on a warrant sworn out by George Becker, of South Plainfield, charging him with assault and battery, Justice Patrick F. Kaine, of the same place, emphatically denied this morning that any such complaint had been entered against him and that no bail had been fixed in the matter. He further stated that false reports have been circulated by Mr. Becker regarding the circumstances of the case.

Frank Kowalski, who was brought before Justice Sedam on a warrant sworn out by Becker, according to Kaine, was held in $50 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The New Brunswick "Times," a newspaper published in the town where the legal proceedings took place, gives the following version of the case:

Kaine went to New Brunswick Tuesday and appeared before Justice Suydam.

"Morning, squire," he said.

"Howdy, squire," replied Justice Suydam.

"I understand you have a warrant for my arrest and I thought I would save your constable a trip to our town," said Judge Kaine.

"Constable Mullen started after you once this week, but the auto bus broke down and he found he couldn't reach South Plainfield in one day, so came back," replied Judge Suydam.

"George Becker says that you threatened him because he wouldn't give up some clothes belonging to Frank Kowalski" said Judge Suydam. "He said that Kowalski had worked for him; that you took the man from him and that he held up the fellow's clothes to pay for his fare from New York and the fee he had to pay to the employment agency. He says you threatened to arrest him and put a pair of handcuffs on him, when you know you had no authority to do so."

"I didn't try to put handcuffs on him; I had a pair in my pocket but didn't try to use them," said Kaine. "I want a hearing."

Mr. Kaine gave bail for himself and Kowalski, who is charged with assault and a date for a hearing will be set later.

In speaking to a reporter this morning, Justice Sedam, of New Brunswick, before whom Justice Kaine was alleged to have been arraigned, endorsed the statement made to the effect that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of the South Plainfield man but stated that Kaine appeared in the New Brunswick court before it could be served. Justice Sedam said that he held the South Plainfield justice in a nominal bond to appear for a further hearing and that Mr. Kaine furnished a personal bond.

THAW WILL NOT APPEAR.

ATHLETIC HONORS FOR LOCAL BOYS

Medal for Godfrey Clay, the 95-Pound Champion at Camp Wawayanda.

THREE RECORD HOLDERS

Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. Athletes Won Both Trophies—Plainfield Fourth In Athletic Standing—Also Rank In Same Position In Aquatics.

Camp Wawayanda, Aug. 22.—Announcement was made Wednesday night at the closing banquet of the season of the Y. M. C. A. campers that the boys' department of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. had won the Hilton Bull Memorial Cup for athletics and the Fred Burkett cup for aquatics, both of them having been contested for by representatives of different associations who have been here for the last eight weeks.

This is the first time in the history of the camp that one association won both cups in the same year, and the Betsytown boys are in a high state of excitement over the honor which has come their way and are already planning to hold a big celebration upon their return home. Stephen Ford, for the winners, is the only boy to hold three records in one class.

With the exception of the Montclair boys, the Elizabeth contingent had little to fear from the other associations. It was this association which gave the Elizabeth boys their trouble and from the time of the first meet until the final battle the fight for honors was nip and tuck. In athletics the Betsytowners easily showed their superiority and finished with a comfortable lead of 106 points. In aquatics, however, the race between Elizabeth and Montclair was more exciting as the latter association always excelled in this branch of sports and they were given a big surprise when it was announced that they were on the short end of the race.

Both cups are to become the permanent property of the association which wins them for three successive years. For two years Orange held the cup for athletics while Montclair was in possession of the Burkett cup for two years. Robert Flynn and Walden Fountain, who accepted the cups for the Betsytown association, were so elated over the double victory that they warned the other representatives that the boys from the Rail and Harbor City would make a big bid next year to bring home a second double victory. Mr. Flynn and Mr. Fountain will return Saturday to Elizabeth and will bring the cups with them.

The ten highest point winners in each association composed the representative teams and it was upon this basis that the cups were awarded. The athletic standing with the number of points secured by each team are as follows: Elizabeth 2,081; Montclair, 1,975; Orange, 1,856; Plainfield, 1,783; Paterson, 1,714; Ridgewood, 1,558. In aquatics the standing was as follows: Elizabeth, 1,710; Montclair, 1,643; Ridgewood 1,109; Plainfield, 1,016; Orange, 771; Paterson, 679.

The record holders for this year in the different events are as follows: 53-pound class—50-yard dash, Robert Addams, Elizabeth; time, 6 4-5 seconds. Standing broad jump, Geo. King, Plainfield; distance, 7 ft. 10 in. Running broad jump, G. Clay, Plainfield; distance, 15 ft. 1 1-2 inches.

95-pound class—25-yard swim, R. Zisette, Paterson; time 18 seconds. 50-yard swim, R. Tomlinson, Plainfield; time, 44 seconds. Dive for form, William Brower, Orange, 27 per cent.

The highest point winners in athletics during the season who will receive medals are: 95-pound class, Godfried Clay, Plainfield, 225 points against forty-eight competitors; 110-pound class, George Anderson Ridgewood, 244 points against twenty-four competitors; 130-pound class, Walter Roll, Elizabeth, 270 points against twenty-eight competitors; unlimited class, Sheldon Moora, Montclair, 254 points against nineteen competitors.

WANTS TO BE COUNTY CLERK.

Louis Anderson Bellis, of Somerville, has filed his petition for the Democratic nomination for county clerk of Somerset, opposing Walter C. Lubarger, of North Plainfield, who sometime ago announced his candidacy. At present he is chief of police and chairman of the street committee of Somerville. He formerly served on the Board of Commissioners of that place. He is now treasurer of the Democratic County Committee and past exalted ruler of Plainfield, B. P. O. E.

CONCERT AT CITY PARK.

Under the auspices of the Playground Commission, a concert will be given at the City Park, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Naylor's Band. While it is not stated officially, this will probably be the last concert of the season under the auspices of the Playground Commission.

TENANTS ORDERED TO VACATE APARTMENTS

Board of Health Serves Official Notice On Occupants of Unsanitary Apartments.

Many families living in the apartment house located from 301 to 319½ Cottage place are affected by a notice served by the local Board of Health this morning, notifying the occupants of the apartments at that address to vacate their house within forty-eight hours, or before tomorrow night. Investigation carried on during the last few days shows that the building in question is without a potable water supply, the water having been shut off following the nonpayment of the monthly bills.

As a result of the lack of water, the apartments are in an unsanitary condition and are unfit for human habitation. The structure in question, is of concrete construction and was erected several years ago by a New York firm and the present owner now lives in that city. It is expected that strenuous protests will be made against the order that has been tacked on the doors of the apartments and fistic battles may ensue when the occupants are ousted tomorrow night in the event that they refuse to recognize the notice voluntarily.

TOWNSHIP DISPUTE REFERRED TO COUNSEL

North Plainfield and Warren Committeemen Unable to Reach Agreement.

Following a discussion regarding the payment of 1912 taxes between North Plainfield and Warren townships, at a joint meeting of the committees from both townships held at Watchung, it was decided to refer the matter to Clarence Case, representing Warren, and H. O. Hance, representing North Plainfield. There was a spirited discussion on the subject in wich Charles Hughes and other representative citizens of the two townships engaged.

It seems to be the belief that the matter will eventually have to be settled by the legislature, before the two townships will be satisfied. While a decision has been reached regarding the 1912 taxes to be collected, the taxes for 1912 are in dispute. The taxes for this year will be collected according to the survey of the commission, but those for last year amounting to between $500 and $600 are claimed by Warren township. Its committee takes this position for the reason that it paid the State, county and school tax and claims the money in question. They were also paid by North Plainfield, it is said.

Mr. Case and Mr. Hance to whom the matter was referred will probably make a report with in a month and that report will doubtless be the basis for any future action that may be taken by the two townships. All of the members of the North Plainfield Township Committee were present at the joint meeting, as well as William Mernah, Samuel Gunton and John Cooper, the committee, together with Edward Cooper, Harry Zaiser and Joel Codington from Warren Township.

CONTRACT FOR LOCAL FIRM.

Burke & Bonham, local contractors, have been awarded the contract for building four miles of road between Swedesburg and Nicholton. The estimate of the local company was $65,000, and work will be started next week.

R. A. CLAYBROOK MENTIONED.

R. A. Claybrook, of the Third ward, is prominently mentioned as the probable nominee for the Council. He is an active member of the Plainfield Democratic Club and his friends believe he would make a strong candidate.

KNIGHTS OF GOLDEN EAGLE STATE MEET

Local People to Be Identified With Gathering at Trenton On Labor Day.

Knights of the Golden Eagle from all parts of the State will assemble in Trenton on Labor Day, for the thirtieth annual session of the Grand Castle of New Jerey.

Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, of Plainfield, is the grand bard of the order and Freedom Castle, No. 42, is one of the strongest castles in the State. The local castel will be officially represented by George C. Church, of Somerset street. About fifteen past chiefs of tis city, will also attend the State session.

The session will begin at 10 o'clock and will be held in the hall of Mercer Castle, No. 23, in the Ribsam building. It is likely to conclude its business in the one day and upon its adjournment the annual meeting of the very successful funeral benefit fund of the order will take place.

Grand Chief Elvin M. Hoffman, of Whitehouse, will preside over the grand castle session and submit a report of his work for the year. Next in line is Grand Vice Chief Walton H. Chew, of Pitman, who, if he desires it, will be avanced to the grand chief's post for the ensuing twelve months.

The principal contest in the election of officers, which will occur in the afternoon, will be over the selection of a grand sir herald, which is the first of the "line offices" and leads eventually to the grand chief's chair and to a seat in the supreme castle of the United States. It is undestood that there will be several candidates for this honor.

The annual report of Grand Master of Records A. L. Clark, of Trenton, will show that there has been a small net gain in total membership in te State during the year which ended June 30, last. It has been an unusually active year in many of the castles and they have added to their ranks, principally by initiation, nearly seven hundred new sir knights. This has been largely offset, however, by the big suspension list in the less active castles. The figures are as follows:

MEMBERSHIP.

Membership, June 30, 1912	7574

On withdrawal cards	111
Reinstated	54

RECEIPTS.

The receipts and expenditures of the subordinate castles were as follows:

Since the organization of the Order in this State there has been disbursed for sickness and death, including benefits paid by the Funeral Benefit Fund, over $700,000.00, covering a period of twenty-seven years.

Grand Castle Funds.

The following report of Grand Castle funds will be presented:

Total receipts, including balance on hand at last report	$3,254.36
Total expenditures	2,841.10

Balance on hand Aug. 15, 1913	$ 392.72

It is whispered that several radical amendments to the laws will be offered at the coming session.

The Funeral Benefit Fund's meeting will be presided over by Past Supreme Chief William H. Ruf, of Manasquan, its president.

The annual session of the Grand Temple, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, will be held in another room of the Ribsam Building at the same time as the Grand Castle.

The Supreme Castle of the order will meet in Springfield, Ohio, on Tuesday, October 14.

SENATOR ANGERED AT COURT'S MOVE

Counsel for Richard Collins Threatened to Sue City Because Client Was Wronged.

WILL FURNISH BONDS

Convinced That Action Taken in Sending Prisoner Accused of Nonsupport to the County Jail in Default of Bail Was Legal.

Senator Richard Fitzherbert, of Dover, counsel for Richard Collins, who was sent to the county jail in Elizabeth Wednesday in default of $300 bonds to furnish his wife $3 each week after he had been found guilty of a non-support charge in the City Court, went into the local police station, this morning, like a lion, but came out like a lamb. He came here indignantly asserting that his client was being persecuted and that Collins had been arrested and tried for the same offense in Paterson. The senator was going to sue the city of Plainfield and threatened dire things for Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., Chief Kiely and several other Plainfield authorities.

When Senator Fitzherbert had become quieted somewhat, Mr. Hetfield explained that Collins had been arrested on complaint of Acting Overseer-of-the-Poor Garrett T. Dunham, on behalf of Mrs. Collins and her only child. Mr. Hetfield further explained that the law plainly states that a man must be tried for non-support in the court of the municipality that his wife resides and that in sending Collins to jail because he could not furnish the necessary bonds, the authorities had acted entirely within their rights.

Senator Fitzherbrt said he thought otherwise and started to produce papers to sustain his assertions, that his client's case had been disposed of in Paterson.

But all he could show was papers to the effect that Collins had been paroled sometime ago, after being found guilty of desertion, an affense listed in the crimes act, and an entirely different charge than that preferred against Collins in this city.

After being convinced that he was in the wrong, the senator produced the $300 bonds and started to Elizabeth, with the necessary papers to secure Mr. Collins's release.

LIVES ENDANGERED WHEN FARM HORSE TOOK FRIGHT

An exciting runaway took place this morning when a horse attached to a farm wagon loaded with peaches belonging to John Miles, of South Plainfield, made its way along West Fourth street, toward Watchung avenue, after the animal had been frightened in the vicinity of Fourth street and Clinton avenue. Several children were in the wagon at the time, one of whom was driving. The children managed to escape serious injury by jumping from the vehicle. One lad, however, was slightly hurt by being struck by the foot of the horse when it kicked over the dashboard. The youngster was not badly hurt.

After the wagon had lost a wheel when turning into Watchung avenue, Russell Sharpe a driver for the Union Grain Company, made a most daring stop of the runaway while the horse was going at neck-breaking speed.

TAXI DRIVERS HAD NO LICENSES; ARE ARRESTED

Charged with driving their taxicabs without licenses, Michael Higgins, of 74 Jackson avenue, brother of Sergeant Maurice Higgins, and Bertram Chapman, of 308 Grove street, were arrested last night. They will be arraigned Tuesday morning in the City Court before Judge DeMeza, who will return Sunday from a vacation trip in Maine. Both men claim they had filed their applications for licenses, but that the necessary papers and credentials in the form of a badge, had not been forwarded to them. They expect to have them before Tuesday, they said.

FIRE DOOR TEST WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Local Man's Invention Tried Out Yesterday Before Interested Spectators.

In the presence of a gathering of about thirty men, among whom were Chief T. O. Doane and Councilman Fred J. Endress, of this City; Councilman L. B. Woolston of the borough; Goodwin Lee, editor of the "Fire Engineer"; William Jeffery, president of the Board of Trade; Prof. A. S. Herr, secretary of the Board of Trade, and representatives of Johnson & Johnson, manufacturers, of New Brunswick, several tests were made of the automatic fire door release and fire alarm being manufactured by the Lowe Manufacturing Company, of South Second street, at their plant yesterday afternoon.

These new devices, recently invented by Ernest P. Lowe, of this city, are used to detect a fire, close fire doors, sound an alarm and place the number of the floor where the fire is discovered upon an indicator within a fraction of a minute. In the three tests made yesterday afternoon the mechanism showed its worth under most unfavorable conditions.

The first test made by starting a fire at the other end of the room from the apparatus, which is placed on the walls near the ceiling, the fire door was closed and the alarm sounded within twenty-two seconds after the fire was detected. In the second test, where only the unit was used for the closing of the door, twenty seconds passed between the lighting of the fire and the closing of the fire door. The third test, which was the same as the first, with the exception that the fire was started in the next room, the door was closed and alarm sounded twenty seconds after the start of the fire. In the last test an attachment which was placed on the bottom of the door, removed several blocks of wood from the path of the door, which would have prevented the door from closing had it been without the attachment.

The apparatus contains an air chamber which becomes sensitive to a sudden or rapid change in temperature, such as would be produced by fire. The contracting atmosphere within the chamber being affected by the increase in temperature sets the mechanism into motion.

It is very interesting to note that several of this type of apparatus has already been installed in the plants of the Victor Talking Machine Company, of Camdn, and in practical use have served their purpose.

BASEBALL POOL CONTINUES TO DO BUSINESS IN CITY

Following the editorial in the Daily Press regarding the lottery being conducted in this city by a New York "baseball information company" through local representatives, the police department started a rigid investigation and arrests may follow.

Although a New York man was arrested several weeks ago charged with conducting a similar lottery or gambling game, which, it is said, amounts to nothing more than a swindle, the Metropolitan concern operating in this and nearby cities continue to sell chances or "subscriptions" for the baseball pools as described in the Daily Press.

Although nineteen cash prizes are offered, ranging in amounts from $1,000 to $5, no one in Plainfield has ever been known to win any money, as far as can be learned, regardless of the fact that thousands of the so-called chances have been sold to the unsuspecting public at 25 cents each.

FREEHOLDERS TO RECEIVE BIDS FOR NEW BRIDGE

The Board of Freeholders will hold a meeting in North Plainfield on Monday at eleven o'clock to receive bids for the alterations to the Sycamore avenue bridge, betwen Plainfield and North Plainfield. This is a line bridge and it is expected that some of the members of the Union county board will meet with them.

Plans for the improvements are now on display at the offices of Joshua Doughty, Jr., the Somerset county engineer, and also at the office of Jacob L. Bauer, the Union county engineer, at Elizabeth.

The alterations call for concrete floor, a wooden block pavement of yellow pine, resting on yellow or pine plank, all creosoted with asphalted joints. Bidders are to furnish their own detailed plans for laying a wooden block pavement. Each bid is to be accompanied by a certified check of ten per cent. of the bid.

TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE POSTPONES ACTION

Following Discussion to Abate Smoke Nuisance and Regulate Blasting.

Plans for abating the soft-coal smoke nuisance and regulating the hours of blasting at the local stone quarries were discussed last night at joint meeting of the township committees from North Plainfield and Warren, held at Watchung. Little was accomplished, however, for Newton B. Smalley was not present and his ideas on the subject was desired. John Y. Wilson, who operates a quarry on the main road at the "Notch," was at the meeting and addressed the committeemen.

Mr. Wilson stated that throughout the twenty-seven years he had operated the quarry he had always tried to accomodate the public and do nothing that would be considered extra hazardous to life and property. He described somewhat in detail operations at his quarry and his method of blasting in which every safe-guard was provided. The committeemen seemed to be impressed with what Mr. Wilson had to say. As for the smoke nuisance, efforts will be made to abate the nuisance.

It was suggested that the hours be regulated to the morning, between 8 and 10 o'clock and the afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock, but inasmuch as Mr. Smalley was not present it was decided to lay the matter over until such time as he could be consulted in the matter and his views obtained. Mr. Smaley wil be given a hearing at the September meeting.

At that time Hugh Reilly, business agent for the association, will present a report as to what has been accomplished here.

Mr. Young states that the employes of the Mack & Webb Fire Engine Companies, allied with the International Motor Works, have become thoroughly organized to secure the reduction in hours, and that the two local shops are the only two remaining not organized.

John A. Kenney, of Sandford avenue, and F. H. Ramhorst, of New Brunswick, who were arrested last night by Patrolman McGinley on a charge of driving their automobiles minus a rear light, were fined $5 each by Mayor Stewart this morning in the City Court.

Mr. Ramhorst, after sentence was passed, thanked the authorities for their courtesies, said he understood the law and was at fault and that Patrolman McGinley did his duty in arresting him.

OVERJOYED; GOT DRUNK.

Sheridan Jones, colored, of West Fourth street, when arraigned before Mayor Stewart in the City Court this morning on a charge of being intoxicated, said he had some money stolen from him recently, but that it was returned to him yesterday afternoon by the conscience stricken thief. LOCAL INTEREST IN SMITH'S CASE

Defaulting Cashier's Secretary Resident of Plainfield and He Was In Dunellen Co.

AWAY WITH $398,000

Man Who Looted Roseville Trust Company Was Also President of a Dunellen Company, Although He Seldom Visited There.

The police department of this city has received a communication from the Newark police offering a reward of $1,000 for the capture of Raymond E. Smith, the defaulting treasurer of the Roseville Trust Co., of Newark, who is said to have skipped the country after bank examiners had found a shortage of $358,000, in the accounts of the failed bank.

A. C. Fike, of 258 Leland avenue, this city, a bookkeeper who is said to have been a confidential clerk of the missing treasurer, has been sought at his home by reporters, but no one was found at his residence.

Smith had extensive business interests in many cities of this State and Pennsylvania and bankruptcy proceedings have been started against him. He was president of the Dunellen Coal and Supply Co., Dunellen, but it is said he never resided in that borough and was known by few people there.

The Roseville Trust Co., was closed Thursday, August 14. Smith, who is said to have exercised almost full control over the funds and business of the defunct trust company, learned that bank examiners were going to delve into the tangled affairs of the institution and immediately absconded. Detectives for the National Surety Company, of New York, which was on the treasurer's bonds in amount to $20,000, were in this city and Dunellen yesterday seeking traces of the missing man. Their efforts were futile, however, and all clues to his whereabouts seem to indicate that he has fled to Canada or Australia. Deputy United States Marshal Beekman, on behalf of the United States; Union county detectives and Burn's men are also looking for Smith.

Although the shortage is estimated at $358,000, L. R. Vredenburgh, special deputy commissioner of the State banking and insurance department, said that available assets would reduce the total loss to the depositors of about $169,000. The directors have expressed an intention of standing good for this amount and $70,000 was raised yesterday by President William Odell and Director Edward D. Dunn, who gave $25,000 each, and vice-president William Fairlie, who subscribed $20,000.

Mr. Dunn is treasurer of the realty operating firm of John H. Dunn & Sons, of Newark, and recently came to Plainfield to select a suitable site for an extensive apartment house operation.

WORKMAN NARROWLY ESCAPES LOSS OF EYESIGHT

Jacob Stumacher, a plasterer working on the new theatre being erected on West Second street, by Benjamin Neiberg, of New York, was badly burned about the eyes by having lime and potash fall on them while he was at work on a scaffold this morning.

As the material struck his eyes, Stumacher reeled and fell, tipping the scaffold. He escaped further injuries. The burns were dressed by Dr. A. F. Van Horn.

INJUNCTION HEARING OFF.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, August 22.—Justice Whittaker in the special term of the Supreme Court this afternoon adjourned until Monday next, the hearing to continue a temporary injunction obtained by the American Taximeter Company, restraining the city officials from putting into effect the new public hack ordinance which went into effect on August 1.

FIGHTER'S RELEASED.

Walter G. Thomas, colored, of 534 West Third street, and Morris Levine, of 540 West Third street, arrested last night for acting disorderly by fighting in front of their homes, were released by Mayor Stewart this morning, on suspended sentences.

PROCTOR'S GREAT SHOW.

Lovers of good band music, beautiful scenery and effects will enjoy Quintano and his Royal Venetian Band appearing at Proctor's theatre this week. The scene is a night in Venice, the gondolas are seen in the soft lapping waters on the Grand Canal, while the boatmen are playing and singing. The band program consists of grand opera, semi-classical selections, waltzes, popular rag and a grand finale. John and Jessie Powers in "Cassidy's Flirtation" is a clever act and rapid-fire Irish repartee. Jules Elpally & Co. present a comedy farce, "All Aboard for Reno," which is a scream. It tells an interesting story. Lon Smith and Constance Farmer in "Humor and Song" are a pair filled with genuine wit and good songs. The Taylor Twin Sisters in a dancing, violin roller skating act are extraordinary. The feature photoplay for today is "The Statue of Fright," a wonderful eclipse.

THAW FIGHTING AGAINST LIBERTY

His Attorneys Succeed In Keeping Him In Jail.

OFFICIALS WANT HIM OUT

By Winning Plea For Delay Counsel For Fugitive From Matteawan Gain a Strong Point — Much Depends on Form of Commitment Writ—Vermont Does Not Want Thaw.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 22.—Counsel for Harry Thaw, the lunatic who made a daring escape from the State Insane asylum at Matteawan, N. Y., scored a big point by getting for their client a delay in the case. The fugitive will be arraigned in the superior court here on a writ of habeas corpus next Wednesday.

New York state representatives and Dominion immigration officers protested at the delay, but Judge Globensky announced that as circuit judge he would not return here from Montreal until next week.

The week's delay was hailed as a victory by Thaw's counsel, who have been fighting for time. Thaw in his hilltop cell half a mile from the courthouse, knew nothing about what transpired.

Yesterday the case had reached a stage where the usual relations of the parties to a criminal action are absolutely reversed. On the one hand, the lawyers for the prisoner were found fighting hard to prolong his imprisonment, while the authorities, local, Dominion and United States, were anxious to have him set free, safe in the belief that the immigration officials would seize and force him across the frontier.

Thaw Wins a Point.

Lawyers for Thaw fenced for positions in his fight to resist deportation to the United States and won an advantage behind the scenes in Sherbrooke by delaying his appearance in the superior court on a writ of habeas corpus.

Dominion immigration officials, and with them the district attorney and the sheriff of Dutchess county, N. Y., had hoped that Thaw would be produced, discharged on the present defective commitment and thus fall into their hands for deportation at a point on the border as yet undecided.

Thaw's lawyers, however, believing in the advantages of delay, declined to serve their writ on the jailer, or as locally known "the governor" of the prison, and Thaw remained in his hospital ward cell chatting with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie.

Judge Globensky of the superior court was sought by the immigration officials and the officers from New York to insist on the service of the writ, ostensibly returnable forthwith, but the court held that Thaw's lawyers were within their rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie spent nearly an hour with Thaw. "He is looking fine," said the former Margaret Thaw as she left the jail.

Brainstorm Expert Calls.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, medical director of the New Jersey State hospital at Morris Plains, originator of the term "brainstorm" at the Thaw murder trials, who accompanied the George Lauder Carnegies here, called on Thaw. The prisoner thrust his hand through the grating and shook the doctor's hand warmly. Dr. Evans remained with him about half an hour.

Canadian immigration officials said they were "absolutely certain that Thaw had no ticket to Detroit."

"Even if he had it would make no difference," said Reynolds, one of the officials. "Thaw is open to deportation under either of two clauses in our immigration laws—those affecting persons who are insane or who have been insane within five years, and 'persons entering the country by stealth and misrepresentation.' I know what I am talking about."

Thaw's fellow prisoner, who describes himself as Mitchell Thompson, but who has been identified by Conger and Hornbeck as Roger Thompson, driver of the motorcar which whisked Thaw away from the asylum, remained silent in his cell. Charged with violating the Canadian immigration laws in assisting a lunatic across the border, Thompson was unable to furnish the $500 bail required and must stay in his cell until he has a hearing.

Does Not Want Thaw.

Cavendish, Vt., Aug. 22.—Governor Allen M. Fletcher, at his home here, said that he did not wish to make an official statement as to the attitude of Vermont should Thaw be returned to this state as an undesirable immigrant by Canada.

The governor, however, had before him a statement by Attorney General Rufus E. Brown, which the executive said best expressed his own view. It declared Thaw an undesirable and dangerous.

Woman Catches Thief In Paris.

Paris, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Ford Thompson of St. Louis caught a young man who had snatched her purse containing $500. She had been sitting in the Trocadero gardens when the youth came from behind and grabbed her hand bag. She gave chase and, catching him, held him for the police.

MEXICAN SITUATION WHERE IT STARTED

Envoy Lind's Mission Without Practical Benefit.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Administration officials admit that except for moral gain by reason of the attempt of President Wilson to bring about peace in Mexico, the situation in that country is as it was before John Lind, the president's personal representative, began negotiations.

Nonrecognition of the Huerta government continues one of the policies of the Wilson administration, and nonintervention remains uppermost in the mind of the president, who at the same time is determined to insist upon the full protection of American lives and property in Mexico.

So far as can be foreseen the administration will continue the embargo on arms. Army and navy officers contend that every gun and bullet sent into Mexico might be available against the United States should intervention come about.

An announcement by the administration with respect to Mexico is expected in a day or two. Representations by John Lind to President Huerta included a demand for a cessation of hostilities, the retirement of President Huerta and a constitutional election at which President Huerta should not be a candidate. The prospective announcement will set forth plainly the attitude of the administration following Huerta's refusal of mediation.

ALIEN LAND LAW TEST.

Japanese In Los Angeles to Take California Statute to Courts.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 22.—First test of the constitutionality of the California alien land law will be begun here within the next few days by H. Tanigachi, a wealthy Japanese, according to his attorney, H. A. Chamberlin.

Tanigachi desires to transfer 200 acres of land to fellow countrymen for agricultural purposes. Because the law provides that aliens not eligible to naturalization cannot become possessed of real property within the state, Tanigachi directed Chamberlin to secure an interpretation from the United States courts as to its constitutionality. Chamberlain said he would carry the case to the United States supreme court if necessary.

At the time of the failure the bank transferred its assets to the Chicago Clearing House bank, which assumed all liabilities. Since then these assets have been slowly liquidated, but it was only a few days ago that a resolution of liquidation was adopted by the board of the closed bank.

GLYNN BECOMES REAL GOVERNOR

Assumes Duties as Executive and Works Hard.

SULZER STILL IN CAPITOL

Many Extradition and Other Papers Signed by New Head of the State, While His Impeached Predecessor Is Helplessly Awaiting Developments In the Executive Chambers.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Acting Governor Martin H. Glynn, fortified by the written opinion of Attorney General Carmody, yesterday became the actual executive of the state of New York. He got on the job early and pushed through a lot of routine business that awaited a gubernatorial signature.

He was busily engaged keeping in touch with the Thaw case as it is developing in Canada, and in the intervals between telephone calls and the consideration of telegrams he is signing requisition papers and placing his signature on other business of state as though no such person as William Sulzer existed.

There was a striking contrast between the two executive chambers. In the rooms which Governor Sulzer holds are the real executive chambers there were few persons with business to transact. True enough, there were the usual number of job seekers and direct primary advocates whose faces have become familiar because of their presence every day in the executive chamber.

Governor Sulzer was closeted with counsel and his friends refused to say what he was doing. His secretary, Chester C. Platt, tiptoed quietly across the carpeted chamber now and then, but the inrush and outrush of stenographers to and from the governor's private office, which was kept up from morning till night in the days before the impeachment, was no more. Only Platt and counsel and occasionally a stenographer now enter the governor's room.

Glynn Very Busy.

On the third floor of the capitol, where Acting Governor Glynn's chambers are, there was plenty of activity. The acting governor himself was busily engaged on the telephone sending orders to District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, in Canada; telegraphing at intervals to various Canadian officials, seeking their influence to have Thaw sent back into New York state; conferring with officers from other states who were seeking requisitions for extradition, and doing the various other things which a governor is supposed to do. Heads of departments came to Mr. Glynn to confer and advise with him on the work in their departments.

Acting Governor Glynn signed requisition papers for the extradition of Homer Reid to Georgia, where he is wanted for "cheating and swindling." Reid is under arrest in New York city and Governor Sulzer had signed papers granting the extradition, but there was some question as to the regularity of the papers after they reached New York city and the authorities refused to honor them.

Papers issued by Governor Foss of Massachusetts for the extradition from New York to Lawrence, Mass., of Lawrence Newhall for deserting his family were also signed by Acting Governor Glynn.

Commissioner of Agriculture Calvin J. Huson sent his secretary to Acting Governor Glynn's office. The visit was taken to indicate that Commissioner Huson had recognized Mr. Glynn as governor.

Horgan In Albany.

Accompanied by the secretary of the efficiency commission, Matthew T. Horgan, the deputy commissioner loaned to the Frawley committee by that body, appeared at the capitol. Horgan said that as soon as he learned he was wanted here by investigator John A. Hennessy he came up from New York.

"I could seek out Hennessy at once," he added, "and tell him that I do not recognize his authority. I think that ceased when the governor who appointed him was impeached. At any rate, I now am attached to an executive committee and I cannot be arrested."

Later it was reported Horgan found Hennessy and refused to be sworn. He said that any legal papers concerning him would be received at the office of Eugene Lamb Richards, counsel of the Frawley committee.

WILL DEDICATE PALACE OF PEACE

$1,500,000 Building at The Hague to Be Opened With Much Ceremony.

The Hague, Aug. 22.—The lazy Dutch capital is all astir in anticipation of the great ceremony here next week, when the Palace of Peace, the $1,500,000 gift of Andrew Carnegie to the nations of the world, is to be formally dedicated as the permanent home of the international court of arbitration. The event will bring together representatives of all the civilized nations. In addition to the special envoys the attendance will include the delegates to the World's Peace Congress, which has been holding its sessions here this week, and many of the delegates to the approaching meeting of the Interparliamentary Union.

The notable participants in the dedication ceremonies will include Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. The many judges of the international arbitration court, the foreign diplomats resident in The Hague and all the prominent officials of the government of the Netherlands will take part.

The president of the Carnegie Foundation, M. von Karnebek, will make a speech in French formally transferring the palace to the international court, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs will make a brief speech of acceptance. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the hundreds of guests will make a tour of inspection of the building and its grounds.

Those who have already been privileged to inspect the palace pronounce it an edifice of unusual beauty and magnificence. It occupies a commanding site on the broad avenue connecting The Hague with the popular seaside resort of Scheveningen. The grounds comprise sixteen acres, which once were the garden of the palace belonging to the late Princess Anna Paulowna, the grandmother of Queen Wilhelmina.

The plans for the palace were drawn by M. L. M. Cordonnier, a celebrated French architect. The design of the exterior is pure Dutch. The building is 260 feet square and is constructed of brick and stone. In front is a broad terrace and in the rear is a magnificent grove of trees. The main entrance is approached by an inclined plane instead of a flight of steps. At one corner of the building is an imposing clock tower 260 feet high.

The main floor is to be given over entirely to courtrooms and consultation rooms. The great court, in which the meetings of the international permanent court of arbitration and similar conferences are to be held, is a splendid apartment of a monumental character. It is reached through a wide corridor lined with Greek and Italian marble. On one side of the chamber is a platform and bench for the tribunal. For a space of thirty feet in front of it protected by a balustrade of carved mahogany, are tables for lawyers and back of them the remainder of the room and the several galleries may be occupied by delegates or visitors.

In the corner of the main floor, at the base of the tower, is a smaller courtroom which is to be used for ordinary arbitrations, which are usually conducted without spectators. Connected with the small courtroom are reading rooms, consultation rooms, a reference library and other conveniences. The basement will contain the offices of the secretary and staff of the permanent organization, a room for newspaper correspondents, a telegraph office, a large restaurant and the heating and lighting plants. The upper floor of the building, which is reached by a monumental stairway, contains the rooms of the administrative council and other officials of the permanent court, and several rooms which may be used as offices by the counsel in arbitration cases.

At the time of the laying of the cornerstone of the Palace of Peace, in 1907, a resolution was passed inviting the forty-six nations which signed the treaty for the permanent court to contribute material and objects of art for the decoration of the edifice. Many of them responded in a generouse manner. The government of the United States contributed a large marble group of statuary representing in allegory the purpose of the building. Brazil furnished the mahogany for finishing the great court and Mexico contributed the onyx for the monumental stairway. Great Britain gave four magnificent stained-glass windows which are to afford light to the great courtroom. Norway gave the granite for the arcade, Sweden the granite for the basement, Germany the two monumental gates at the entrance of the building. The gift of France consists of a set of priceless Gobelin tapestries with which the smaller courtroom and one or more of the consultation rooms will be hung.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO RALLY.

The Prohibitionists of New Jersey will hold their first State outing, at Nolan's Point, Lake Hopatcong, on Labor Day. A rally will be held at the Sunnyside Hotel at 3 o'clock, addressed by Dr. James Gilbert Mason, of Metuchen, Prohibition candidate for governor, and other speakers. A number of New York Prohibitionists are expected to attend. This is novel campaign work, combining a Prohibition rally with a pleasure trip.

COMFORT IN IRONING
USE ASBESTOS SAD IRONS

THE HOOD—When the hood is placed on the iron, the heat is bottled up. A dead-air space in addition to the asbestos lining, prevents radiation of heat from the iron and keeps the temperature of the wood handle below blood heat. No holder is needed.

THE CORE—The core or base is a solid chunk of iron. Iron takes up and retains heat in proportion to its weight. The core acts as a heat reservoir and regulator by retaining the heat and letting it pass to the bottom as the surface cools. The stored heat is confined by the asbestos-lined hood instead of radiating into space. The ironing face has a mirror-like polish and is slightly convex. The edges are rounded to prevent drawing and wrinkling.

THE LOCK—The lock is secure, preventing rattle and insuring against accidently unfastening. The lock will catch automatically.

RIGHT KIND OF EDUCATON.

Since the advent of Calvin N. Kendall as head of the State Department of Education, radical changes and improvements in the conduct of that very important branch of the State government have been made. Backed up by a Board of Education appointed under the new law passed three years back, the commissioner has been able to bring about much-needed reforms, and his work has been generally commended by all who have carefully investigated it.

No action that has been taken by the department could be of more value to all than one which is now contemplated. "What the schools of New Jersey can do for the health of the children" is the title of a bulletin which Dr. Kendall has in course of preparation, and it is said to be full of practical suggestions of great value. It is promised that it will take up matters, such as personal cleanliness, the care of the eyes, the necessity for exercise, the importance of fresh air, suggestions to teachers for play and games in primary schools. It will show the necessity for seats that fit the children, the proper cleaning and dusting of school rooms on the part of the janitors, the importance of sanitary and cleanly out houses and other school conditions which affect the health of children.

The bulletin will also suggest to teachers that the pupils be taught what to do in emergencies such as accidents, fainting, drowning, choking, when the clothing catches on fire, and at other times. It will give teachers some instruction as to the detection of the first stages of contagious diseases in the schools before the medical inspector becomes available, and will also treat of the necessity of temperance in eating and drinking and of the evils of cigarette smoking.

The bulletin will suggest to teachers that instruction in avoiding accidents be given by means of pictures or otherwise—the crossing of crowded streets, boarding and alighting from street cars and railroad trains. An attempt will be made to train children to look out for their own safety.

That the bulletin will be exceedingly useful in schools is assured, for it will place emphasis on topics which have been too much neglected in the education of the children in the public schools. Children in good health, taught to be self reliant, and how to care for themselves at all times, make better pupils, and better citizens when they leave school. It is to be hoped that when the pamphlets are sent out by the State Department, the school authorities throughout the State will see that the suggestions made therein are carried out and the children given thorough instruction in the subjects taken up.

PIERCE FOR GOVERNOR.

Union county has in Senator Carlton B. Pierce a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. He will no doubt be supported by the organization in this county. Senator Pierce has been a consistent and faithful servant of the people. He has courageously advocated things which he believed were right. During his term in the Assembly, as well as his term in the Senate, he has been much more progressive than the ordinary regular. He might be classed as semi-progressive. If he could be elected to the office of Governor, he would make a painstaking official. His ability and integrity are unquestioned. He is an indefatigable worker. He is in no sense a surface statesman, but he goes to the bottom of things. He is standing upon a platform which contains five points, all of which, if enacted into law, would be of public advantage. The Daily Press as an independent newspaper recognizes the deserts and qualifications of good men, and the statements herein made are the simple truth.

We do not believe, in the present condition of things, that any Republican can be elected this year, but if it were possible to elect one, no stronger or more capable man could be nominated by the Republican party than Senator Pierce. When men like former Senator Colby and Senator Pierce are willing to become candidates for public office, it is a hopeful sign.

HIGHWAYS.

The State of New Jersey should take over, under the law authorizing it, something like a thousand miles of highways of this State, and it should maintain them. The maintenance of public highways has become burdensome to the localities. They can be kept in repair under a general system, by State aid, at much less expense and much better than they can be by the localities. If there were in New Jersey a thousand miles of public highways, running from county seat to county seat, and to all larger towns, together with a boulevard from Atlantic Highlands to Cape May, we should have the most superb system of roads for tourists to be found anywhere in the country.

The contributing editor for tomorrow will be former Governor J. Franklin Fort, president of the Plainfield Press Company, who will discuss the New Jersey exhibit at the San Francisco exposition in 1915. He is a member of the commission having the matter in charge for the State.

Deaf man arrested for driving auto without license. Was it sarcasm when the local papers announced that "Mayor Stewart would give him hearing" at a future date?

THE FORUM.

Suggestions for Street Changes.

From time to time the matter of widening both Park avenue and Somerset street has been agitated, but owing to the expense nothing has come of it.

There is, however, great need of relief from the congestion of traffic at the junction of these two thoroughfares with Front street and a suggestion of how such relief may be economically provided should be worthy of consideration.

It can be done by cutting off the northeast corner Somerset and Front street and the southwest corner of Park avenue and Front street, taking 25 feet on each street, a three-cornered piece, adding it to the roadway on each corner, giving the corners oblique frontages instead of the sharp angles as now.

The cost would be very little, while the improvement would be immense from the standpoint of beauty as well as utility. The corners of Park and North avenues might be treated in the same way to advantage.

BIDDEFORD THREATENED.

Forest Fire Surrounds City and Military Is Called Out.

Biddeford, Me., Aug. 22.—A forest fire driven by a stiff south wind threatened this city yesterday. At 2 o'clock the flames were within a half mile of the business section.

A riot call brought out all the available fire fighting apparatus, the Seventh company coast artillery and volunteers, making up a force of 300 men, to fight the fire. A square mile of land has been burned over.

SIX TRAPPED IN TUNNEL.

Two Hundred Men Removing Debris In Work of Rescue.

Sante Fe, N. M., Aug. 22.—Six men have been entombed by a cave-in of the old Santa Fe tunnel, ten miles north of Raton. The cave-in occurred near the Colorado end of the tunnel. Two hundred men are engaged in removing the sixty feet of debris. This will require several hours.

The men were engaged in carpenter work. Their names are not known, except that of the foreman, Ernest D. Stencell.

TRUE HORSE MARINES.

They Helped Bolivar Out When He Was In Need of a Fleet.

The llanero of South America lives on horseback, trades, buys and sells on horseback, and during the war with Spain the llaneros contributed much toward achieving the independence of both Venezuela and New Granada. In "Up the Orinoco and Down the Magdalena" Mr. H. J. Mozans tells of an occasion when it was necessary for Bolivar's army to cross the Apure in order to engage Morillo. But Bolivar had no boats, and the Apure at this point was wide and deep.

The Spanish flotilla was guarding the river at the point opposite to the patriot forces. Bolivar was in despair. Turning to Paez, he said, "I would give the world to have the Spanish flotilla; without it I can never cross the river."

"It shall be yours in an hour," said Paez.

Selecting 300 of his llanero lancers, all distinguished for strength and bravery, he said, pointing to the gunboats: "We must have these flecheras or die. Let those follow who please."

At once spurring his horse, he dashed into the river and swam toward the flotilla. The llaneros followed him with their lances in their hands, now encouraging their horses by swimming beside them and patting their necks, now shouting to scare away the crocodiles, of which there were hundreds in the river. At last they reached the other side and sprang from their horses' backs on board the boats, headed by their leader. To the astonishment of every one who beheld it, they actually captured the entire flotilla.

The Old, Old Problem.

New times, new problems. Behold how even the old world is smitten with modernity and its horrors as revealed in "Servantgalism; or, What's to Become of the Missuses?"

Servant Gal—Oh, if you please, ma'am, there was one other thing I should like to 'ave settled.

Lady—Yes?

Gal—Where do you go to the seaside in the summer? Because I couldn't go to a dull place or where the hair wasn't very bracing.

For the enchanting picture that illustrates this consult Punch, volume 24, 1853.—New York Tribune.

Burning Up Gold.

Burning a small piece of gold leaf is a custom observed by the Chinese at certain anniversary celebrations, and it is estimated that gold to the value of $10,000,000 is destroyed annually in this way. This estimate is based on the assumption that each individual of a total population of 440,000,000 burns at each of two anniversaries a piece of gold leaf weighing .308 grain, making a total of 271,000,000 grains. A five dollar gold piece weighs 129 grains.

Quite Safe.

"So he accepted a job like that, did he? Well, I did not know that a man of his standing would accept such dirty money."

"Oh, he washed his hands with an antiseptic solution before he took the fee."—Baltimore American.

DR. GOWEN EXPLAINS HIS FAILURE TO PREACH

Rev. Dr. I. W. Gowen, of Weehawken, who was prevented from preaching at Trinity Reformed church last Sunday night, because of an automobile accident near Rahway, has written a letter to Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor-emeritus of Trinity church, explaining the cause of his delay. As stated in the Daily Press, Dr. Gowen, after preaching at the local church in the morning returned home to perform a marriage, planning to come back to Plainfield toward evening in an automobile, in time to preach at the union service.

The chauffeur of the car felt certain he knew the road to Plainfield, but after passing Elizabeth, Dr. Gowen having some misgivings, stopped and inquired the way of a stranger. Stating that he lived a short way down the road he got into the machine to direct the party. Dr. Gowen soon realized the fact that the stranger was intoxicated.

Arriving at the man's home the car was stopped to allow him to get out. As he left the car he stumbled and fell directly in its path, the wheels striking him. There was considerable excitement in the neighborhood and a hurried summons for a physician. An examination showed that the man's injuries were not serious, and after leaving his address, Dr. Gowen hastened to 'phone Mrs. Daniel Rapalje, of this city, explaining he would be unable to reach this city for the service. The accident did not occur at New Durham, near Hoboken, as reported by another newspaper. The first story to reach this city was that Dr. Gowen's car was in collision with one from Perth Amboy, which came from the police at Linden.

Rev. Dr. W. E. Davis will be the preacher at Trinity Reformed church, Sunday morning.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

A venturesome boy from a Massachusetts mill town goes west to be a cowboy. In Texas he is robbed by a desperado, who later on having held up an express train and killed a man, is shot to pieces by a sheriff's posse. The dead man is identified by the stolen articles in his possession as the Massachusetts boy and is buried under his name. The boy, fearing if he discloses his real name he may become involved in the train robbery, assumes an alias and even when his father dies leaving him a fortune he is afraid to go back home and claim it. That's the hero of "Who's Who?" the farce that Richard Harding Davis has written for William Collier and that Charles Frohman will present at the Plainfield theatre, Friday night, August 29. When the play begins he is supposed to have been dead seven years and the time is almost up in which under his father's will he may claim his fortune. Then things happen that induce him to take the risk and go back home. It all reads very much like an old fashioned melodrama, but it isn't. It is a sure-enough farce—just the kind that William Collier knows best how to play.

GOVERNOR OF JOLO KILLS TWO MOROS

Vernon L. Whitney Proves Himself a Hero.

Manila, Aug. 22.—Vernon L. Whitney of Iowa, governor of Jolo, had a narrow escape when attacked treacherously by Moros. Word of the assault has just reached Manila. He received five barong wounds, but will probably recover. He killed both of his assailants after a dramatic struggle.

Governor Whitney had just completed an inspection of the scout camp at Bual Looc and had sent his interpreter to order his launch. The interpreter was attacked by Moros, but escaped. Whitney heard of the attack, and as he ran to investigate he met two Moros, who approached in a friendly manner, then suddenly attacked him.

Whitney clinched one of the Moros, while he shot the other, and then with a struggle wrested the barong from the other man and finished him with it. During the struggle, however, Whitney received bad wounds.

MC CALL WILL RUN ALONE ON DEMOCRATIC TICKET

New York, Aug. 22.—Chairman Edward E. McCall, of the Public Service Commission, announced this morning that he would permit his name to be used as the only candidate on the Democratic ticket for the nomination for mayor in the coming primaries. Mr. McCall said that he did not know at present whether he would resign his position as chairman of the Public Service Commission.

In fact, he said that the important work that is to come before the commission in the immediate future had been a great deterrent to him in the matter of accepting such a nomination. He expects that most of the contracts for the dual system subways will be let within a month or so and he stated that if he were kept too busy with the work of the campaign he certainly would resign, as he did not wish to cripple the commission. Mr. McCall refused to make any comment as to the probability of W. J. Gaynor running as an independent candidate.

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

Make a Science of Housework.

There are a good many young housewives who boast of the fact that housework does not interest them. They find it dull and prosaic and tedious. And before they know it they have developed into the sort of housewife who does her work and manages her house in a dull, stupid and tedious manner.

Why not make a science of housework? There are few business men who would be satisfied to manage their business in a slipshod manner. When a man starts out in business he brings his keenest and sharpest faculties to play on the problem in the right way. In the first place he is trained for his work. Then he calls in expert advice. He has legal help, perhaps. Often he has an expert accountant come into his offices, study his business and lay out a plan of bookkeeping adapted to his particular needs.

The woman who really wants to make a success of her end of the housekeeping bargain which is really made at marriage ought to make a science of housework. There is no reason why it should take all her time, drive all other interests from her mind. There is no reason, either, why it should not prove interesting, enlivening and uplifting.

How to Do It.

For instance, let her tackle the problem of feeding her family. She must understand a little physiology to understand the needs of the body. She must study the chemistry of food, to understand the ability of various foods to meet the body needs. She must have a practical knowledge of cooking and serving food. Perhaps she can take a course of lectures in a nearby college in some of the domestic science work. At any rate she can collect interesting books dealing with the subjects in which she is interested, and study them until she has mastered them.

Heat and light, ventilation, proper clothing, sewing, gardening, interior decorating—all these subjects can be taken up in turn. And when she feels that she has mastered a good deal of the practical end of her work, she can go farther. For instance, she will find no subject more fascinating than that of the history of dress, or the history of food. She might make a collection of books on a certain subject—the history, manufacture and care of Oriental rugs, for instance, or of Sheraton or mission furniture—anything which interests her.

This sort of training is not only useful because of its practical value. No woman who is constantly studying, constantly increasing her outlook in this way, can become fagged in mind, dull and uninteresting both to herself, her family and her friends. Before she knows it she is a real authority on some subject, a helpful factor in the neighborhood and the community. And she is always happy with the happiness that comes from an active and keen mind.

KEEP HOUSE COOL

Ways of Preventing the Summer Home From Becoming Hot.

LET IN THE GOOD NIGHT AIR.

It Is Particularly Important That Attic and Cellar Should Have Proper and Sufficient Ventilation—Neglect of This Causes Trouble.

Keeping the house cool in summer is not always an easy problem to solve. People who have large houses and money enough to equip them with electric fans and other appliances can, of course, keep very comfortable, but it is more difficult to manage it in small houses.

Windows must be shaded with blinds, shutters or awnings and be well screened. All the heavy hangings should be removed and where possible the carpets should be taken up and cool colors, such as white, gray, light greens and blues, should take the place of the warmer colors. Then white muslin curtains soften the light, though many people object to even that much drapery.

The coolest hours of summer are the night hours. Therefore the night air should be allowed to circulate freely through every part of the house. The best circulation is obtained by having windows open at the top and bottom instead of entirely at the bottom. This lets out the hot air and lets in the cool. When this method is followed put the screen in the lower sash of one window of each room and in the upper sash of another.

As it is important that sunlight, too, should enter the house at some time of the day, open all the blinds and windows in the early morning for a little while. Then darken the house for the rest of the day.

It is especially important that the attic and cellar should have proper ventilation. In the former a skylight or window should be kept open night and day; except, of course, when it rains. The cellar windows should be open only at night when it is comparatively cool. Open them at sundown and close them at 8 o'clock in the morning. Neglect of this method of airing the cellar causes a great deal of trouble during the hot weather. If the windows are not closed during the heat of the day the warm, moisture ladened air enters the cellar and condenses on walls, pipes, metals, etc. The colder the surface the greater will be the amount of moisture that will condense upon it, and a few days of neglect will make the cellar so damp that it will not be a suitable place for keeping food.

Fall Suit of Peach Cloth.

Stunning isn't it this autumn suit of peach cloth? Why, the cognomen fashion sayeth not, but the mere layman infers the derivation to have come from the downy, velvety smooth surface of the cloth from which the costume is made.

FOR AUTUMN DAYS.

The color is a lovely apricot shade that tones to almost purple in the plushy fabric. The skirt is draped and trimmed with silk frog ornaments of a novel character.

These frogs also trim the smart little kimono coat.

A Powder Box Bag.

A pretty and useful gift which may be made at the last minute as a bag for the powder box: Use a yard of four inch ribbon in a pretty flowered design, cut in thirds, lay one piece over the other and fasten together by briar stitching. Double when all seams are joined, and gather the ends enough to be sewn to a circular piece of card board two and a quarter inches in diameter. Cut two of these and cover with the ribbon. Having attached one side, which will be the right side as the seam will not show, cover with the other circular bit. An inch from the top set on a lace beading just wide enough to hold the draw strings and feather or briar stitch it on. Put into it a box of powder, and the whole makes a very acceptable present.

Some Cookery Suggestions

PEAR DESSERTS.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Baked Potatoes.
Bread and Butter.
Compote of Pears.
Sponge Cake.
Iced Cocoa.

WHEN scarcely ripe enough to eat fresh pears may be cooked and served with meals in many attractive forms. In cooking, pears otherwise insipid in taste may be given a pleasing flavor.

Pears may be served the same as apples. Hard pears or windfalls are delicious pared and baked. Pears that are otherwise tasteless are nicer if cooked with a dash of lemon juice.

Stewed In Sirup.

Compote of Pears.—Take firm ripe pears. Pare them neatly and remove the cores, cutting the pears in halves lengthwise. Make a sirup with two cupfuls of sugar to one of hot water. When boiling put in the pears without crowding and stew until tender. Take out with a skimmer and arrange them in pyramid form in a glass dish with stem ends up. Slice an unpeeled lemon as thin as possible and drop into the sirup and let the sirup cook until quite thick. Lift out the slices of lemon, which should be transparent, and arrange them over the pears. When the sirup is a little cool put it over the pears, a spoonful at a time. Place the compote where it will get very cold before serving.

Flavored With Ginger.

Ginger Pears.—Take seven pounds of the fruit. Pare, core and chop, the pears fine, add six pounds of sugar and set on the stove for the sugar to melt. Add juice and grated rind of four lemons. Put the grated rind and two ounces of ginger root cut up fine in a small bag and let all cook slowly until thick as marmalade. Stir often to prevent sticking to kettle. Put in jelly glasses when done.

Pear Chips.—Take four pounds pears, weighed after paring and cutting into eighths. Stand overnight, sprinkled with two pounds granulated sugar; then add one-eighth pound ginger cut in small pieces and two lemons cut in thin slices. Stew slowly two hours.

Served With Custard.

Baked Pears.—Pare and core, without dividing, as many pears as required, place them in a pan and fill centers of pears with brown sugar. Add a little water and let them bake until tender. Serve with sweet cream or boiled custard.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—Polly Gets a Troublesome New Pet.

The Kid Snuggled Close to Polly.

OF course Jack and Evelyn smiled when daddy said that he would tell them a story. The story was to be about a baby goat, something that Jack and Evelyn had long wished to own.

"You know that a baby goat is called a kid," daddy said. "Polly had long wished for a pet of this kind, and one day when a kind friend stopped at the door and lifted one out of his automobile she knew that it was meant for her. She rushed up to the little thing and gathered it into her arms.

"'You will have to keep him tied so he can't run away,' the friend said.

"Polly ran into the house and got a leather collar that had belonged to one of the dogs. It was too large for the kid's neck, but by punching a hole in the leather it was made to fit. They tied a heavy string to the collar and fastened the other end to the porch. Then the kid could not run away.

"They gave the kid milk to drink. Polly laughed to see him take the milk. Though he was well fed and had a pleasant lawn to run over, the kid was unhappy. He cried all day, and at night when he was put into the barn his shrill ma-a-ing could be heard all over the neighborhood.

"For several days the kid wailed and could not be comforted. Even the neighbors were beginning to complain about it, when one day the friend who had given it to Polly came along in his automobile.

"'How do you like the kid by this time?' he asked.

"Polly wished to be polite, but she could hear the kid crying on the lawn, crying in spite of the nice milk she had given him and the beautiful blue ribbon tied on his little neck.

"'I like the little kid very much,' she answered, 'but he seems to be very homesick. I'm afraid he is crying for his mother.'

"'Perhaps he wouldn't cry if you didn't tie him up,' the friend suggested.

"Polly smiled. That seemed a good idea. 'I guess he won't run away now.' So the kid was untied and soon learned to trot about after Polly.

"He was a nice pet so long as he was a kid, but he soon grew up to be a big goat with horns, and then, oh, my! the trouble he got into. Flower beds were trampled, and neighbors complained that he nibbled their choicest plants. Then Billy took to chasing folks whom he did not like.

"One day he butted the policeman as he came past, and Polly's papa said he was afraid the policeman would arrest them all if Billy fought with him.

"So he got the goat another home, and, though Polly missed him, I am sure nobody else in the neighborhood did. Kids are nice pets, but it is inconvenient that they should grow up and be goats."

Even the Most Practical Frock Shows Some Smart Touch in Girdle or Frill, and for the Small Maid There Is Nothing So Fashionable As the Low-Belted Effects.

There is nothing you can make so easily as the simple little wash dress of gingham, or linen or even the inexpensive chambray. Choose a model like 7663, that, save for its smart little tab at the side-front is perfectly plain. There is style, though to the drop-shoulder blouse, and note of novelty in the notch of the side-front and side-back seams of the skirt. And you get chic by the use of the clever little girdle of black moire ribbon tied in a butterfly bow in front, and the net frills that soften neck and sleeve edges. You will have a lot of satisfaction in making a dress of this sort yourself, because it is really cheap, it doesn't take long to make and it looks good enough to wear anywhere when finished. There are five pattern sizes, 34 to 42, and for the 36-inch size 5 yards 36-inch material required. 15 cents.

You will get equally good results from making little daughter's dress by pattern 7617. This is in the middy style so popular with girls, and always attractive and easy to handle. Materials of firm texture yet with the quality of laundering well suggest themselves for this; a white linen, or gray galatea, or perhaps red and white striped percale. The latter fabric washes and wears splendidly and economical mothers have always realized this and used it for play-time frocks. The blouse of this frock slips on over the head, and is made with a deep pointed yoke that may be laced together in front. Below this there is a panel, with a corresponding panel on the skirt, which gives a line that is most harmonious. The skirt is attached to an underwaist which may be faced with contrasting material in shield effect. Patterns for this dress are obtainable in five sizes, 6 to 14, and for the 12-year old girl 4 yards 36-inch material will be required, with ½ yard for underwaist. 15 cents.

A Pussy-Willow Pillow for the Living Room or Veranda.

One can never have too many sofa pillows. And as they are constantly wearing out, it is necessary to make new ones from time to time to take the places of those favorite pillows that have become most worn. There are so many attractive, inexpensive materials now, that it is almost difficult to choose between them. Washable pillow covers of linen, mercerized poplin, denin, canvas and ponges are attractive for a summer home. These pillow covers should be made with buttons and buttonholes so that they can be easily taken off to be laundered. For the living room, or library, the pillows may be covered with some silk or wool fabric or crafts canvas, wool poplin, satin, pongee, or one of the novelty weave drapery materials. It is always a good idea to have a few soft little pillows in the bed room for the mid-day nap and to tuck into a big chair. These should be covered with linen, or lawn and may be embroidered in colors with flower sprays. The pussy-willow sprays in pattern 14360 will be charming embroidered on one of these little pillows, in soft green, tan and grey, while they may also be used on a pillow cover of pongee or silk poplin embroidered in rope silks. For the veranda pillow, of heavy material, such as a denin or crafts canvas the pussy-willows make an attractive decoration embroidered in wool, using grey for the pussies, tan for the stems and a bit of green at the tip of each pussy. These sprays are 15½ by 6 inches and the pattern includes two. This transfer pattern can be supplied to readers for 10 cents.

WITH THE BOXERS

A clash betwen Young Brown and Young Shugrue will be staged at Rockaway Beach on September 2.

"Knockout" Sweeney and Eddie Forrest have been signed for a bout in Syracuse on Labor Day.

Before Phil Cross can get a main bout in Vernon, Cal., he will be required to box in three semi-finals in that city.

The French sports didn't fall for Jack Johnson's "bunk" in regards to his making Paris his future home. Apparently it matters little to them where the "Big Smudge" resides.

BASEBALL NOTES

The western teams of the American League split even in games won and lost during their last tour of the east.

"Rabbit" Maranville, the speedy little shortstop of the Boston Braves, dropped his first fly of the season on August 14.

No more golf players for Manager McGraw, of the Giants. John claims that Fred Merkle's golfing caused his slump in batting.

"Giant Killer" Coveleskie, the former Philly pitcher now in the Southern League, is to get another chance in the big show, this time with the Detroit Tigers.

Third Baseman George Moriarity has been putting up the real article for Hugh Jenings' Tigers of late. The ballad writer is sure some speeder on the base paths.

Outfielder George Whiteman, of the Houston Texas League team, who had a trial with the Red Sox six years ago, has ben signed by the New York Yankees.

Fritz, the $12,000 beauty bought by the New York Americans from the Baltimore club, is a "we'un" of the same type as "Rabbit" Maranville and "Kid" Elberfield.

Joe Jackson seems to be the one American Leaguer who is able to nick Walter Johnson for the safe ones. On the Cleveland lot Joe has hit the great Wasington pitcher for an average of .456.

Pitcher Alexander, of the Phillies, is living up to his name of "Alexander the Great" this season. He has been giving Christy Mathewson a good run for the National League pitching honors.

A change of scenery seems to have been the right recipe for Ed. Ruelbach. The former Cub pitcher has been flinging some excellent ball for the Brooklyn Superbas.

Evidently Manager Clarke, of the Pirates, doesn't think much of the work of Walter Rehg. Otherwise he would have recalled the St. Paul outfielder instead of allowing the Red Sox to buy him.

August has been a great month for the minor league pitchers. Pitcher Hearne, of the Toronto team, pitched 20 innings to a 0 to 0 tie against Jersey City. Hedgepeth, of the Petersburg team in the Virginia League, shut out Richmond in both games of a double header, allowing but one hit, and Bill Powers, of the New London Eastern Association team, shut out the leading New Haven team in both games of a double header.

SIGNS COLLEGE PLAYER.

President Charles Ebbets, of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, yesterday announced the capture of Fred Cross captain of the Leland-Stanford University team in 1911 and 1912. Cross is an infielder, having played at second base and shortstop while at college, and his last year on the diamond showed a batting average of .396. He has never played professional ball. Cross' home is at Bairdstown, Ill., and he will join the Superbas within a few days. Catcher Tex Erwin, who was sent to Toronto several days ago, has been returned to the Brooklyn Club, but president Ebbets has given him leave of absence for the remainder of the season with full pay. Erwin has not played since he broke his arm at Chicago several weeks ago and he will not be able to play again this year.

DONLIN MAY BE MANAGER.

According to stories afloat in Jersey City, Larry Schlafly is to be deposed as manager of the Skeeters at the end of the season and Mike Donlin named in his stead. The fact that Donlin is now with the team lends strength to the rumor, although as yet Owner Tom Fogarty has refused to discuss the matter at all. One reason assigned for the probable change in managers is that Schlafly is not a fighter while that is Donlin's strong hold; at least he has always been aggressive as a player. Donlin has had no managerial experience and there is some question as to whether he could make good or not. However, with the team holding last place this season it is figured out that Donlin could do no worse than the former Newark player.

DISABLED ATHLETICS RETURN.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Three injured players of the Philadelphia Athletics arrived home from the West yesterday to get into condition for the final dash of the American League leaders for the championship pennant. The player are Catcher Lapp who has a broken finger; Outfielder Strunk, wrenched leg, and Utility Infielder Orr, who has a badly swollen hand. Orr had been playing at the shortstop position in place of Barry, who wrenched his shoulder ten days ago. Barry left here last night to join the team, but probably will not play until the Athletics reach St. Louis.

VETERAN OARSMEN TO RACE.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 22.—James A. TenEyck, Sr., father of James E. TenEyck, coach of the Duluth Boat Club, yesterday accepted a challenge to row James H. Riley, the veteran oarsman of Saratoga Lake, N. Y., in a three-mile sculling match. TenEyck is coach of Syracuse University. The men are to row not later than September 9 for a purse of $500. Mr. Riley is 65 years old, and Mr. TenEyck is 63. The race will be rowed on Saratoga Lake.

COMMISSION FOR WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 22.—A State Commission to regulate boxing in Wisconsin in accordance with the provisions of the recent law enacted by the Legislature was yesterday named by Governor McGovern. The three members of the commission will elect a salaried secretary. The law provides for ten-round, no-decision contests, all bouts to be under the supervision of the commission.

DREW RUNS 120 YARDS IN 0:12.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 22.—Starting 2 1-2 yards behind scratch in the 120 yards handicap dash Howard P. Drew of Springfield, finished in 12 seconds flat at the annual outing and handicap games of the Rhode Island branch of the Order of Eagles at Crescent Park, yesterday. The world's record for 120 yards is 11 4-5 seconds, made by Bernard J. Wefers, from scratch, at Staten Island.

CROSS AND DUNDEE SIGN.

Los Angeles, Aug. 22—Leach Cross and Johnny Dundee, through their managers, signed final articles of agreement yesterday to box twenty rounds here on Labor Day at 133 pounds ringside. There had been much wrangling over the weight.

TO PITCH FOR CARDINALS.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 22.—Pitcher Booth Hopper, of the New Haven Eastern Association team was sold to the St. Louis Nationals yesterday. He will report in two weeks. Hopper has pitched two no-hit and one one-hit games this season.

Newspaper Purists Fighting Futile Battle Against Slang

Certain newspaper purists who seek to abolish slang in baseball reports are leading a forlorn hope. The picturesque vocabulary of the national game as developed by the mob of gentlemen who write with ease in the sporting columns is one of the principal charms of baseball for the fans who cannot see a game and must read about it. "Casey made a three-base hit" is dull and commonplace diction that will never compete in popular esteem with "Casey ping-ponged the pellet for a pyramid of pillows." Besides, what is slang? Merely language ahead of time. The jargon of one generation is the classic speech of the next. So most of us will side with the fan who advises the purist to "can that highbrow stuff and come across with the good old dope."

PETS AND ROYALS WILL OPEN SERIES

Star Talent For the Colored Ballists In Game Scheduled for Tomorrow.

A series of baseball contests between two local teams, that will excite more than usual interest among the ranks of local fandom, will be inaugurated on Parker Field tomorrow afternoon when Manager Pete Simmons sits his Royal Colored Giants against the strong Plainfield Pets, now leaders in the race for the Central New Jersey League pennant. Simmons has announced that little short of a miracle can stop his team from winning the initial series as he figures that the team that gets the first game has the best chance of winning the series.

Dorflinger is equally as confident and is optimistic of his team's chances of pulling off a win. The same old lineup that has done duty in the Central New Jersey League all season will be on the job tomorrow and considering the fact that this array of talent was sufficient to topple the Somerville colors with apparent ease last Saturday afternoon, it ought to at least make things interesting for the local dusky heavers of the horsehide relief.

There is another game scheduled to be played on the Parker Field tomorrow afternoon, the First Baptist and First Presbyterian Sunday-school Leaguers having a game carded for that place, but it is probable that some adjustment will be made this afternoon and it is not unlikely that there might be a double header on the playground tomorrow.

"Home Run" Allen, the colored ball tossers' crackerjack first baseman who gained renown in local circles a few weeks ago by hitting for fifteen bases in one nine inning game, will guard the first station for the Royals tomorrow and the Plainfield fans will be given an opportunity to see this wonder in action. Andrews will do the pitching and Tommy Washington will hold up his shoots on the receiving end.

HOPE CHAPEL WILL PLAY A SECOND GAME WITH KLINKERS

As the Hope Chapel team of the Sunday-school League, has no contest booked for tomorrow afternoon in the organization, the management of this aggregation has arranged an independent game to be played with the Somerville Klinkers in the latter place. This is the second meeting of these two rivals this season and as the first game was won by the Chapellites by a steal of home in the final stanza of play, the Somervillians are anxious to even up matters.

The Klinkers are made up almost entirely of Somerville High School players and have been close rivals of the local boys in basketball as well as baseball. The Hope contingent will present the same fighting regalia that has been doing duty in the Sunday-school League all season and the Chapelites are optimistic of a victory over the strong Somerset County Seat combination.

ERRORS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFEAT OF THE ARROWS

With a ten-run lead at the completion of nine innings of play, the Jackson Bible Class nine easily scored a victory over the Arrow A. C. combination on Parker Field yesterday, the final score being 14 to 4.

Light hitting featured the contest and the winner's run harvest was made possible by an even dozen errors thrown in by the losing side's fielders.

Although it has not ben definitely decided where the contest will be staged, the First Baptist and First Presbyterian aggregations will meet tomorrow afternoon in a Sunday-School League clash. The Presbyterian players are enthused over the ten-inning contest they put up against the strong Hope Chapel outfit last week and entertain hopes of giving the league leaders a similar run for their money tomorrow.

Hope Chapel has no contest on tap in the league race but the Monroe and Park aggregations will appear in the second attraction.

On account of the Saurer Motor Company's annual outing falling on a Saturday when the league leaders have a game scheduled in the City League, the contest has had to be postponed to some future date and as a result the Dixie Giants will be without opponents tomorrow afternoon unless an independent contest is scheduled. This suits the colored ball tossers all right, however, as they are loyal to the Royal Giants contingents which will play the first game of a series with Plainfield on Parker Field and the colored team will probably turn out en masse to witness the big show.

Spicer's baseball team, after a week's vacation, also caused by an outing, will resume hostilities against the West End A. C. combination. Tomorrow's results will have no effect on the standing of the teams in the organization.

HARVEST OF RUNS IN THE NINTH WON FOR RED STARS

Seven runs in the ninth inning gave the Red Stars a decisive win over the Laurels on Parker Field yesterday, the count being 11 to 8 when the final putout was chalked up. Loose fielding and light hitting featured the contest, which was a listless one from a spectator's point of view being utterly devoid of thrills that go to make the national pastime what it is.

Venable and Flatley led the hitting, each getting a pair of safeties during the clash.

PELTED HOLDUP MEN WITH SOAP

Jersey City Grocer Forgot to Call Police.

TRIO GET AWAY WITH $44

Covered With Gun When Asked to Get Soap—Thieves Jump on Car and Are Well on Way to Hoboken Before Victim Thinks to Tell Police.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 22.—Manager Peter Pihe of a tea company, conducting a grocery in the business section of this city, was alone in the store at 187 Monticello avenue when two men entered and asked for six cases of white Castile soap.

"Hey!" said the taller of the men, when the manager's back was turned.

Peter Pihe turned abruptly and gazed down the shining barrel of a big six shooter.

"Don't say a word," continued the man behind the gun to the man behind the counter.

Mr. Pihe couldn't think of anything to say, just then, anyhow, and held his peace, while the second man went behind the counter and opening the cash register to the merry clink of the bell helped himself to $44.

A third man stuck his head in the door and cried that the car was coming. The other two backed away, keeping the manager covered and telling him that if he opened his mouth he would be shot.

Mr. Pihe was more mortified than hurt, and his eyes roved restlessly about from the pistol barrel to the counter. His eyes fell on the soap, and he remembered that the purchasers had forgotten it. He grabbed a handful of cakes and, disregarding the injunction of the men and their revolver, began pelting the soap at them. He ran from behind the counter, saying things to the holdup men and firing the soap at them with all his might.

The men jumped on a Jackson avenue car. Mr. Pihe continuing to pelt them while his ammunition lasted. In his anger he forgot to yell for the police. When he did finally come to himself the robbers were well on their way to Hoboken. Not a trace was found of them.

GIRL DROWNED IN GULLY.

Waded Out Only Few Yards When the Water Was Over Her Head.

Ocean City, N. J., Aug. 22.—Miss Ida Drumm, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Drumm of Philadelphia, was drowned when she inadvertently walked into a deep gully made by a dredging machine off the end of First street. The young woman was only twenty years old and was visiting Miss Charlotte Dickerman, sister of C. H. Dickerman, dramatic editor of a Philadelphia newspaper. The trio went in bathing together, all unable to swim and all three apparently ignorant of the fact that this gully made that section of the beach a dangerous playground.

Hardly had they entered the ocean and waded out for a few yards when Miss Drumm stepped into the gully. She threw up her hands and screamed and then was carried down.

10,000 FARMERS AT PICNIC.

Suffragists Plead Cause to Grangers at Verona Lake Park.

Verona, N. J., Aug. 22.—Over 10,000 persons, mostly farmers and their families, attended the thirty-third annual grangers' picnic at Verona Lake park. The festivities were under the auspices of the Patrons of Husbandry of Essex, Morris and Union counties.

For the first time the suffragists invaded the picnic and set up a tent, where literature was distributed and in front of which speeches were made.

In past years the picnic attracted many gamblers, but this year there was a horde of constables on hand, and games of chance were not much in evidence.

OPPOSE INSURANCE RATE LAW

Movement to Repeal New Jersey Statute Is Started In Summit.

Summit, N. J., Aug. 22.—A movement for the repeal of the uniform insurance rates as included in the "seven sisters" laws will be started in the local board of trade in October.

It is argued by George V. Muchmore that a fixed rate prevents competition among insurance companies, and he will ask the local board to interest the other boards of trade of the state in a movement for repeal.

Child Fatally Burned.

Montclair, N. J., Aug. 22.—Harriett Miller, four years old, daughter of Isaac Miller of 95 Forest street, was playing with a supposedly harmless electric sparkler in front of her home when her clothes caught fire. The little girl was fatally burned, dying at the Mountainside hospital shortly after.

The Queerness of It.

Bilton—It's awful queer. Tilton—What is? Bilton—Why, a man will pay a doctor good money to be ordered to sleep out of doors. Yet if the landlord ordered him to do it he'd set up an awful howl.—Lippincott's.

MEET FOR SECOND TIME IN 35 YEARS

Brothers, Long Separated, Brought Together By Tragic Death In Family.

ONE FROM THE WEST

James Murray, of Gillum, Ill., Marvels at Wonders Wrought During His Absence From New Jersey—His Impressions of the East.

Together for the first time in eight years, and second time in thirty-eight James Murray, of Gillum, Ill., and Robert Murray, the well-known auctioneer of West Front street, are making a circuit of the town today calling on mutual acquaintances of two-score years. Mr. Murray, of this city, is entertaining his brother from the west who came here to attend the funeral of Robert Murray's son, who was the victim of a drowning accident in Watertown, Wis., a week ago.

James Murray is a prosperous farmer of Gillum and annually cultivates a strip of eighty acres which yields thousands of bushels of corn and other grains. Forty years ago he was a resident of Elizabeth, and conducted a milk route in that section, having a farm on Rahway road. Assisting him in the business at that time was his younger brother, who was then nine years of age, and as a successor to James Murray he still carries on the milk business, but on a more extensive scale. Thus, a business built up by the now prosperous farmer forty years ago, still thrives today.

Yesterday the two brothers went to New York and the westerner marveled at the changes that have been wrought by the human hand and mind during the twentieth century. So vast has been the transformation of the little town of Manhattan during the four decades, that Mr. Murray did not recognize the spot which was at one time inhabited by the Dutch and used as a fur trading center. The buildings that soar above the clouds and the modern means of transportation were revelations that astonished the westerner.

Eight years ago Robert Murray visited his brother on the latter's farm which is 135 miles from Chicago, and since that time the postal service has been the only connecting link between them. They have always kept in close touch, however, and when the tragic news of the death of Mr. Murray's son reached him in this city he immediately telegraphed for his brother to accompany the body east.

The Murray brothers are two of a family of thirteen children, nine of whom have come to this country at various times and prospered in vastly different branches of endeavor. While the last time the family gathered about the paternal table in Scotland was nearly half a century ago, the brothers have kept in close touch with each other and frequent mail messages are exchanged between members of the family who have become widely scattered.

Two of the sisters still live in Scotland, two brothers and two half sisters make their home in New Zealand, one brother lives in Elizabethport, another in Plainfield, one in Flemington, one in Gillum, Ill., and one in Oregon. Two of the sisters died in Scotland, one brother died in Washington, and another passed away in his native land.

James Murray will remain with his brother until Tuesday when he will return to his farm in the west to finish the harvesting which he was forced to leave in order to carry out his sad errand. In speaking of the crops in the west, this morning, Mr. Murray said he expected a fine output of grain this fall but that the rainfall had been less this season than at any time during the last twenty years. The harvesting is now in progress and thirty-five farmhands are employed by Mr. Murray to operate his steam thresher and binder. While a majority of his produce is shipped to Chicago, Mr. Murray said that he supplies several eastern merchants with products of his own culture.

FLORENTIN PELLETIER DIED YESTERDAY

Well Known Civil Engineer and Architect Had Active Career.

Florentin Pelletier, a well-known resident of this city for the past twenty-eight years, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 907 Hillside avenue, following a short illness with complications. He was born in Boston in 1826, and was in the eighty-eighth year of his age. Mr. Pelletier removed from Brooklyn to this city twenty-eight years ago and for the past twelve years had lived in retirement.

Prior to coming to this city, Mr. Pelletier had a very active career. He was both a civil engineer and an architect. At one time he was employed by the government as one of the engineers in charge of the construction of Minot's Ledge Lighthouse in Boston Harbor, the lighthouse being built on land and then removed to its present location.

Mr. Pelletier was the engineer in charge of the construction of what was known as the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad, which runs from Rouses Point to Ogdensburg N. Y. Throughout his business life he was in charge or assisted in the construction of many important buildings and works. He had lived in Boston, Washington, Brooklyn and New York city. There survives one son, William T. Pelletier, of this city, a sister, Mrs. George Hews and a brother, William S. Pelletier, both of Boston. The funeral will be held at Grace church, Tuesday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock. Rev. Harris C. Rush, curate, will officiate, and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

MRS. CARL PFEIFFER'S FUNERAL HELD TODAY

The funeral service of Mrs. Carl Pfeiffer, formerly of this city, was held this afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Beguelin, 52 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn. Rev. John G. Currier, formerly curate of Grace church, this city, but now of Philadelphia, officiated, and the interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Pfeiffer was born in Washington, and had lived in Plainfield eighteen year. She was a communicant of Grace church and greatly interested in the work of the parish. She had many warm friends in this city. Mr. Pfeiffer, who died many years ago, was a prominent architect. Mrs. Pfeiffer's death which occurred Thursday night at the home of her daughter, was due to complications. She had been ill four months during which time she had been in Brooklyn. There survives one daughter and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Baldwin and Miss Mary Dayton, of Washingtno.

TELLS OF PLANS FOR NEW JERSEY AT EXPOSITION

Appealing to the people of the State of New Jersey to do everything in their power to aid the New Jersey commissioners for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, former Governor J. Franklin Fort, a member of the commission, in a signed editorial in the Plainfield Daily Press today, urges the co-operation, encouragement and support of all the industrial, educational, scientific, agricultural and religious interests of the State. He enumerates the unusual advantages to be gained by a fitting exhibit, especially because New Jersey is the home State of the President, whom it is hoped will spend at least a week at the exposition, making his headquarters at the New Jersey building.

BOROUGH BOARD INSPECTED SCHOOL HEATING PLANT

Members of the Borough Board of Education met at the Somerset Street School building this morning and inspected the heating system installed last winter by D. J. Galbraith, of this city. The inspection was the outcome of statements made in the Board meeting last Monday night to the effect that Mr. Galbraith had not fulfilled his part of the contrast, thus holding up the final payment the contractor claims is due him. An adjourned session of the Board will be held on next Monday night when the matter will be finally settled.

WANT MOY TO RUN FOR ASSEMBLYMAN

Bull Moosers Urge Former Mayor to Seek Place, But He Says "No."

Petitions endorsing Welcome W. Bender, of Elizabeth; Fred S. Taggart, of Westfield, and Albert P. Cain, of Springfield, as candidates for Bull Moose Assembly nominations, are in circulation. Mr. Bender was high man on the Assembly ticket last year, while Mr. Taggart was the nominee for surrogate. Mr. Cain has been active in Bull Moose circles in the Springfield section of the county.

Messrs. Bender and Taggart expressed a determination not to run some time ago, but they were recently induced to change their minds. Members of the Colby faction seemed somewhat surprised upon learning of the candidacies of the three mentioned, and it is said that a group bearing the Colby stamp will enter the primaries.

A prominent Colby supporter declared that there was no desire to extend the Osborne-Colby argument down the whole ticket, and he believed there would be other candidates for Assembly without it, necessarily indicating a split. He regarded Messrs. Bender and Taggart as Osborne men, and surmised that Mr. Cain was also a supporter of the Montclair man.

Mayor Harwood Fish, of Roselle Park, is regarded by many Bull Moosers as a possibly Assembly candidate.

A committee recently waited upon ex-Mayor George W. V. Moy, of Plainfield, and asked him to run, but owing to the state of his health he declined. He is an active Colbyite, and the committee is understood to have been comprised mainly of Colby backers.

Roland F. Calhoun, president of the South Elizabeth Improvement Association, was also asked to run for the nomination, but owing to his business affairs declined.

KIELY TO SECURE PAPERS FROM GOVERNOR GLYNN

Assistant County Prosecutor Martin O'Connor, County Detective John Galatian and Police Chief Patrick J. Kiely, of this city, will formally recognize Acting-Governor Glynn tonight, as the chief executive of New York State, when they present requisition papers signer by Governor James F. Fielder, for the extradition of two fugitives from justice. Fielder addressed all the papers to "the Governor of New York State," but due to the fact that the Tombs authorities at New York, where one prisoner is held, do not recognize the impeached Sulzer, the Union county officials will present their credentials to Glynn.

One of the men to be brought back to New Jerseyy soil is Eugene Britton, formerly of this city, who, in May, 1912, attacked Samuel Smelson, a West Front street restaurant man. Britton escaped from the county jail at Elizabeth after being indicted on a charge of atrocious assault with intent to kill. Britton was caught in White Plains, Westchester county, N. Y., where he is being held awaiting the arrival of the local officials.

Giuseppe Corrento, is the man confined in the Tombs, New York city. He is wanted for slashing a girl in Springfield.

The company also forwarded a check to Mr. Murray for back wages due his son. The letter was written by Bert Hall, who sent the telegram concerning the accident.

Mr. Bye came home this morning and was allowed to stay there with a warning not to appear in a similar condition again. He left the rooms shortly after 1 o'clock while nobody was looking and it is thought that he secured more liquor at that time.

When returning to the quarters he reached the top of the first landing and fell backwards down the flight of stairs. Persons on Park avenue were attracted by his cries for help and picked the old man up in an unconscious condition. The hospital authorities were notified tnd he was rushed to the hospital. An earnest invitation is extended to all to attend these last services of the Home. Come and bring a friend and see what a great work is being done in our midst for the children and members of the great city.

"MISS 318" AT PROCTOR'S.

Rupert Hughes, whose great success, "Excuse Me," made the legitimate playgoers laugh, has written a vaudeville sketch for the Jessie Busley Players, entitled "Miss 318," that will be the headline attraction at Proctor's theatre on Monday. Miss Dolly Lewis has the leading role. The scene is in a department store, the eight characters are very clever, help to present one of the season's big successes. Special scenery is carried. The Arlington Four Comedy Quartet will be another headline attraction and will surely prove popular. Ed. Zoeller trio of comedy acrobats, the men with the funny makeup; Armstrong and O'Dell, in a rapid-fire comedy skit, are also included in the fine bill. As an special attraction, Montague's cockatoos, the best trained birds in stageland, will be seen. The best one reel feature photo plays are seen every day.

PASTOR ASKS FOR GUARD.

Although Elder Trent, pastor of the Church of God and Saints of Christ, asked Police Chief Kiely to supply protection during today's services at the edifice in West Third street, no disturbances have been reported to headquarters. Trent told the police yesterday that friends of a woman who was "discommunicated" from the church were making trouble for him and that he expected a serious outbreak today.

The American makers seem to be strongly in favor of drapery effects in skirts. They are following the tendency, so conspicuous in Paris summer fashions, to lift the skirt in front, and remain loyal to the tunic effects. Hip sashes in Roman stripes, Scotch plaids and Cubist silks are still in favor and so are slashed skirts. Lace tunics will probably be a feature of many afternoon and evening gowns in the Autumn.

GUBERNATORIAL PETITIONS FILED

Fowler, Carey, Osborne, Fielder and Reilly Heard From—Time Expires Monday.

Those who have filed their petitions are former Congressman Charles N. Fowler, of Union county, and former Judge Robert Carey, of Hudson county, Republicans; Edmund B. Osborne, of Essex county, Progressive; Governor James F. Fielder, Democrat, and James E. Reilly, Socialist, of Hudson county. The remaining candidates who must get their petitions on file are former Governor Edward C. Stokes, of Mercer; State Senator Carlton B. Pierce, of Union, Republicans; Frank S. Katzenbach Jr., of Mercer, Democrat; former State Senator Everett Colby, of Essex, Progressive, and Dr. James Gilbert Mason, of Middlesex, Prohibition. This makes ten candidates for ruler of the State this campaign ending on Tuesday, September 23, at the primary election.

Fowler's petition contained 1,237 signatures. He requested that his statement of principles on the primary ballot be: "End machine rule; establish local self-government." He will act as his own campaign financial committee. As his committee on vacancy, he named former Senator William J. Bradley, of Camden; ex-Sheriff Frank H. Sommer, of Essex, and former Judge Robert Carey, of Hudson, also a candidate.

Mr. Carey had 1 242 names on his petition and named Merritt Lane, of Jersey City, on the committee to handle his campaign fund. He made no request for any statement of principles on the ballots.

"Roosevelt, municipal ownership, stop taxing buildings," is the statement of principles which Mr. Osborne will have printed opposite his name on the primary ballots. He appointed F. L. Ramsdell, of East Orange, as his campaign committee. His petition contained 2,100 names.

Clarence C. Heaume, son of Daniel Heaume, of Myrtle avenue, this city, who is in Mexico for a mining concern, in the midst of the rebellion activities in that country and has had many narrow escapes, has written home that he is safely quartered in the American colony. ARREST CIRCULAR THROWERS.

Charged with throwing circulars on porches of Plainfield residences in violation of a city ordinance, Jacob Sklaren, 33 years old, of 146 Duer street, and Nathan Bernstein, 44 years old, of 39 Craig place, were arrested early this morning by Detective-Sergeant John J. Flynn. They will be arraigned Monday morning in the City Court

GRAIN BROKER SHOOTS SELF.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

CAREY BECOMES AN ACTIVE CANDIDATE

Jersey City Judge Will Seek Republican Nomination For Governor.

Jersey City, Aug. 22.—Former Judge Robert Carey, of this city, has decided to become a candidate for the Republican Gubernatorial nomination, and his petition was filed with the secretary of State at Trenton yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Carey said that he was reluctant to enter the race, but had been urged to do so by many friends, who had convinced him that it was his duty to his party to become a candidate.

Subsequent to the announcement by former Governor Stokes that he was a receptive candidate for the nomination reports were published that Mr. Carey would not file his petition. The former udge says no one was authorized to make this statement. He will now enter upon a vigorous canvass of the State. Mr. Carey has been identified with the progressive element in the party in Hudson county ever since the movement was started, but believes that instead of starting a new party the Republicans should have a house-cleaning.

In Hudson county last year Republicans and Progressives rused upon the entire ticket with the exception of President under the designation "Republican Progressive." This year there will be both Republican and Progressive tickets at the primaries and the claim is made that under the German law no elector who voted the "Republican Progressive" ticket last fall has the right to vote for either Republican or Progressive candidates at this year's primaries.

Mr. Carey's nominating petitions contain several thousand names, obtained in all parts of the State. He will issue a statement very shortly, proclaiming the platform upon which he will make the race for the nomination.

FINE MOTORCYCLIST; RECOVER LOST WATCH

Peter Welsh was arraigned in the borough court, this morning, before Mayor Clark, on the charge of motorcycle speeding. A fine of $5 was imposed.

J. J. VanPelt, of Lyons, arrested on the same charge Wednesday, who was to have appeared in the court this morning, failed to appear. Unless he appears in court by Tuesday morning a warrant will be sworn out for his arrest.

John Mortimer, of West Seventh street, reported to Chief Marshall Weiss, last night, that his gold Elgin watch har been stolen from his coat while at the Park Golf Club links. One hour after the report had been made a nine-year-old boy named Lacor, residing on Stone street, turned up at headquarters with the watch.

GEORGE P. MELLICK WILL SPEAK AT PARKER FIELD

George P. Mellick, president of the Playground Commission, will deliver an address on "Public Recreation Centres and Their Purpose," tomorrow afternoon, at the last band concert of the present season in Parker Field under the auspices of the commission.

At first it was thought that the concert would be held at City Park, but at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, the change was decided upon.

It was also decided to conduct an exhibit of the work done by the children of the school playgrounds, at Parker Field on Labor Day morning. Extensive arrangements are being made for the event.

MET TRAGIC FATE BENEATH TRAIN

William E. Kiely, Formerly of This City, Killed at Long Branch.

WELL KNOWN LOCALLY

Cousin of William Kiely, Who Was Ground to Death While Boarding Knights of Columbus Special Train.

After suffering untold pain for two hours after he had been mortally injured in a railroad accident at Long Branch, William E. Kiely, formerly of this city, and a brother of Mrs. Elmer Mills, of West Front street, died in the Monmouth Memorial hospital, yesterday. While engaged in making repairs to telephone wires on the tracks at Long Branch he stepped in front of a moving train and had his arm and leg badly crushed. The injured man was removed to the hospital and remained conscious while the crushed limbs were being amputated. Word was received by the young man's relatives in this city last night and the funeral services will be held on Monday morning from the Star of the Sea church, Long Branch, and the burial will be made in Newark.

News of Mr. Kiely's untimely death will bring to the minds of hundreds of Plainfielders the sad accident which occurred at the Asbury Park station four years ago when the Knights of Columbus, of this city, were conducting their annual excursion. William Kiely, who at that time lived here and who was a cousin of the man who was killed yesterday, fell beneath the wheels of the Knights of Columbus special train as the cars approached the station for the return trip and was instantly killed. Mr. Kiely had been enjoying a day at the shore and was anxious to get aboard the train in order to secure seats for relatives, not taking the precaution to wait until the train slowed up. The 2,000 Plainfielders who accompanied the Watchung Council on the trip were horrified when Kiely's body was thrown beneath the wheels and the young man's life crushed out before their eyes. A rigid investigation followed that accident, several witnesses claiming that negligence on the part of the railroad company was responsible for the young man's death and a number of local peole were summoned before a coroner's jury to testify, but the railroad officials were finally exonerated from all blame.

The fatality of yesterday is the third in which a near relative in the Kiely family has figured in the last six years John Kiely, father of the man who met his death at Long Branch, was killed by being struck by a trolley car in this city six years ago.

William E. Kiely was born in this city forty-two years ago, and for years has been connected with the New York Telephone Company. He was prominent in the work of severed fraternal orders, but at the time of his death held no affiliations He was of a jovial nature and had a pleasant word for everyone, these features making him popular among a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Kiely is survived by a widow and two sons, Russell and Jack Kiely, and four sisters, Mrs. Elmer Mills, of this city; Mrs. Charles DuBois, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Oscar LaRue, of Clayton, N. Y., nd Mrs. John Shannon, of Newark.

NEW YORK MAY GET HARRY THAW

Question of Slayer's Sanity to Be Fought Again.

HANDS TIED, SAYS BRYAN

Appealed to by Both New York Governors For Help to Secure Fugitive, Secretary of State Replies That He Can Do Nothing Officially In Case.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 23.—In a statement by one of the immigration officials of the Dominion yesterday it was brought out that New York state may have Harry Thaw turned over to properly designated officers of the state. This statement puts an entirely new phase to the case.

It appears that the practice in deporting lunatics has usually been to consult the nearest United States immigration inspector as to where the lunatic should be sent back.

If custom is followed in this case, the man consulted would be John Clarke, United States inspector at Montreal, and his desire as to deportation would be compiled with.

A possible obstacle to this plan would be that Thaw's lawyers might compel the Canadian authorities to prove that he is a lunatic. Rather than go to this expensive procedure the immigration authorities would prefer simply to "reject" the fugitive where he crossed the border.

U. S. Hands Tied, Says Bryan.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Secretary Bryan yesterday sent the following telegram to "Hon. William Sulzer, Albany, N. Y.:"

This case of Thaw being one of which in its present aspect as involving the application of Canadian immigration laws, this government cannot act officially. Steps have been taken to lay the information as to his escape informally before the Canadian authorities.

Sulzer asked that the Canadian immigration authorities be requested to return Thaw to Rouses Point, N. Y.

CHINESE REBELS THREATEN

Declare They Will Bombard German Consulate at Nanking.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—Advices received by the German foreign office from Nanking, China, indicate that trouble is impending between the German naval officers and the southern revolutionaries, who threaten to bombard the German consulate and the German protected cruiser Emden.

The insurgent leader sent a letter to the German consul at Nanking in which he declared the Emden had bombarded the rebel positions on Lion hill, and he announced his intention of retaliating on the German cruiser and consulate. In replying to the rebel commander's letter the consul denied the allegation. In the meantime the German armored cruiser Scharnhort is speeding toward Nanking.

ASK HILLES TO ACT AT ONCE

Progressive Republicans of Conciliation Committee Desire Conference.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Progressive Republicans identified with the "conciliation" committee selected at the Chicago conference will take up at once with Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, the question of calling a general reorganization convention.

The original plan was to call a meeting of the national committee within sixty days of the adjournment of congress. Senator Cummins and other leaders have determined to urge Chairman Hilles to act at once as the prospect of an adjournment of congress is remote.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—The Hague, the capital city of the Netherlands, will be the scene of an event of world-wide interest Friday, when ceremonies will be held in dedication of the Palace of Peace. The palace was erected with a $1,500,000 donation from Andrew Carnegie and is to be the home and headquarters of the international permanent court of arbitration. The dedication ceremonies will be attended by official representatives of the leading nations of the world.

An event that will mark an epoch in the industrial development of a large section of the middle west will be the dedication of the great power dam that has been built across the Mississippi River at Keokuk, Iowa. The dam is nearly a mile in length and is surpassed in size only by the great Nile River dam at Assouan. It is designed to furnish cheap and abundant electrical power to cities and towns throughout Illinois, Iowa and Missouri.

At the end of the week New York will welcome a most distinguished visitor in the person of Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain. Lord Haldane is to visit America in response to an invitation to deliver an address before the convention of the American Bar Association at Montreal. Before proceeding to Montreal he will spend several days in New York and vicinity and will visit West Point and other places of interest.

The bar association meeting in Montreal will be preceded by the annual conference of the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, which will begin its sessions Tuesday. There will also be a conference of the judiciary committee of the bar association, which will be addressed Saturday by former President William H. Taft.

The sixth annual conference of governors will assemble in Colorado Springs Tuesday for a session of five days. The function of the conference is to bring the State governors together yearly for an exchange of views on subjects of general importance, the promotion of greater uniformity in State legislation, and the attainment of greater efficiency in the State administration.

All the leading nations, all the States of the Union, many American colleges and universities, and various other prominent educational, scientific, medical and hygienic institutions and organizations will be represented at the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene, which will begin in Buffalo Monday and continue through the week. This will be the first meeting of the organization in America. As its name indicates, the object of the organization is to promote the health of school children. In addition to the program of addresses and discussions there will be displayed a scientific exhibit illustrating the most notable achievements of the last few years in school hygiene.

Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y., will be the meeting place of another notable international gathering of the week. This will be the Eighth International Congress of Students. The congress is a body of undergraduates from the leading universities of North and South America and of the principal countries of Europe. Its objects are to create a closer international understanding among students of all nations and to consider the problems common to students in every country.

After strangely neglecting its most famous son for many years, the little city of Franklin, N. H., will on Thursday pay a real honor to the memory of Daniel Webster. The occasion will mark the completion and dedication of the rehabilitated birthplace of the famous statesman. Memorial addresses are expected to be made by Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and Job E. Hedges, of New York.

Another observance of historical interest will be the celebration on Wednesday of the centennial anniversary of the battle of Chrysler's Farm. This engagement of the war of 1812 occurred on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence, below Ogdensburg, between 1,600 Americans under General Boyd, and 1,500 British troops under Colonel Morrison. The centennial celebration will be held at the scene of the battle and will be participated in by prominent public men and a number of militia organizations of the Dominion.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

It is estimated that the unprecedented number of 50,000 persons are out of employment in Berlin.

Swedish farm laborers who are hired by the year receive an average wage of $85 annually, with board and room in addition.

Last year there were 1,852,241 workers employed in factories in Great Britain, 690,834 of whom were engaged in the textile trades.

According to the latest reports Russia has 25,513 co-operative societies (mostly agricultural), with a total membership of 6,564,194.

The puddlers in the employ of the Reading Iron Company, Reading, Pa., 3,000 in number, have secured an increase in pay from $4.75 to $5 per ton.

The first serious agitation for less hours of labor, better wages, and protection of operatives in American factories was begun in 1825.

The strike of the granite cutters of Greater New York, which began May 1, has ended, the strikers returning to work with a wage increase of 50 cents per day.

The present year marks the thirtieth anniversary of the first strike of American telegraphers. The strike lasted thirty days and involved 67,000 men.

Oscar F. Nelson, president of the International Federation of Post-office Clerks, and vice-president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, has been appointed State factory inspector of Illinois.

A department of labor is contemplated in the new charter which is being drafted for Detroit. One of the chief duties of the department will be "to adjust the labor market through co-operation with the large employers."

The Korrespondent, the official organ of the German Printers' Federation, is said to have a circulation of 50,000 copies. It is the only trade union organ in Germany which is not supplied free to the members of the union.

The International Typographical Union is distinguished among American trades unions as being the only one which demands equal hours, wages and conditions of work for men and women. The organization now has branches throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba, Hawaii the Philippines and Porto Rico.

During the three summer months the farm laborer in Sweden works on an average of ten and one-half hours a day. For this he receives pay at the rate of sixty-six cents a day, providing he pays for his board and room in addition. Unmarried women working on the farm receive an average yearly wage of from $50 to $60, with board and room.

Benefit schemes, emigration and international reciprocity, and the amalgamation of all international building workers' unions are among the subjects that will receive attention at the annual meeting of the International Stone Workers' Congress, which is to be held in Brussels during the second week of October.

An international agreement governing the disposition of labor disputes and affecting the working conditions of the Journeymen Stonecutters' Association of North America and the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union of America, has been ratified by the executive officers of the two organizations, and is now being sent out through the United States and Canada to their local crafts, to go into effect immediately.

Butchers Fight Until One Falls With His Heart Pierced.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—While the salesroom in one of the largest retail meat markets was full of customers yesterday Frank Mooney and Mark Hamilton, meat cutters, engaged in a death struggle across a meat block in the rear until Mooney fell dead on the floor with the long blade of a butcher knife thrust through his heart. Women screamed and fled from the store.

Hamilton told the police he had stabbed Mooney because he "couldn't stand his cursing."

STYLISH—RELIABLE

Diogenes' Dove

When we started this business, we were intent on success, but we never forgot the admonition of Epictetus:

"Never esteem anything as of advantage that will make you break your word or lose your self-respect."

And the temptation in a business where rascality cannot be easily caught is very strong.

We know of no business that lends itself so splendidly to little deceptions as the business of selling Clothing and Fixings for Young and Old Youths.

Yet we have emerged like Diogenes' Dove with our wings unsullied.

AMERICANS MUST BE PROTECTED

Bryan Sends Curt Note to Warring Mexicans.

HULSE CASE THE ISSUE

Huerta and Also the Constitutionalists Told They Must Behave Better Toward United States Citizens—Will Be Held Responsible For Harm Done to Americans.

Washington, Aug. 23. Provisional President Huerta has received from Secretary of State Bryan a curt note informing him that he would be held personally responsible for the safety of American citizens in Mexico. The note was sent through the American consul, Mr. Lacher, at Chihuahua. A similar communication was sent to Governor Carranza and other constitutional leaders.

Mr. Bryan's action was in response to a request by Senator Penrose for action to protect S. C. Hulse, a chief engineer named Fuller and other Americans at the plant of the Mexican Northern Power and Irrigation company. The telegram reads:

Information having been received by this government that threats of violence and death have been made against Fuller, Hulse and others at La Boquilla, this government deems it proper to say that if any violence is visited upon any American citizen there or elsewhere by any one claiming civil or military authority the United States will hold personally responsible the perpetrators thereof.

Couriers should ascertain conditions of all foreigners at La Boquilla and report with reply the officer in charge makes to this government's message.

Wilson Will Read His Message.

The reference to the protection of American citizens "elsewhere" was taken as indicative of the attitude of the United States in protection of Americans wherever their safety is threatened.

President Wilson will personally read his message on Mexico to both houses of congress Monday, outlining what has been done by the United States to bring about peace. Except for a short conference with Mr. Bryan the president denied himself to all visitors and worked alone in his study in the White House.

The message will summarize the principal points in the note presented by John Lind and the contentions of the Huerta government in reply. The full text of both communications will be presented to congress as exhibits. No recommendations for action will be taken, but the president's statement is expected to reiterate the attitude of this government and indicate that only on the basis therein outlined can negotiations with the Huerta government be continued.

WIRELESS MAN DIES AT POST

Survivors of the California Tell of Donald Perkins' Heroism.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 23.—The forty survivors of the steamship State of California, which struck a reef off the coast of Alaska and went down with forty-three of her passengers and crew, has arrived here from Juneau. Some of the survivors told a story of the bravery of the ship's wireless operator, Donald Perkins, who was killed at his post.

Perkins, they said, was off duty and asleep when the ship struck. He was awakened by the shock and rushed into the wireless room. Telling the assistant operator to save himself, he grasped the key and was about to send out a call for help when a falling mast crashed through the ceiling and killed him.

CONFIRMS MULHALL'S STORY

Herbert E. Miles Employed Watson to Work For Bill.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Herbert E. Miles of Racine, Wis., testified to the senate lobby committee yesterday that, acting for the tariff commission association, he had employed ex Representative James E. Watson at a salary of $250 a week to work for a tariff board bill in congress in 1909. He confirmed Martin M. Mulhall's testimony that Mulhall advanced the first $500 paid Watson, who was not then a member of the house.

Miles denied that the National Association of Manufacturers sought to elect or defeat candidates for office.

MEMORIALS TO WOMEN.

Senate Bill Proposes Statuary Park In Washington.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Intended as a harbinger of woman's political emancipation, Senator Jones of Washington state has offered a bill in the senate setting aside a space in the proposed plaza between the capitol and the Union station solely for the raising of statues and memorials to women.

He would have it known as the "Parthenon."

Situation Acute, Thinks Works.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 23. Saying he believed the Mexican situation so acute that he should be in his seat at Washington, Senator Works left Los Angeles yesterday. When he returned to Los Angeles ten days ago he planned to remain here until the regular session. Senator Works favors President Wilson's policy.

COMFORT IN IRONING
USE ASBESTOS SAD IRONS

THE HOOD—When the hood is placed on the iron, the heat is bottled up. A dead-air space, in addition to the asbestos lining, prevents radiation of heat from the iron and keeps the temperature of the wood handle below blood heat. No holder is needed.

THE CORE—The core or base is a solid chunk of iron. Iron takes up and retains heat in proportion to its weight. The core acts as a heat reservoir and regulator by retaining the heat and letting it pass to the bottom as the surface cools. The stored heat is confined by the asbestos-lined hood instead of radiating into space. The ironing face has a mirror-like polish and is slightly convex. The edges are rounded to prevent drawing and wrinkling.

THE LOCK—The lock is secure, preventing rattle and insuring against accidently unfastening. The lock will catch automatically.

The John Wanamaker

August Furniture Sale

This is our usual custom, known to the public—to devote the last few days of the Sale to clearing our stocks of all odd lots of August furniture—at just half the regular rates.

If a suite has been broken—some one preferring a brass bed and leaving the wooden bed—that wooden bed is marked at half.

If a chiffonier or bureau or dressing table remains alone—each is marked at half also.

In dining-room and library furniture odd pieces remain in the same way and are given the same treatment.

Single pieces (not part of sets) and single sets that have acted as samples in selling the stock back of them are also included in this radical clearance at half.

Individual pieces that have been here too long and have failed to seize their opportunity of selling themselves are also reduced to half.

So you see, in this collection to be offered first on Monday, there are some more desirable than others in design, but all Wanamaker standard guaranteed furniture—and all at half of the original prices.

All Kinds of Furniture

If any of our good customers who have bought earlier in the Sale find something more to their liking among this "furniture at half," we can arrange an exchange of pieces, for the first rule of this business is "satisfying the public."

The only way to secure a fair idea of the opportunities this End-of-the-Sale Clearance presents is to visit

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, AUGUST 23, 1913.

On Saturdays the editorial columns of the Daily Press are conducted by citizens who are free to express their own views. The contributing editor for today is former Governor John Franklin Fort, president of the Plainfield Press Company.

NEW JERSEY AT SAN FRANCISCO 1915.

The New Jersey Legislature of 1912 determined that New Jersey should be represented at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco, California, in 1915, and authorized Governor Wilson to appoint a commission to see that the Legislative purpose was carried out. He honored me by making me one of the commissioners.

The Legislature of 1913 voted an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars and made it available during 1913 and 1914.

The Panama Exposition will be a great event and of necessity (whether certain foreign nations are represented or not) a centre of attraction for a multitude of the industrial workers and experts of the world. With the opening of the Panama Canal a large increase in both foreign and domestic trade must follow. Trade always follows convenient shipment or reduced cost of transportation. The Panama Canal assures both. It also means for us extended trade with Japan and China and all the Orient. It brings New York, Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Galveston and other great shipping points many thousand miles nearer Yokahoma, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Calcutta and Melbourne, Australia, than ever before.

New Jersey has a vast and rapidly increasing industrial output. We are the eleventh State in population and the sixth in the value of our manufacturing production. We have a great stake at the Exposition. The first proposition that our commission faces is the securing of proper representation of our varied interests and industries, and the establishing, on the grounds at San Francisco, of a proper "Jerseymen's Home" for all our people, and for all whom our people may wish to meet for conference.

Another thing we shall need to remember is, that New Jersey is the home State of the President of the Republic and we must provide for his attendance and stay at the Exposition grounds. The New York State site adjoins that of New Jersey. New York has an appropriation of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. They will have a very costly State building. And Pennsylvania adjoins us on the other side. That State has already appropriated three hundred and fifty thousand dollars and it is stated that the fund is to be increased. A fine "Pennsylvania Home" may also be expected.

The New Jersey Commission is planning to aid our New Jersey business men and manufacturers in special efforts to introduce their wares, and, to this end, wish to construct the New Jersey State building so that it may be used at given times and occasions as a semi-exhibit building. A suggestion has been made to have in it a large public room in which, on designated days, dinners or luncheons may be given, by the representatives of our different New Jersey industries; on which occasions samples may be displayed of any particular New Jersey trade or industry.

The people whom our manufacturers wish to reach are those who are seeking to learn, not only where to purchase, but where to do so at the best advantage. It is desired to make the New Jersey State building not only a place for social greeting of all Jerseymen, but for commercial exchange as well. This has never before been attempted, but, it is an experiment, which the commission is thinking of trying. Whatever is expended at San Francisco we think should be expended for the purpose of increasing New Jersey trade, and we feel this unique way will aid greatly in doing it. The functions held in this way should keep New Jersey at all times in the vision of all exhibitors as well as in close touch with experts studying new developments in trade and improved conditions of every kind.

It is our hope and expectation that the President may be there for at least a week, which will still more markedly focus attention upon New Jersey and her varied exhibits.

Space at the Exposition will be free to all exhibitors. The costs of transportation will be greatly reduced; probably one-half, at least.

Our educational system will make a special exhibit and no State should surpass us in this. Our accessibility to many lines of railway and water transportation, and the proposed ship canal across the State is to be exemplified in a topographical clay map exhibited in the court of the New Jersey State building, that all may see New Jersey and her proximity to all points at a glance, thus developing an object lesson of the availability of our territory for factory sites and residence.

Advertising brings trade. Trade brings money. Money means prosperity for all our people. If we can for two hundred thousand dollars (and we shall try to do it for less) put New Jersey's industries, schools, territory, shore line, highways, railways, proposed waterways, and general attractiveness for business, recreation and residence purposes, before, not only the business men of the United States, but the world, no one can estimate the value of such an exhibit to all the people and interests of the State. This is to be the aim of the commission. In carrying out such a broad policy we shall need the co-operation, encouragement and support of all the industrial, educational, scientific, agricultural and religious interests of the State.

The object of the commission is to advertise and increase our trade, and the exceptional character of our State as a place to locate a business or establish a residence. Do not criticise but help. Do not pull down, but build up. Let all the people aid to make New Jersey's exhibit and place in the great Panama-Pacific Exposition a credit to the State and the pride of all our people.

JOHN FRANKLIN FORT.

BIG SHIPMENT TO PASS THROUGH HERE

Forty-five Cars Loaded With Complete Blast Furnace For Australia.

Widespread interest centers in an unprecedented shipment of iron and steel materials which will pass through Plainfield on the afternoon of Tuesday or Wednesday morning over the Central Railroad. The shipment is enroute from the shops of the William B. Pollock Company, of Youngstown, Ohio, to New Castle, N. S. W., (Australia). It consists of a special train of 45 cars and a special car carrying a number of officials of the L. S. & M. S., N Y. C & H. R. and Jersey Central Railroads, over which lines the train travels to the seaboard at New York city. The 45 cars are loaded with iron and steel plates and structural shapes for the erection of a complete new blast furnace and pig iron smelter by the Broken Hill Proprietary Co., Ltd, at New Castle. It also contains three slag dumping cars for hauling refuse cinder from the furnace to the cinder dump and four new type short-pour metal ladle cars for transporting liquid metal to the pig casting machine where the metal is molded and chilled into small sections or "pigs" ready for the steel plant or market.

The special train will run solid from Youngstown to New York, at which port all the materials will be loaded on a steamer which will convey its cargo to Australia via the Suez Canal.

Significant features of the shipment are found in the fact that the material is for the first iron ore blast furnace erected in Australia, and also it is the first time in the history of the American iron and steel industry that a shipment of this nature has ever been made by American manufacturers.

The new plant in Australia is to consist of a modern 500-ton per day blast furnace complete together with an up-to-date open hearth steel plant and finishing mills for manufacturing finished iron and steel products and is being erected at an expense of approximately $2,500,000. The designing and constructing engineers for the work are Messrs. Ladd and Baker, of Philadelphia, and the furnace work was built by the William B. Pollock Company. At Youngstown the local populace evidenced considerable interest in the unusual shipment and the Pollock company were the recipients of many congratulations on the occasion of the completion of the work and the departure of the long train which exclusively carried its product away on the first leg of the long journey half way around the world.

FIRE COMMITTEE REPORT AT SEPTEMBER MEETING

The Councilmanic fire and building committee, of which Fred Endress as chairman, expects to present a report of recommendation at the September meeting of the Council regarding the automobile fire engine which the city proposes to purchase. It is understood that the committee has been investigating the different bids and inquiring into the varitus machines and has about made up its mind as to a recommendation.

It is understood that whatever engine is purchased it must be a new one, and it is probably only under such conditions would a bid be considered. At the August meeting of the Council, President Clay inquired of the representatives bidding as to whether the bids called for new engines, and they answered in the affirmative. This was true in the case of the International Motor Works, whose bid was the lowest.

—Every day is "Election Day" with the shoppers of this city. Every day some store receives a vote of confidence, presaging continued support, from the housewives. The store whose ads present the widest variety of opportunity news is "elected," always. For such a store brings ACTUAL RELIEF to the people from the oppression of high prices—not, as is often true in politics, mere promises of relief!

SENATE DEBATE ON FREE WOOL SCHEDULE

Believed That Section K Will Be Accepted as Drawn.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The placing of raw wool on the free list, with reductions in all lines of the manufactured product, came up for discussion in the senate. This involves the second great controverted feature of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill.

Together with sugar President Wilson insisted that raw wool be transferred from the duitable to the free list. These were the two points of paramount importance in his revision program. The action of the house and finance committee regarding sugar has been ratified. The course pursued concerning wool is now ready for approval. It is regarded as certain that Schedule K will be accepted without change.

A long debate on the woolen schedule is anticipated. Substitutes for the pending section will be offered by Senators Smoot, Penrose and La Follette. Senators Thornton and Ransdell of Louisiana have announced their intention of voting against free raw wool. It is not believed any other defections will be found in the Democratic ranks.

The flax, jute and hemp schedule was completed. A large number of amendments were offered by Senator McCumber and rejected. The finance committee was sustained in placing flax on the free list by a vote of 37 to 30.

Weather Forecast.

Showers today; tomorrow, fair and cooler; brisk south winds, shifting to northwest today and diminishing tomorrow.

Sunday Education.

In a week or so schools and colleges will begin to open all over the land. Already the minds of teachers and pupils are turning to thoughts of books and lessons and self improvement.

The desire for further education lurks in almost everybody's mind. The young man or woman who has had to leave school early for some reason or other, is especially desirous of improving every opportunity for self education that comes along. But often the task of earning daily bread and gaining anything further in the way of education seems impossible.

Why not try a system of Sunday education, if you are one of the workers of the world? Don't let it interfere with any convictions you may have on the duties and privileges of Sunday. Make it still a day of rest and a day of church going. But make it also a day for self improvement.

Instead of reading foolishly and pointlessly on Sunday afternoon or evening, read with a purpose. Instead of walking aimlessly, walk in search of learning.

What to Study.

Take up a study of wild flowers, for instance. The fields and woods are full of interesting specimens. Equip yourself with a good book or two on the subject and wander through the fields. Identify every flower you come to. Make notes on your work. Press a specimen of each flower or leaf or root you study. Before you know it you will be an authority on the wild growing things of your neighborhood.

In the winter study trees or stones. Make sketches and notes, no matter how rude and inaccurate they are at first. Many a really valuable collection has come from beginnings as humble as this.

For indoor work study any subject you are interested in. The history of a certain country or a certain period or a certain political development may attract you. Or you may prefer to study the development of the short story or the novel, with the help of books from a circulating library. Or some scientific subject may fascinate you and library books may again be called into use.

However you spend your Sunday education hour, you will feel the better for it Monday morning. And some time the knowledge and the mental training its acquisition has given you will serve you in good stead.
